GOLF.

Notes About the Championships and the Game in General.

The entries for the amateur championship closed last evening, but they will not be given out by Secretary Tallmadge of the United States Golf Association until the mails from distant points have been received. It is now expected that the number will not exceed eighty. H. J. Whigham and Charles Blair MacDonald are among the Chicago entries, and, according to the latest news from the West, Whigham will be fully as formidable as the amateur champion.

Willie Park, Jr., who is expected to arrive this week, is entered for the open championship. Another player from Great Britain who will compete is John Dunn, a son of the well-known Tom Dunn of Bournemouth and a nephew of Willie Dunn of Ardsley Casino. Young Dunn will arrive on the St. Louis next Saturday, and he is said to be a graceful and effective golfer.

Willie Dunn will go down to Shinnecock Hills on Sunday to practise for the open championship, in which his old caddie, Dan Beveridge, will, as usual, be his backer with the clubs. Dunn has been nettled somewhat by comments made over his recent defeat by Tom Warrender, the Knollwood Country Club greenskeeper, to whom he conceded the odds of a stroke a hole, which he offers to play Warrender again at Shinnecock Hills on next Thursday for any amount desired, and give the odds of eighteen strokes in a medal play contest of eighteen holes. On the following day, July 17, Dunn stands ready to play any professional in the country a thirty-six-hole match, hole play, for $500 a side. Dunn called at THE SUN office yesterday to ask that these two propositions be widely made public.

W. J. Bowden, originally from Exmoor, England, but lately of London, Ontario, has been engaged as professional by the Oyster Bay Golf Club. On Saturday the second monthly handicap will be held at this club. Other fixtures for that date include a match between scrub teams of the Baltusrol and Morris County Golf clubs on the links of the latter organization and a members' handicap at the Morristown Field Club.

A nine-hole course is to be laid out on Fisher's Island. Thomas Rendelow left the city last night to plan it. He will pass some days on the island, which is well adapted for a picturesque seaside links.

The Shinnecock Hills Golf Club has brought out the regular announcements for the season. The regular handicaps, the men playing the white and the women over the red courses, will be held on the last Saturday of each month, including October. The competitions for the Shinnecock Hills Challenge Cup will be continued under the same conditions as those of the last three years, namely, each club must stand ready to defend against a better score, on any Saturday, without a formal challenge. The first contest, on July 4, was won by H. G. Trevor, with 88; the last will be on Oct. 10.

The annual open tournament of the Shinnecock Hills Golf Club will be held Sept. 28 to Oct. 3. In the men's singles the prizes will be a cup presented by Gen. T. H. Barber, and the Trustees' Plate for the lowest attested score on the first rounds. The conditions will be the same as in the amateur championship, but only the eight best scores will pass into the finals. The annual women's cup competition and the foursome match for pairs from the same clubs will be decided, as hitherto, during the tournament. A professional match will also be arranged. On Wednesday, Sept. 9, the junior members will play the annual championship match over the white course of eighteen holes, and thirty-six in the final round, for the title and a cup presented by George C. Clark. Last year this match was played on the red course for a cup presented by R. H. Robertson, as an eighteen-hole handicap, medal play, and was won by G. B. Henderson from a field of eleven, with the card of 91-4-87. Other cups and prizes to be played during the season include the H. G. Trevor cup for the best foursomes, the W. A. Putnam belts, and Judge Horace Russell's cup for the best five attested scores over the white course made during July, August, or September.

Riley Grannan Off for England.

Plunger Riley Grannan, accompanied by his friend, Roy Carruthers, will sail for England this morning in the steamer St. Louis. Grannan has won very heavily during the Gravesend and Sheepshead Bay meetings, clearing $60,000 on the Forget race alone, and he wants a rest. He has never been abroad, and he intends taking in the English courses until the opening of the autumn meeting at Sheepshead Bay.
