CHENILLE A SURPRISE.

LONG SHOT UPSETS CALCULATIONS BY WINNING AT AQUEDUCT.

Grand Race for the Arverne Results in a Head Victory for Marcus Daly's Tamor—The Amazon and Blueaway Run to Form—Pupil and Mazarine Upset Good Things.

A half-holiday crowd of generous proportions visited the Aqueduct racetrack yesterday and witnessed some highly interesting sport. Weather and track conditions were again favorable, and the fields furnished a medium for lively speculation. The ring was crowded to an almost uncomfortable extent, but the backers trampled on each other's toes without a murmur, and left off with three winning favorites to their credit. Followers of Jockey O'Connor were jubilant, as "Winnie" scored three times in the first four races.

The red letter event on the card was the Arverne Stakes, for three-year-olds, over the short seven-furlong course out of the chute. Of the nine candidates named Friday night, Village Pride, Vertigo, Diminutive and Ordeal were scratched, while Dr. Parker and Sir Florian were added. On his showing of last Wednesday in the handicap, Marcus Daly's handsome chestnut colt Tamor, by Tammany—Oriole, was made an odds-on favorite. Dr. Parker, Boney Boy and Roysterer opened on even terms at 6 to 1, but a heavy plunge on the last-named colt made him a strong second favorite at post time. O'Connor hustled the Daly colt to the front in the first furlong, but the others hung on well, and when squared away for the line four of them were racing neck apart in the van. Tamor held his advantage gamely and struggled home a head in front of Dr. Parker, who beat Roysterer half a length. Roysterer, Boney Boy and Sir Florian were only separated by necks at the finish.

The full dozen permitted by the track rule turned out for the first race, with Tyrshena a warm favorite at 4 to 10. He was slow to strike his gait, while Mazarine rushed out and took the bunch down the backstretch at a rare clip. Optical, the second choice, raced to the front at that point and opened up a clear gap, with Mazarine in hot pursuit. The speedy son of Bacon d'Or tired in the last sixteenth, and Mazarine then took command, winning by a length from the favorite, who beat Ordeal a head. Green B. Morris's pupil, who was interfered with the other day, won the handicap for two-year-olds cleverly by half a length from the odds-on favorite, Peaceful. Blueaway ran right through a smart bunch of selling platers in the third race, and pulled up easily in further encouraged by the triumph of Tamor in the fourth. Any old price suited them about The Amazon in the fifth and she landed the money in easy fashion.

The surprise of the day came in the sixth race, when two withdrawals let in Chenille and Prince of Wales. The latter was promptly plunged on, while Chenille, No. 13 on the card, went racing at prices which ranged from 20 to 1 to 100 to 1. Impartial, also at fancy odds, got the best of a struggling start and led to the turn for home, where the favorite took command. Meanwhile Chenille was working her way up from fifth position, an opposite the betting ring "Patsy" McDermott sent her strong in earnest. The Prince was unable to withstand the challenge and the outsider won by a length. Prince of Wales, Meehanus and Skillman finished next in the order named and only hands apart. Summary:

Championship Prizes on the Last Day of Boston's Horse Show.

BOSTON, April 22.—The most successful horse show ever held in Boston wound up to-night in a blaze of glory. Championships were in order, with blue ribbon winners for contestants. In the class for hackneys under the saddle and the special class for the get of coaching stallions, Dr. F. S. Dennis's Alvina got the blue ribbon in the first class and the get of F. C. Stevens's Langton Performer the special prize and ribbon in the second. For harness horses, women driving, Mrs. Wilson, handling Eben D. Jordan's tyrano, added another blue ribbon to her collection. The championship for saddle horses narrowed down to Mrs. W. E. Kotman's Confido and Mrs. E. H. Harriman's The Rook. Confido won on form. The special prize of $50 for high steppers was an easy win for Charles F. Bates's Applause; James F. Shaw's Actress got second, and John S. Bratton's Lord Mayo third.

In the tandem class Charles F. Bates and his Royal John, S. Bratton, monopolized the interest. It was difficult for the judges to decide between them, and after much exhibiting, Bateman's team got the blue ribbon and the red went to the New York team, Coxey and The Whirlwind, of the town.

In the championship class for hackneys or halfbred hackneys Jordan's Tomnoddy won. In the hunt club jumping contests for teams of three, the trio exhibited by the Myopia Hunt Club, Westerall, Lucy Glitters, and Lady Like won out, with the Radnor Hunt second. In the consolation class for non-prize winning carriage horses the honors went to the Glendower Stock Farm's Glendower.

The contest for first honors in the championship class for hackney stallions lay between Jordan's Prince Crompton and Hoskier's Brandon. Prince Crompton showed up better in exercising and won. The two old rivals, Lord Brilliant and Coxey, had it out again in the championship class for harness horses. Batonyi drove Lord Brilliant and Bates Coxey. It was not until one of the judges had driven both horses that a decision was announced. Lord Brilliant was placed first. In the class for prize-winning hackney mares, E. D. Jordan won both places, first with Laodamia and second with Bonwick Belle.
