MONROE SALISBURY'S CASE

THE BOARD OF REVIEW READY TO TAKE TESTIMONY.

The Chances of a Compromise Not So Bright as They Were on Monday—Thomas Greenwood's Case Against the New England Horse Breeders' Association Not Sustained—Long Island Trotting Horse Men in Limbo for Ringing the Old-time Trotter Rex—Other Cases on the Docket for the Rest of the Week.

The Board of Review of the National Trotting Association began its yearly session at the Murray Hill Hotel last evening, and the trotting turf world will have plenty of food for gossip before the body concludes its labors, as several cases of prominence, notably the Salisbury-Fleetwood tangle, will come before it in the course of the week. There were present last evening President P. P. Johnston of Lexington, Ky.; Vice-President David Bonner of New York, and delegates ex-Gov. M. G. Bulkley of Hartford, William Russell Allen of St. Louis, and George W. Archer of Rochester. Secretary M. M. Morse of Hartford was in his usual place.

The Salisbury case will be taken up to-day, and notice was served on witnesses last evening that they would be required to be present at 3 o'clock this afternoon to give their testimony. The exact circumstances which led up to the sensational expulsion of Monroe Salisbury, the famous California turfman, by the judges of the Grand Circuit meeting at Fleetwood last September will all be thrashed over this afternoon. The readers of THE SUN will remember that Mr. Salisbury was expelled by the judges because he removed his filly Expressive from the Fleetwood track during the pendency of the 2:16 class, in which the filly was a starter. The race was first postponed from Friday to Saturday, after two heats had been trotted, and then carried over to Monday of the following week, when rain prevented the finish. On Saturday evening Salisbury shipped Expressive to Terre Haute, where she was entered to trot the following week, and when she failed to appear on Monday at Fleetwood the judges expelled her manager on the ground that he had removed the mare without permission from them.

Mr. Salisbury claims that the race in question might have been completed on Friday if the management had not changed the order of the programme for the day, placing the 2:16 class last instead of first on the card, and adding a special event to the regular card, which he claims the club had no right to do under its published conditions. Then he claims that the race was not legally postponed on Saturday, the national rules vesting this power in the Driving Club itself, while it was in this instance, it is claimed, actually exercised by the judges of the race without proper authority. A direct point of veracity is made by Mr. Salisbury, claiming that he had the permission of the judges to withdraw his mare. This the Fleetwood judges denied point blank at the time, and the whole case will come up this afternoon, with Judge H. M. Whitehead of this city as counsel for Mr. Salisbury. It is said that the Executive Committee of the Fleetwood track no less than a week ago had decided to send a letter to the Board of Review, asking for Mr. Salisbury's reinstatement. Judge Whitehead heard that such a letter was in existence, or was to be written, and he wrote to President Samuel McMillan, asking for a copy.

It is alleged that Mr. McMillen replied that no such letter had been written as yet, and that it would largely depend upon Judge Whitehead's course in the matter whether any such document would be forwarded to the national tribunal. Judge Whitehead makes a strong point of the fact that the minutes of the Judge's book show that Salisbury was expelled "for failing to appear on the Fleetwood track with the bay mare expressive at the time announced for the third heat in the 2:16 race," which brings the alleged offence within section 2 of rule 23, for violation of which the only penalty prescribed is a fine of $100. At the time the expulsion of Salisbury took place it was generally understood that the judges had based their ruling on section 1 of rule 17, which provides that "no horse shall be drawn except by permission of the Judges of the race unless at or before 7 o'clock P. M. of the day preceding the race the owner or driver shall have lodged with the managers of the track notice of his intention not to start. For a violation of this requirement a fine of $100 or suspension or expulsion shall be imposed upon both the horse and the party who violates the regulation."

From present indications the case will be fought out on both sides.

