NEW YORK, April 30, 1898.

Daniell & Sons.

MILLINERY DEPARTMENT.

We shall offer on Monday more than one hundred styles of imported Hats and Bonnets, together with those from our own workrooms—the materials of which these goods are composed are all of the very finest quality—at prices at about one-half their real value.

One special lot of Black and White Straw Hats, in all the leading shapes, at

59c. each.

Nicely trimmed Turbans, in all colors, at $1.25 each.

FINE FLOWERS.

Bluets,	18c.	to 50c.	per bunch.
Violets,	17c.	to 75c.	per bunch.
Foliage,	13c.	to 57c.	per bunch.
Roses,	24c.	to 48c.	per bunch.

These prices are really much less than cost of importation.

SATIN STRAW BRAID, in every color, at 15c. per yard.

RIBBONS.

Want of confidence and the prostration of business in consequence has caused great losses to our manufacturers. Especially is this the case in the ribbon industry. Many thousands of cartons have been thrown on the market or sent us for rapid distribution by the most prominent firms. We commence a sale at once that we are sure will prove a most interesting event to all purchasers.

This season's styles only will be represented.

They include Black Ribbons, Millinery Novelties, Satin and Gros Grains, Moires, Romans, Plaids and Glaces.

Prices will be very attractive.

5c. to 25c. yard.

Two to eight inches wide; all are pure silk of the best grades.
