GOSSIP OF THE RUNNERS.

DALY MAY BE REINSTATED WITHOUT FURTHER HEARING.

Turfmen May the Case Against Him Is Not Strong—Everything in Readiness at Brighton—Stakes for Morris Park Autumn Meeting—Last Days at Aqueduct.

The refusal of "Father Bill" Daly's entries by the stewards of the Aqueduct meeting continued to be the chief topic of discussion wherever racing men congregated yesterday. Father Bill and his erratic runners are a perpetual puzzle to the talent, their inconsistent, in-and-out performances proving a source of many losses to both the layers and the players, yet the Sage of Hartford is not by any means without his friends and defenders in the present case. Some of the very best judges of race horses and racing maintain that Volley's apparent reversal of form last week may be accounted for without any inference whatever that Father Bill fed and watered the bay gelding before Thursday's losing race. They point to the difference in the class of horses in the two races, the difference in time, and the superiority of Dorgett over Keefe, as explaining the defeat of Thursday and the easy victory of the following day.

Sir Francis, who won the race in which Volley brought up the rear, is looked upon by them as being a pretty high-class horse at a mile in his present form, and able to lose the Daly gelding in the best race the latter has run this year, while in Friday's contest Volley defeated nothing with pretensions to the same class, and his mile was run in 1:44 on a fast track, as against 1:42¾ for Sir Francis on a track that was heavy and dead after a morning downpour. The Native, a fairly good horse, started in the race won by Volley, to be sure, but it would be a mistake to say that he was beaten by the winner. Poor riding defeated The Native, and according to many horsemen his running in this race was quite as open to criticism as was Volley's poor performance of the previous day. It is now reported that Daly's case will not be referred to the Jockey Club for final action, according to the customary procedure, but that the suspension will be permitted to lapse with the close of the Aqueduct meeting to-morrow, leaving Father Bill free to spring his long shots on the public at Brighton Beach as of yore. This would be, of course, equivalent to an acquittal on the charges made against him at Aqueduct. Should the Jockey Club, however, take up the case and confirm the finding of the stewards, Daly would probably be at the end of his turf career. Having been placed under the ban once before in a similar manner, he would hardly be taken back into the fold a second time.

The programme for the October meeting of the Westchester Racing Association at Morris Park was made public yesterday by H. G. Crickmore, clerk of the course. The meeting will commence on Tuesday, Oct. 3, continuing until Election day, Tuesday, Nov. 3. The eighteen stakes on the programme range in value from $1,500 to $3,000, the richest event being the Turf and Field Club Handicap for three-year-olds and upward at two miles over the hill. This is a race of the old school which will put to the test all of the qualities which go to make a high-class thoroughbred, and it is one of the star features of a great meeting. The Municipal Handicap, worth $2,500, is another long-distance race which will try the stamina and gameness as well as the mere speed of the winner, the distance being a mile and three-quarters over the hill. The Morris Park Handicap, for three-year-olds, worth $2,000, is at a mile and a half on the hill course.

The other events for three-year-olds are the Woodburn, $2,000, selling, at seven furlongs; the Fairview, $2,000, selling, at a mile and a sixteenth over the hill; the Ramapo Handicap, $2,000, at a mile; the Hunter Handicap, $2,000, at a mile and a furlong over the hill; the Belle Meade, $2,000, at seven furlongs, and the Jerome Handicap, $2,500, at a mile and a quarter over the hill.

The stakes for two-year-olds are the Americans, $2,000, selling, at five furlongs; the Castleton, $2,000, selling, for fillies, at five furlongs; the Silver Brook, $2,000, selling, at five and a half furlongs, and the Rancocas, $2,000, over the full Eclipse course.

The all-age events are the Bronx High-weight Handicap, $2,000, at six furlongs; the Westchester High-weight Handicap, $2,000, at six and a half furlongs, and the Fordham High-weight Handicap, $2,000, at seven furlongs.

In addition to the Turf and Field Club Handicap, and the Municipal, two other stakes for three-year-olds and upward are opened. These are the Manhattan Handicap, $2,000, at a mile and a quarter over the hill, and the Auction, $1,500, selling, at seven furlongs. Entries to all of these events close Aug. 1.

It is the intention of the stewards of the New York Steeplechase Association to hold a two-day meeting at Morris Park in October in conjunction with the autumn meeting of the Westchester Racing Association.

Horse owners should not overlook the closing of supplementary entries on Aug. 1 for the Flight, Great Eastern, September, and Flatbush Stakes, to be run at the Coney Island Jockey Club's fall meeting. An encouraging number of entries has been received for the stakes which closed July 15. Requital, Handspring, One I Love, Prince Lief, and Shakespeare II. are the prospective starters in the special sweepstakes for three-year-olds, with $7,000 added. In the Twin City Handicap, at a mile and a quarter, are Sir Walter, Gotham, One I Love, Ben Brush, Lady Inez, Flying Dutchman, Connoisseur, Goldcrest, Volley, Clifford, Belmar, Requital, Prince Lief, Ben Eder, Buck Massie, Muskalonge, Sargossa, and Dutch Skater. This is, indeed, a grand lot of Eastern and Western representatives, and the horse that wins must be a genuine champion.

Racegoers who knew the old "track by the sea" will hardly recognize the place when they enter the handsomely equipped Brighton Beach grounds next Wednesday for the opening of the long summer meeting. The entire enclosure has been remodelled on a luxurious scale, and it is no longer in order to allude to Brighton as "the home of the beachcombers." The new grand stand and other improvements represent, it is said, an outlay of $125,000 on the part of President William A. Engeman and his associates. A force of one hundred workmen were busy all day yesterday putting the finishing touces to the stand and lawn.

The grand stand will be a revelation to those who retain vivid recollections of the stuffy sweat box which formerly served the purpose. One of the noticeable features of the new order of things is the increased distance between the stand and the track. While the old structure stood close up to the rail, there is now a space of 115 feet between the stand and the outside of the track. The lawn in which are the lunch counters, restaurant, and bar, is built of cement with a brick walk leading out to the big betting enclosure, about 100 feet, west of the grand stand. The stand itself is constructed wholly of steel and cement. It is 250 feet long and 64 feet wide, with a seating capacity of 3,000.

The structure rises far above the surrounding buildings, its height from ground to roof being seventy-five feet, affording a fine view of the ocean and the island from the promenade at the rear of the seating floor. It is supported by steel columns resting upon granite blocks, which in turn are supported by piling driven deep into the sand. The roof is built on the cantilever plan, and its total span is about 120 feet, overhanging the lawn fully forty feet at the front of the structure and something like twenty feet in the rear, thus protecting everybody from both sun and rain. Four slender latticed posts of steel, placed fifty feet apart, support the roof at the front of the stand, these being the only obstructions to the view. The space between the stand and the entrance to the grounds has been newly sodded and beautified with flowering plants.

It is a matter of regret to all racegoers that so many of the horses entered in the $2,500 Brighton Handicap, to be run on the opening day, will be absentees. A great contest was in sight if a number of prominent candidates went wrong. Henry of Navarre is being treated for a splint, Margrave and Keenan are both unfit to start, Requital has been declared out in order to give him a good rest before the Big fall meetings commence, Patrician has broken down, Paladin is ruled off, and several others are for one reason or another probable absentees. However, should Clifford, Sir Walter, Ben Brush, Nanki Poo, Belmar, and St. Maxim go to the post the race may yet be one of the events of the season.

Now that the effort is being made to raise Brighton to the level of the Brooklyn track and other first class courses, Aqueduct seems to be succeeding to the minds of racing circles formerly held by the beach track. While few stake horses started at the meeting of the Queens County Jockey Club last week, the sport was nevertheless an improvement on anything heretofore seen at Aqueduct, the selling platers running unusually close to form for the most part. The attendance, too, was of record-breaking proportions, and with fair weather and attendance to-day and to-morrow, when the meeting ends, the club will reap a handsome profit on the venture. The card for to-day follows:

WITH TROTTER AND PACER.

The $13,000 M. and M. Stake Race to Be Trotted To-morrow.

Judging from yesterday's racing at Detroit, the early-closing stake system, which governed all of the events of the big Western meeting of 1896, threatens to reduce the number and the quality of the starters to some extent. Not a few of the trotters and pacers that have developed extreme speed since the commencement of the campaign are missing from the list of entries to the various classes, the Detroit stakes having closed before these horses gave promise of Grand Circuit form. The stake book shows enough good material to make high-class harness racing, however, and the chances are that the Blue Ribbon meeting will result in about the usual number of sensational performances after all.

The Merchants' and Manufacturers' Stakes, worth something like $13,000 this year, is one of the best of the Grand Circuit stakes, and it is the chief topic of discussion on to-morrow's card, and Eastern horsemen are looking forward to the star event of the meeting with much interest.

With the exception of J. M. D., 2:13¾, whose victory in 1894 was a good deal of a fluke, no Eastern horse has yet succeeded in winning the blue ribbon race; but the prospects are apparently very bright for the Eastern contingent this year, and New York horsemen will be sorely disappointed if John Kelly fails to place the big race to the credit of the fleetwood trotter Baron Crisp. Kelly has driven the Baron Wilkes gelding only one hard race since he left New York a month ago, and it is said that the horse is now fit and ready to make a great fight for the rich prize. If the scoring is not protracted and the gelding is not interfered with, he ought to win, and win easily, on public form. Dione, the best of the other prospective starters, having tried and failed to find the limit of his speed when she forced him out in 2:12¾ at Chicago a fortnight ago. It is said that Hickok's plan will be to lay up the first two heats with the California mare while the others take the shine off Baron Crisp, the "Talleyrand" then going on and making a race in the third heat with a fresh horse against a tired one. If Baron Crisp can win in a contest of this kind he must indeed be a great horse.

One of the dark horses of the big field is the Kentucky four-year-old Emma Offutt, by Gambutta Wilkes. She started out green about three weeks ago, like Baron Crisp, has not yet met defeat. Her record of 2:16¾ is said to be no measure of her speed. The mare is owned by her breeders, G. & C. P. Cecil of Danville, Ky., and is driven by Joe Rea. C. J. Hamlin's entry is the chestnut mare Valence, 2:16¾, by Manbrino King, but her races thus far do not indicate a winner in such company as she will meet to-morrow. Charles Nolan's Philadelphia trotter, Fascination, by Epaulet, has shown her ability to beat 2:15. John Marriner of Norfolk, Va., expects a great deal from Miss Anne, the daughter of Egotist, that gained a record of 2:19¾ at the Fleetwood June meeting. Other probable starters are Dean 2:20¾, by Pilot Medium; Porter, 2:17¾, by Brignoll Wilkes, in George Starr's stable; Thomas Grady's speedy four-year-old Piloteen, who trotted a half-mile track in 2:14¾ a few weeks ago; the Alcantara mare Etiquette, 2:19¾, owned by W. E. Spier of Glens Falls, N. Y., and H. Thayer's much talked of Kentucky colt San Mateo, by Simmons, and the two Detroit trotters, Packet, 2:17¾, by Pactolus, and Peter, 2:17¾, by Oscar.

The meeting at Mystic Park this week bids fair to rival the Grand Circuit series at Detroit in the matter of high-class racing. Isaac Fleming's Sage, 2:14¾; the Long Island mare Island Girl, 2:12¾, and the New England stallion Benton M., who trotted in 2:12¾ on a half-mile track last week, are to measure strides in the 2:13 class, and as all of them have shown ability to beat 2:10, the contest should be one of the best of the season to date. The entry list for the meeting is one of the largest ever received at the old Boston track. If the weather is fair great sport should be seen every day of the four.

The trotting season in California is now on for 1896, and a number of notable performances are already reported from the tracks on the coast. At Napa last week the four-year-old colt Stam B. scored a record of 2:11¾ in a winning race. The young stallion comes honestly by his speed, being by Sunbeam, 2:07¾, out of the famous Hambletonian Belle Medium, 2:20, by Happy Medium. He is looked upon in California as the coming horse.

Benton M. Defeats Cephas and Benton Wilkes.

MEDFORD, July 19.—Another large crowd witnessed the harness races at Combination Park yesterday. The opening event was the 2:19 trot. In the first heat Wyoming made a lucky spurt and took the lead, which gave the heat to him. In the second heat Wyoming got a good lead at the start, but at the turn made a bad break, letting Oxford to the front, where he stayed.

In the third heat Oxford made a bad break, and lost. He easily took the next two, however. The event of the day was the 2:12 trot between Cephas, Benton Wilkes, and Benton M. In each heat, however, Benton M. led all the way around the circle, with Cephas and Benton Wilkes making a hot fight. Summaries:

The Yacht Canada Easily Defeats the Zelma.

HAMILTON, Ont., July 19.—The fourth race between the yachts Canada and Zelma took place yesterday afternoon. The wind was fresh from the east, and the course a triangular one of six miles. The start was a flying one, and the yachts sailed twice around, the distance being twelve miles. The race was nip-and-tuck over the whole course. Both yachts were well handled. The Canada won by eight seconds, corrected time.

Skipper Jarvis of the Canada was highly pleased with the way the yacht acted in both windward and leeward work, and thinks she will give a good account of herself in the international contest at Toledo next month.

So So and Meteor Wins the Canarsie Yacht Club Special Races.

The races for the silver loving cups presented to the Canarsie Yacht Club for competition by Commodore C. O. Herz and Vice-Commodore Frank V. McGeehan were decided yesterday in Jamaica Bay, off the Canarsie Yacht Club house at Sands Point, a fine breeze from the south kept the crews busy. The Anna and the Peach dropped out on the second round. A triangular course of ten miles was covered. The committee awarded the Herz cup to So So, the first prize and the Meteor the second prize. Yachting Notes.

WEST HAMPTON, July 19.—The first regatta of the West Hampton Yacht Club was sailed yesterday afternoon in Great South Bay, from the Pawcuck Point House dock five miles to leeward and return. The following boats sailed: Ione, sloop, by Rodney Fisk; Thetis, sailed by De Witt Mills, first class, Julia, Iris, and Elf were in the second class. The winners were Thetis and Julia.

GREENPORT, L. I., July 19.—Every available point of vantage along shore was thronged with interested spectators at the first ladies' day regatta of the season held by the Shelter Island Yacht Club yesterday. The Dilemma defeated the Lynx in the fin keel class after a splendid contest. The Dandy easily distanced her competitors in the cat class, winning by 2 minutes 59 seconds from the Elsket. In class F, half raters, the Nuera won by 2 minutes 36 seconds. In class No. 2, for catboats, the Aeolus won easily, crossing the line 8 minutes, corrected time, ahead of the Unlade.

NEW ROCHELLE, July 19.—Hazen Morse, one of the most popular amateur yachtsmen along the coast, has retired from yachting. He says he is disgusted with racing, especially after the recent decision in the Sewanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club race. He says that through the instructions of the committee he rounded a buoy which he should not have rounded, and thereby lost the race. He further says that the Kittie V., the half rater which he built last spring and only used a half dozen times, will not be raced by him any more.
