FINE FOUR-BALL GOLF MATCH.

ANDERSON AND LOW WIN FROM SMITH AND NICHOLS.

Low Scoring and a Hotly Contested Finish —Roy de Raismes Carries Off the Baltusrol Club Championship—Hinds Beats Griffin at Richmond Hill.

A fine four-ball match in which there were a number of phenomenal holes pulled off was decided at the Nassau Country Club yesterday. The contestants, who had put up $50 a corner to make the match more binding and who drew straws for partners at the first tee, were Will Anderson of Pittsfield, Mass., and Pasadena, Cal., the open champion; George Low of the Dyker Meadow Golf Club; Aleck Smith of the Nassau Country Club, runner-up to Fred Herd in the open championship of 1899 and second to Anderson after a tie this year, and Bernard Nichols of Boston. Luck brought Anderson and Low together and they won the thirty-six hole match by 3 up and 2 to play.

The critical "gallery," which included Miss Ruth Underhill, found much to praise andvery few plays to condemn. The course was in the pink of condition, the day cool and gray, with but little sunshine, and, as there was no wind, the chances seemed to favor some record scoring. Anderson led the field in the morning with 77, but both Smith and Low had a 76 in the afternoon, which, with 78 each in the morning, tied them for the day at 154, the thirty-six-hole record for the links. Devereaux Emmet made a 76 in the intercity match on Saturday, which stood alone as the competitive record until tied yesterday. He used the rubber-filled ball, but all the professionals used the solid ball. Walter J. Travis made a 75 with the solid ball before he went to Europe last July, and with the lively ball the other day, in playing with T. D. Hooper, he made the non-competitive record of 73. The professionals tied the competitive record and made a new thirty-six-hole record. The best ball score of the winners, 72, 72, 154, broke all existing records at the links, the best previous showing having been 73, made by Findlay S. Douglas and Louis P. Bayard, Jr., in the intercity foursomes. The length of the holes follows in yards:

											Yards.
Out	310	480	310	325	365	445	161	345	375—	3116
In	380	190	395	300	392	460	360	150	280—	2917

Smith and Nichols won the first hole in 4 to 5, Anderson missing a yard and Low a four-inch put to halve. But the lead was cancelled on the next green, for both Smith and Nichols were short of the green on their thirds, Anderson and Low winning in 5 to 6. All four had fours on the third green, although Anderson had been short of it on his second. He made up for this by dropping his mashie shot within two feet of the fourth hole, making his side 1 up by winning in 3 to 5. The match was again squared on the fifth green, Nichols getting a clever four, while both Anderson and Low took three puts and recorded fives. A half in four was the result on the sixth green, the figures being made by Low and Nichols, Smith taking five and Anderson, who was so close to the old graveyard on his second that he jabbed the ball away over to the road in playing his third, needed six. Anderson, as he had on the fourth green, again beat the par figure a stroke on the seventh green, for he ran down a forty-foot put and won for his side in 2 to 4. The eighth and ninth were halved, making Anderson and Low one up at the turn.

Nichols took three puts on the tenth green, perhaps excusable as he had a lot to do, while Smith took three to reach it, so that Anderson and Low won very cleverly in four to five. Two fine halves followed. Then on the thirteenth green Anderson, through a fine mid-iron approach from the rough, was enabled to take the hole in three, again one under par. Smith now pulled off a fine twenty-foot put and won the fourteenth in a phenomenal three, the others all needing fives. They halved out in par figures, Anderson and Low being two up on the eighteenth green.

It was a lead that could not be overcome, although the "under dogs" made a brave try for it. Smith recorded a thirty-six on the homeward journey, as he had in the morning, but both he and Nichols were wild in driving going out. The same might be said of Anderson at this juncture, although his driving was perhaps the finest feature of the match, but Low was golfing in a grand vein and want out without a mistake in 38. The match finished with Anderson and Low three up, the bye holes being halved. The best ball score:

There was only a small field out in the championship of the Baltusrol Golf Club yesterday, and Roy de Raismes won cool verr cleverly. He scored the first victory on the new trophy, the gift of Louis P. Bayard, Sr., President of the club. His card was:

Louis P. Bayard, Jr., was second, with 90, 85, 175.