By far the most important case which came up for consideration yesterday was that of Thomas Greenwood of this city, who appealed against the decision of the New England Horse Breeders' Association. Two years ago Mr. Greenwood trotted the two-year-old Allopaster and the yearling Princess Clara, at the meeting of the New England Horse Breeders' Association, winning stakes with both of them. The races were protested on the ground that Mr. Greenwood was not the actual owner of either Allopaster or Princess Clara, and the New England Horse Breeders' Association, after an investigation, withheld the money. Mr. Greenwood owning only the racing qualities of the trotters named, Dr. McCully of Toronto, Ont., being the real owner of Allopaster, while Princess Clara is owned by Charles Hackman of Stony Ford Stud, this State. Mr. Greenway appealed to the Board of Review of the National Trotting Association, and he was on hand last night to testify in his own behalf, but he was not called. John H. Graham of Boston represented the New England Breeders' Association, and after his statement had been heard the Board decided to sustain the action of the New England body.

W. P. Olcott, the millionaire financier and horse owner, appeared in the case involving $12,50. Two years ago Mr. Olcott bought a horse called Somerset through the New York State circuit. His trainer, D. J. Culross entered Somerset at Corning, but wired his employer that the class had not filled, and was instructed to return home. After receiving these instructions the Secretary of the association notified Mr. Olcott's trainer that the class had been filled.

Culross would not start the horse, and Somerset was suspended for non-payment of entries. Olcott wrote the Secretary of the Corning Association a warm letter, in which he told him he was either a knave or a fool, and that he believed he was both. The Secretary sent the letter to Mr. Morse, Secretary of the National Trotting Association, and had some trite things to say about Mr. Olcott.

Henry Van Allen of Jamaica, L. I., ruled off for ringing the gelding Rex, 2:28¾, by Sweepstakes, protested and asked for a removal of the penalty against him. Van Allen testified that he had bought Rex at the Bull's Head for $600, and that he was not aware that the horse had a record, although he took him to Shultz's track on the Brooklyn Boulevard and worked him a mile in 2:29¾ the day after he bought him. An affidavit was read from F. M. Clements of 1,604 Broadway in which he stated that he had sold the gelding Rex to Van Allen.

Mr. Van Allen denied point blank that he had bought the horse from Mr. Clements. Starting Judge C. A. Willis of this city, who has seen Rex trot for years, recognized the gelding, which started under the name of George L., and he took prompt action in the matter. It is probable that the Board of Review will sustain Mr. Willis.

After the evidence was all in the Van Allens, father and son, asked Mr. Willis to come outside and get thrashed. The Judge was perfectly willing to go anywhere, but nothing came of it, and the session went on as though nothing had occurred. Peter Manse, who is always a regular attendant at the sessions of the Board of Review, and who drove Rex when he was owned by Long Tom Crosby, one of the worst men living that Cherry Hill could boast of, had a prominent seat while the case was being heard.

W. K. Moore of Long Island City, who applied for the removal of suspension against himself, Fred Bowley, and the brown gelding Dandy, had his request granted. Dandy started in the four-minute class of Mineola last June, taking a record of 2:37. He was protested as being Denver, with a record of 2:34, but no proof was submitted at the time, and last evening, when it was shown conclusively that Dandy was a green horse without any record, the Board placed all the parties in the case in good standing.

W. A. Walker of this city had his application for $50 reward for discovering the ringer Volunteer Prince at Parkway last summer granted, and he will get the money.

In the case of H. S. Howe, who was alleged to have trotted the mare Poor Girl, 2:33¾, in the 2:40 class at Ogdensburg, this state, in 1893, A. N. Hilson swore that the mare was at the Ogdensburg meeting that year, and Mr. Howe asks the removal of the penalty. Decision was reserved.

The gelding Roach Mane, 2:27¼, started as Peter in the 2:40 class at Orwigsburg, Pa., winning first money. The prize was held under protest, and now J. C. Beck of the Executive Committee of the Schuylkill County Agricultural Society appears and asks the Board to expel the horse and his owner, Daniel E. Boyer. Mr. Beck presented an affidavit from A. C. Shepard, who knew the horse in Michigan and identified him as Roach Mane.

A case which may be tried and which will cause some comment will be that against A. H. Moore of the Cloverdell Farm and Driver and Trainer Budd Doble and the mare Ballona. This mare won something over $6,000 in stakes and purses during the past year, but as Cloverdell Farm is under suspension, the money will probably be taken away from her.

It was not known for a long time that Moore owned Ballona. Doble has applied for a reinstatement, as he is now on his way to California. Ballona was [illegible] Lexington, Ky.

other points, and was one of the best performers in her class last season.

The Board will meet at 10 o'clock this morning.

A New Track in the West for Harness Racing.

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—A trotting track is promised the racegoers of Chicago for next season. It will be located at Wheaton, Ill., outside of Cook county, where a track is already laid out on a small scale. It is to be under the management of R. J. Gorton and Charles Miller. It is proposed to erect a grand stand and enlarge the stable facilities, plenty of stabling being assured. The support of the leading owners of trotters and pacers has been promised, and the matter of stakes for next year's meeting is now under consideration.

Annual Meeting of the National Skating Association.

The National Skating Association held their annual meeting last night at the residence of President W. B. Curtis, 144 Henry street, Brooklyn. On account of the absence of "Father Bill," Gus C. Walton presided. The first thing done was to elect officers. This resulted as follows: President, W. B. Curtis; Vice-President, Gus C. Walton; Secretary, S. J. Montgomery; Treasurer, A. A. Jordan; Captain, H. E. Buorneyer. The application of the South Orange Field Club for the figure skating championship was granted. The speed skating contest will take place on Orange Lake, seven miles from Newburgh, on Saturday, Jan. 19. The events will be quarter of a mile, one mile, five and ten miles. Three prizes, consisting of gold, silver, and bronze medals, will be awarded in each race. The following members were elected: Thomas W. Lemon, C. E. Tower, S. M. Phillips, George C. Froelich, and C. L. Waring.

George Work Gives Big Odds and Loses.

Few men outside of such experts as Welch, Macalester, and Murphy could truthfully say up to last Monday that they had ever beaten George Work in a pigeon-shooting match. However, on that day he was defeated by one bird in a fifty-bird match with Peter H. Morris. Some of the glory of Morris's achievement is dimmed through the fact that he stood at the 24-yard mark, while Work was placed just thirty-eight yards from the trap. The final score was: Morris, 37; Work, 36.

Clever Shooting by the Lady Millers.

The competition for gold medals among the members of the Lady Miller Rifle Club was held at their ranges at Hoboken on Monday night. The winners were: Miss Hamie Miller, class A; Mrs. Miller, class B; Mrs. Wilson, class C. The shooting was done offhand, on the American 25-ring target, at 75 feet. CINCINNATI, Dec. 4.—The old officers of the Cincinnati Baseball Club were reelected yesterday, as follows: President, J. T. Brush; Vice-President, Col. Ellerton; Secretary and Treasurer, N. Buck Ewing will undoubtedly be selected to replace Charles Comiskey. Manager Pancroft will also be retained.

He was in the city last week to petition the faculty to allow him to enter at the beginning of next term. The request was granted, which means that Priest will enter the university on Jan. 1 next.

REFORM REJECTED.

New York A. C. Members Stand by Their Old Laws.

The special general meeting of the New York A. C., held in the gymnasium of the club house last night, attracted over 300 members. Discussion was almost entirely confined to the amendments proposed by the reform party for the purpose of revolutionizing election methods in the club. President Bartow S. Weeks occupied the chair most of the time, but he vacated it at intervals to take the floor in defence of the existing constitution.

The amendments were supported by F. A. Dugro, J. R. Van Wormer, and others, but none of the reform orators would undertake to place the responsibility of the circular received by members yesterday and signed "Committee on Constitutional Reform." Many members, who found fault with the strong phrasing of the circular, yelled out, "Name! Name! Name!" and for a time feeling ran very high between the rival parties.

A. G. Mills, Walter Stanton, and Gen. T. L. Watson were the most conspicuous orators in favor of preserving the constitution inviolate. The four sections put forward as amendments to article 5 of the constitution were then voted on in a bunch. The ballot resulted in 173 for and 143 against. As a two-third vote is necessary to alter the constitution the amendments were declared lost.

The proposed amendment to Article XI., providing that "copies of the annual report of the Board of Governors and the Treasurer's detailed annual report shall be printed and distributed to members at least five days before the annual meeting," was rejected unanimously.

During the evening the Board held their regular meeting for the purpose of appointing a nominating committee to select a ticket for the next term of office. Five prominent members were selected, but their names will not be disclosed until they have agreed to accept. The ticket must be posted not less than fifteen days before the annual meeting, which takes place on the second Tuesday in January.

A LETTER IS SAID TO BE COMING.

What a Friend of Lord Dunraven's Says About Its Contents.

LONDON, Dec. 4.—A representative of the United Press questioned an intimate friend of Lord Dunraven's to-day, concerning the report that Lord Dunraven had already forwarded to the New York Yacht Club a challenge for the America's Cup. The gentleman interviewed appeared not to be aware that a challenge had been sent, but admitted that a letter might have been sent with the view of gaining time under the ten months' notice clause of the Deed of Gift, which letter, under certain conditions, might be construed as a challenge.

He was certain that if a challenge were sent it would not hold good unless the Cup Committee granted the conditions demanded by Lord Dunraven. One of these conditions is that the race be sailed earlier than October. He believed that after the letter announcing the Cup Committee's decision had been received by the Royal Yacht Squadron, a letter had been sent to J. V. S. Cullen, Secretary of the New York Yacht Club, offering to challenge for the cup on the conditions mentioned.

Nothing from Dunraven.

There was little new in the yachting situation yesterday, and up to a late hour last night no cable or communication of any kind from Lord Dunraven had been received at the New York Yacht Club house. From now on all dealings with Lord Dunraven, outside of the formal receipt of the Royal Yacht Squadron's challenge, will be through the America's Cup Committee.

The only question now to be settled, it is said, is in regard to the date of sailing the matches for the cup. Lord Dunraven thinks that October is entirely too late, and in this the majority of yachtsmen on this side of the Atlantic are with him. As a rule, they think that it is the very worst month in the year to sail a race, but unless some compromise is effected the cup contests will have to be sailed then, for according to the new deed of gift, ten months must elapse between the receipt of the challenge and the day of the first race. If this rule is adhered to the first race could not possibly be sailed next year before the 10th or 12th of October. This little matter, it is said, is being settled by cable, and until a date has been definitely decided upon it is thought that no challenge will be sent.

Monday, Sept. 10, 1895, is the date most talked of for the first race.

Douglaston Yachtsmen Are in a Prosperous Condition.

The Douglaston Yacht Club, one of the most prosperous organizations of its kind on the Long Island side of the Sound, held their annual meeting last evening at the Hotel Brunswick. Commodore Hazen L. Hoyt presided, while James B. Hixon, Jr., acted as Secretary. After some routine business the following officers were unanimously elected:

Commodore, Charles A. Gould, steam yacht Nealca; Vice-Commodore, Edwin N. Doll, schooner yacht Windward; Rear-Commodore, N. Greenfield, steam yacht Erna; Secretary, J. B. Hixon; Treasurer, G. A. Corry; Governors, H. D. Bristol, John R. Taylor.

The Treasurer's report showed the club to be in a prosperous condition, with eighty-four members in good standing and a fleet of forty-seven yachts, divided as follows: Steamers and launches, 8; schooners, 2; sloops and cutters, 16; cabin cats, 5; open cats, 14; 21-footers, 2.

The club, which has heretofore been distinguished by their floating club house, has now leased fifteen acres of land at the end of one of the most desirable points on Little Neck Bay. Here, in deep water, the house is now permanently fixed, and is connected with the mainland by a covered gangway.

The annual regatta and club ribbons have been left to the Regatta Committee. A committee was appointed to change the flag officers pennants.

Boston A. A. Leaves the A. A. U.

BOSTON, Dec. 4.—The Boston Athletic Association have decided to withdraw from the New England Association of the Amateur Athletic Union, and will send in their resignation to be acted upon at the next meeting. This is the result of the attempt of the B. A. A. to reorganize the New England Association, which failed signally at a meeting held here last night. G. W. Beals of the B. A. A. moved that the New England Division of the A. A. U. be disbanded, but he was voted down. Then he declared that his club would withdraw.

Petty shot for the trophy for two years against all comers in a series of matches and defeated such marksmen as George F. Lantzer, B. Walther, A. G. Heintz, and Dr. Samuel J. Fort.

Odds and Ends of Sport.

Thirty-five members of the old Williamsburgh A. C. have banded together for the purpose of arranging a reunion. They propose to have it take the shape of a dinner.

Secretary Wilcox of the Flushing Shooting Club says that on account of the lateness in getting out notices for the big invitation cup race to be shot next Saturday the Governing Committee have extended the time of entry until to-day.

BUCKENBERGER GETS BACK

HE IS REINSTATED BY THE LEAGUE'S NATIONAL BOARD.

The Ex-Pittsburgh Manager Clears Himself of the Charge of Treachery, and Will Probably Handle the Toronto Club—The Eastern League Meeting To-day.

A. C. Buckenberger, who, with Pfeffer and Barnie, was suspended by the National Board last month for alleged treachery, because of his connection with the new American Baseball Association, was unanimously reinstated yesterday by Messrs. Byrne, Soden, and Young, who comprise the Board. P. T. Powers, President of the Eastern League, was instrumental in bringing the good work about, and he was ably assisted by W. W. Kerr of the Pittsburgh League club. Buckenberger made a statement, accompanied by an affidavit to the effect that he had never approached a single League player, that he had not interested himself in the organization of the association while he was under contract to the Pittsburgh League club, and was in no way guilty of the charge of treachery. These facts were submitted a week ago to President N. E. Young, who in turn sent them to Soden and Byrne for consideration. Soden promptly wired Young on Monday that he was in favor of reinstating the ex-Pittsburgh manager, and when the same information was received from Byrne President Young sent the following despatch yesterday to President Powers:

The National Board has unanimously approved Buckenberger's appeal.

Buckenberger will arrive in this city to-day to attend the meeting of the Eastern League at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. It is probable that he will receive the franchise of the Toronto Club, as Jack Chapman, who was slated for that city, will undoubtedly assume the management of the club in Rochester.

President Powers was of the opinion yesterday that if Barnie could present his case as well as Buckenburger did, he, too, would be placed in good standing again. "As far as Barnie is concerned," said Powers to THE SUN reporter, "I was as deep in the Association scheme as he was. It was represented to me that the new Association would be under the protection of the national agreement and that Harry Wright would be President. I received an offer to manage the New York club, and I was told that Comiskey, Hanlon, Buckenberger, and Selee had all received offers to manage Association teams. Barnie probably was as misinformed as I was, but, being in the West, he was unable to verify matters, and did not pull out of the scheme when he should have done so."

The Eastern League men will hold their annual meeting at the Fifth Avenue Hotel this morning. The Board of Directors will meet at 11 o'clock, and the League will convene immediately afterward. In addition to routine business, the question of selecting the circuit for next season will occupy considerable time. According to present indications the Erie and Yonkers clubs will drop out. President Powers thinks that the four Western clubs will be located in Buffalo, Rochester, Toronto, and Syracuse. The Eastern end of the circuit is somewhat in doubt, however. At present Providence, Springfield, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, Fall River, and Newark are in the field for the four vacancies. Providence is sure of being a member, and Springfield, if a respectable financial showing can be made, will also be accepted. Fall River is represented by two applications, and parties in Newark claim to have plenty of backing to start a club there. Wilkesbarre and Scranton may put up a hard fight, if anything like a freeze-out stares them in the face.

NOTES BY ALBIN.

(a) First played by white in the Vienna tournament in 1882. This move prevents P—Q 4.

(b) Prevents P—K Kt 4, and gives the Kt some freedom to play, via Kt 3 to B 5 or R 5.

(c) Done with the intention of taking Q—R 5.

(d) Apparently forced, if the pawn P—K Kt 4, and prevents Kt—B 5, as the pawn on R 2 remains unprotected.

(e) White is forced to this move in order to weaken black's intended P—K Kt 4.

(f) The loss of two pawns cannot be prevented any more.

(g) R—B 4 ought to have been played here, and if Q x K 4 or K 6 ch, R—R 2 with a good game.

(h) Superfluous. 33. Q x Q P x P better than Kt x Q; 34. B—Kt 5 would have given drawing chances.

(i) Under the circumstances, 34. Q—K 3 ch, R—Kt follows (not K—R 2, when would be bad, as on B—B 3 ch black would win a rook with Kt—Q 5), winning the queen for two rooks.

(k) The decisive move in the sixth hour, shows clearly the fatigued state of white, a result of the senseless condition of having eight hours to play at one sitting.
