THE PARADER IN A DRIVE

DEFEATS SADIE S. BY A LENGTH IN THE PREAKNESS STAKES.

Disadvantage, at 20 to 1, Captures the Clover Stakes From Lucilae, the Prohibitive Favorite—Triumphs for Dolando, Isia, O'Hagen and Carbuncle at the Gravesend Track.

R. T. Wilson Jr.'s, noted three-year-old colt The Parader made his first appearance at the Gravesend track yesterday since his defeat by Commando in the Belmont stakes at Morris Park. Contrary to expectations The Parader did not enjoy a walkover, though he captured the Preakness Stakes by a length. The son of Longstreet was a prohibitive favorite at 9 to 20, and even at this short quotation he carried plenty of talented money. James R. Keene's Outlander, with Spencer up, was heavily played in the place books. Dr. Barlow and Sadie S. were also well fancied for second money. In a fair start The Parader got off in the rear and Landry kept him there for a while evidently believing that he had the race at his mercy any time he decided to cut the son of Longstreet loose. Dr. Barlow and Sadie S. were out in front, negotiating the holding track with lots of speed. They ran neck and neck for three-quarters of a mile, with Outlander within easy reach of them during that distance and The Parader last. As they turned into the stretch Sadie S. was a neck in front of Dr. Barlow, with Outlander stopping rapidly and The Parader just beginning to show his sterling qualities as a game, speedy colt. Landry then proceeded to ride the colt all over the track and for a moment there was a cry that The Parader would be defeated. But he got going in magnificent style in the last furlong and in a drive he won the race by a length from Sadie S. in 1:47 1-5.

There was a stunning upset in the Clover Stakes of $2,000 for two-year-old fillies at five furlongs. Michael Murphy's Luciline, which had borne the reputation of being one of the speediest of the present crop of youngsters, was a 3 to 5 favorite. The talent and the layers were equally confident that she would win, with the result that even at the forbidding odds there was much support. A. H. & D. H. Morris's Hanover Queen, however, was thought to be dangerous and was a big factor in the place betting. Lady Holyrood was another supposed good thing, while J. W. Smyth's Disadvantage, a black filly by St. George—Vantage, was generally set aside as worthless at odds ranging from 20 to 1 upward. The start was not good. Lady Holyrood and Luciline went out in front at a stiff pace. Smith kept Disadvantage up in front of the others, with Chirrup next. In the stretch it looked like Luciline, as she had a length over Lady Holyrood, but in a gruelling drive Disadvantage came on and won by three parts of a length, with the favorite a length and a half in front of Hanover Queen.

The pleasant weather drew a large crowd to the track and the picking was found to be fairly good. Three favorites were triumphant. Shaw and Landry rode two winners each. Starter Fitzgerald's work with the flag was not up to the usual excellence. In the first race, a highweight handicap for all ages at about three-quarters of a mile, Isia with Bullman in the stirrups, was figured out a "pipe."

Tammany Hall politicians of high and low degree slapped the money on all around the ring at 4 to 5 until they were tired of buttling. Ben Viking was backed as second choice and Lady of the Valley was an enticing bit of bait at fives. It was Isia's race the moment the flag fell. Bullman let the son of Tammany have his head and he won in a gallop by four lengths. Ben Viking was a very disappointing fourth.

Park row sent a delegation to the track to bet on the celebrated "beef and beans champion," Dolando, in the second race for three-year-olds and upward at one mile and seventy yards. The handicappers had figured Animosity a certainty and the filly was reduced from twos to 9 to 5, favorite. Knight of the Garter was second in point of popularity at 7 to 2, with Dolando and Lucky Star at fours. Shaw had the leg up on Dolando, and when the field had been sent away in struggling style "Pittsburg Phil's" jockey began to ride the Park row representative for his life. But it was not a cake-walk for him. First Gautama and the Knight of the Garter tried to wrest the lead from him, but Frank Farrell's gelding was bent upon winning and he never let anybody get ahead.

Thompson rode a slipshod race on Animosity. The filly stumbled after passing the first quarter, and after that she was rear guard to the finish.

The fifth event for two-year-olds at five furlongs was another open betting affair, with a small field. Honolulu opened 8 to 5 favorite, but soon receded to twos. Tammany politicians thought they had another "plate of pudding" with C. Rosenfeld, which they pounded from evens to fours. The start was poor, Juvenile getting a length the best of it and immediately rushing on to make a runaway. The juvenal colt, however, could not draw away from Honolulu and O'Hagan, and at the head of the stretch he surrendered the lead. After that it was a bitter struggle to the wire, where O'Hagan finished a head in front of Honolulu.

