DEFEAT OF GOLFER REINHART.

PRINCETON CHAMPION BEATEN BY HIS CLASSMATE.

L. H. Conklin Wins in Final Round for President's Cup at Morris County by 2 Up and 1 to Play—Vanderpool Beats Tyng for Thomas Cup—Notes.

A champion for a day, young Reinhart of Princeton fell down yesterday before his classmate, Conklin, who beat him in the final for the President's cup by 2 up and 1 to play at the Morris County Golf Club tournament. The result was decidedly unexpected, for in the final for the Princeton championship Reinhart had beaten Conklin by 3 up and 2 to play. There were three final cup rounds played and also an eighteen-hole handicap for a cup presented by R. R. Williams, President of the New York Racquet and Tennis Club. There was a great "gallery" to watch the play and to have the special golf luncheon at the clubhouse.

Reinhart was perhaps over-golfed from his hard matches with Travis and Bayard on Friday. Certainly his game going out lacked snap, and he did not win a hole. Conklin being 1 up at the turn. Coming in Reinhart was more vigorous, and at the end of the morning he was but one down. A missed put of 18 inches was what kept him from being all square. The afternoon play between the two was the best of the week, Conklin going out in 37 to Reinhart's 39, and at the end of the match Conklin, who had been as steady as a machine throughout, had the match by 1 up and 1 to play. The card was:

Conklin	4	4	4	5	4	6	4	3	6	40
Reinhart	4	4	4	6	4	6	5	4	6	43
Conklin	4	4	3	6	5	4	4	4	4	43—83

*Bye hole not played.

The present champion of the Morris County Golf Club, Vanderpool, was up against the often former champion, Tyng, in the final for the Thomas cup. Tyng made a stubborn fight, but Vanderpool was playing the game of his life, and after bringing up the morning he won out by 4 up and 2 to play. The card was:

Vanderpool	4	4	4	4	3	5	4	5	6	39
Tyng	5	4	4	6	4	5	5	5	5—43
Vanderpool	5	5	6	6	4	3	3	5	4	41—80

Marcellus, the runner-up to Travis at Tuxedo in the M. G. A. championship, had to fight out with Lynch for the Flagg cup. The latter was not at his best on the putting green, and Marcellus led him by four holes in the morning and afterward won by 7 up and 6 to play. The card was:

Marcellus	4	4	4	5	4	4	4	6	5	39
Lynch	5	4	4	5	5	5	5	5	5	43

Hackett Defeats Little for Metropolitan Tennis Championship.

Yale triumphed over Princeton yesterday in tennis when H. H. Hackett, an ex-champion of the New Haven university, beat Raymond D. Little for the 1902 metropolitan championship in singles on the courts of the West Side Tennis Club, 116th street and Amsterdam avenue. Hackett won in three straight sets of excellent tennis and at no time during the match did he falter or give his supporters any qualms as to his ability to win.

Little was the winner and holder of the trophy for 1901, and by virtue of his winning in the final round of the tournament on Friday Hackett earned the right to challenge. He was at the top of his game and at times above it. The Princeton man had some bad luck to contend with, but not of sufficient moment to cost him the game. Hackett's splendid victory, then, besides, Little has been playing on grass courts.

Rockaway Polo Team Wins the Pembroke Cup.

This is the second trophy that the Rockaway team has gained possession of this season, the first being the Meadow Brook cup. The game was an ideal one for polo and a large and fashionable crowd surrounded the field. The game was exciting from the start and while the visitors had a lead of seven goals by handicap, which was further increased by four earned goals in the first and second periods, the Bryn Mawr team was confident that Mr. Myers would win out in the last two periods. The defeat was galling to Bryn Mawr and doubly joyful for Rockaway, as it was the first victory the latter has gained over Bryn Mawr since the two clubs have been playing polo together.

VIGILANT DEFEATS THE AILSA.

PERCY CHUBB'S YACHT SAILS WELL IN LIGHT WEATHER.

Fife-Designed Boat Shows No Improvement From Changes Good Races in Seawanhaka Corinthian Regatta—Vitesse Beats Yankee in Close Race.

Percy Chubb's Vigilant in her race yesterday on the Sound defeated the Ailsa, showing that the changes made in the Fife-designed boat have not improved her sailing qualities in light weather very much. Both yachts had just come off the dry dock and were in the pink of condition. Their sails set perfectly and both yachts were equally well handled. The Vigilant took the lead on the windward leg of the course and after that was not headed.

The race was one of the many in the thirty-second annual regatta of the Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club. It was sailed in a light breeze from the west by south and there were forty starters. The race committee decided to send the yachts to the eastward first and so signalled to the fleet before the preparatory signal was made. This made it a run to the first mark, a beat to the second and a reach across the sound to the finishing line.

Next to the yawls the interest centred in the race between the Minnola and the Yankee. The Minnola won again, but Mr. Maxwell, who had the wheel on the Yankee, sailed a rattling good race and at one time the Yankee weathered the Minnola. The two yachts were close together all over the course. The Yankee had hard luck on the last leg of the first round. Her small jib topsail split from leach to luff, and was not doing much good. The split was just above the curve of the sail, and it could not be seen from the deck, the sail rope holding the torn pieces together. The rent was not discovered until the yachts had gybed around the home mark. The Minnola won the race by 1 minute 10 seconds. There was 25 seconds difference at the start, and if the Yankee had got off on even terms with the Minnola the result would have been even closer.

The Elmina defeated the Muriel easily, leading all over the course.

George M. Mallory's new 30-footer Neola, built from designs by Gardner and Cox, made her first appearance. Mr. Pynchon hailed the race committee and said he did not want to race, but would like to have the yacht's time taken. This was done and the showing was very good. The yacht looked very pretty. She is a long lean craft with a big spread of canvas and her sails set perfectly. She went around the same triangle as the bigger boats and was 11 minutes 7 seconds slower than the Minnola and 11 minutes 45 seconds slower than the Vigilant. The Dorawina had an easy win from the Challenge and Effie. The Dorawina was not able to sail with the Dorwina, but the Effie was late at the start and was handicapped thirteen minutes in crossing the line. F. M. Smith her owner, pinching kept on and the time at the finish showed that if Dorwina and Effie had got away together they would have made an interesting contest.

The Bolle Roger won the scarabot contest. A prize had been offered by the Race Committee for the series of three races, but as no vacent started in this class on Thursday the prize is withheld. The series prize for the Seawanhaka Knickerbocker was won by the Gossan and this boat also won the Leland Corinthian challenge cup.

The preparatory signal was made at 12 o'clock and five minutes later the yawls were started. The course for these boats, the schooners and sloops 51 feet and over was four and three-quarter miles northeast by north, then four miles west by south half south and then three miles south to buoy. This course was sailed twice over, making twenty-three and a half miles. The Ailsa was the first at the line. Capt. Rhodes sent her across thirty seconds after the signal and her balloon jib topsail was broken out as she went across the line. The Vigilant carrying a No. 1 jib topsail was half a minute behind the Ailsa and to leeward of that boat. She had her spinnaker pole out to port and the spinnaker was broken out as she squared away on her course. The Ailsa also broke out her spinnaker and the two yachts made a very close race down the wind. The Ailsa holding the lead until the leeward mark was passed.

At 12 10 o'clock the 70-footers were sent off. The Minnola had the weather position and crossed the line forty-five seconds after the signal. The Yankee was twenty-five seconds later. Then up came the balloon jib topsails and had spinnakers ready to break out, but for fifteen minutes they indulged in the usual luffing match and held well to the north of the course. The Minnola held her position and turned the outer mark first. On the next signal the Elmina and Muriel started in the order named. They turned the leeward mark ahead of the yawls and 70-footers, the yawls losing ground by holding to the south of the course and the sloops losing by their luffing matches. The Neola and Syce went on the next signal. After turning the outer mark the schooners beat to the second mark, holding well in to the shore. The 70-footers kept well out to the Sound and both overstood the mark. The Yankee on the last tack weathered the Minnola but with sheets eased just a little, the Minnola soon regained this lost ground.

The times at the end of the first round were: Ailsa 2:19:30, Vigilant, 2:21 30; Minnola 2:[illegible], Yankee 2:18:30; Ailsa 2:27:50; Muriel 2:[illegible]. On the second round there was no change in the order of these boats.

The smaller boats sailed shorter courses of the same general direction as the larger ones, and the courses were so well arranged that all the boats finished within a short time of each other.

The results was managed by the Race Committee, Johnston De Forest Chairman, C. W. Wetmore, Clinton H. Crane, Daniel Bacon, Allen F. Whitman, Secretary.

Indian Harbor Yacht Club Races.

The Indian Harbor Yacht Club had a handicap race yesterday afternoon for club boats and a race for club sailabouts. The races were sailed in a light southwest wind and the handicap class sailed ten miles and the sailabouts six miles. The courses were so arranged that the yachts were tried running, reaching and beating. The handicap race was for boats 36 feet and under. The Genevieve was on hand to start, but she measures more than 36 feet. The committee hauled alongside her and then said if she could beat the smaller boats she would get a prize. She was not successful.

PRIZE FIGHT IN BROOKLYN.

"Sailor" Wallace Finishes "Kid" Dorsey After a Bloody Battle.

One of the most brutal fights that have taken place in private in this vicinity since the repeal of the Horton law, occurred in a barn on the out-skirts of Brooklyn early yesterday morning. The contest was so brutal that one of the principals "Kid" Dorsey had to be carried to his home by his friends after it was over. It is said that "Sailor" Wallace who was his opponent, is wanted by the authorities.

When the fight began there were about one hundred sports on the scene of the encounter. The men had agreed to fight for a side bet and a purse of $250. When the pair started it was apparent that neither of them knew anything too much about the game and at times science was thrown to the winds, both men resorting to slugging tactics. Dorsey made a fine showing in the early part of the fight and in one round he had his opponent on the road to defeat. The second round was very lively, both men putting up a very warm argument. Wallace, however, appeared to be the better and at times he came dangerous by near putting Dorsey to sleep.

They continued their battle and in the four