At Richmond Hills on Sunday the principal interest centred about the final for the championship of the club. The survivors who had won through the match play rounds which have been held weekly since the middle of October were Reginald Griffin and Arthur Hinds. Their final contest was at thirty-six holes and was played under ideal conditions as to weather, wind and turf. Hinds proved too steady for Griffin and won by 5 up and 4 to play, and then he took up with which a new trophy for the championship for the year. In the handicap series the expected also happened. Dr. Coakley yielding R. L. Harrison's strokes at eighteen holes, finished a up with a 3 to play, thus capturing the autumn handicap cup. A ball sweepstakes handicap was going on in which many of the members participated. The three high men were: R. L. Harrison, 93, 18—75; Kenneth Torrance, 91, 15—76; F. B. Van Rensselaer, 97, 17—80.

The members of the Dyker Meadow Golf Club are playing very well just now for A. W. Neeville broke an amateur record with a 40 the other day and yesterday James L. Taylor cut the record for the double round, held by Arthur E. Whitney, by a stroke, as follows:

The Dyker Meadow course to-day should be in fine shape and quite a good work is to be looked at Engelwood and St. Andrews. The driving competition at the Richmond Hill Club club will be from the teeing above the road at the sixth hole, which affords a broad unobstructed outlook. Results are to be nearly every time in the M. A. A. Book of the world's important links.

A new organization in Great Britain is the London and Counties Professional Golfers' Association, with the objects of instituting a provident fund, to establish an agency for unemployed clubmakers and those who need clubmakers, and to be a means of giving the younger players experience by enabling them to play in competitions against the older and better known men. There are already eighty members, fifty of whom entered for the first competition held on last Tuesday week at the Tooting Bec Golf Club. There were a few small money prizes, but the chief award was a silver challenge cup presented by the Tooting Bec Club. This form of award the organization has especially desired, when the club offered to present a certain value in prizes. The cup will probably be competed for twice a year and will become the property of the player winning it three times. The cup was won by J. H. Taylor, the open champion of 1894, 1895 and 1900, with 76, 73, 149, and the prize for the assistants to professionals was won by W. H. Mackie, with 79, 83, 162, who tied for ninth place in the main contest.

There were nine to return cards in the last monthly handicap of the season on Saturday at the Richmond County Country Club, the low scores of the leaders causing a good many withdrawals. The summary:

C. W. Tainior, 88, 2—86; L. H. Thomas, 90, 2—88; F. L. Hawes, 103, 14—89; E. W. Pierson, 92, 2—90; Gordon A. Willis, 95, 2—93; J. E. C. Higgins, 105, 12—93; E. O. Sceyter, 96, 2—94; C. W. Hoxie, 108, 14—94; John R. Chadwick, 105, 4—101.

NATIONAL BEAGLE TRIALS.

Interesting Sport on Opening Day at Wheatley Hills.

First-class conditions prevailed for the opening day's contests of the National Beagle Club of America, which began yesterday morning on the estate of W. C. Whitney at Wheatley Hills. The dogs that competed were from the best strains in America and the result was a successful day's sport. A number of very fast rabbits were unearthed to-day and the dogs gave tongue lustily, followed the scent well and showed all-round ability. Among the well-known beagle men present were Harry Payne Whitney, James L. Kernochan, G. Mifflin Warton, H. L. Kruder, Hermann D. Bruns, G. H. Herroder, Charles R. Stevenson, George F. Reed, S. E. Thurston, A. J. Purrington, Robert L. Bonhanan, S. Ashermann, Charles F. Brooks, Frank Summers, F. F. Reed, Frank Powell Lott, Edward Ernest Bossa, Eugene Geer, Daniel F. Summers, F. J. Morse and William H. Gilson.

In Class A, for dogs of all ages, between 13 and 15 inches in height, James L. Kernochan's Nassau Fateless and G. H. Herroder's Dewey were the first pair down. Fateless received the decision of the judges. F. H. Shallhall of Providence and F. E. Griffiths of Maryland. Woodman won the next run from Nassau Fabian in a well-contested heat that showed the work of the little fellows finely. Dan D. and Dorsey's Pilot, the former from the Round Plains Kennels, Massachusetts, had a close run of it, the heat being unfinished when work was stopped for the day. Blackwood, from the Round Plains Kennels, showed up so well in his heat with Columbine, from the Chestnut Hill Kennels, that he received the unanimous decision of the judges.

The Myasuia Kennels put up Freeland, who was pitted against H. P. Bruns's Wonder, and Wonder won after one of the best trials of the day, doing some remarkably fine running and showing general levelness. Bugle, owned by the Rock Ridge Kennels, defeated Ramrod, owned by the White Marsh Kennels, in one of the closest contests ever witnessed, four trials being required to decide which was the better dog. Nassau Fabian and the Rock Ridge Kennels' Hectorwood came together next, and after a contest, in which the dogs were taken up three times, Fabian won.

Billiards.

There was an exciting game in the billiard tournament under A. A. U. rules at the Metropolitan Academy last night between Dr. W. G. Douglas and Henry W. Robinson. Dr. Douglas gathered his high run of fifteen in his third inning and played with exceptional brilliancy, adding runs of 10, 9, 7, 6 and a brace of fours in his first dozen attempts. Robinson braced at the end with contributions of 12, 7, 6 and three fives, but Douglas managed to win by 11 points. The scores:

In an exhibition game at Maurice Daly's rooms last night Mr. Louis Barrett defeated José Ortiz by the score of 300 to 184 in twenty-eight innings. The game was 18-inch balk line, no shot in.

Slosson was in rare form at his rooms last night and easily defeated A. Cutler, the former amateur in an exhibition game. They played 500 points, Slosson conflicting himself to the no-shot-in style, while Cutler was allowed two shots in. Slosson won by 500 points to 360. Slosson's high run was 77 and Cutler's best effort netted him 59. The game lasted fifty-five innings.

At the Knickerbocker Billiard Academy yesterday Frank A. Heeney defeated Willie Hoppe by the score of 200 to 140. To-morrow Frank C. Gardner of the Crescent A. C. will play against Willie Hoppe.

The representatives of the Madison Wheelmen in the pool tournament of the A. C. C. of New York, R. Hess, M. Isaacs and L. Strauss, continue their winning streak and have placed eight out of the nine games they have taken part in to the credit of their club. The Century and Royal Arcanum Wheelmen will play the next series at the clubhouse of the Madisons, 1056 Madison avenue, on Thursday night, Nov. 7.

Trouble Ahead for Basketball Players.

If the basketball schedule of the Larchmont A. C. is carried out there is a peck of trouble in store for many amateur players in this vicinity. This club possesses no membership in the A. A. U., yet it has an extensive series of matches arranged with prominent clubs, members of that organization. Prominent among the registered clubs down for games with the Larchmonts are the Silent Five, Xavier A. C., Twenty-third Street Y. M. C. A., the Tompkins A. C. of New York, which is identical with the National A. C. of Brooklyn, the Seventy-first Regiment and the Horace High School registered with the New England Association. Several non-registered organizations have promised to join the Larchmont A. C., notably the Washington A. C. and the Metropolitan A. C. of New York and the Social A. C. of Paterson. All is interesting news of the Bogart Athletic Committee of the Metropolitan A. C., which shows such an open breach of the rules. The Larchmont A. C. played a match with the Silent Five on Saturday and as a regular club stands suspended and must appeal the regular process of reinstatement before being in the probationary schedule of the Larchmont A. C.

BOWLING.

Fred Clinch, THE SUN individual tournament champion, and John Voorheis, who are undoubtedly the two best bowlers in this or any other city, where the game of tenpins is played, were opposed to each other in a series of games at Starr's alleys last night, and a large crowd was on hand to see the two crack pin knights at play. The advantage of being on the home alleys made Voorheis the favorite, few if any of the onlookers expecting a victory for Clinch. The latter bowler opened the series with 224, but nevertheless was defeated. He won the next game, however, by one pin. Voorheis bunched strike after strike and stopped at 246 in the third game. He lost the fourth, but won the fifth easily, in which Clinch missed two spares and had two splits. The Metropolitan bowler took three of the next four games thereby coming off the series six victories to three. Voorheis averaged 211 1-9 and Clinch 186 4-9. The scores:

First Game—Clinch, 224; Voorheis, 227.

NO N. P. AGREEMENT YET.

W. K. Vanderbilt, It is Said, Yet to Be Consulted on Settlement.

Northern Pacific preferred stock advanced from 103 to 105 net yesterday in the Stock Exchange on reports that a statement of the complete settlement of all differences between the Union Pacific and the Morgan-Hill interests would be published on Wednesday morning. One of the chief members of the Union Pacific syndicate said that it was improbable that any official statement would be made concerning the Northern Pacific-Burlington controversy until Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt had been consulted. As the dominating influence in the Chicago and Northwestern road, Mr. Vanderbilt is greatly concerned in the outcome of the Burlington deal, and Mr. Twombly, it is said, has insisted that Mr. Vanderbilt should be consulted before the final details were arranged.

Mr. Vanderbilt is a passenger on the steamship Oceanic, which is expected to arrive here to-morrow. All of the board meetings of the Vanderbilt railroads that have been due within the last month have been deferred until his arrival.

Marvin Hughitt, President of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Company, is in this city. It is understood he came here to meet W. K. Vanderbilt on his return. Mr. Hughitt was in conference yesterday with E. H. Harriman at Mr. Harriman's office. Otto Kahn, of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., was also present, and it was reported in Wall Street that George J. Gould was also there, but this was not confirmed.

7th National Reinstated by Clearing House.

The Seventh National Bank was reinstated to membership in the Clearing House Association yesterday. Under the rules, a bank forfeits Clearing House privileges as soon as it suspends payment. The committee on admissions made a favorable report and the association, at a special meeting, indorsed it. It is now expected that the reorganized bank will begin business the latter part of this week.

Change of Time on the Lehigh Valley.

The Lehigh Valley Railroad announces a general change in the time of its passenger trains, effective last Sunday. The through trains between New York, Buffalo, Niagara Falls and Chicago will not be changed so far as the leaving time is concerned, and the service in this respect will not be reduced, the changes applying principally to local trains along the line.

It's a Social Occasion, Too.

You will meet a lot of your friends when you go to the polls, and they will tell you a lot of things that will interest you.

$1,500,000 in Gold Going Out To-day.

Lazard Frères yesterday engaged $1,500,000 gold for export to Paris to-day on the steamship Maria Theresia. The vessel stops at Cherbourg. The gold is in bars and was withdrawn from the United States Assay Office. It is now expected that several million dollars more in gold will be shipped by the French steamship on Thursday.

Notes of Wall Street.

J. P. Morgan, Jr., was at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co. yesterday. This is the first time he has been here in about two years.

The Chase National Bank has sent a circular to its customers and correspondents, saying that the bank will not be consolidated with or absorbed by any other bank or institution.

The directors of the American Cotton Oil Company will meet on Thursday to declare the regular semi-annual dividend on the preferred stock and a dividend for the year on the common stock. Last year's disbursement on the common was 3½ per cent. This year it is expected to be less, and a majority of the board are thought to favor 2 per cent.

Pittsburg advices received in Wall Street yesterday said that Chairman Charles T. Schoen, of the Pressed Steel Car Company and Second Vice-President F. A. Schoen had resigned from the directorate, having disposed of most of their holdings. Charles T. Schoen, it was said, will hereafter devote his time to a new $5,000,000 company, which, with M. Schwab and others, he is organizing to manufacture pressed steel car wheels. W. H. Schoen will remain as Vice-President of the Steel Car Company.

Wrestling.

Nehmet Nachad was matched yesterday to meet Ernest Roeber in a contest under Graeco-Roman rules. The articles call for a straight Graeco-Roman match, best two out of three falls to count. The time limit placed on the match is two hours and at the expiration of that time if neither man is thrown the one having done the most work will receive the decision. An intermission of fifteen minutes for rest will be allowed at the termination of the first hour and the same time between each fall, all falls will go and Charlie White will referee. The gate receipts are to be divided on a basis of 75 per cent. to the winner and 25 per cent. to the loser. No date has as yet been chosen for the match. This will be settled as soon as the bids are all in which must be made later than Nov. 8 at 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Dick McLeod of Buffalo, who is matched to meet Tom Jenkins at Cleveland next Thursday night, says that win or lose he will take a trip to England this winter. Wrestling across the water is at present enjoying a boom. There are plenty of men in McLeod's class who are willing to take him on, Jack Carkeek being one of them.

Harvey Parker met two men at a Bowery theatre last night and undertook to throw them both in fifteen minutes. His first opponent was Gus Weymann, who lasted 5 minutes and 35 seconds. Eddie Baker followed. Daley was not thrown at the expiration of the time limit and received the decision.
