MEEKIN USED HIS SPEED.

LOUISVILLES GOT BUT FOUR HITS AND WERE BEATEN.

Brooklyns Were Defeated by the Cincinnatis—Boston Walloped Anson Again, and the Pittsburghs Received an Awful Thrashing in Philadelphia—Washington Beat St. Louis, and Rain Stopped the Baltimore-Cleveland Game—Gossip.

The Brooklyns lost a fine chance to take fifth place away from the Pittsburghs yesterday. Foutz's men were beaten by the Cincinnatis, while the Smoky City team was terribly thrashed by the Philadelphias, who now have a clean title to third place. The New Yorks won their second game from the Louisville tail-enders, and increased their percentage to .525, or 54 points behind the Brooklyns. The Cleveland-Baltimore game was stopped by rain, so that the Bostons, by winning another game from Chicago, cut the Baltimores' lead down to 47 points. The Washingtons, by outplaying St. Louis, took tenth position. The results:

New York, 4; Louisville, 1.
Cincinnati, 5; Brooklyn, 8.
Boston, 12; Chicago, 9.
Philadelphia, 17; Pittsburgh, 1.
Washington, 4; St. Louis, 3.
At Baltimore, rain.

NEW YORK, 4; LOUISVILLE, 1.

It was Jouett Meekin's turn to fool the tail-end Louisvilles yesterday, and he did it in good shape. He had tremendous speed and beautiful control. The Kentucky batemen gathered but four hits, and eight of them struck out. The New Yorks played a brilliant game in the field, and hit Knell with fairly good results. Davis, Ward, and Meekin batted cleverly, and Farrell caught splendidly.

The star play of the day was made by "Yale" Murphy in the seventh inning. With one out, Richardson got his base on balls and reached second on a dropped strike. Denny then lined a stinging hit over second base and Richardson hurried for the plate. Nobody thought for a moment that Denny's drive was anything but safe until Murphy sprinted full tilt toward second base, caught the ball, and touched the bag, doubling up Richardson. It was one of the finest double plays seen in this city for a long time, and the little fellow had to bear his head a number of times before the crowd ceased cheering.

In the ninth inning Danny Richardson was struck on the forearm with a swiftly pitched ball and so badly hurt that Stratton took his place at the bat. After the game Ward took Richardson to the New York dressing room and had his arm dressed. Pfeffer and Brown did the best playing for the visitors, the former participating in three rattling double plays.

The Louisville look the first crack at the ball. Tom Brown hammered a single to centre, and reached second on Van Haltren's fumble. Meekin struck out both Twitchell and O'Rourke, and Brown stole third (a clever). But it didn't help matters, as Murphy threw Weaver out at first. For the home team, Murphy scratched a hit to Danny, and Burke got a base on balls. On Davis's grounder to Richardson, Davis was doubled at first, and Murphy was left at third on Doyle's pop fly to Pfeffer.

The second inning was over in a jiffy, with no runs, and then Louisville scored one in the third on Grim's two-base hit and Tebeau's single, but the latter, after taking second on the throw in, was caught foolishly trying to make third on O'Rourke's grounder to Davis. New York tied the score in the last half of the inning on Meekin's single and steal, Burke's put, and Davis's three-bagger to left. But Doyle wasn't equal to the occasion and went out on a grounder to Richardson.

The visitors were put out in order in the fourth, but Ward scored another run by driving a double to left, taking third on Van Haltren's out, and running home after Brown made a grand catch of Tiernan's long fly.

O'Rourke made a very costly error in the fifth. With two outs he muffed Denny's throw of Burke's grounder. Burke stole second on Grim's wild throw, and scored on Davis's two-bagger along the left field foul line. Doyle hit to left, too, for a base, scoring Davis, but he was thrown out at second in trying to make a two bases on his hit. After that Knell settled down and New York failed to tally. The score:

CINCINNATI, 5; BROOKLYN, 3.

Umpire Swartwood exercised his authority at Eastern Park in the game between Cincinnati and Brooklyn yesterday afternoon. In the third inning, while Arlie Latham, the Cincinnati captain, was trying to make third on a hit by Holliday he was put out by Shindle on Tredway's throw from left field. At first Latham did not realize that he was out, but when he did there was a big circus, with Latham as thown, and therefore was Swartwood at very severe ringmaster. Latham ran to the plate gesticulating wildly and tried to convince the umpire that the decision was away off. Latham was angry clean through, and he argued vehemently with Swartwood. The latter grew tired of Latham's angry talk at last and fined him. "Fine me again," quoth Arlie boldly. Swartwood recommitted him. Then the player grew still more angry, and Swartwood peremptorily ordered him from the game. Latham tried to jolly Swartwood then, but the jolly had no effect, for when Latham went to cover third base in the next inning Swartwood insisted upon his retiring to the bench. Comiskey came to Latham's aid, but was finally compelled to bring Canavan in the game to cover third in Latham's place. It was Canavan's batting that really won the game for Cincinnati. Latham's expulsion from the game was not wise in view of the attendance of many at the grounds for the sole purpose of seeing and hearing Latham. The score:

WILLIAMS, 7; AMHERST, 1.

Amherst, June 12.—Williams practically won the championship to-day by defeating Amherst in a very interesting twelve-inning game. Lynch allowed Amherst to score her only run on his error, but made up for it by batting out a home run, winning the game when there were two men out. Both batteries did excellent work. This puts Amherst out of the race, as she has been beaten four times. The score:
