Delaware and Hudson Leads With A 10-Point Rise. Many Stocks Get Their Turn in the Night. Rare Money Helps Break 60 Barrels Gold Exports And Not Unlikely.

Wall Street's expectation of a two-million-share day on the New York Stock Exchange came far wide realized yesterday. The Stock Exchange ticker record of the week looked up 2,000,000 shares. The total sales were precisely 2,000,000 shares. Many were caused by the operations, despite the fact that the amount of the operations was increased just week from eighteen to twenty-four. Every man and boy in the city of Ananias was on the jump all day. In the first hour the recorded sales were 400,000 shares. Early this morning quite a lot of buying in order to make hedgehogs. Some shares rose 10 points at once upon the accounts of the wonderful day's business. It was a day when long and short covered all sorts of positions, made and unmade fortunes, made a bank in Paris, made a fortune for operators in London, caused the Chamber of Commerce of the Mississippi Valley to be taxed for its share of the profits, made Wall Street people rub their eyes and ask if it was not a dream, made Chicago people wonder if they had not been asleep for a week, made Boston people wonder if they had not been asleep for a month, made Philadelphia people wonder if they had not been asleep for a year, made Pittsburg people wonder if they had not been asleep for a century, made Baltimore people wonder if they had not been asleep since the Revolution, made Washington people wonder if they had not been asleep since the Flood, made Europe people wonder if they had not been asleep since the Crucifixion, made Wall Street people wonder if they had not been asleep since they were born, made Wall Street people wonder if they had not been asleep since they died, made Wall Street people wonder if they had not been asleep since the Day of Judgment, made Wall Street people wonder if they had not been asleep since the Creation of the Universe, made Wall Street people wonder if they had not been asleep since the Deluge, made Wall Street people wonder if they had not been asleep since the Fall of Man, made Wall Street people wonder if they had not been asleep since the Garden of Eden, made Wall Street people wonder if they had not been asleep since the Ice Period, made Wall Street people wonder if they had not been asleep since the Tertiary Period, made Wall Street people wonder if they had not been asleep since the Cambrian Period, made Wall Street people wonder if they had not been asleep since the Silurian Period, made Wall Street people wonder if they had not been asleep since the Devonian Period, made Wall Street people wonder if they had not been asleep since the Carboniferous Period, made Wall Street people wonder if they had not been asleep since the Permian Period, made Wall Street people wonder if they had not been asleep since the Triassic Period, made Wall Street people wonder if they had not been asleep since the Jurassic Period, made Wall Street people wonder if they had not been asleep since the Cretaceous Period, made Wall Street people wonder if they had not been asleep since the Eocene Period, made Wall Street people wonder if they had not been asleep since the Miocene Period, made Wall Street people wonder if they had not been asleep since the Pliocene Period, made Wall Street people wonder if they had not been asleep since the Pleistocene Period, made Wall Street people wonder if they had not been asleep since the Recent Period, made Wall Street people wonder if they had not been asleep since the Pre-Cambrian Period
