HEAVY BETTING AT THE SPA

THE STRONGEST PLAY SEEN IN YEARS, SAY THE EXPERTS.

Eastern and Western Plungers Making the Ring Quake—$75,000 Taken Out of the Ring on Friday—Still Fighting for Better Racing—Fusses Won by Senetia, Favors Colt, Liselg, Mistral, and Sandowne.

SARATOGA, Aug. 3.—A heavy track, muggy weather, a small attendance, the overthrow of the favorites, and heavy betting in spite of the class of horses were the features of the day's sport at the Spa this afternoon. The betting here is very heavy, and there are more than two score people here who throw thousand-dollar bills about the ring. Jack McDonald, one of the shrewdest and most successful men on the turf, says that there has been so much betting on the turf in four years as there is here at the present time, and George Dalum, a careful observer, says that no such heavy betting has been done in a half-dozen years in his belief. All the heavy plungers of the East and the West are here, and it takes a man of nerve and with a good bank roll to make a book against such betting.

President Wallaum of the Saratoga Association announced this afternoon that he would try and satisfy the people here about the hour for beginning the races. He has agreed to have the races begin at 1 o'clock if that will satisfy the visitors, who want it over by 4 o'clock at least, so that they may have their dinner, a chance to dress, and a drive to the lake. This is not at all satisfactory to the owners and bookmakers and the body of racegoers, who will join in a petition to be presented to-morrow asking that the racing begin not later than 12 o'clock noon. The crowd argue that they should have some time to enjoy the attractions of this great watering place, and it looked to-night as if they would have their way in the matter.

The racing was of the most commonplace character to-day. It began with a six-furlong scramble for horses that have never won a race of the value of $400, this bringing a field of fourteen to the post, with Senelia, Miss Dixie, and Madrione about equal favorites in the speculation. The first named won the dash without much trouble by three lengths from Innocent, who beat West Park a neck for the place. The latter was only a neck before Leigh & Rose's two-year-old Valkyria, which swerved badly in the stretch, with Miss Dixie and Wheeler close up, the finish for the second money being a very hot one between the five.

The Favors colt made a runaway race of the dash for maiden two-year-olds at four and a half furlongs which followed. Phœbus, the favorite, being beaten nearly three lengths, he in turn beating Rosemore, who was played for a good thing, a head for the place. The rest of the field were nowhere. While the betting was at the post for this race Chariotte, who was ridden by Swash, reared and threw her jockey over the fence. She was caught and Swash got up unhurt, but neither played any part in the race. The winner, a handsome brown colt by Turon, out of Favora, was bred by L. O. Appleby at Silver Brook Farm, New Jersey.

There was misery for the plungers after the third race, for which Saratoga was the hottest kind of a favorite with 3 to 5 the ruling price against him. Reagan had the mount, and backed the horse himself, according to the stories in the ring, even though there is a prohibition against jockeys betting. But Clayton, who had the mount on Liselg, had the fastest horse in the mud, and got the money. He took Liselg out to the front at the start, and on the backstretch opened up a gap of five lengths, a lead that Saratoga was not able to reduce. It also gave Clayton a chance to rest the filly just before the finish, and he did this so well that when he called on her at the end she fairly rumped home three lengths ahead of Illume, who just beat Saratoga for the place.

Flirt was made a hot favorite for the six-furlong dash for three-year-old fillies, in which there were nine runners. But Mr. Croker's game little filly was either not quite herself or else she did not like the heavy going, for she tired very badly at the end and Mistral and Arapahoe, who had made all the running, had the finish between them. Mistral wining rather handily by three lengths, while Arapahoe was a point in front of Flirt, both of them fairly staggering past at the finish. Miss Gaiety was left at the post, much to the disgust of John Carr and others, who had backed her for a good thing, and would have won thousands, so they say, if she had got away.

Sandowne came to the rescue of the plungers in the fifth race, and won it from start to finish. Griffin, who had the mount, never taking a chance that any one should catch him. He won by five lengths from Semper Lex, who had run second after the first three-eighths of a mile, going into that place when Skedaddle sulked, as he did at two different points in the journey.

Frig, who has been running very poorly of late, was the good thing for the last race of the afternoon, and those who were in the know managed to hit the firing for about $75,000 over his victory. He opened at 8 to 1, but was actually backed off the board, at four even the most daring of bookies would lay against him at the close. Aurelian, a grand good mud horse, was the favorite, but he was not quite good enough to beat the horse of riding that Griffin did and the racing that Frig did under his performance. These two were the only ones in the race at any part of it, and they had it hot and heavy. Frig finally landing the money by a nose from Aurelian, who was ridden most desperately by Doggett and who was game to the very end of the route. Gallieo was a poor third, beaten a dozen lengths.

The match race between Lorillard's Redowan and Walbaum's Rosemary, which was to have been decided, has been postponed to a good day and good track for a decision, so that each shall have an even chance in the race, horse for horse.

The mile-and-a-quarter race, which was to have been a feature of the racing to-morrow, has been declared off as there was no entry made for it, the owners of all the good ones preferring dodging to racing. Summaries follow:

POOR RACING AT BRIGHTON.

McDermott's Riding of Tim Tim to Be Investigated.

The racing at Brighton yesterday was of the tamest character. The fourth event was supposed to be the feature of the afternoon, and brought out six starters, two of whom, Tom Tough and Our Maggie, are owned by Jordan. The public hastened to back Tom Tough, making him a pronounced favorite at 6 to 5, with as good as 4 to 1 against his stable companion. Clerior rode Tom Tough, while the clever Western boy, Reiff, had the mount on Our Maggie. Tom Tough was not prominent at any time after the flag fell, while Our Maggie made the running. Sam Weller gave her a warm argument at the upper turn, getting his head in front for a brief interval, but the filly shook herself clear and won in a gallop. Sam Weller went to pieces in the stretch, and Little Mat took second money quite handily from Tom Tough. Those who played Tom Tough felt a trifle sore after the race.

Shadow was favorite for the opening race. Runyon cut out the work to the stretch, where he was caught by Shadow and Saunterer, the former winning easily by two lengths. Saunterer beat Runyon a neck for the place. Solitaire, favorite in the second race, spread-eagled his field and won it a canter by two lengths. Soprano was a length in front of Walter Riggs for place honors. Hanwell and Ella Reed were about equally fancied in a very ordinary lot of two-year-olds to win the third race. Jessie Taral gave Hanwell a hard push in the last furlong, but the brown colt of Hanover beat her by a head. Ella Reed was third, a length away.

Drum Major had the call in the fifth race. Busirus led to the last furlong, when Reiff gave Drum Major his head, and he shot to the front and won easily by a length from McIntyre, who beat Busirus half a length for the place. Jack Rose, favorite at short odds, won the sixth race very easily from Trouble by half a length. Wise was a fair third.

Starter Flynn said that Ted Sloane was responsible for Black Hawk being left at the post in the fifth race, and told the stewards that the jockey would not accept a start unless he had an advantage. Sloane will probably not be permitted to ride at Brighton for the balance of the meeting.

Dr. Knapp, who is a member of the Jockey Club, called the attention of the Brighton Beach stewards yesterday to Jockey McDermott's poor exhibition of horsemanship in the Tim Tim handicap. McDermott will have to answer before the stewards of the Jockey Club. Summaries follow:

PLANS OF THE FLUSHING PEOPLE.

They Propose to Move the Racing Boat at Whitestone, but That May Be Stopped.

FLUSHING, Aug. 3.—The situation of the Flushing Jockey Club track is such that despite the efforts of the authorities to stop racing there another series of thirty days' racing may be conducted on the track. The track is on the boundary of the village of Flushing and the unincorporated part of the town. A portion of it is in the Whitestone district.

The club will hereafter be known as the Whitestone Driving Club. It was learned today that the new organization intends to make some alterations on the grounds. It is proposed to move the grand stand, judges stand, betting ring, and a few other buildings to that portion of the track which lies in the Whitestone district. Some alterations may be made on the track so it cannot be charged that races take place on the same course. The present entrance to the track will be closed up and one opened at the opposite side.

Efforts are being made to frustrate the plans of the club, and it is said that if the movement is successful the club will move its effects to Maspeth, where a series of races will be conducted.

The party who surreptitiously set away on Thursday morning with Samuel McCreery's horse, phaeton, and two extra sets of harness, evidently became badly frightened or else concluded that he had an elephant on his hands, for the rig was found under the shed of a roadhouse near Corona by McCreery about noon on Thursday.

JOCKEY M'DERMOTT'S HONOR.

He Punched a Man for Saying That He Pulled Stonenelle.

Jockey W. McDermott was before Justice Haggerty yesterday in the Myrtle Avenue Court, Brooklyn, to answer a charge of assault made by Robert Gillen. McDermott rode Stonenelle last Monday in a race at Brighton Beach and lost. On the following night Gillen met McDermott at Brooklyn and accused him of pulling the horse. McDermott knocked him down and put both of his eyes in deep mourning. McDermott explained the affair to Justice Haggerty as follows:

"This man reflected on my honor, and I could not stand it. I would do the same to any one who would make such a charge. Many men on the track would have killed him."

Justice Haggerty told him that he must not try to uphold his reputation by knocking people down. He placed the jockey under $500 bonds for examination on Aug. 20. Gillen was a small plunger on Stonenelle.

MANY CREWS SCRATCHED

In the Trial Races of the Canadian Amateur Rowing Regatta.

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 3.—The trial heats of the annual regatta of the Canadian association of amateur oarsmen were rowed at Burlington Beach, Hamilton, to-day. There was a stiff breeze blowing off the land, and the bay course being too rough to row on, the lake course was the scene of the contests, but even that course was rough and the time made by the scullers was not as good as it would have been on smooth water. The St. Paul, Minn., four-oared crew were one mast short and did not row to-day. They will row in the senior doubles to-morrow. The New York crew that was entered for the fours was also scratched, leaving only Canadian crews and one from Detroit to compete, the latter making a poor show and coming in last. The Vesper's crew of Philadelphia won the final in the paired-oared.

The trial heats for the senior singles was postponed till to-morrow, owing to the roughness of the course. Ryan and Wright of Toronto, who rowed at the Henley regatta, were entered for this event, but they have withdrawn. Wright's foot still pains him, and it is not thought he will be had in Toronto Bay this week and Ryan being ill and out of condition. E. A. Thompson of the Argonauts, Toronto, and E. Newton Atherton of Hartford, Conn., have also withdrawn from the senior singles. This leaves eight to compete in this race. They will row a final heat to-morrow morning. Tomlinson of Hamilton is a strong favorite for the senior singles in the betting, but Hedley of the Vespers, who rowed third in good race here a few years ago, and McDowell of the Delaware Club of Chicago have also good backing, and the race for the Canadian single scull championship will probably be between these three.

The time made to-day was not fast owing to the wind, but there were some speedy oarsmen here, and to-morrow it is confidently expected new records for Canada will be established. The results of to-day's events were:

Senior Four-oared—First heat: First, Dons of Toronto, Thomas Kenny, bow, Alf. Reynolds, No. 2, Charles Hastie, No. 3, Joseph Hurley, stroke. Second, Leander, Toronto, bow, H. Wright, No. 2, W. Osborne, No. 3, R. C. Rowlands, No. 4, E. F. Dewar, stroke. Time, 19:06. Second Heat: First, Argonauts of Toronto—R. G. Kinnis, bow, E. A. Thompson, No. 2, T. E. Thompson, No. 3, C. O. Mutts, stroke. Second, Ariel, Detroit, bow, J. Smyth, No. 2, W. J. Sheehan, No. 3, A. S. Wells, stroke. Third, Detroit—T. D. Standish, bow, E. H. Hathaway, No. 2, Emory Clarke, No. 3, Frank A. Lyon, stroke. Time, 19:16.

The Argonauts, Ionic, Leanders, and Toronto row in the finals to-morrow. The pair-oared race had three entries, but the Argonauts of Toronto, crew No. 2, were scratched, leaving the Vespers of Philadelphia and the Argonauts, crew No. 1 to compete. At the start the Vespers took the water first, and immediately pulled away with a good lead, which they made the most of by increasing it at every stroke. The Vespers paddled in easy winners by a dozen or more lengths, as follows:

First, Vespers—George Van Vliet, bow; Frank Bolte, stroke.

Second, Argonauts—L. E. Stewart, bow; A. D. Clark, stroke. Time, 20:37.

The events for to-morrow are senior and junior fours and senior and junior doubles.

The Lowell Cricketers Against a Combined Team.

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 3.—The Lowell cricketers began their final match here this morning, playing against the combined Garrison and Wanderers' team. When play was called for lunch the visitors had 74 runs for six wickets down. The only feature of the game up to that time was the score of R. Fairburn, who made 22 runs before being caught. J. Smith, the only other man to reach double figures, was also caught for 18.

The Lowells were finally retired for a total of 126.

The combined team then went in, and when stumps were drawn on account of rain had made twenty runs without the loss of a wicket, Worsley and Campbell being at bat.

Games of the Sixty-ninth Battalion.

Amateur athletes desirous of picking up handsome prizes and spending a pleasant half holiday, have a rare opportunity this afternoon. The games of the Sixty-ninth Battalion, N. G. S. N. Y., were registered so late with the A. A. U. authorities that athletes hesitated to send in entries promptly. The promoters are always equal to an emergency, and finding the events unsatisfactorily filled last night they decided to hold the entry list open until 1 P. M. to-day. Entries may be made up to that hour with E. W. Hjertberg, 108 Lexington avenue, and it is to be hoped that the athletes having a free afternoon will rally round the sporting battalion, and make the meeting a success.

The games will commence promptly at 3 P. M. in Sulzer's Harlem River Park, where every arrangement has been made for the comfort of competitors and spectators. The events, which are handicaps, and open to all amateurs, include a one-mile bicycle race, 10-pound weight for height, running high jump, 100-yards photographing 10-pound shot, running hop, step, and jump, one-mile walk, and one-mile bicycle race.

PAMLICO WAITED AND WON.

A STOUT BATTLE BETWEEN THE 2:10 TROTTERS AT BUFFALO.

Ryland T., the Champion Gelding, Was the Favorite, but After a Hard Fight with Lord Clinton in the First Heat He Was Not Dangerous—S. R. Was Deprived of a Fairly Earned Victory in the 2:16 Pace—The 2:09 Trot Was Won by the New York Mare Alar—Redbud in the Lead.

BUFFALO, Aug. 3.—Having lost a day, and being four classes behind, the Grand Circuit meeting began an hour earlier than usual this afternoon. The weather was unfavorable for fast time, as it was raw, and a light wind further hampered the flyers. Under these disadvantages the miles were remarkably fast, especially in the 2:16 trot, which began with a heat in 2:08¾. Ryland T., who won this, had started some distance back, and in a terrific battle with Lord Clinton reached the wire a neck ahead of the ex-champion gelding. This mile caused the defeat of both horses, and after Hamlin's Nightingale had won the second heat, Pamlico proved his gameness by outlasting all the other cracks.

This race was the feature of the day, although it came last on the programme. The money was on Ryland T. at even before the start, and the odds were the same after the second heat. It was in this mile that Ryland T. showed the effects of the tremendous effort that landed him in front the first time, and the gallant old trotter had to be content with second money. Young Curtis said he lost the second heat by getting away too slow with Pamlico, and, when Nightingale made her rush from the head of the stretch, the stallion was carried off his stride. He redeemed himself by a great finish in the third heat, which carried him clear of the bunch from the seventh furlong, and there was nothing dangerously near at the wire in 2:11¾.

Miss Wilkes tripped away in front and led to the distance in the fourth heat, but the strong-limbed Pamlico ate her up from there and finished strong in 2:12. He had a still harder test to stand in the fifth heat, with everybody in hot pursuit. One by one they fell back until Nightingale and Ryland T. were left to dispute the way from the long distance. The Village Farm's representative made a break, and Ryland T., under the whip, was an open length behind Pamlico in 2:11¾.

Redbud was the favorite among the three-year-olds. The Tennessean sustained this opinion by handing the money in three heats. Expressive waiting till the third before trying for the lead. Even then she was an easy victim. Redbud shaking her off on the homestretch and finishing in 2:15¾, a new mark for the colt.

From the first pool on the 2:20 trot Baliona was the choice, and when the race was called it was even money on the brown daughter of Stranger. She was well up in the first heat until a tangled break left her far behind, and Alar disposed of Greenlaw without much difficulty on her. This changed the betting, and it was 8 to 2 on Alar before the second heat. Baliona was on her good behavior this time, but Alar fairly outfooted her by a short length in 2:13¾. Dickerson sent Baliona off in front as last heat, but in the third heat, but Alar carried her off her stride soon after passing the half, and a mile in 2:16¾ made a very easy win for the stout young mare from the metropolis.

The 2:16 pace became a three-cornered fight between Ed Easton, S. R., and Bullmont, in which the first named had a lucky victory. He won the first two heats cleverly enough, after Bullmont had cut out the pace, in the second heat. S. R. was in trouble, but a trifle late, and Starr slowed up from the distance, being sure of third place. The judges lost sight of the chestnut pacer and put H. J. Rockwell ahead of him. They refused to correct the palpable error when Starr called their attention to it. S. R. made his spurt earlier in the third heat and, overhauling Ed Easton in the last fifty yards, beat him by a neck in 2:13¾. Geers thought it prudent to lay Ed Easton up the heat time, and S. R. defeated Bullmont in a lively brush through the stretch.

In the fifth heat, when S. R. was coming round the springers, Jockey was in his way, and he smashed into the dangerous outsider just in time to prevent him from winning. Ed Easton was after Bullmont, but he stopped up at the critical moment, and Bullmont won the heat. Starr made an indignant protest against McDonald's foul drive, and the judges placed Jockey last, a very inadequate punishment for such a glaring offence. S. R. had taken such a long run after the collision that he tired in the sixth heat, and Ed Easton managed to scramble home in the lead after two hardy breaks below the distance.

The 2:15 trot for a purse of $5,000, with Anoe among the nineteen entries, comes first to-morrow. Then the 2:08 pacers meet in the Sensation Purse of $5,000, twenty-one being in the list of starters, including such cracks as Outlaw, May Marshall, Hal Braden, Moonpoint, Vassar, Reflector, Paul, and John R. Gentry. The four-year-old trotters are down on Mary Best, Rose Leaf, Dangerous and eight others being named. Summaries:
