Wheat was dull and fluctuations were slight, with the tendency in the main upward, however, owing to somewhat better English cables than expected, smaller primary receipts, foreign buying, covering of shorts and an indisposition to sell. Liverpool was 1d. higher, London and Paris unchanged and Berlin ½ mark higher. Primary receipts were 576,000 bush., against 960,000 last year and the Northwestern arrivals were 170 cars smaller than then. Seaboard clearances exceeded half a million bushels. But the improvement was slight for direct sellers took part in the cash trade showed no improvement and outsiders continued to hold aloof from the speculation. Crop advices were generally favorable and St. Louis was again selling at Chicago. Corn advanced on favorable weather for grading at the west, a decrease in the contract movement, light country acceptances, buying by leading bulls at Chicago and covering by shorts there was a noticeable distribution to sell. English cables were ¼d. higher. Chicago received 152 cars with only 11 of contract grade. Seaboard clearances were 513,300 bush. Oats were firm with the rest of the list. Chicago received 115 cars, including 4 of contract grade. The seaboard cleared 16,700 bush.

January	7.94	7.87	7.88@7.89

It was a very dull cotton market, but the drift of it was for the whole downward, owing to disappointed advices, liberal receipts, a large contract, fears of serious trouble growing out of the war between China and Japan and the refusal of a delegation of the unsatisfactory powers in China from its refusal to sign the Manchuria Treaty, continued dulness in cotton goods, more or less depression in spot markets, liquidation for local and Southern account and the absence of outside interest in the speculation. A brief rally took place at one time, owing to the covering of shorts, liberal Liverpool buying against sales on the other side and a relatively small estimate for New Orleans to-morrow, but later on another wave of selling orders swept prices to a lower level and the closing figures were not far from the lowest of the day. The exports continued large and the buying of the next crop months was of a good character, but nothing counts for very much at the moment except bearish factors. The great bulk of the trade look for lower prices and the very general expectation naturally tends to bring about its fulfilment.

There was some realizing by small holders and a Western packer sold a line of July ribs. Local packers and shippers were the leading buyers, influenced by the continued strong cash situation.
