CHAMPIONS OF SHOW RING.

LAST DAY OF WESTCHESTER'S EXHIBITION A GALA ONE.

Heatherbloom Wins the Honors Among Hunters and Jumpers—Hollywood Beats Sandringham—Mrs. Carman's Pair Carry Everything Before Them.

The Westchester Horse Show came to a close yesterday afternoon. It was the most successful exhibition ever held by the present association and the promoters of it were more than pleased with the result. The withdrawal of John Arthur's horses from the classes in which they were entered was the only drawback to complete success. There was very little fault finding with the decisions, not more than is heard at any well regulated show. The champion classes were the attraction. The animals which carried off the blue ribbon during the week came in competition for the highest honors and they made a fine showing. Heatherbloom, the clear-limbed bay gelding from Gedney Farm, which won so much applause during the week by his superb jumping, crimmed the prize winners arrayed against him as easily as he carried off the blue ribbons in the straight classes. He took every jump in splendid style and was roundly applauded. F. A. Clark's bay gelding, Red Oak, a contestant for the championship and winner of the reserve ribbon, in making one of the jumps, slipped and turned a complete somersault. Mr. Clark, who was riding him, fell under his heels and barely missed having his face struck by them.

The champion class for harness horses exceeding 15 1 hands proved to be not only an interesting contest, but the result was surprising to hundreds who had attended the show regularly and watched the exhibits closely. The bay gelding Hollywood, exhibited by J. Roosevelt Shanley, a handsome prize winner, came in contact with Frank J. Gould's noted horse Sandringham. Expert opinion among the spectators appeared to be about evenly divided, although a majority, no doubt, thought the latter would carry off the ribbon. The blue, however, was pinned to Hollywood's bridle. Mr Gould's Birmingham won the championship in his class over Howard Willetts's stylish brown gelding, Hassan. Mrs. R. F. Carman's Donner and Blitzen, who captured everything before them during the week, won every champion class in which they entered, either singly or as a pair.

William H. Catlin's toppy brown mare, Juno, shown against a large class for harness horses over 15.3 hands, is as handsome a big mare as is often seen. The award of the blue ribbon to her was a popular decision. Only one saddle class was judged and it was a good one. Competition narrowed to Frank J. Gould's mare, Bright Eyes, and Henry W. Rose's gelding, Fort George, the blue going to the former. Summaries:

Over on the half-mile ring, John F. Cockrill's bay gelding Swift, well-known as a great brush horse on the Speedway, lowered the track trotting record from 2.21¼ to 2.19¼, in the second heat of the 2.16 trot, which he handily won in straight heats. Master Chimes had a drive to win the two heats of the unfinished 2.29 trot, from Virgie Harkaway. The latter made a close finish with him in each heat. Another Speedway trash horse came to the front in the 2.22 trot, in Nathan I. Ely's brown gelding Fred Proctor. The contesting horse in the last two heats was Honor Bright, also well-known on the Harlem River drive. Proctor was going good and landed the money in straight heats. Ethel K. made a close finish in first heat, but that appeared to take the speed out of her and she dropped back in the ruck. Summaries:

PHILADELPHIANS' BIG LEAD.

Prospects Bright for Scoring a Decided Victory Over Bosanquet's Team.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5.—In weather too chilly for cricket the international match between Philadelphia and R. J. T. Bosanquet's English team was continued here to-day on the ground of the Germantown C. C. Notwithstanding the cold a large crowd was present and during the afternoon the spectators swarmed around the ropes three and four deep. The game from a Philadelphia standpoint was most attractive for the home players obtained a decided advantage and it seems now as though they would be able to score an easy victory. Much interest centred in the play this morning on account of the possibility of R. D. Brown making a century. It was not thought he would have time to do it as the remaining ten wickets were not expected to cause the Englishmen any difficulty. He went in for big hitting, however, and with two tremendous drives for six each he brought his score to the coveted mark and the total to the loud general applause. The inning came to an end for 217, with W. Graham, the not-out man, having one run to his credit.

The Englishmen then took up the run getting. Their first wicket fell for eighteen, their second for thirty-five, and no stand was made until Capt. Bosanquet and F. Wood got together. They soon presented a change in the bowling and the partnership had produced forty-eight runs when Bosanquet was well caught at extra cover by C. Morris for thirty-seven. Mitchell played steadily at thirty-five, but no one else made trouble until E. O. Schwartz came in and put on thirty-three in rather quick time, the Philadelphia eye was saved by Morris. The inning netted 108 runs, leaving an aggregate of 146 runs in the Philadelphia wind in for their second effort. The bowling became slow and monotonous. Mr. Hobbs was fifty minutes at the wicket for less runs and the total of forty-three for ten wickets, which was the state of the game when stumps were drawn, occupied over one hour in compilation. The game will be continued on Monday morning. The score:
