NEW YORK, 6; CHICAGO, 5.

CHICAGO, June 28.—After a hot and lively battle with a hair-raising finish, the New Yorks won their first game of the season on the Chicago grounds to-day. The Colts were outplayed, but made things warm for Rusie at the close. Ward, who was attacked with cramps in St. Louis, is still sick, and stayed out of the game, Fuller covering second and Murphy playing short. The New Yorks began the scoring in the fifth inning.

Farrell sent a long fly to Wilmot and the sun spoiled the catch. Charley racing down to second. Fuller's drive stung Terry's hand, and Burke singled to right, scoring Farrell. Ryan sent the ball to third, and Dahlen threw badly to second, letting Fuller in. Doyle's hot smash beat short scored Burke. Van Haltren tapped the ball and beat it out in the sixth and Tiernan sacrificed, while Farrell sent a hot crack into right, pushing in the run.

After Parrott had flown to Tiernan in the seventh Terry trotted to first on balls and Kittridge landed a single. Ryan smashed to left and Dahlen to centre, and two runs came in. In the eighth Tiernan hit into Ryan's district for three bases; Farrell put up a fly, which Terry ran under, muffed, received a broken finger, and left the game. Home base was left uncovered, and Tiernan ran in.

The Colts rallied fiercely in the ninth. Ryan hit to centre, Dahlen went to first on balls and was forced by Wilmot, and Anson brought Ryan home on a single to left. Lange sent a liner over first. Doyle, who by sheer luck was far out in right at the time, sprang up and caught the ball. Irwin hit to centre, scoring Wilmot, and Van Haltren's return of the ball admitted Anson. Parrott forced Irwin, and the game was over. The score:

BROOKLYN, 11; PITTSBURGH, 7.

PITTSBURGH, June 28.—Frank Killen has probably pitched his last game against Brooklyn this season. He was knocked out of the box for the third successive time this year by Foutz's heavy hitting and he will not care to know when he has enough. The visitors gave evidence of kindliness to Killen's south-paw curves in the first inning, but it was not until the sixth, when the Brooklyn base-hit column threatened to advance to three figures, that Capt. Donovan substituted Daniel Easton. The latter succeeded in stopping Brooklyn's run getting, but it was too late. Kennedy made his first appearance in the box since last Saturday's game with New York. He looked thin and weak until he began to twirl the sphere. It became apparent that he had not lost his cunning. Up in Steve, his speed being terrific and his curves effective. His support was brilliant throughout, a double play by Daly and Shindle killing whatever animation the Pirates might have had. The play occurred in the fourth inning, when with a one out and a base on balls, Beckley at third and second respectively, Stenzel drove a liner to Daly. The catch was clean, and Donovan, who was on his way to the plate, was neatly doubled. Had Corcoran covered second, Beckley would have also been out, completing a triple play.

Considerable ill feeling was shown between the two teams from the start, which threatened to end in a riot about the fifth inning. Ever since President Byrne began his action against Stenzel the local papers have fanned the flame of discontent among the home people. The advent of Byrne's pets was the signal for some talk which has only made matters worse. In the fifth inning Stenzel spiked Foutz in running to first, and the fun began. Dave was angry clean through, and when Stenzel came back they faced each other like bantams in a four-round go. Foutz feinted with his right and Stenzel ducked. They glared at one another, while the others gathered around to protect their respective comrades. The crowd appeared to grow angry at Foutz, and seemed about to take a part in the mill, but fortunately, better judgment prevailed and no blows were struck. The score:
