TAMSEN'S TRIAL ENDED.

PUZZLING QUESTIONS PUT TO THE SHERIFF.

Gen. Tracy Had to Come to His Client's Rescue to Prevent a Display of Ignorance of His Official Duties—The Commissioner Declares the Case Closed.

The investigation of the charges against Sheriff Tamsen in connection with the management of the Ludlow street jail was brought to a close yesterday, and the lawyers in the case will submit briefs next week to Commissioner Robertson. At the beginning of the day's session Gen. Tracy called several lawyers who had done business with the Sheriff's office to show that the business was transacted with accuracy and despatch, but owing to Mr. Hasbrouck's objections not much was brought out in the Sheriff's favor.

Finally Charles F. Wells, Tamsen's legal adviser, was called. He was questioned about the depositions of Mrs. Williams, who was struck by a hammer thrown by Keeper Pennett. The witness said that Bennett was removed by the Sheriff on Feb. 17, 1896. The hammer throwing incident happened on Feb. 12, and the deposition of Mrs. Williams was taken on Feb. 20.

Warden Roe of Ludlow street jail was then recalled. He was questioned about the retention of Keeper Bauer in office, and said that he had recommended it to the Sheriff.

"Do you know whether Bauer ever brought liquor into the prison?" asked Mr. Hasbrouck.

"No," replied the Warden.

"If he brought liquor into the prison would you consider him an efficient officer?"

"No, sir, I would not."

"Sheriff Tamsen," called out Gen. Tracy, and the Sheriff took the stand. He wore a red carnation in his buttonhole, and was smiling blandly.

"Do you remember telling the prisoner Isaacs that you had a first-class Warden, but a damned bad lot of keepers?" asked the General.

"I said I had a first-class Warden, but did not make that statement in relation to the keepers," replied the Sheriff.

"Did you dismiss all the keepers connected with the escape of the three prisoners from the jail?"

"Yes, sir, I did."

The witness then told how he visited the jail and examined the premises when the story of the dynamite being in the walls was started.

"Was Warden Archibald discharged or did he resign?"

"He resigned before I had a chance to act in his case."

"Did you tell Mrs. Kuenstler when she called to see her husband in the jail that the prisoners were conspiring against you?"

"No sir; she told me some of the other prisoners were conspiring against me."

"Is it true when she says that you only laughed when she told you of Keeper Rumpf's conduct to her?"

"No, it is not true."

"What is a writ of assistance?" asked Mr. Hasbrouck at this juncture.

The Sheriff grew red in the face and said: "Do you want to examine me as to the law?"

Gen. Tracy objected, but Commissioner Robertson overruled him.

"A writ of assistance is an order of the Court calling for the Sheriff's assistance," replied the Sheriff. Mr. Hasbrouck smiled at the answer.

"How do you execute an attachment?"

"I give it to one of my deputy sheriffs," was the reply.

"And what does he do with it?"

"I object," cried Gen. Tracy.

"I am offering to show that the Sheriff does not know what the legal process is and that he does not know how to execute it," said Mr. Hasbrouck.

Gen. Tracy said that that made no difference so long as the Sheriff had competent officers to execute it. Commissioner Robertson ruled out the question.

Charles W. Brant testified that he did not hear the Sheriff laugh at Mrs. Kuenstler when the latter complained of Keeper Rumpf.

"This closes our case," said Gen. Tracy.

"I will call no witnesses in rebuttal," said Mr. Hasbrouck.

"The case is closed," said Commissioner Robertson, and an adjournment was then taken sine die.

BRODIE'S BAD DEBT AGENCY.

It Gets Miss Ellen Feinburgh Into an Unpleasant Predicament.

While the Grand Jury was investigating yesterday the systematic collecting agency of John Brodie Miss Ellen Feinburgh, his sister-in-law, was called as a witness. She refused to answer any questions about a certain John Doe unless his identity was disclosed, and District Attorney Backus had her brought before Judge Hurd in the County Court. She explained that her refusal was based on her desire not to incriminate or degrade herself. Mr. Backus said this was a pretence, and she was sent back to the Grand Jury room.

A Kindergarten Memorial to Hans S. Christian.

Mrs. Christian of 251 President street has presented $10,000 to the Brooklyn Kindergarten Association, and will also erect a building near the First Place M. E. Church as a memorial to her late husband, Hans S. Christian. The building will be known as the Hans S. Christian Kindergarten Memorial building. Mr. Christian was a leading member of the First Place Church and superintendent of the Sunday school. He died suddenly on the night of Dec. 26, 1894, while on his way home from prayer meeting. He was a rich builder.

Wants Lieut. Clayton's Scalp.

A State Examining Board, consisting of Brig.-Gen. Fitzgerald, Col. Chauncey, Jr., Eighth Regiment; Lieut.-Col. McCoskey Butt, Twelfth Regiment, and Major Charles F. Roe of Squadron A, has been ordered to convene at the State camp, Peekskill, next Thursday afternoon for the examination of Lieut. Arthur C. Clayton of Company F, Seventh Regiment. This board, it is known, was convened at the request of Col. Greene, who has not been satisfied with the way the Lieutenant has performed his duties, and has desired his resignation.