To win the last race for mares and geldings, 3 years old and upward, distance one mile and seventy yards, the talent selected Tom Healey's Carbuncle. Opening at 5 to 2 the Stuyvesant gelding was played so heavily that the layers soon cut him to 6 to 5. Big money was also wagered on the Amazon, with Kamara and Barbara Frietchie carrying much in the place and show books. Barbara Frietchie and Kamara had a race all by themselves for three-quarters of a mile. Then Landy got Carbuncle into a winning stride and took the lead at the top of the straight. It was a drive to the judges' stand, Carbuncle taking the verge and the two horses five three parts of a length from Kamara. The summaries:

Two of Richard Croker's Horses Win at Hurst Park.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

LONDON, May 28.—The race for the all-aged maiden plate of 103 sovereigns, six furlongs straight, was run at Hurst Park to-day. It was won by Richard Croker's Viper, at odds of 2 to 1 against. L. Neumann's Mail was second and R. C. Garton's Little Emily gelding third.

In the race for the Durham plate of 200 sovereigns Mr. Croker's Minnie Dee won, defeating Mr. H. Escott's Eteocles. The betting was 100 to 9 on Minnie Dee.

The American jockey J. Reiff had six mounts to-day and rode the winner in three races.

Draughtsman's Hurdle Race and Ronkonkoma's Steeplechase.

BOSTON, May 28.—The steady rain of the past few days and the uncertain weather of this afternoon resulted in poor times and a small attendance at the opening of the annual races of the Country Club at Clyde Park. Draughtsman won his fifth race of the season by taking the fourth event in an easy loaf. Another of Mr. Lawson's newly acquired animals, Ronkonkoma, celebrated his first appearance here by capturing the Country Club Steeplechase, the best event of the afternoon. The first time around the course the bay was in third place, but after passing the water jump for the second time he went close to Decameron and won in a drive down the stretch. Craig Wadsworth's Higbie, the favorite for the sixth race, threw his rider at the third jump and Sacket had an easy win. Summaries:

RESULTS ON OTHER TRACKS.

At Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 28.—Garry Herrmann, equal favorite with Commando for the American Derby, won his first race of the year at Hawthorne Belle-day, while his performance was a long way from being first-class. It served to strengthen the hopes of his admirers that he will prove the greatest three-year-old of the year. The race was a handicap at a mile and a sixteenth, and there were but three starters. Herrmann was conceding twenty-three pounds to Boney Boy and twenty-seven pounds to Strangest. The three horses broke on even terms and Herrmann took the lead and stayed there. At the stretch turn Boney Boy made a bid and moved up. Young Woods, who rode the three-year-old, drew his whip at the eighth pole and his mount moved away. But then the mettle of Boney Boy went to the bat. It was a hard drive all the way to the wire, but Herrmann was by far the best at the end, winning by half a length, going away. The colt is not yet up to a fast race and he will not work so that he must be raced into condition. He is sluggish and will never do more than he is forced to do. He won his race to-day just as he won so many as a two-year-old, and from appearances and his evident fairness, trainers here not do think he has been overrated. He is certainly a magnificent type of the thoroughbred—the long fellow strain on his dams side showing plainly in his conformation. Summaries:

First Race—Four and a half furlongs—Ernest Parham, 97 (Blanch), 13 to 1, won; Bahia Wagner, 110 (Gilpin), 12 to 1, second; Bill Mitchell, 102 (Robertson), 15 to 1, third. Time, :56.

At St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, May 28.—Favorites were largely in evidence to-day, winning a majority of the events. Capt. Black Wax (4-2), second choice, justified the faith of his patrons by winning the fourth event handily. Chadwick accepted the favorite feeling back in the betting and was never in danger. Sidney Lucas, the favorite for the first, was a well backed horse. Although that Sir Italy, a long shot, was slated to win, betting opinion changed prior to the race and he was heavily played that it became the favorite. It was a bad day for Strawhip, who lost his laurels. Summary:

First Race—Four and a half furlongs—The Four Horsemen, 107 (Hardesbrger), 13 to 5, won; Prescriber, 113 (Van Camp), 7 to 1, second; Prescotia, 110 (Lyons), 12 to 1, third. Time, :56¾.

Fourth Race—One mile and a sixteenth—Sir Italy, 104 (Lyons), 3 to 1, won; Sidney Lucas, 107 (Taylor), 16 to 5, second; Sir Hugo, 100 (Mounsey), 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:49¾.

At Newport.

CINCINNATI, May 28.—At Newport to-day a fast-speed over 1 mile gave racing over a still faster heavy track. Three favorites and three second choices won. Summary:

First Race—Six furlongs—Robert Morrison, 90 (M. Williams), 5 to 2, won; Nancy Dolyne, 90 (H. Jackson), 6 to 1, second; Spice Boat, 100 (Battiste), 4 to 1, third. Time, :1 4½.

Second Race—Four furlongs—Easter Boy, 112 (L. Jackson), 9 to 5, won; Roar of Bee, 111 (D. Hall), 7 to 1, second; Bel Ballum, 103 (Aker), 4 to 1, third. Time, :49¾.

DEFEAT FOR MATTHEWSON.

ST. LOUIS FIRST TEAM TO TURN THE TRICK THIS SEASON.

Cardinals Whitewash the New Yorks—Two Runs to 0 Scores, Philadelphias Downing Cincinnati After Eleven Innings—Brooklyns Also Beat the Pittsburgs by a Single Run.

