LIQUOR IN RESTAURANTS.

DID ROOSEVELT SAY IT COULD BE SOLD ON SUNDAY?

A Restaurant Keeper Arrested After, He Says, Roosevelt and Conlin Told Him the Police Would Not Interfere with Him.

Edward Denechaud, a restaurant keeper at 51 Columbus avenue, was charged before Magistrate Braun in Yorkville Court yesterday with selling whiskey to Policeman Gannon of the West Sixty-eighth street station last Sunday morning. Denechaud said that about four weeks ago a policeman warned him not to sell liquor on Sundays or after hours. Subsequently Acting Captain Chapman told him his restaurant license did not permit him to sell liquor on Sunday. He did not sell any liquor the following Sunday, but the next morning he called on Commissioner Roosevelt. He stated the case to him, and the Commissioner said that he never gave orders to the police to interfere with restaurant keepers. Commissioner Roosevelt then sent him down stairs to Chief Conlin, who, after hearing his story, assured him that he would not be interfered with in the future.

Commissioner Roosevelt, according to Denechaud, ordered Acting Captain Chapman by telephone to appear before him the following day at 11 o'clock. In the afternoon of that day a policeman called on Denechaud and told him that the acting Captain wanted to see him at the station.

"So you saw Roosevelt, did you?" said Chapman when he went to the station.

"Yes," replied Denechaud.

"You saw Conlin, too?" continued Chapman. "Well, Mr. Roosevelt only gave you permission to sell liquor with a full meal. I want you to understand that I am Captain of this precinct."

Chapman then assured the restaurant keeper that if there was any change in the then existing policy he would notify him.

Denechaud continued to serve liquor with meals ordered by his customers until arrested on Sunday. When brought to the station, he said, the Sergeant on duty woke up the Captain, and the latter came down stairs and told him that he only had permission to sell liquor with full meals.

"I called on Commissioner Roosevelt this morning," said Denechaud, continuing his statement, "and told him of my arrest. He said:

"'I don't see why the Captain did such a thing. I have my hands full with the saloons now, without bothering with restaurants.'

"If the Commissioners made such a ruling as you say," said Magistrate Braun, "I think they were wrong. Nevertheless, I will adjourn the case until Oct. 31, and, in the mean time, consult with my colleagues. I think, however, that a restaurant keeper has no more right to sell liquor in prohibited hours than a saloon keeper."

CUSHMAN NOT POISONED.

The Man Who, on His Deathbed, Accused Detective Jaegers of Newark.

That Paul Cushman was not poisoned is the verdict of Herbert H. Baldwin, the analytical chemist employed by the County Prosecutor and the County Physician of Newark to examine the liver, brain, kidneys, and stomach. Cushman is the man who was removed from the county jail to the City Hospital, and who, almost with his dying breath, declared that he had been poisoned by Julius Jaegers, a German detective, who was doing desk duty at Police Headquarters when Cushman was locked in a cell and fed with tea, bread, and soup from a near-by restaurant. The chemist's report was made yesterday, and he declared that no trace of poison was found in any of the organs examined. He stated that he had searched for organic poisons, especially the alkaloids, and for antimony, arsenic, and phosphorus. All the tests were negative, and his conclusion was that Cushman died of Bright's disease and cholera morbus.

County Physician Washington made public a letter from Dr. Walter T. Scheele of this city, who went to Newark after the autopsy and secured one-half of the brain of the dead man and his bladder. In the letter Dr. Scheele stated that he found in Cushman's brain "indications which are caused by alkaloid poisoning." In the same letter he said that "in the bladder a careful chemical and microscopical examination failed to give any reactions answering to those of vegetable or animal alkaloid poisoning."

Dr. H. P. Loomis of this city made the following report upon the case to Dr. Washington:

"A microscopical examination of the kidney shows that the man, at the time of his death, was suffering from chronic Bright's disease. The liver showed evidence of no disease, with the exception of congestion of that organ—not enough, however, to be a factor in the cause of death."

Judge Depue recently charged the present Grand Jury to make a careful examination into the case, and it is still in their hands.

Cushman accused Jaegers's Captain, Corbitt, and Detectives Carroll and Cosgrove of blackmailing owners of disorderly houses, and after they had been vindicated by his own witnesses before the Police Commissioners he was locked up upon a charge of perjury. He did not die until ten days later, and then reiterated the charges of blackmail and accused Jaegers of reviling and poisoning him.

MR. TOWNSEND'S ACCUSER.

She Failed to Appear Against Him, So He Was Discharged.

Mary Malton, an actress, who caused the arrest of Assistant District Attorney Robert W. Townsend on Thursday night, failed to appear against Mr. Townsend when the case was called by Magistrate Wentworth in the Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday morning.

Policeman Byron said that at 11:30 o'clock three women came up to him in Sixth avenue. One of the women pointed to Mr. Townsend and said that he had taken hold of her arm and insulted her. Although he had seen no offence committed, he placed Mr. Townsend under arrest and took him to the West Thirtieth street station. There the women described themselves as Mary Malton, Hannah Gallagher, and Ida Rose, actresses. Miss Malton said she belonged to the "Wizard of the Nile" company.

Mr. Townsend said that he had been to the Manhattan Club on Thursday night, and, accompanied by a friend, walked to the corner of Thirty-first street and Sixth avenue. There his friend left him, and he started for home. He saw the three women, who appeared to be skylarking, but did not speak to any of them. He was twenty feet distant from them when they got the policeman to arrest him. His arrest, he declared, was an outrage.

Magistrate Wentworth discharged Mr. Townsend.

MERCIFUL JUDGE MOORE.

He Suspends Sentence and Will Aid Young Samuel Silver.

Judge Moore of the Court of Sessions in Brooklyn yesterday suspended sentence in the case of sixteen-year-old Samuel Silver, who was convicted of stealing a gold watch and other jewelry from his father, and told the boy that he would find a place for him in the West.

"Your father," Judge Moore said, "has been to me and has shown such a malignant spirit toward you that really if I had the opportunity I should prefer sending him to prison instead of you. His feelings toward you seem wholly unjustifiable in a father. He insisted that I should send you to some place where you would be confined until you were twenty-one. He had no pity and no mercy, but a good home will be found for you."

Alleged Violation of the Mechanics' Lien Law in This City.

ALBANY, Oct. 24.—State Commissioner of Labor Statistics Thomas J. Dowling has received complaints that the Mechanics' Lien law is being violated, especially in New York city. Labor unions are the complainants. Their members have suffered by contractors and builders evading the law. The practice in some cases is for real estate investors to borrow money with which to construct a building. He gives a chattel mortgage to the one who lends him the money. The men employed in constructing the building have to wait two and three weeks for any money, and at the end of the construction the amount of the wages due them is usually from three to six weeks. When the men apply to the courts for a mechanic's lien they get one. Commissioner Dowling will go to New York next month to inquire into violations of the law.

Chelsea Club Incorporated.

ALBANY, Oct. 25.—The Chelsea Club was incorporated to-day with the Secretary of State for social, literary, and lawful sporting and recreative purposes in New York city. The directors are Amos J. Cummings, George Livingston, H. C. Janssen, James J. Doyle, and Jere J. Greagan of New York city.

No License for Sinnott.

The Excise Board declined yesterday to grant a license to Thomas P. Sinnott for a saloon at Columbus avenue and 101st street. The principal protestant was the Rev. John D. Shaw of the West End Baptist Church, who said that there was a bicycle school and dancing academy in the building, and he thought a saloon would be demoralizing. Sinnott tried to get a license for a roof garden for the building last summer without success.

LOCAL BUSINESS TROUBLES.

James Chambers, Shoes, Insolvent—H. C. Jones, Art Publisher, Assigns.

James Chambers, limited corporation, wholesale dealer in boots, shoes, and slippers at 196 Church street, went into the hands of a receiver yesterday, with liabilities amounting to $510,927, and assets $428,824. Judge Beach of the Supreme Court appointed John E. Jacobs receiver on the application of George S. Hastings on behalf of the directors of the company. James McK. Graeff of Westport, N. Y.; George W. Hempstead, and Philip A. Fischer, the bond being fixed at $250,000. The directors say that the company is unable to meet maturing obligations. McK. Graeff is the President and principal owner of the concern, holding 990 out of 1,000 shares of the capital stock. The assets are stated to be about half merchandise and half bills receivable, and the liabilities about half on notes and half on accounts.

Among the creditors are the United States Rubber Company, $58,552; Momdes, Packard & Lincoln, Auburn, Me., $29,924; Thomas G. Plant Company, Lynn, Mass., $24,194; Albert Strong, Boston, $22,546; Krippendorf-Dittman Company, Cincinnati, $22,194; Mudge Shoe Company, Boston, $11,760; E. H. Labe & Co., South Berwick, Me., $11,409; Pray Small Company, Auburn, Me., $10,887; Murray, Cone & Co., Beverly, Mass., $10,887.

Harry C. Jones, who is in the photo-engraving and art publishing business at 92 and 94 Fifth avenue, made an assignment yesterday to Frank A. Jones, giving a preference to George H. Jones for $1,200. The assignment was precipitated by an attachment obtained against him by Blumensirel & Hirsch for $3,000 in favor of the Astor Place Bank as endorser on a note. It is stated that a few days ago Mr. Jones asked his creditors for an extension of one, two, and three years, stating that if the extension were granted his father would make no claim for $52,500, money loaned at various times.

Jones has been in business since 1886, built up a large plant, which he heretofore valued at $75,000, and was interested in several art publications. In the past year, it is said, sold several of his publications. In August last he formed the Monthly Illustrator Publishing Company, with a capital stock of $50,000 to continue the publication of the Monthly Illustrator, which he had published for several years. Mr. Jones is a son of George H. Jones, a retired envelope manufacturer, and a nephew, it is said, of ex-Lieut.-Gov. Jones of Binghamton.

Deputy Sheriff Wlhorisky, who has had charge of the store of Gans & Co., clothiers, at 279 to 283 Broadway, for the past two weeks, went out yesterday. Myers & Anable having withdrawn the attachments against the concern. The attachments obtained against the company aggregated $116,836. It is stated that the claims of the National Broadway Bank and the Chatham National Bank, aggregating $49,000, have been assigned to Albert F. Hochstadter.

BUCKLEY EXONERATED.

Police Board Dismisses the Charges Made by Capt. Strauss.

On the recommendation of Commissioner Parker, the Police Board dismissed yesterday the charges made by Capt. Strauss of the East Sixty-seventh street station against Roundsman John Buckley of his command. The charges grew out of the Cherokee Club trouble. Capt. Strauss charged Buckley with disobedience of orders. After Buckley's trial charges were made against Capt. Strauss, and Roundsman Buckley was the principal witness against him at his trial. No decision has been given yet in the Captain's case.

Acting Chief Conlin reported that he had transferred Patrolman Thomas J. Gunson from the East Sixty-seventh street station to Morrisania. Gunson is under several charges. Patrolman August Brichof of East 126th street was transferred to East Thirty-fifth street and detailed in the Bellevue Hospital grounds. Patrolman John L. Van Wart, who has been detailed in the office of the Board of Excise, was remanded and transferred to City Hall. Patrolman John J. Donovan of Oak street was detailed at the Excise Board. Patrolman Alphonse Ilheaume of East Fifty-first street was transferred to the Detective Bureau.

The communication sent to the Board by Chairman Daniel F. Martin of the Law Committee of Tammany Hall, asking that certain instructions for election day be given the police, was referred to Commissioner Parker. President Roosevelt said the members of the force would act with strict justice.

The Commissioners appointed Dr. Marvin R. Palmer of 126 West 126th street a police surgeon at an annual salary of $3,000. Dr. Palmer was first on the eligible list. His percentage was 85.30.

FRIDAY, Oct. 25.

The rally in prices on the Stock Exchange that took place to-day was a natural sequence to the almost uninterrupted decline since the beginning of the week; for the sluggish liquidation has been accompanied by a good deal of selling for short account, and operators who are responsible for it are now disposed to secure at least a part of their profits. A somewhat easier market for sterling exchange was not without effect upon speculative sentiment, but that market still rules so close to rates that would permit exports of specie that fears that they will be made are not entirely allayed by slightly lower rates on the day when the demand from remitters is as a rule most pronounced. The easier tone of the foreign exchange market to-day is explained by the fact that the demand for Saturday's mail was in the main supplied yesterday, those having remittances to make being influenced, apparently, to supply their needs earlier than usual by fears of a higher market to-day. The tendency of the exchange market is fairly well indicated by bids for sight bills for delivery next week at $4.88¼ less 1-32 ⅌ cent.

The noteworthy fluctuations in stocks were in Pacific Mail, Manhattan Railway, Consolidated Gas, and United States Leather preferred. The first three closed materially higher, Pacific Mail scoring a net advance of nearly 3 points on unconfirmed reports that an agreement between the company and the Panama Railroad had been reached. The advance in Manhattan Railway was generally attributed to covering of shorts. United States Leather stocks were exceptionally and conspicuously weak, the preferred suffering a net loss of 3¼ ⅌ cent. The course of that stock since it sold at 97¾ last May supports the view expressed at that time, and frequently since, that the advance from 58 early in the year was being taken advantage of by large holders of the stock to distribute a part of their shares.

Sugar Refining, which was first in respect to activity, closed only a shade above yesterday's final price. An early advance in this stock, due almost entirely to the covering of shorts, was not maintained, presumably because of the unsatisfactory condition of the sugar trade as reflected in declines in the prices of both raw and refined sugars. A somewhat higher range of prices for Distilling and Cattle Feeding trust receipts was due to the announcement that the American Spirits Company, the successor to the reorganized Distilling Company, and a number of the larger independent distilleries, representing in the aggregate 90 ⅌ cent. of the output of spirits, have come to an agreement to work in harmony and employ substantially the same distributing agents. In this combination the American Spirits Company has been allotted 72 ⅌ cent. of the total output.

A number of the usually inactive stocks made decided progress toward higher prices, notably Illinois Central, Metropolitan Traction, the Minneapolis and St. Louis stocks, and Western Union Beef. Renewed activity in the last named at higher prices is explained by the declaration of a dividend of 1½ ⅌ cent. The closing was in the main strong.

Final sales compare with those of yesterday as follows:
