At 9 o'clock the order will be passed for the line to begin its march, and it will pass down Fifth avenue in the following order:

Owing to the amount of work done by them recently Gen. Fitzgerald did not order out all the regiments of the State National Guard, but the Ninth Regiment will parade to-day. A large detachment of schoolboys will take part in the parade, and they are expected to show great efficiency, as the subject of introducing military discipline among them has been recently broached. Many war ships are coming home from long cruises, and among them the monitor Miantonomoh will probably drop anchor off Riverside Park and thunder out a salute.

Besides the parade and decoration of graves, Memorial Day will be marked by civil and religious ceremonies. The printers' statue to Horace Greeley will be unveiled at 2 o'clock at Broadway and Thirty-third street, in the triangular plot of ground recently named Greeley square. Miss Winifred Burke will unveil the statue, and Congressman Amos J. Cummings and District Attorney Fellows will speak.

St. Gabriel's Roman Catholic Church, in East Thirty-seventh street, is to be consecrated today with imposing ceremonies. Archbishop Corrigan will consecrate the church and the altar of the Blessed Virgin, and Bishop McDonnell of Brooklyn will consecrate the altar of St. Joseph. Pontifical high mass will be celebrated at 10½ o'clock by Mgr. Satolli. Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia will deliver the sermon.

Another religious ceremony will be the laying of the corner stone of the Scotch Presbyterian Church, of which Dr. D. G. Wylie is rector, at Ninety-sixth street and Central Park West, at 3 o'clock.

The tomb of Gen. Grant at Riverside Park will be decorated at 2:30 o'clock to-day by U. S. Grant Post, No. 327, G. A. R. The Hon. A. W. Tenney will deliver the oration.

Memorial services in honor of the late Jesse Seligman are to be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the Hebrew Institute Hall, East Broadway and Jefferson street, under the management of the Central Committee of the Baron de Hirsch Fund. Addresses in German and English will be made.

At Amity Chapel, 312 West Fifty-fourth street, an evening address upon The Inception and Creation of the Columbian Liberty Bell and the Development of Peace and Universal Liberty" will be delivered by Josiah C. Pumpelly.

The Good Government Club, at 70 West 103d street, will hold a picnic in its club house grounds from 3 to 6 o'clock P. M. The Vosburgh Veterans are to march to Greenwood Cemetery and decorate the graves of Col. Vosburgh and Guides Egbert and Shelley.

Wallace Bruce, ex-United States Consul to Edinburgh, will make an address at the grave of Gen. John A. Dix in Trinity Cemetery, West 155th street. Mr. Bruce erected at Edinburgh the only monument in a foreign land to the American volunteer soldier. John A. Dix Post, G. A. R., will be present at the ceremony.

Postmaster Dayton will preside at the memorial services to be held this evening at Carnegie Hall. A long musical programme, including Edouard Remenyi, the violinist, has been arranged. The Commercial Travellers' Association will hold a meeting at 8 o'clock at the Broadway Central Hotel.

In Brooklyn there will also be a parade, which will be reviewed by Mayor Schieren. United States troops, veteran organizations, and school children will be in line. At the ceremonies in Cypress Hills Cemetery Mayor Schieren will preside, and an oration will be delivered by Father Sylvester Malone.

The Grand Army posts and Sons and Veterans of Staten Island hold memorial services in National Prohibition Park. Addresses are to be made by Gen. Wager Swayne and Col. Alex. S. Bacon.

The monument of Thomas Paine at New Rochelle will be made the scene of services in honor of his memory by the Philosophical Association of Brooklyn.

In Jersey City there will be a parade in the morning, which will be participated in by the Fourth Regiment, the Police Department, the posts of the Grand Army, uniformed Hibernian and Polish societies, and public school children. The soldiers' graves in the cemeteries will be decorated by the Grand Army men, and services will be held in some of the churches in the evening.

Memorial Ceremonies at Lincoln Statue.

The memorial ceremonies around the Lincoln statue in Union square last night attracted a large crowd that could see a good deal and hear very little. The statue had been decorated with flowers and evergreens. In front of it was a platform, from which there were speeches. Ex-Assemblyman Alfred Conkling presided, and around the platform stood the members of the Lincoln Pioneer Corps, Lincoln Post, John A. Andrew Post, Thaddeus Stevens Post, Lincoln Club, Charles Sumner Pioneer Corps, the Veteran Guards, and the Van Cott Legion. The choirs of the Abyssinian Baptist Church, the Bethel M. E. Church, and the Zion M. E. Church sang "America," and then ex-Secretary of the Navy Benjamin Tracy delivered a historical address on Abraham Lincoln. The noise of the streets prevented all except those immediately around Mr. Tracy from hearing his remarks. After the ceremonies the organizations marched on to Union square and decorated the statue of Roscoe Conkling.

Mansfield Post Goes to Middletown.

Four hundred members of Mansfield Post of Williamsburgh, forty invited guests, and sixty young women comprising the Columbian Guard, went to Middletown, Conn., last night, where, at the grave of Gen. Mansfield to-day, Gen. Isaac S. Catlin will speak. The post embarked on the steamer Continental at the foot of South Fifth street. On the steamer's arrival at Middletown the veterans and guests will be received by the officials of the town and the Governor's staff. They will return to-morrow morning.

Had the Whole Jewelry Store with Him.

DALLAS, Tex., May 29.—W. C. McCoy was arrested here yesterday with the entire contents of E. P. Smith's jewelry store at Fordyce, Ark., in his possession, which he had stolen on May 4. The jewelry was in a large valise carried by McCoy, and consisted of twenty-six solid gold watches, thirty-nine gold rings, two gold necklaces, diamonds, and other precious stones. The articles answer the description exactly of the stock stolen from Smith and are worth $3,000. McCoy says he was selling the goods through the country on commission.

A VARIED DAY'S SPORT.

Many Attractions on Land and Water Will Entertain the Holiday Public To-day.

The thousands of toilers who will awake this morning with a rare twelve-hour outing to look forward to, will have a multiplicity of attractions to choose from. Those of a sporting tendency are unusually well catered to, and the sightseer who does not go home satiated to-night will indeed be difficult to please.

Followers of athletics can choose between the games of the New Jersey A. C., at Bergen point; the Cable A. C., at Caledonia Park, Jersey City; the Glen Cove A. C., at Glen Cove, L. I.; the Montclair A. C., at Montclair, N. J.; the Irish-American A. C., at Ridgewood Park, L. I.; the Y. M. C. A., at Greenwood Lake; the Brooklyn A. C., at Grand Street Park, Newton, L. I.; the Nutley Field Club, Nutley, N. J., and the New York Scottish Society. Many of the collegians who won laurels at Berkeley Oval last Saturday will figure in the Bergen Point tournament, and critics who failed to reach Morris Heights for the intercollegiate contests will find this a good opportunity of refreshing their memories.

Lovers of tennis will be catered to by the Kings County Club, the Fifth Avenue Club, the Essex Club, the Lenox Club, the Jersey City Club, and the Hohokus Valley Club, Ridgewood, N. J. The experts will find a high-class competition at New Haven, Conn., where the New England championships will be decided.

Wheelmen occupy a considerable section of the fixture card for the day. Besides the famous race over the Milburn course, there will be a series of handicap and scratch races at Rome, N. Y.; Waltham, Mass.; Worcester, Mass.; Boonton, N. J.; Union County Wheelmen, Rahway; Riverton Wheelmen, Riverton, N. J.; Lexington Wheelmen, Elizabeth, N. J.; South Orange Field Club, Orange, N. J.; Bloomfield Club, Morristown, N. J.; Smithville, N. J.; Asbury Park, N. J., and at the Harrison course under the auspices of the Westchester League.

Wielders of the willow have arranged a promising schedule of cricket. Staten Island Club has two teams in the field, one booked for a match against Philadelphia at Livingston, S. I., while the other will face a Morris Heights combination at Prospect Park, Brooklyn. In Prospect Park, Brooklyn, will be the scene of matches between Manhattan and New York, Brooklyn and Harlem, Brooklyn Third and Victoria Second, and Columbia and Kilkenny. In Jersey City, eleven will travel to Bridgeport to play the local team, and the Brooklyn Second eleven will face the Elizabeth (N. J.) team on their own grease. The Staten Island Second eleven will oppose the Quaker City players of the same grade at Philadelphia.

The "sport of kings" will be presented at two tracks in its most attractive form. The Morris Park season will open at 2 P. M. with a programme which promises exceptional sport. The double fascination of sea breezes and steeplechasing will be found at Brighton Beach, where a well-filled card awaits the patronage of the race-going public.

The trotters have not been neglected in the holiday catering, and followers of this style of sport will find plenty of it at Parkway, L. I., Flushing, L. I., and Morristown, N. J. The last-named meeting will open at 10 A. M.

Rowing men can gravitate between the counter attractions on the Passaic and Harlem Rivers. The uptown stream will float some of the fastest crews which have ever figured in the Harlem River Rowing Association's regatta, being craft of every style, from the fragile scull to the eight-oared shell will hold the course in turn, and the spectacle will more than repay visitors. The Passaic Rowing Association also caters to the popular taste in effective style, and it is a good one, and the contests over the picturesque course should be well worth seeing. The Gramercy Boat Club members will celebrate the holiday by tendering a reception to their lady friends, who may rely on having a fine outing. The Crescent Boat Club will also float its gayest bunting and hold a series of races, which promise excellent sport.

A trip to Woodlawn, L. I., will enable excursionists to see some smart marksmanship at the shoot of the New Utrecht Gun Club. Morristown, N. J., will also be the Mecca of hundreds desirous of assisting at the opening of the Morristown County Club.

The National Canoe Association will hold an important meet at Springfield, Mass., while Brooklyn in the same State, will be amply provided with attractions in the shape of pole games and races.

OPENING OF THE YACHTING SEASON.

Decoration Day for the past ten years has marked the opening of the yachting season in the East, and this year is no exception to the rule, as over a score of clubs will either go in commission or hold regattas to-day. However, a number of clubs, notably the Larchmont, Atlantic, New Rochelle, Riverside, and Corinthian Mosquito fleet, have already hoisted their colors to the breeze and will celebrate the day in some other fashion.

One of the most notable events of the day will be the opening sail of the Atlantic Yacht Club's fleet, in which something like forty yachts will take part. At 10 A. M. the yachts at anchor off the club house at Bay Ridge will, at a signal from the flagship Water Witch, hoist their anchors and sail down to Sandy Hook. On their return to the club house a number of private dinners will be held.

At Gravesend the Brooklyn Yacht Club, one of the oldest yachting organizations in the country, will have its opening. The flag will be run up on the flagstaff and saluted by all the yachts in the harbor, and Commodore Macrae will review the fleet. After the ceremonies there will be a reception in the club house.

On the Sound at Oyster Bay the Seawanhaka-Corinthian Yacht Club will formally open the season with naphtha launch and cutboat races. The flag will be hoisted and saluted first by Commodore G. H. H. Hill's flagship Ariel, and then by all the other yachts in the harbor. Afterward there will be a luncheon in the club house. A train will leave Long Island City at 11 A. M. in time for the ceremonies, returning at 4 P. M. after the races.

The American Yacht Club on the Connecticut shore will open its pretty club house at Milton Point with appropriate ceremonies, and a big fleet of steam yachts will salute the flag from the moring. A reception and lawn party will follow.

The Pavonia Yacht Club of Jersey City will formally open its club house at Communipaw, as will the Jersey City Yacht Club, whose home is a stone's throw away. Among the other clubs which will open their houses with appropriate ceremonies are the Sewaren Land and Water Club of Sewaren, N. J., the Kill von Kull Yacht Club of Port Richmond, S. I., and the Indian Harbor Yacht Club of Greenwich, Conn.

Of the regattas and races the principal feature of the day will be the Harlem Yacht Club's regatta on the Sound, in which seventy yachts are entered. The start will be off the club house at College Point at 11 A. M., and the course is to sand a Point and return. The iron steamer Cyrnus, which will accompany the yachts over the course, will leave the foot of East Twenty-third street at 9 A. M., East 129th street at 10 A. M., and College Point 11 A. M. The Audubon Yacht Club will hold a regatta for boats enrolled in the club fleet on the Hudson river over the club course, starting from the foot of West 136d street. Among the other races scheduled for the day are those of the Staten Island Yacht Club on the lower bay off Stapleton, the Yonkers Yacht Club's regatta on the Hudson off Yonkers, the New York Bay Yacht Club off Greenville, unattached yacht race off Communipaw, the Douglaston Yacht Club's regatta on the Sound off Douglaston, the Hempstead Bay Yacht Club's regatta on Hempstead Bay, the Cedar Point Yacht Club's regatta on the Sound off South Norwalk, Conn., the Yale Corinthian Yacht Club's cup race off New Haven, and the yachts of the New Jersey Yacht Club's fleet on the Hudson.

In addition to the above the model yachts will have a chance to show their speed for cups on the lake in Prospect Park, Brooklyn.

TUESDAY, MAY 29.

The evening up of contracts, particularly for short account, because of the holiday to-morrow, was chiefly responsible for the course of prices on the Stock Exchange to-day. Another and equally important factor in a few stocks, notably Sugar Refining and Chicago Gas, was confident purchases by the speculative friends of those stocks. There was no news regarding either of them, but arguments that have been advanced as a basis for higher prices for the two stocks mentioned were repeated and appeared to acquire fresh force by being reiterated. Chicago Gas closed nearly 2 points higher than yesterday, at 73½, after selling at 74, and Sugar Refining scored a net advance of 1¾ per cent, at a reaction of a point from the highest price.

The Granger stocks received some attention in connection with the publication of the April statement of the C. B. and Quincy Company. The Street acquired the idea early in the day that the showing of the Burlington Company for last month would be decidedly unfavorable, and in consequence the professional element sold the stock. As soon as the figures were made public the desire to recover stock that had been sold lifted the price fractionally above the final figures of yesterday. St. Paul, on moderate transactions, also closed at a fractional net advance. The only other feature of the market was a sharp advance in Reading on very light transactions, in consequence of the publication in Philadelphia of a report, that lacks confirmation, that the various committees representing security holders of the Reading Company have decided to cooperate in financing and reorganizing it without an assessment upon the stock.

Such stories as this, so far as they relate to assessments, are misleading, for it is almost an absolute certainty that not one of the railway companies now in the hands of receivers can be rehabilitated financially without liberal contributions in cash from the stockholders. It is their business to pay the unsecured liabilities of the various corporations in which they are interested and provide means, if required, to improve the physical condition of their properties. If they see fit to issue securities to themselves, which come ahead of their stock, to represent the money they may furnish, they simply delude themselves as to the future value of their shares; and if they, or those whom they elect to represent them in managing the property, decide to pay interest upon the new money contributed, as is frequently the case upon issues of income bonds and preferred stocks that have figured largely in recent plans of reorganization, they invariably invite, as in the cases of Reading and Atchison, a second reorganization with all the attendant expenses of that operation.

Present indications are that the exports of gold on Thursday will foot up $1,000,000. Of that amount $600,000 was taken from the Sub-Treasury to-day, and the balance will be withdrawn Thursday morning. The greater part of this shipment is made on special orders. This explains why the weaker tone of the foreign exchange market has not checked the outward movement of specie. The appearance of special orders for gold from abroad is a new feature which came to the surface to-day; at least it has not figured in the shipments for a number of months past. This development makes it impossible to foreshadow the extent of the exports of gold in the near future. All of the gold that will be shipped on Thursday, as well as some recent consignments, goes to Germany, and it is barely possible that its ultimate destination is Vienna. The closing of the stock market was steady at a recession from the best prices.