The leaders in the National League race and the team next in line were both trimmed yesterday and by the same score, 1 to 0. The St. Louis whitewashed the New Yorks and the Philadelphias gave goose eggs to the Cincinnatis in an eleven-inning game. There was a margin of only one run in the remaining game, the Brooklyns beating the Pittsburgs in a slugging match. There was no change in the order, but changes are likely to-day with the closer grouping that came with yesterday's games. Rain prevented the Boston-Chicago game. In the American League the Baltimores beat the Chicagos and Milwaukee was outplayed by Philadelphia. The National League results and standing follow:

St. Louis, 1; New York, 0.
Brooklyn, 8; Pittsburg, 7.
Philadelphia, 1; Cincinnati, 0.

ST. LOUIS, 1; NEW YORK, 0.

St. Louis was the hurdle over which the redoubtable Matthewson tripped and stumbled. After clearing all the other League obstacles the young New York pitcher's string of victories was severed at the Polo Grounds yesterday by the Cardinals. Matthewson pitched another strong game, but the St. Louis boxman pitched better. Powell was the business end of the St. Louis battery and his workman-ship was masterly. It was the proverbial pitchers' battle, in fact, and if Matthewson had not given a base on balls the contest probably would have been prolonged to the daylight limit, so hard was it to circle the bases. The base on balls was the first quarter of a journey which eventually completed the round of the bases and was the only run of the game. The locals did not score at all.

The control of both pitchers was excellent, considering the ball soon became wet after striking the ground or grass, and both were very effective with men on bases. However, the heavy condition of the field took the life out of the ball, else there would have been harder hitting. The Cardinals made more hits off Matthewson than any other team except Chicago has done. It was interesting to note the close attention the visiting batsmen gave to Matthewson's work. Going to their bench from the field they would turn and stretch the muscles of their backs as though they were gazing upon a rare curiosity. They were not overawed at all, but Matthewson had several of their best hitters worried. The steady effectiveness of Powell won the admiration of the onlookers.

Both sides hit safely in the first inning after two were out. Strang laced a two-bagger down the left foul line and McGann planted a single on the same side of the field. The second inning opened with Padden taking first base on balls. Wallace put himself on second with a sacrifice. Kruger hit toward Matthewson, who made a great stop and threw to Strang to head off Padden at third. The umpire, who was close by the play, decided that Padden was not touched and declared him safe. Davis kicked at the decision. He left his position to argue with the umpire and as he was coming in after the ruling he turned on another line of emphatic conversation.

With Padden on third, Ryan hit over Van Haltren's head for two bases and Padden sauntered home. There were still two on bases, but Powell struck out and Burkett hit a pretty grounder to Crangel. Burkett singled for New York in the second with two out, but first base was the extent of his rambles, as Nelson fouled out. Matthewson neglected to cover first in the third inning when Donovan hit to Ganzel and Patsy was safe. Wallace followed his teammate splendidly, barring this instance, and this time it cost nothing. A double play cut the New Yorks off in the third. In the fifth they fell by the wayside, after an auspicious beginning, by reason of the fine pitching of Powell. Ganzel entered but grazed Crangel's head and forced his cap to list to starboard until it was at right angles with his cranium. With Ganzel on base, Smith and Nelson retired on flies and Matthewson succumbed on strikes.

Matthewson made a play in the sixth inning which went a long way toward preventing another count by St. Louis. Wallace singled and Kruger sacrificed. The ball rolled toward first base, foul at first, then circled back and Matthewson rushed into fair territory. A quick play was needed to retire the batter. Matthewson grabbed the ball and, sparing not his uniform, threw himself on the ground, reached out and touched the base just ahead of the runner. Van Haltren's catch of Donovan's two-bagger, which fell between Wallace, Burkett and Hendrick, started New York's half of the sixth inning. The next three batters could not advance Van Haltren an inch. Seibach flied out, Strang fanned and Hickman popped. Matthewson began the last half of the eighth inning by hitting safely to right, but was thrown out at second by Donovan trying to stretch the hit. Padden made a good play on Donovan's assist. He went up in the air for the ball and brought it down in time to tag the batter before his savages form landed at the base. The New Yorks began their ninth with a hit. Strang outfooled an infield crack. Hickman and Davis looked on the ball hard but there was too much speed to the work to do. Strang's inner drives, the outfielders being on hand, strang style second and tried to steal third, but was thrown out there just after four balls were called on Ganzel. A kick was made on the St. Louis score by McGann. The score:

BROOKLYN, 8; PITTSBURG, 7.

The Champions beat Pittsburg at Washington Park yesterday afternoon by timely batting in the fifth, seventh and eighth innings. Walker, who started in to pitch for the visitors was batted out of the box in the fifth and Phillippe who took his place could not stop the good work of the Brooklyns. Kitson not the same fine and Wicker in the box. Minnehan hit Donovan on the ankle with a pitched ball and Donovan held the hard hitting Pittsburgers down to three hits. He showed excellent control in the ninth inning when Pittsburg had three men on bases and needed one run to tie the score. The score:
