FINE SPORT ON SPEEDWAY.

KINGWOOD AND LITTLE BELLE CHASE DARIEL DOWN THE ROAD.

Remarkable Trotting by the Morristown Team—Caryle Carne Defeats McMillan—Col. Lawrence's Gray Horse to Meet Cobwebs on Memorial Day—Boone Wilkes a Fiver.

Not since the Speedway was opened, nearly two years ago, have the conditions been more favorable than they were yesterday for the trotters and pacers in and about New York to show their speed. The chocolate colored surface of the great driveway was as smooth as a barn floor from end to end and the soil was just dry enough after Friday's deluge to take the imprint of a horseshoe like sealing wax, without cupping or breaking away under the feet of the horses. Hardly a leaf stirred on the wooded hillsides to the west; and while thousands of spectators watched the speed display from the sidewalks the sun beat down from the cloudless sky on the varnished gear of a multitude of speeding wagons and the glossy coats of the carefully groomed horses that pulled them.

Many who took the long walk from 155th street up to Washington Bridge were hopeful of witnessing a brush between Caryle Carne, 2:11¾, and Cobwebs, 2:12, the rival trotters whose fine struggle for supremacy last week had set everybody talking about them. But the pedestrians had to go home without seeing them come together, although both horses were on the road during the morning. Nathan Straus drove out early in company with his brother, Isador Straus, ex-Minister to Turkey, and Cobwebs had been sent home before Col. F. N. Lawrence, who lives at Bay Shore, L. I., arrived at the speeding ground with Caryle Carne. The owners of the two noted horses agreed to meet on Memorial Day and make another attempt to find out who owns the "King of the Speedway." The brush will take place in the morning if the weather is fine. It is expected that C. K. Billings will return to New York in the meantime, and if he does so the two metropolitan trotters will probably be joined by the Chicago mare Lucille, 2:09¾, in the brush for the championship.

Caryle Carne demonstrated pretty clearly yesterday that he is the horse Cobwebs must beat if the chestnut trotter retains his supremacy among road horses until he is put on the record list next month. The big dun-bitten gray gelding held his head a little higher than usual when he arrived on the scene, and it was held still higher when Col. Lawrence logged him back to the city. He had met Dr. J. F. Moore's good young trotter McMillan, 2:17¾, winner of the Speedway Cup race at the Grand Circuit meeting last year, and had beaten the shapely Tennessee an twice in succession. In the first brush McMillan went the length of the road without making an mistake or giving up the chase, though the big gray gelding settled pretty fast from the first turn of the wheels. At the second trial McMillan was carried off his feet near the end of the course and lost ground while Carne was being brought back to the start and gone to a point on almost even terms with Carne.

That McMillan was in fine form appeared from the outcome of a three-cornered brush in which he squarely outtrotted De Witt C. Flanagan's fast horse Ivandorf, 2:16, and carried Bernard Zahn's crack trotter Oscar, 2:20¾, to a break at the foot of the hill. Ivandorf in turn had proved that he was himself by defeating Oscar and some other good ones earlier in the day. No end of talk was heard at the Speedway Club after the morning drive ended about a brush between Caryle Carne and a handsome young mare that Albert de Cernea drove. Arthur Lane, O. C. Lloyd, Dr. H. H. Kane and several other road riders said that the unknown trotter had gone past Carne just below the bend, but not one of them seemed certain that Col. Lawrence had tried to give her the chance. De Cernea felt confident that the gray horse was driven to win and he was very proud of the speed shown by his new mare.

Perhaps the best spectacle of the day was seen after nearly everybody had departed for home at the end of the morning drive. De Witt C. Flanagan had his new trotting team, Kingwood, 2:17, and Little Belle, 2:18¾, on the road, eager to test them going against the best pacers in town. There was a noticeable absence of competitors for the crack team of Morristown, and Mr. Flanagan at last started his cross-mated pair in pursuit of Daniel, 2:07, the pacing mare that defeated Bumps, 2:08¾, last fall. The brush began just above the end of the stone wall with Daniel in the three lengths in front and the team trying to close the gap. The mare and the gelding covered the ground at a 2:10 gait or faster, are riding to the opinion of several horsemen, but the queen of Speedway pacers skimmed along like a swallow and held her advantage to the end. With only three or four other horses on the Speedway ground at the time, Dr. Kane and Mr. Flanagan walked their fleers slow up to the bend and turned them for a second trial of speed.

The best round was a hummer. For half a mile Kingwood and Little Belle trotted with the speed of a 2:10 gait in a gallant effort to head the pacer. Squatting close to the ground and with their heads nodding in unison the cross-matched pair dashed down the road at a clip such as no other team has shown on the Speedway since Royal, 2:17¾, and Honor Bright, 2:22¾, fought their drawn battle with Cobwebs one year ago. To those in the rear the trotters looked like winners when the brush ended near the bridge. But when the question was put to their driver, he said:

"I wish I had them out."

A third trial ended in a fluke. Kingwood and Little Belle had done their best and had failed. When started down again in the chestnut mare made a break before she had gone a furlong. Kingwood followed suit soon afterward and Dr. Flanagan slowed them down to a walk. Kingwood and Ivandorf are billed for a race at the Morrisania track on Memorial Day. Mr. Flanagan has two other horses, will drive Ivandorf and Dr. Osgerin will drive Kingwood.

Ivandorf figured in a fine brush yesterday with the chestnut trotting mare Teresa B., 2:16, from Montclair, driven by George A. Coleman. The big-crated bay gelding led by half a length to the foot of the hill, where he made a break and the mare went to the front. Coleman then hooked in with the crack trotter Page, 2:08¼, driven by Isaac Fleming to a mile in 2:12¼, and Ivandorf was asked to the 317 pounds, while Fleming has to carry lead to make weight when driving races at 150 pounds, so that Teresa B. was attempting the difficult feat of giving 170 pounds to Page and a beating. She made a gallant losing contest, but she had to take the dust. Page has outfooted A. H. Coombs's black trotter Wilkes, 2:12¼.

Angelus, 2:12¼, a red roan gelding out trotter this was thought for $500 a few months ago, whom not between believed he had seen his best days, outfoxed some of the Speedway stars. John Barteett drove the chestnut gelding to a purchase cart and drove him so fast that he carried Oscar, 2:20¾, to a double break. The chestnut trotter did not fare so well when turned in company with Oscar and D. N. Wilbur's big bay pacer Boone Wilkes, 2:16. This time it was Angelus that jumped into the lead at the end of the stone wall. Oscar chased the speedy pacer to the bridge and forced him to put in his best licks, but could not gain the lead. Mr. Wilbur's pacer led the long-bodied, long-necked, big-headed bay trotting mare La Cossetteur, 2:08¼, over the road in a merry chase. Dr. Hamilton lost his temper when the mare failed to head Boone Wilkes and gave her a rap with the whip which made nervous wreck of the mare. Meyer drove the dapple gray trotting stallion Iron Bar, 2:14¼, was one of those who tried to head Mr. Wilbur's winning pacer, and he too, failed after a hard-fought brush from the bend to the bridge.

C. W. Wilder's gray pacing mare Githa surprised all the sidewalk critics by taking B. F. Kearney's black pacing gelding Drex, 2:16¼, into camp at the end of a neck-and-neck race over the usual course. Henry Pierson's big chestnut trotting mare Ethel B., 2:21¼, joined in the contest, but was carried off her feet. Little also defeated Henry Gourlier's brown trotting stallion Morphious, by Mobrideam. The gray mare is frequently seen in the slow procession near the curb line, driving Mr. and Mrs. Wilder in a heavy runabout, and few road horses were prepared to see her show the way to such horses as Drex and Morphious.

Githa was the fourth horse of the day Drex defeated. Arthur Kennedy drove Lacer Amblevelt, 2:17¼, to a mile in 2:12¼ and Lacer was heavily handicapped by the weight he had to carry. Hasbrouck's Lady, 2:12¼, by Bonbrook, had brought Isaac V. Hopper, jr., from the country to drive the gray to defeat. The gray had been pulled to a 2:10 gait and Hopper had to drive the mare to the wire to get the decision. Lady is a fast mare and ought to be good for a mile in 2:10 if the driver of the stable does his part by her. Hopper is a good driver, but he is a novice on Lucas. The stallion Bonbrook is a fast horse and went to the front while the mare was being driven.

Dr. Hoag had been in shape for speeding Lucas, by the Wilkes, Flanagan's trotting team, Kingwood and Little Belle, and had quite a lively time with the two pacers. When the mare was off and John Dwyer drove Hoag, 2:17, in single harness, the stallion Antonio hobbled along at a good clip, but when Dwyer put the speed whip on the mare she came home with the stallion and Dwyer. Jesse Grass trotter Gaylord, 2:18¼, had to go some to beat the speeding grandma of the Speedway, Lady Maud, 2:18¼, driven by Mr. Grass. Mr. Grass had to go to the whip and she responded with a rush which carried her past the gray horse as they breasted the rise toward the bridge. An hour later in the day she started off with Ethel B. on the homeward drive and left the chestnut mare hopelessly behind in a brush of three furlongs. Before driving Gaylord, F. Halter was out behind his new purchase, Fire Gilt, 2:11¼, a chestnut pacer by Alexander, that he bought of John McGuire a few days ago. The newcomer won two or three good brushes, beating among others the dappled pacer Merritt Wilkes.

When Dr. Kane drove his chestnut pacing mare Laura W. yesterday he had to ride in the rear rank. The daughter of Alexander, 2:20¼, usually one of the most reliable pacers on the Speedway, broke every time she was started up. Alexander Newburger's fast mare Spillaka, 2:21½, beat her twice in succession, and Will Clark's new pacer Mr. Fullerton, 2:24½, from Yonkers, just missed defeating her in a rousing contest.

The road riders of Brooklyn and Manhattan will hold another series of wagon races at the Parkway track next Saturday afternoon. In addition to a renewal of the contests for the Daniel Cup and the Parkway Cup there will be a race to wagon for pacers of the 2:16 class and a similar contest for 2:25 trotters.

Records of the Brooklyn and New York Players.

In four of the games played by the Brooklyn last week Farrell touched up the opposing twirlers for six hits and now leads his team in batting. Kelley had a disastrous week, the pitchers of the Cincinnati, Pittsburg and Chicago clubs holding Capt. Joe down to six hits in seven games, thereby forcing him back to third place. Of the New Yorks Seibach continues to increase his average in nearly every game. Davis and Van Haltren are the other players of the team who are holding their end up in the batting line. The records, including last Saturday's games, follow:

Newark Team Throws Up the Sponge.

The Newark baseball team of the Atlantic League threw up the sponge yesterday and in consequence no game was played at home. The Athletics of Philadelphia had been billed to play, but they did not put in an appearance. The Jersey City's were sent instead because the carfare from Jersey City to Newark is about one twentieth what the fare from Philadelphia to Newark is. Since May 15 the Newark players have been waiting for their first two weeks' salary. Failed to get it, notwithstanding that the receipts from home games were much greater than the amount due the men. The "bloated aristocrats" of Philadelphia who organized the Athletic club did not put up the money to release players from the team being obliged to pay the salaries of last year's team.

When the Newark club was organized the President of the Atlantic League announced that the $1,000 capital to back it had been paid in by responsible parties who would see the club through the season. He was loud in his praise of the nouveau riches men. The team had intended to play yesterday's game and divide the receipts, but the lessee of the grounds demanded a guarantee of 15 per cent of the gate, while Manager Mills of the Jersey Cities telegraphed that unless the visiting clubs shared. This would have left the home players 85 per cent to divide, with an amount would have been so small that they would not don their uniforms for it. As a result they refused to play.

Fitz's Injured Hand Getting Well.

Although the left hand of Bob Fitzsimmons is giving him considerable pain, the big fighter thinks that it will be all right soon. The former champion had many visitors at his quarters, Bergen Beach, yesterday. Dr. O'Sullivan of Bellevue Hospital, a friend of Fitz's, examined the latter's hand during the afternoon and was surprised over its improvement. He believes that with good care he will recover the use of the hard muscle of a week. Fitz is still training for his coming mill with Gus Ruhlin. In regard to his future plans Fitz said:

"After my meeting with Ruhlin I will be open to fight any one in the business. I prefer to try conclusions with either Jeffries or Sharkey. I have been promised a meeting with the latter, and I expect to be able to fight him before the law against pugilism in this State goes into effect."

Fitz further said that he did not hurt his hand by being bitten by his pet lion. He declared that he sustained the injury in his recent bout with Ed Dunkhorst, the "Human Freight Car." "I caught him on the forehead," said Bob, "and the concussion wrought by the blow dislodged one of my knuckles."

Kid McCoy Nearly Knocked Down by a Newsboy.

TOLEDO, May 27.—Kid McCoy, the pugilist, had a singular experience in this city early this morning. He was on his way to Chicago to fight Tommy Ryan at Tattersalls on Tuesday evening. As the sleeper stopped at the Union depot McCoy dropped off for a moment and just as he stepped to the platform a newsboy named Jimmy McGrady asked if he wanted to buy a paper. McCoy playfully made a feint at him when the boy suddenly struck out, landing a blow that nearly put McCoy on his back. Instead of hitting a stagered the Kid asked the boy if he knew whom he had struck. He said that he did not. McCoy then introduced himself and promised to hunt McGrady up on his return from the West. He expressed great admiration for the little fellow and told the bystanders that he intended doing something for him when he returned.

Saturday Night's Fights in Brooklyn.

Jim Hanlon of New York received the decision over Jack Ryan of Brooklyn in the ninth round of what was to have been a 20 round bout at 140 pounds at the Pelican A. C. on Saturday night. Ryan continually fouled his man and after being cautioned he was disqualified.

Three 10 round preliminary bouts were also decided. The first was between Jack Stone and Al. Sweeney, both of New York. The weight was 128 pounds. Sweeney knocked his man out in the fifth. The second bout was between Billy Roth and Eddie Burke, at 130 pounds. Burke was declared the winner. Jack Butler of Brooklyn and Jim Austin of New York fought at 158 pounds. Butler got the decision.

At the Samoyen A. C.'s boxing show, Kid McFadden of San Francisco met George Monroe of this city in a slat bout of twenty rounds. Both men were over the agreed upon weight, 135 pounds, but resolved to go on. The decision was a draw. In the first preliminary, Tom Murray of Brooklyn lost to Jack McDermott of Long Island City in the seventh round. In the second 125 pound bout for honors, Tony Kane and Jack Farrell of Brooklyn met for the fourth time in 10 rounds. The result was a draw.

Danny Dougherty of Philadelphia got the decision over Tommy Feltz of Brooklyn, a pupil of Jerry Slocum, in a 20 round bout at the Greenwood A. C. Both men weighed in at the ringside, Dougherty tipping the beam at 118 pounds and Feltz scaling 116. The fight was one of the fastest ever witnessed at this club. In the opening bout George Skimmerhorn of New York met Jimmy Ennis of Brooklyn for ten rounds at 124 pounds. The former knocked his man out in the third round. In the second bout Danny Mack of New York met Hugh McPadden of Brooklyn for ten rounds at 115 pounds. In the fifth round, when Mack was in the last stages of defeat, Marty McGue, one of his seconds, threw up the sponge and McPadden was declared the winner.

SUNDAY ON THE DIAMOND

Pittsburg Scores an Easy Victory—Rain Stops Brooklyn From Playing.

CINCINNATI, May 27.—Pittsburg had an easy time defeating the Cincinnatis to-day. Phillips, who had just come out of a sick bed, started to pitch, but after four hits and as many runs had been made off his delivery, he was relieved by Breitenstein. In the fifth the latter was knocked out of the box. Hahn then went in and did good work for the rest of the game. It was the smallest Sunday crowd of the year, about thirty five hundred. The score:

Ainsworth Paces a Fast Mile at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, May 27.—The pacer Ainsworth equalled the track record at the Gentlemen's Driving Park yesterday in the free-for-all class, making 2:10½. Mazette was picked by the talent to win and lots of money went on the mare, but she was practically left at the post. Bailey Mazette's driver, entered a protest that Seeley, the driver of Ainsworth, had interfered with him, but the judges would not allow the protest. They declared Mazette distanced. Ainsworth was subsequently sold by Fred Hocker and Richard Hemsfield to Dr. Gray. He is 7 years old and his best record prior to yesterday was 2:10¾. Summaries:

INCIDENTS OF THE BROOKLYN HANDICAP DISCUSSED BY HORSEMEN.

Form Students Regret Overlooking the Mud Record of Kinley Mack—Close Study of Possibilities Spoiled by Late Scratches—Card for This Week at Gravesend.

The result and incidents of the Brooklyn Handicap were lively topics in the haunts of horsemen yesterday. Close form students and amateur handicappers are not likely to forgive themselves in a hurry for overlooking Kinley Mack's well-known predilection for mud. The going suited him to a dot and if calculations had not been repeatedly interrupted by scratches, Eastin & Larrabie's big horse might have been favorite. As it was some wise people played him so heavily that the odds dropped from 8 to 1 to 6 to 1 in the face of a pronounced plunge on Raffaelo. The latter had recent good work to recommend him, but speculators should have remembered that he is a notoriously slow beginner, and a
