EASTERN LEAGUE DATES.

SCHEDULE SATISFACTORY TO ALL OF THE DELEGATES.

President Powers Will Attend the Washington Meeting of Minor Leagues in an Unofficial Capacity—Delegates Thought They Had an Imaginary Grievance.

The Eastern League magnates met again at the Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, and, after adopting the schedule of championship games for the coming season, they adjourned. The schedule, as drawn up by President P. T. Powers, was so satisfactory to all of the clubs that not a figure was changed in the printed copy. Each club will play 112 games, not including Sunday contests, fifty-six at home and a similar number abroad. The season will open May 1 and close Sept. 15. In addition to the three holidays, Decoration Day, July 4, and Labor Day, three others have being slated for the Toronto Club at home. They are the Queen's Birthday, Dominion Day, and the Civic Holiday. The opening series of games will be East vs. East and West vs. West, after which the Eastern clubs will make their first Western trip. The Sunday games have not been scheduled, but each club will be allowed to play a certain number which will count for the championship.

The delegates went into session at 10½ o'clock and at once began revising the constitution. The only important change was that which provides for a fine of $100 for a club that leaves the field, instead of $100, as in the past. A. C. Buckenberger was elected to the Board of Directors in the place of John C. Chapman, who recently sold his Toronto franchise. The delegates paid a tribute to President Powers by voting to increase his salary by tackling on $500.

When the new national agreement came up for discussion there was a heated debate. A vote was finally taken on the advisability of sending a representative to the meeting of the minor leagues at Washington on March 16. The vote stood 4 to 4, and President Powers was asked to cast a deciding ballot. He voted against sending an official delegate with power to act, but stated afterward that he would probably attend the meeting as an individual to see what might be going on.

As an instance of how the minor leagues are misinterpreting the meaning of the new national agreement it may be of interest to state that for one hour the delegates wrangled and finally became convinced that they were slated to get the worst of things by the enforcement of the following clause in the national agreement:

> For the purpose of enabling players to advance in their profession and to assist in building up clubs of minor leagues, a club of a higher class shall have the right, with the consent of the National Board of Arbitration, after Jan. 1 of each year and prior to Feb. 1 following, to select its players from a league in a lower class, upon payment to the Secretary of the Board the sum specified in Article 12; provided that no such selection shall be enforced and no transfer of a player shall be made unless he shall receive an increase in salary.

The main fault found with the foregoing was that the Eastern League could not draft a player from a league under it without the consent of the Board. It was argued that if a player should be drafted it would serve as a tip to the National League clubs, and if any of the latter want such a player the Board would refuse to give consent. The delegates and even President Powers remained in the dark as to this point until it was explained to them that as the National League could not draft minor league players after Jan. 1, it could not, therefore, take players drafted by the Eastern League between Jan. 1 and Feb. 1. But even then the magnates thought they saw a colored gentleman in the woodpile, and gave as their reason that the big league could jump in after Jan. 1 and buy any desirable player at any terms set by a minor league club. When John H. Day, agent of the National Board, heard of this he said:

> "There is absolutely no kick to be made by the Eastern League. The national agreement is the greatest baseball document ever drawn up, and I am proud to be identified with its enforcement. I shall probably attend the meeting of the minor leagues in Washington and find out if they have any real grievances. If they have, I will try to have them rectified, but I really don't see how they can make an honest complaint."

The question of appointing an umpire staff was left to President Powers. He said that he had practically decided upon having five umpires, and would undoubtedly appoint Gaffney and ex-captain Hermann Doescher, Joseph Linden of the Canadian League, and T. J. Kelly of the Iron and Oil League were also likely to be selected, although he said that he had a list of 150 applicants. The schedule was then adopted and the meeting adjourned.

St. Louis, March 5.—Brown Stocking managers overcame all objections to signing by Breitenstein, and the star left hand pitcher put his name to a contract this evening. His salary is fixed at $2,400, with $200 bonus. Letters from Dowd and Cooley say they will be here to sunday, when offers will be made that they cannot refuse. Kissenger arrived from Cincinnati to-day and also signed a contract. Capt. Anderson will also be here to leave with the team for the South on March 20.

St. Joseph, March 5.—President T. J. Hickey of the Western Baseball Association left for Chicago last night to be present at a meeting of the club Presidents at Rockford on Friday, when a schedule will be presented by him. Hickey favors cutting loose from the National League and forming an organization to include all minor league clubs. He thinks this will be the line of the meeting to be held at Washington on April 16. President Reese of the home team is an enthusiastic supporter of Hickey.

Manager Barnie of the Hartford Club arrived in town yesterday and said that his new grounds would be selected by to-morrow. They will be on the line of the main trolley road and will be thoroughly fitted up. Barnie has signed two more players in Reddy Mack, the second baseman, and a pitcher of the name of W. B. Clements from East Providence, R. I. He was enthusiastic over the prospects for a good season and said that he was receiving the best of encouragement from the Hartford enthusiasts.

Harvard's Rowing Coach Going to England.

CAMBRIDGE, March 5. Coach Watson of the Harvard crew will leave on Wednesday next for England, where he will witness the Oxford-Cambridge race on the 21st of the month. Watson will, of course, go in his official capacity as coach of the Harvard eight, and it is expected that he will make a close study of the two English crews and their respective strokes. His visit is the outcome of an invitation from the President of the Oxford University Boat Club, and during his stay in England he will be the especial guest of the Oxford boating men.

During Watson's absence G. S. Mumford, '87, will coach the Harvard men. Dunlap and Moulton, both of whom have been rowing in the first boat, have just been put on athletic probation by the Harvard faculty, and will have to stop rowing at once.

MANAGER FOUTZ'S PLANS.

How the Brooklyns Will Get Into Condition for the League Race.

Manager David L. Foutz of the Brooklyn League Club is very confident that his team will go well this season. He declared yesterday that the Brooklyns had been strengthened, and that it was an even bet that no club in the League would beat them out. More than that, he offered to wager $160 to $75 that his men would beat the New Yorks out both in the local series and in the struggle for the pennant. Speaking of his plans to get the Eastern Park team in shape, Foutz said:

> "We leave here for Charlotte, N. C., on March 14, and will remain there until April 5. We will play a practice game with the Baltimores on April 1 in Charlotte, and will also tackle the University of North Carolina team on several occasions. I shall divide my men into two teams, the regulars and colts, and we will play three or four games a week. The regular team will be made up of Lachance on first, Bonner or Daly at second, Shindle at third, Corcoran at short, McCarthy in right, Griffin in centre, and Grim or Anderson in left. If Jones can play better than Anderson, I will put him in right field and will shift McCarthy into left. But in case Anderson proves the better man he will stay in left, as he can play it better than the right garden.
>
> "We have seven pitchers, Harper, Payne, Kennedy, Abbey, Stein, Gumbert, and Daub, besides four catchers: Burrill, Smith, Grim, and Dailey. All the men have signed except Griffin, Corcoran, Daly, McCarthy, Gumbert, and Grim, but these players will be in line shortly. McCarthy is as good as signed now, and will go South with us. I believe Brooklyn will turn out to be the dark horse in the race, and advise the cranks not to leave us out in their calculations."

THE NEW YORKS AT CHARLESTON.

Some of the Men Get Seasick, but All Are in Fairly Good Condition.

CHARLESTON, March 5.—The New York team have started out well; that is, they have begun the season by being on a record-smashing trip. About four hours ahead of her scheduled time the Comanche, with the men who hope to wear New York uniforms this season aboard, arrived here this morning.

Despite the good omen the men were not any more enthusiastic than the law allowed. To tell the truth, some of them were in no condition to be enthuse, for seasickness is not conducive to hilarity.

A five-hour stop was had here, and Capt. Gleason and his comrades felt better over this than they did over the fast trip. It gave them a chance to get rid of their sea legs.

Manager Irwin was the first to give in, and, needless to say, he came in for a lot of good-natured chaffing. The new manager took his meals on deck yesterday, just outside his stateroom door.

President Freedman and a party of friends passed through here by rail while the team was in town. He will arrive in Jacksonville to-night. The team will continue their journey this afternoon at 3 o'clock, arriving at Jacksonville to-morrow morning.

Annual Meeting of the Greenville Yacht Club.

The Greenville Yacht Club held its annual meeting last night at the clubhouse of the Minkakwa Club in the Greenville section of Jersey City Heights. An amendment to the constitution was unanimously adopted. It provides for the admission of associate members. They will be allowed all the privileges of the club with the exception of voting at its meetings. The dues for this class of members is fixed at $5 a year. The election of officers resulted as follows:

Commodore, Alfred Renshaw, sloop Albatross; Vice-Commodore, Alexander Reid, sloop Ocean Property; Treasurer, Samuel Renshaw; Financial Secretary, William Everett Hicks; Corresponding Secretary, Charles Q. Sampson; Measurer, Stephen A. Conner; Regatta Committee, Charles J. Leach, chairman, William Everett Hicks, and Dr. Samuel H. Holister; delegates to the New York Yacht Racing Association, Commodore Alfred Renshaw, Vice-Commodore Alexander Reid, and C. D. Mettlebach; trustees, Alexander Reid, Alfred Renshaw, R. W. Hicks, Henry Queen, and Charles P. Morton.

A New Yacht for Sir George Newnes Supposed to Be a Cup Challenger.

GLASGOW, March 5.—The Glasgow Herald declares that a yacht is being built in Henderson's shipyards at the order of Sir George Newnes, the millionaire publisher, and is intended to be a challenger for the America's Cup.

Yachting News of Interest.

Capt. C. E. Bailey of the steam yacht Corsair, who has been ill at his home, 332 Tenth street, Brooklyn, is slowly improving.

Mr. Gielow has designed a yawl for F. D. Morgan Waterman of this city. She is being built by G. W. Ryles of City Island. Her dimensions are 35 feet 7 inches water line, 14 feet beam, and 6 feet draught. The yawl will be enrolled in the Knickerbocker Yacht Club.

Football.

NEW HAVEN, March 5. The Yale delegates to the football conference next week will be Walter Camp and Capt. Murphy. The chief matter to come before the meeting will be the number of men allowed behind the quarter back when the ball is put in play. Yale wants a rule limiting the number to three, as played by Yale and Princeton last year. Most of the football associations of the country adopted this rule before the close of last season. The general football situation will be thoroughly discussed.

News from the Horse World.

The dates for the spring meeting of the Brooklyn Country Club have been changed to May 30, June 2, and June 3.

Superintendent Gorman will harrow the Morris Park track to-day, so that the horses intended for the Washington Jockey Club meeting can be set at speed.

Mr. Trowbridge was at the Gravesend track yesterday and applied for stabling for twenty one head of horses. They will arrive here about March 15.

There were about fifty horses at work at the Gravesend track yesterday. If the weather is fair to-day the Gravesend and Sheepshead Bay tracks will be harrowed.

A meeting of the Steeplechase Association was held yesterday, but nothing of importance transpired. S. S. Lowe and states that the application for stable room at Pennings exceeds the supply, including the outside stalls.

Jockey Sam Doggett arrived form San Francisco yesterday. He states that racing at the Ingleside track has been a great success. Stephen J. Chauncey Jacobs's candidate for handicap honors this year, has been backed freely at Boston, where Jacobs lives, to win the Brooklyn Handicap. Young Sheridy has been engaged to ride Stephen J. in the race.

TERRE HAUTE, March 5.—The second day of the horse sale drew a large crowd. The trotters again sold for small prices. Following are those which brought over $500. Wild Olive, br. m., 5, by Edgewood—Daisy Wilkes; George Starr, $550. Medea, b. m., 4, by Guy Wilkes—Sultan; John Dickerson, $850. Mercedes, b. m., 5, by Guy Wilkes—Sultan; John Dickerson, $1,000.

The conditions of the Grand Prix de Paris, for 1896, and of the Prix de Newmarket, Criterium International, and the Prix de Conseil Municipal, all to be run this season, appeared in yesterday's Racing Calendar. American horses are eligible to all of the events. Entries for the Grand Prix, which close on Sept. 15, may be made with W. S. Vosburgh, racing secretary of the Jockey Club, if not sent direct.

Wyndham Walden has returned to the home farm after a Texas trip to inspect the yearlings, and has begun to gallop the A. H. and D. H. Morris string. He will take twenty horses to the Dennings racing, but will stay at the farm until a day before the races begin. The division of the Morris stable at New Orleans is trained by Gilbert Morris, a cousin to the owners. It will be sent through the Western circuit this season and will be recruited from time to time from the Eastern string, should the success in the West come up to expectations.

AMENDMENTS TO RACING RULES.

Matters to Be Acted On at the Next Meeting of the Jockey Club.

A number of amendments have been proposed to the rules of racing to adapt them to the changes in the turf situation during the year. The amendments are printed in yesterday's issue of the Racing Calendar, and will be voted on at the meeting of the Jockey Club on next Thursday. The changes are chiefly to strengthen the powers of the Jockey Club and to give a wider latitude in punishing the horses and men concerned in outlaw meetings. Rule 7, governing the latter point, is to be amended to read as follows:

> Any owner or trainer running horses and any jockey riding the same at any unrecognized meeting, shall be disqualified for all races to which these rules apply. Such horses and all others under the control of such owner or trainer shall also be disqualified. Any person acting in any official capacity may also be disqualified.

Before the rule made it obligatory to disqualify all persons acting in an official capacity at an unrecognized meeting.

Rule 50, third paragraph amended to read as follows:

> An assumed name cannot be registered which is the real name of any owner of race horses, or which has already been registered in the United States, or of the death of the owner the name may be reissued to surviving partners or successors in interest.

Other amendments will permit the owners to divide in a selling race when a dead heat is run. Apprentices may claim a five-pound allowance in all selling races for one year after their first winning race, but after twenty mounts a boy must apply for a jockey license. Hereafter, besides the colors, a jockey must wear the programme number of the horse on the sleeve or saddle cloth.

Important changes are suggested regarding the claiming clause in selling races, as follows: Rule 127, amended to read:

> All other horses starting may be claimed for the selling price plus the value of the stakes or purse to the winner (including the $100 "or entire fee") by the owners of horses running in the race or their authorized agents.

Rule 131, amended to read:

> In case of a dead heat, the time for claiming or selling is postponed until the dead heat is run off. In case of a division, the owner of the horse dividing is a winner for the purposes of the rules relating to claiming and selling, and, if an auction race, both shall be put to auction and any surplus shall be divided; and to go between those horses and half to the race fund.

TURF AND FIELD CLUB.

Plans for the Season at the Morris Park Quarters.

For the first time this year the Turf and Field Club was in session yesterday afternoon, at the Metropolitan Club. Perry Belmont presided, and among the members present were:

Frederick Hallen, F. R. Appleton, C. S. Abercrombie, Joseph S. Auerbach, Jr., Edward Perry Belmont, James R. Jackman, Mitchell J. Clark, H. W. De Forest, Amos T. French, Robert Goelet, Gerald L. It was announced that an agreement had been entered into with the Westchester Racing Association to lease the club house at Morris Park. The formal opening for the season will be on April 4, when the club house will be fully equipped and the stables ready for those who arrive on Morris Park. The existing winter arrangements for the members will be continued until then. It is probable that the old golf course, part of which is still in good order, will be made ready for play. A polo ground may be laid out if the necessary ground can be had without interfering with the cricket and lacrosse grounds.

MAURICE'S HANDICAP.

The Colt Was the Big Race of the Day at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, March 5. This was "ladies' day" at the race track, and nearly 10,000 persons were present. The racing was very interesting over a track that was very fast. Maurice, 118 pounds up, won the principal event of the day, the Ladies' Handicap, very cleverly. Maurice and Nicolini were the only winning favorites of the day. Three second choices won, however, and the public gave the bookmakers a pretty good battle for the money. Summaries:

> First Race—One mile; selling. Nicolini, 102 (Duffy), 8 to 5, won. Mizzle W., 100 (Gatewood), 5 to 1, second. Mopsy, 104 (Byle), 40 to 1, third. Time, 1:41¾.

The Brooklyn Horse Show.

Prize lists have been issued for the fourth annual horse show of the Brooklyn Hitting and Driving Club to be held on the evenings of May 6, 7, and 8, and on the afternoon and evening of May 9, in the club building. The prizes aggregate $5,500, divided in sixty classes. Roadsters, harness horses, carriage horses, saddlers, four-in-hands, hunters, and saddle horses have all a show in the classes. The mounted park and city police and the Fire Department will compete for special prizes. Unlike the few exceptions the classes are open to all, a radical change from the previous shows, which were distinctly club events. Entries in all the classes close on April 18.

Jake Schaefer Resumes Play at Daly's.

After two days' illness Jake Schaefer resumed play in his series of exhibition games with Maurice Daly, at the latter's academy, Thirty-first street and Broadway, last night. There was a fairly large attendance when play began. Schaefer was particularly strong on masse shots, while Daly did some excellent cushion carom work. The latter made his best run in the sixth inning, scoring 112. Daly's last run was 48. The final score was: Schaefer, 400; Daly, 298. Summary:

> Schaefer—2, 26, 3, 3, 31, 112, 47, 4, 21, 0, 50, 13, 41, 5, 42. Total, 400; average, 26 10-15; high run, 112.

EMERALD GUN CLUB MEETING.

Prizes Donated and Officers Elected for the Ensuing Year.

Members of the Emerald Gun Club held their annual meeting at 9 Madison street last night. The greatest harmony and good fellowship prevailed. The prize winners of the past season were placed as follows: First, C. Stuetzle, 81 per cent.; second, Gus Nowak, 80; third, Dr. G. V. Hudson, 87; fourth, Tom Short, 85.

The balloting for new officers resulted as follows: President, L. H. Schortemeier; First Vice-President, Frank Lawrence; Second Vice-President, C. Maesel; Recording Secretary, T. P. McKenna; Financial Secretary, J. Wolfel; Treasurer, J. H. Moore.

Dr. Hudson was nominated for about every office on the slate, and although he kept declining and protesting, while his wind held, some enthusiastic voter invariably cast a ballot in his support. He recuperated sufficiently to nominate J. H. Moore for Financial Secretary, and heaved a sigh of relief when the informal ballot passed off without placing him in opposition to his own choice for the office.

Secretary Fessenden secured the almost unanimous nomination for reélection, but would only accept under conditions which the members were not inclined to endorse. He accordingly withdrew, to the great regret of his associates, and T. P. McKenna was selected as his successor.

The new incumbent acknowledged his appointment in terms which were waxing eloquent when an impromptu sergeant-at-arms sat down on him bodily.

Several members donated prizes for the ensuing season, and the meeting adjourned after recording a vote of thanks to the sporting press.

TARGET SMASHING AT ELIZABETH.

M. Herrington the High Man in the "Hundred" Race.

Another 100-target match took place at Elizabeth yesterday. The high wind told on the scores, only two straight ones being made during the day. Trap Shooting on Long Island.

The Crescent Gun Club of Brooklyn held its regular monthly live-bird shoot at Dexter Park yesterday afternoon at seven birds each. It resulted in a victory for G. W. Coulston with seven straight, he winning the club badge. W. D. Gilman was second with six; L. C. Hopkins and E. H. Morrey tied for third with five each. Previous to the club shoot G. W. Coulston and W. J. Passmore shot a match for $25 a side, Coulston shooting at twenty-five birds against Passmore's thirty-two. Coulston started off like a race horse, not missing until his twentieth shot, while Passmore had missed seven up to this point. However, Coulston missed his twenty-first, twenty-third, and twenty-fifth, making a total of twenty-one. Then Passmore got himself together and missed but two more birds, his twenty-fifth and thirtieth, making twenty-three birds killed, and he won the money by two birds.

Another match was then made between G. W. Coulston, at 30 yards and C. Mohrman at 25 yards, at 5 birds. Coulston won this match with 3 killed out of 4. Mohrman having missed 3. A team sweepstakes for 2 each at 3 birds followed, Coulston's team finally winning on the fifth series of birds, after being tied on the third and fourth round. He had a "blind" on his side, which may have accounted for their success. Another sweepstake under the same conditions ended the day's sport. A feature of the afternoon's shooting was that of Gilman, who missed but one bird out of all he shot at. The scores are as follows:

> First Event—Match for $25 a side. G. W. Coulston, 21 out of 25; W. J. Passmore, 23 out of 32.
>
> Second Event—Club shoot at 7 live birds. W. J. Passmore, 28 yards, 4; G. W. Coulston, 28 yards, 7; E. Morrey, 28 yards, 5; W. D. Gilman, 28 yards, 6; J. Horton, 28 yards, 3; L. C. Hopkins, 28 yards, 5; C. Mohrman, 28 yards, 3.
>
> Third Event—Match, G. W. Coulston, 30 yards, 3 out of 4; C. Mohrman, 25 yards, 2 out of 3.
>
> Fourth Event—Team sweepstakes. Gilman, 5; Hopkins, 2; Horton, 2; Mohrman, 2. Total, 11. Coulston, 5; Passmore, 4. Morrey, 5; Mohrman, 2. Total, 13.
>
> Fifth Event—Same conditions. Gilman, 3; Mohrman, 2; Horton, 1. Total, 6. Coulston, 3; Hopkins, 2; Morrey, 2. Total, 7.

The members of the Arverne Rod and Gun Club enjoyed their monthly trap shooting tournament at targets, within sound of the breakers yesterday. The summary:
