CHAMPION BROOKLYNS SHOW A FAST GAIT AGAINST MONTREAL.

Hanlon's Superbas, Benefited by Their Southern Trip, Delight a Crowd of the Faithful at Washington Park—New Yorks Defeat Manhattan College—Other Games.

About 1,000 curious ball cranks went to Washington Park yesterday afternoon to inspect the champion Brooklyn team as it will begin the League race on next Thursday. It did not take long to convince the "rooters" that Hanlon's men had profited by their trip South, and were ready for business. Though the day was not propitious for hard ball tossing, because of the raw wind that blew across the field, the champions hustled all the way through just to show their speed. The most remarkable features were the exhibitions by the pitchers, together with Dahlen, Keeler and Jones. Manager Hanlon has evidently succeeded in keying up "Roaring Bill" Kennedy and McGinnity so that they are capable now of pitching up to their best gait. Both showed great speed and let themselves go to the limit. This was particularly encouraging because of the absence of the stars, McJames and Hughes. It was also shown that Kitson was in fettle, while Howell, though he did not perform, warmed up with enough ginger to convince the critics that he has been carefully prepared for the coming fray. Dahlen and Jones, who were somewhat backward in getting into real shape early last year, demonstrated that they will be in the hunt from the going. Both were lively in all departments, Jones in particular running the bases with enough speed to prove that he will not suffer from the sprained ankle which laid him on the shelf a year ago.

Keeler was the same little Willie who has had crowds by the ears ever since he began to worry pitchers. He was as fast as usual and skimmed around the base paths like a racehorse. Sheckard, the new left fielder, did not have much to do in handling drives, but he was speedy and gained many friends. De Montreville at third base made a favorable impression, especially when he knocked down a couple of sharp smashes and also collared a difficult foul after a long run to the grandstand. Still the newcomer did not make the "rooters" forget little Casey, who sat on the bench ready to jump into the game when called upon. Capt. Joe Kelley stopped over in Baltimore and his place at first base was filled by "Broadway" Smith. There was a time when ball cranks thought the "Fashion Plate" was on the ragged edge, but that delusion was quickly dispelled yesterday when Alexander capered about like a two-year-old and showed that his right to a second time on earth had not been taken away from him. "Old Reliable" Jim McGuire stood the gaff behind the bat in his inimitable way until seven innings had been played when he gave a chance to Steelman. The former Syracuse catcher had little to do, however. Tom Daly made the longest hit of the game, a corking three-bagger to left and also was the nailer of the first double play of the season, which blanked the Montreals in the first inning.

Nobody expected to see the Brooklyns defeated so that when they rolled up an easy score against the Canadian team there was no surprise. The Montreals could do nothing in the batting line and decided somewhat raggedly, but as they have not enjoyed a southern trip and have tried to get into shape at Paterson, it would not be fair to criticise their work. Timothy Hurst, recently restored to the League staff, umpired the game satisfactorily. The score:

NEW YORK, 14; MANHATTAN COLLEGE, 1.

The local baseball season was opened at the Polo Grounds yesterday afternoon, the New Yorks playing the Manhattan College team. The weather was chilly and the League men took good care not to exert themselves. Consequently it is a rather difficult matter to say how well conditioned Ewing's players are. They got plenty of exercise in chasing each other around the bases, but the collegians were just as tired when the game ended. Through the good stick work of Cotter the college boys were saved from a whitewash. With a man on third in the eighth inning Cotter hit a neat single over short, sending a man home. The score:

McGovern and Sullivan May Be Matched This Week.

Dave Sullivan came all the way from Boston yesterday morning to arrange a match with Terry McGovern, as he pounds, weigh in at 3 o'clock on the day of the fight. Nothing was done, however, as neither Sam Harris nor the featherweight champion was in hand. Harris has agreed to meet Sullivan on next Thursday afternoon, when it is expected a battle will be matched. McGovern has two matches on for next week. On Tuesday at Chicago, he will tackle Tommy White for six rounds, and on the following Friday at the Broadway A. C. his opponent will be Tommy Warren.

RACING.

Imp Finishes Third in the Second Bennings Handicap.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The twelve-day meeting of the Washington Jockey Club came to an end to-day. A handicap began the sport with Sir Christopher the favorite. He finished third. Lady Lindsay won easily from Speedmas. Gov. Griggs was favorite for the hurdle race, and after leading all the way, he won cleverly from the second choice, Cousin Jess. Young Exile was favorite for the Hunter's Steeplechase, and he won easily from Higbie. Dunlap's ride on St. Samuel was so poor that he was suspended. The next steeplechase went to Nestor, who won by twelve lengths from Baby Bill. Imp was favorite for the Second Bennings Handicap, but Charentus went to the front on the far turn and won by five lengths. Boney Boy beat Imp a head. Summaries:

First Race—Five furlongs—Lady Lindsay, 122 (Clawson), 4 to 1 and even, won; Speedmas, 111 (Hothersall), 3 to 1 for place, second; Sir Christopher, 121 (Mitchell), third. Time, 1:04 1-5. Sensational, Golden Rattle and F. V. T. also ran.

Second Race—One mile and a half over six hurdles—Gov. Griggs, 156 (Donahue), 4 to 5 and out, won; Cousin Jess, 143 (Monahan), 4 to 5 for place, second; McFonso, 156 (Grimes), third. Time, 2:33. Shinfane, Al Reeves and Conflicting Evidence also ran.

Third Race—Hunters' Steeplechase; about two miles and a half—Young Exile, 148 (Mr. Taylor), 2 to 1 and 3 to 5, won; Higbie, 178 (Donahue), 6 to 5 for place, second; St. Samuel, 164 (Dunlap), third. Time, 5:24 4-5. Diver and Self Protection also ran. Emory was also a starter but fell.

Fourth Race—Steeplechase; two and a half miles—Nestor, 135 (Brazil), 3 to 1 and 4 to 5 won; Baby Bill, 154 (Donahue), 6-5 for place, second; Kaiser, 130 (Saffell), third. Time, 5:19 2-5. Watchman fell at the first jump, and Tenlore refused at the same place.

Fifth Race—Second Bennings Handicap, purse $1,000; seven furlongs—Charentus, 112 (Lawson), 6 to 5 and out, won; Boney Boy, 116 (Mitchell), 3 to 5 for place, second; Imp, 102 (Clay), third. Time, 1:31. Lexington Pirate also ran.

Sixth Race—Seven furlongs—The Jefferson, 107 (O'Leary), 4 to 5 and 2 to 5, won; Rimmage, 101 (Mitchell), 2 to 5 for place, second; Charley Moore, 97 (Seaton), third. Time, 1:31 1-5. Affectation, Hesitation, Hall Bell, Shamokin, Rough Rider and Christmas Carol also ran.

Hackney Show Horses Coming Here From England.

British horse fanciers are talking about "invading the States" next fall with a view to furthering the fortunes of the English hackney on this side of the Atlantic. If the project is carried out they will bring over a big string of picked show horses for exhibition at the National Horse Show and other places, giving battle to the hackneyized American trotting horse in heavy harness and hoping to put the Yankee out of business as a high-stepper. Rivalry between the two breeds is remarkably keen, and a battle royal for supremacy, such as has been proposed, would be watched with interest by horse fanciers of two hemispheres. With few exceptions the hackneys thus far shown here have been seen only at the end of long, white straps, without either weight on the back or weight to pull. Though high stepping in heavy harness was supposed to be their forte, no hackney, so far as known, has yet won a championship ribbon in harness at the National Horse Show. It was the pony class of a few years ago that most of the high-steppers shown at the Garden were of hackney blood; but since THE SUN brought out the fact in 1894 that nearly all of the winners were well-bred trotters trimmed up in hackney style, the trotting-bred horse has come to be generally recognized as the best carriage or park horse in the world. In 1897 Aurel Batonyi took a string of American steppers over to England for George B. Hulme and exhibited them at the leading English show, winning thirty-five prizes, one of which was a championship. Since then the exportation of trotting-bred high steppers to England has increased manyfold, while the importation of hackneys has well nigh ceased. Now it is proposed by the partisans of the hackney to "invade the States" and try to recover the lost ground. Every American horse fancier has admired the glittering action and the symmetrical, pleasing lines of the best hackneys seen here, and if the invaders can do as well in heavy harness as the others have done when shown to halter, the trotting-bred park horse will have to do his prettiest to win.

Outdoor Practice at Hamilton.

CLINTON, April 14.—The spring term of Hamilton College opened on Wednesday and in the afternoon the candidates for the track team and the baseball nine took their first outdoor practice. There are about twenty-five candidates for each team. The nine is being coached by Capt. Howard Earl of the Utica State League team. There are four places on the team left vacant by the graduation of the class of '99—catcher, first base, left field and centre field. There are no games scheduled for several weeks. John T. Crossley who trained the track team last year has charge of the men again this season. The only intercollegiate meet this season, will be a dual meet with New York University at Utica on May 12. The college field day will be held on the preceding Tuesday. The track team lost several good men with the graduation of the class of '99, notably Ostrander, in the long runs; Robertson in the broad jump, and Cunningham in the pole vault and shot put.

First Run of the Road Coach Pioneer to Ardsley.

The New York and Ardsley coach Pioneer, will make its first daily run from the Holland House to the Ardsley Casino to-morrow with George R. Read the whip. Ten miles an hour is the pace set for the horses over the route of 25 miles. Leaving the Holland House at 10 o'clock, the Pioneer is due to pick up Harlem passengers thirty minutes later at Seventh avenue and 124th street. From there the route is by way of Central Bridge, Washington Bridge, Kingsbridge, Yonkers, Glenwood, Hastings and Dobbs Ferry. Ardsley will be reached at 12:30 o'clock. Returning, the Pioneer is scheduled to leave Ardsley at 3:30 and to reach the Holland House at 6 o'clock. The run is a 4 in hand, and there will be changes of horses at Harlem, Kingsbridge, Yonkers and Hastings.

The annual games of the Junior A. A. of Cutler School were held at Columbia Oval yesterday morning. The events, which were all closed, resulted in a number of interesting finishes. T. Baseball Notes.

J. P. McC.—Yes.

Harold Gibbons—It was a strike out and the batsman should have been declared out.

Tom Burns has just been engaged to umpire all of the games at Orange Oval this season.

President Powers of the Eastern League says that nothing definite has been decided yet in regard to Baltimore and Washington.

The new home plate was used for the first time at Washington Park yesterday. Pitcher Kennedy and Catcher Sugden said that it was an improvement over the old four-cornered affair.

William Barnie has reassumed the management of the Hartford Eastern League Club. He secured Pitchers Hill and Donovan and Third Baseman Harris from the Brooklyn club yesterday.

F. A. Abell and H. R. Von der Horst, the principal owners of the Brooklyn club, saw yesterday exhibition by the Champions and were satisfied that the club's team greatly improved. Hanlon's men in their efforts to start the coming race in proper trim.

Manager Hanlon said last night: "If Jennings and Hughes do not show up to-morrow it will be at their own loss, as their contracts go into effect then. I accepted Hughes's terms two weeks ago and told him to come East. Jennings is not acting honorably, but we will get along without him, as Joe Kelly in my estimation, will turn out to be the superior as a first baseman. No Brooklyn player can make a fuss over the salary question."

GOLFING AT ST. ANDREWS.

JOHN REID, JR., WINS THE FIRST MONTHLY HANDICAP.

W. K. Fowler Scores His Third Successive Victory at Dyker Meadow—A Start at the Marine and Field Club—Results at Lakewood.

There were twenty starters in the first monthly handicap of the season at the St. Andrew's Golf Club yesterday. It was the opening of the club's twelfth year and two of the competitors at least, H. O. Tallmadge and J. B. Upham, could trace their golfing careers back to the earliest match of the club on the old "Apple Tree" course at Yonkers. The winter greens were used, which kept the scoring on the high side, but the fair greens were in fine order. The President, J. B. Thomas, who has been journeying on the Continent and in Egypt, was one of the onlookers. Among other visitors were J. Nevitt Steele and Frank Simmons, both from Nutley, who had a private match. Steele, who was quite a prominent figure in the open tournaments two years ago, is now located in Georgia and is only here on a flying trip. All the regular greens were uncovered and they will be in use within a month. They are in beautiful turf, both on the high and the lowlands, and it will no longer be possible to call St. Andrew's a links lacking in perfect greens. One of the best-known players of the club, by the way, after getting onto one of the closed greens on the approach shot yesterday, calmly played the ball off with a mashie. Fortunately the turf was not cut, but all who saw the stroke were horror-stricken.

"The chances are that he would deny the act if called down," said one of the bystanders. "Like many enthusiasts he is in a trance until each hole is made."

"Trance or not," was the retort of another onlooker, "at any of the links abroad and many here he would be fined for using anything except a putter on the greens, and that he played from a closed green should aggravate the enormity of the offence."

But no action was taken, for in a more clubable spirit the feelings of the golfer were considered before the care of the green. The winner in Class A was John Reid, Jr., captain of the club, who made a well-earned 94, although after being on the tricky green in 3 he took 5 more to hole out on the first. Capt. Reid, who was golfing in Scotland and England all last summer, is playing better than ever before, particularly on the long game, and he should be a dangerous factor in the amateur championship. The summary:

Harry Vardon left for Boston last night. On Wednesday he will play a match at the Wollaston Golf Club against two professionals. Arrangements were made yesterday for the champion to play at the Dyker Meadow Golf Club before he sails for England on May 2. The plan of organizing a local golf association among the Boston clubs has been postponed until fall.

A handicap sweepstakes brought the members of the Marine and Field clubs on the links for the first time this season yesterday. W. H. Childs winning with the best gross and net scores, the latter one of the lowest that will be recorded this season. Spring is always a time of travail for the handicappers, but it is seldom that such a glaring upset is made in their calculations. The winner also stands a chance to win the cup offered by C. A. Boody for the maker of the two lowest scores of the month. The summary:

W. K. Fowler scored his third successive win at the Dyker Meadow Golf Club yesterday in the first monthly handicap of the season. There were twenty cards returned. There is a strong sentiment in the club that Fowler is again back to the strong game he had two seasons ago. The summary:

Lakewood, April 14.—No surer indication of the near approach of the Golf Club of Lakewood's big tournament could be figured out than the presence of the tournament veteran, John Miley, smiling and welcomed by all after a long absence from Lakewood. The links have been crowded all day and the morning list for the men's handicap carried thirty-three names. The first prize this morning was won by A. H. Porter, Jr., of Dyker Meadow; second, by E. C. Green, Lakewood, and Porter also tied C. M. Hamilton for the best gross prize. Scores and summaries:

A women's handicap on Monday and a pick-up team match on Wednesday are announced for next week. A new rule governing the Saturday handicap was put in force at the Country Club to-day and no scores are bulletined until the field is handed in. The idea is that such a rule will save many cards heretofore "lost in the brook." Twenty-six entries were on the list for to-day's handicap and eighteen were returned, as follows:

William C. Chick, Oakley—
