L. N. JAMES IS GOLF CHAMPION

GLENVIEW BOY WINS FROM BYERS BY 4 UP AND 2 TO PLAY.

Finalists A. e. American Golfers Pittsburg Man Leads at the Start, but James Squares the Match at the Thirteenth Hole and Wins Easily.

CHICAGO, July 19.—Louis N. James of the Glenview club, now the amateur golf champion of the United States. He defeated Byers of the Allegheny Country Club, Pittsburg, by 4 up and 2 to play on the Glenview course in the final match at golf this afternoon. Both L. M. Byers and L. N. James, the finalists in the thirty-six amateur events, learned their golf in this country. Byers had never struck a golf ball until he entered Yale University, four years ago, and never had the services of a professional as teacher. The finer points of the game acquired by the young man from Pittsburg were drilled into him by his college mate, John Reid. Byers played at Yale one year before making the team, and won the Varsity championship.

Louis N. James lives in a summer home on this course and two years ago could not cover the links in better than about 100. He was beaten in a match by his clubmate, Jack Allen, 6 down, and that defeat spurred him on to learn the game. His style is distinctly that of the Western open champion, "Larry" Auchterlonie, his teacher. Early in the year when the rain made play almost impossible, James began his practice that was expected to fit him for to-day's contest, making practice shots from before the club porch. Time and again the young man played stiff matches with Auchterlonie, and when the Chicago cup tourney was on at Wheaton, James was almost in championship form. He took that prize from a big field.

Glenview adherents turned out in large numbers to give Byers and James a big gallery, although the heavy skies threatened a downpour. The last nine holes to the course were still unplayable this morning, though the river flood had subsided somewhat. Treasurer Heebner and his associates of the U. S. G. A. decided that the final round of thirty-six holes should be played four times around the first nine holes, as was done yesterday. It was considerably after 10 o'clock when the finalists appeared to make their initial drives. Each looked fit to make a hard contest. Greenkeeper Leslie, by employing a small army of men succeeded in sponging up all the casual water remaining on the greens at daylight. The story of the game follows:

First Hole—James had the honor and outdrove Byers two yards, but did not get a good lie. Byers pulled for a safe brassey, while James only got 100 yards from his tee shot with a brassey. James approached short, while Byers put his ball fifteen feet from the cup. James overput the hole two yards. Byers put to the left of the cup. Playing the odd James missed the put and lost the first hole, 5 to 6. Byers 1 up.

Second Hole—Byers drove a straight one to the brow of the hill. James was fifteen yards away. James approached dead to the hole, while Byers was short. His put overran the cup. Byers just lipped the cup and was down in 4. Byers halved with him. Byers 1 up.

Third Hole—Rain began to fall when Byers drove from the third tee, but he got away a good drive. James's brassey second was just off the green. Byers played his second to the rise and his approach putt was within the reach of the hole. James, using a mashie, overran the cup two feet. Byers negotiated the five-foot put and holed in one under bogey. James also holed and the hole was halved in 4. Byers 1 up.

Fourth Hole—James won this hole and squared matters with Byers. For hours at a time James has practised playing this hole with Auchterlonie. It was good golf, considering his drive, which was sliced to the rough. Byers drove 200 yards, but topped his second, narrowly missing the bunker. The gallery broke into applause when James got out beautifully and landed on the green. Byers was discomforted by the bunker, and lofted just over a deep ravine. James used a mashie for his pitch and was close to the cup. On the odd Byers also was close to the cup. James opened the hole for a 4 and Byers down in 5. Byers lipped the cup for a half and lost the hole.

Fifth Hole—This was halved in 5, one under bogey, both using three puts on the green. James was somewhat slow from the tee. James's drive was sliced a little to the rough, while Byers got away a long, straight one. Byers made a fine approach to within fifteen feet of the cup, while his Glenview rival made good use of his mid-iron getting well out to the edge of the green. James putted to put close to the cup, while Byers, judging the green, overran and failed to hole on his next. James, also, was too strong and overran the hole, each requiring another put. By this time the rain had begun as a steady drizzle, and players in sheets, but the gallery of enthusiasts braved the downpour, although the rain glazed the fair green was four inches under water.

Sixth Hole—Old Hickory, 575 yards, was won by Byers in 6 to 7. Byers played bogey golf despite the terrific rain. Both drove well and each brassey'ed as well as if the green were dry. James's midiron was to the left of the gully guarding the green, while Byers was close by. Each approached to the green, but James was short, missing a put on a heavy grass. Byers 1 up.

Seventh Hole—177 yards, bogey 3. This was halved in 3, perfect 3. Each drove fine shots and well on the green. Each putted to put as both tried to hole out in 2 and went down on the next.

Eighth Hole—467 yards, bogey 6. This was won by Byers in one under bogey despite his poor drive. Byers drove to the rough and his brassey was far and safe, while James sliced his brassey shot to the rough toward the south side of the course. A hazard stake was in the way and he was told to pull his ball out of the water and take a penalty stroke. He was engaged some time in the pool of water, finally deciding it out, so James played his mashie approach so truly that the ball lay at the stake and bounded five feet from the cup. Byers's approach was to the edge of the green and at the brow of the hill. James could not put down and Byers took the hole in bogey 6. Byers 1 up.

Ninth Hole—325 yards, bogey 4. This hole was halved in five, although Byers drove into the rough. James's drive was well over, notwithstanding Byers's mistake in getting into the rough. Byers made his third well over and his fourth was dead to the hole. This remarkable exhibition of iron work in the rain caused great applause, and James was disconcerted. James, for his approach was away short and he used his three brassey to put. Byers still 2 up. The score on the first nine holes follows:

| | | | | | | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Byers— | | | | | | | | | | |
| James— | 5 | 4 | 6 | 5 | 6 | 3 | 5 | 5 | 4— | 43 |
| Byers— | | | | | | | | | | |
| James— | 6 | 4 | 4 | 5 | 5 | 7 | 3 | 6 | 5— | 45 |

James was cheered by his Glenview friends when he started out on the second nine, and they showed the effects of bracing by squaring the match at the thirteenth hole.

Tenth Hole—Byers drove straight, while James pulled a little. Each approached fine and putted for the hole. Halved in bogey 5, each considering the heavy greens.

Eleventh Hole—Each drove to the brow of the hill and James laid his mashie approach within nine feet of the flag, while Byers was within five feet. James studied the green through the rain and a heavy place and went down his long put. Byers was unable to hole his five-foot put and James had the honor of taking the hole in a fine 3, one under bogey. Byers 1 up.

Twelfth Hole—Both of the boys gave a fine exhibition of the long game going to this long green. The drives were 185 yards and straight. Byers who always plays this hole with a little slice on his brassey second, sliced the ball just off the green's edge. James decided to play straight for the direction of flag and was successful in sending the little globe to within twenty feet of the cup. Byers intended his approach put well to within five feet of the hole, while James was a little nearer. Byers missed and James rimmed the cup, and the hold was halved in 5.

Thirteenth Hole—This James won and squared the match. James had a fine drive, while Byers's foot slipped and he topped his drive, losing a good fifty yards. This was his first bad drive. His second was pulled into the rough grass, narrowly missing a lot of long hay, while James's approach with his midiron was on the green to the left of the flag. Byers made a fine approach, landing within twelve feet of the cup. James, with stroke to spare, put dead and was down in fine four, one under bogey. His put struck a small blade of grass of the cup's edge and lay there momentarily, while the gallery began to express sorrow, when to the surprise of every one the ball finally tumbled into the cup. All squared.

Fourteenth Hole—James won this and was up on his Pittsburg rival. James got away a good drive. Byers's was a little better. Both used their midirons to good advantage and each was on the green in two. James put well, while Byers overran the hole, put short and his next and James holed out in bogey 4. James 1 up. This was the first time the Glenview boy had been up on Byers.

Fifteenth Hole—Byers won the old hickory and the match was again square. Each had good drives and screaming brassers, but balls did not get the roll that could be expected on a dry fair green. The Yale man studied the situation and determined to take a chance on carrying the gully and reaching the green. His perfect and easy swing landed the ball well on the green in a direct line for the flag. James was not able to make such a well placed shot. Byers's approach put was a little over, but he holed down in one better than James and won the hole.

James took 5 to Byers's 6, and was 2 up at the seventeenth hole. A slight discussion arose on the fifteenth hole about Mr. Weeks, who caddied for James, stepping in the line of Byers's put. Mr. Heebner asked him if he did, and he replied in the negative. Nothing further was done about the matter.

Seventeenth Hole—James took this by careful play and taking advantage of a slightly topped brassey second by Byers. James on his third was to the left of the flag and on the edge of the green.

Byers used a cleek for a third, taking a chance over the reservoir, and cleared the hollow. His approach was to within eight feet of the cup, but to the right, while James was dead. Byers rimmed his next, the ball bounding away a yard. James holed his put and was 3 up. Byers seemed to have lost his usual direction in pitching puts on the heavy greens, and deserved to be at least 3 down to his young opponent.

Eighteenth Hole—This was halved in 4, making James 2 up at the end of the morning round of the eighteen holes. Both got well over the reservoir on their drives, and each approached carefully, but too strong. James was in line with the flag but overran the green. Byers went to the left a little further than James, but pitched his approach put to within four feet of the hole, while James was within five feet. Each holed his out, and the crowd cheered the Glenview boy, who had what many thought would be a safe lead for the title on the afternoon round.

The cards for the second nine holes follow:

| | | | | | | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| James— | | | | | | | | | | |
| Out | 5 | 3 | 5 | 4 | 4 | 6 | 3 | 5 | 4— | 39—43—86 |
| Byers— | | | | | | | | | | |
| In | 5 | 4 | 5 | 5 | 5 | 5 | 4 | 6 | 4— | 43—43—86 |

James came in in 39, which is three under bogey for that portion of the course. Byers frequently overdrove James, but the latter turned the tables on him at the holes where his long, low ball had a chance.

After luncheon over six hundred came on the trains from the city, swelling the gallery to almost 2,000 persons. The sun shone brightly, in marked contrast to the wretched morning weather, and, although the course was still heavy, the conditions were much better for golf.

Nineteenth Hole—427 yards, bogey 5. A southwest wind prevailed and, carefully allowing for it, James sent a screamer down the centre of the course for 190 yards. Byers's tee shot trolled and just escaped the trough by landing in casual water. He picked it up and dropped back, but had a hanging lie. His brassie carried into the bunker and James was grandly over the copse on his brassie. Fifty-five yards.

When Byers reached his ball he found it on grass on the side of the copse and he fortunately escaped the sand. His mashie was clean on near the edge of green. James playing the like, laid the ball fifteen feet beyond the cup. James went down in 5 to 6. James 3 up.

Twentieth hole—243 yards, bogey four. James drove to foot of the hill at bottom of green and had to play the odd as Byers was just a few yards shy of the green. James mashie was flushed, but he had a heavy lie to play from. Byers approach was not dead either and left him a hard put. James ran up his ball from the edge of the green, but he was four feet short. Byers went clean over the cup. James missed the odd and Byers failed to hole out. James got a lucky halve in 5, Byers losing a fine chance to clip off a hole. James 3 up.

Twenty-first Hole—366 yards, bogey 5. James got a high drive and Byers sliced and was short. Byers's second was a corker, while James was right at his heels. Byers's pitch was one of the finest shots in the match, as, borrowing from the hill, he landed beyond the fence from the cup. James's approach was even better. He landed two feet away. Byers just lipped the cup and hung on the edge, while James went down in four and won. James 4 up.

Twenty-second Hole—366 yards, bogey 5. James got under his drive and half dubbed, while Byers sent out a straight and long ball. James's second cleared the bunker 150 yards away. Byers with a hanging lie was to the green on his second, but over the hole.

James's mashie was fairly judged. Byers ran up, but was still two and a half feet off with the hill to put against. James holed a 2-foot put on the odd and the gallery went wild. Byers's ball dropped in, halving the hole in 4.

Twenty-third Hole—320 yards, bogey 4. Both sliced. Byers on the odd carried the bunker and got on the right of the green, but James was in casual water. Byers approached boldly, told James to pick up and drop. James got beautifully out and Byers had to play the odd on his third. He pitched within two feet of the cup. James followed and was almost as close. Hole halved in 4.

Twenty-fourth Hole—327 yards, bogey 4. James pulled his drive behind a clump of bushes, while Byers was straight. James pitched out admirably. Byers's second was well over the bunker. James's brassie was a telling shot and Byers played safe into a middle lie, being short of the gully. James's pitch was short. Byers approached splendidly, but his put overran. James playing the odd also overputted. He gave the hole to Byers 4 to 7. James 3 up.

Twenty-fifth Hole—177 yards, bogey 3. Byers got a good tee shot to the right of the green. James with a spoon got a perfect ball within nine feet of the hole. Byers was in casual water, but approached dead. Halved in 3.

Twenty-sixth Hole—467 Yards, Bogey 6. Byers drove his regulation tee shot, but James outdistanced him. Both seconds were nearly up to the 100-yard stake. Byers was in the water and his approach was short to the left. James's approach was a beauty. Byers was again short. James failed to go down and a half in five resulted.

Twenty-Seventh Hole, 235 yards, bogey, 4. Byers again drove into the reservoir. James were almost into the same section of the pond and each dropped back of the artificial lake. Playing 3 each, their second drives were well over. James short-playing his approach and Byers was dead. James missed his put and Byers also missed and James got a lucky half in six.

Twenty-eighth Hole, 427 yards, bogey 5. Two grand drives. James's approach was half way up the green and there was nothing to choose between them. James was in the cup of the cup in 4 and Byers landed the cup and out again. James was down in 5 and halved.

Twenty-ninth Hole—243 yards, bogey 5. Good drives. James played the odd and ran up a half top shot with good results. Byers was short. James was down in 4, halving with Byers who again rimmed the cup. Byers certainly had hard luck with his puts.

Thirtieth Hole—356 Yards, bogey 5. Byers outdrove James, and the climbers, boy on his brassey went to the right of the green. Byers's brassey struck a pool of water, but rolled out. His approach was a beauty, running straight over the hole. James was in the grass south of the green, a trifle outside Byers's on his approach. He missed his put in a few ten inches and Byers missed also. Another lucky half for James in 5.

Thirty-first Hole—386 Yards, bogey 5. Both sliced, but James got the worst of it in the rough. However he took a brassey and made the greatest shot of the day. Byers was clean over the bunker on his second to the right of the green and on his approach overran. He missed his put and James went down in 4 amid such yells and handclapping as might be heard at a football match instead of a golf game. James 4 up.

Thirty-second Hole—320 yards, bogey 4. James drove beautifully and Byers dubbed and got about eighty yards. Byers took his brassey and landed over the bunker 170 yards away. With an iron he sent off a grand ball which, however, landed in the water. Byers on the odd was over the hole, while James was dead on the like. Byers had this put to save the match and he sent it down for twelve feet. James missed and lost the hole in 4 to James 3 up.

Thirty-third Hole—375 yards, bogey 6. Excellent drives, with James playing the odd. Seconds just as clean, but Byers flubbed his third and was just above the green in 4. Playing the like James was twelve feet from the hole. Byers's approach put was superb. Each was down in 6, and this left James dormie 3.

Thirty-fourth Hole—177 yards, bogey 3. James's drive was twelve feet short of the hole, and Byers's was only about twenty feet short. Byers was short, and James went down in 2, and was carried to the clubhouse on the shoulders of his clubmates, winner of the 1902 amateur golf championship of the United States.

The cards for the afternoon round follow:

HOLLYWOOD'S FIRST TOURNEY.

Many Minor Golf Competitions Decided Yesterday.

A large "gallery" and play of a very interesting order marked the start in the first of the season's tournaments at the new Hollywood Golf Club yesterday. The morning was devoted to an eighteen-hole scratch qualifying round, the first eight keeping on in the first round at match play in the afternoon for the President's cup. The summaries:

Qualifying Round—H. H. Malmer, 99, Tracy H. Harris, 94, Arthur McAleenan, 94, J. Campbell Phillips, 95, P. E. Henderson, 97, Hugh O'Donohue, 95, H. Limberger, 100, Alfred Nathan, 101, C. D. Bernheimer, 113, A. Reading, 110, C. Season good, 124, J. Strauss, 126, H. Gmoerzenheimer, 127, T. J. O'Donohue, 129, A. Lewisohn, 127, E. A. Lamberger, 131.

Match Play, First Round—Phillips beat McAleenan, by 2 up and 1 to play; H. O'Donohue beat Nathan by 1 up, nineteen holes; Henderson beat H. Limberger, by 2 up and 6 to play; Harris beat Malmer, by 1 up (nineteen holes).

The new links covers five farms, or 150 acres in all, on property leased by the club. The course is near Norwood and about a mile from the old Hollywood links. Thomas J. O'Donohue selected the ground and was mainly instrumental in starting the new club. The officers are: President, Joseph J. O'Donohue; Vice-President, S. J. Rickendorfer, and Secretary and Treasurer, T. J. O'Donohue. The membership is limited to 250. The clubhouse is very prettily situated on the top of a hill, with a large piazza on three sides of the house. It commands a good view of the eighteen-hole course, which is a very picturesque one, with brooks and other natural hazards. The holes are played in this order:

| | | | | | | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Out | 327 | 215 | 509 | 167 | 393 | 397 | 375 | 427 | 334— | 2,884 |
| In | 378 | 371 | 454 | 279 | 350 | 144 | 360 | 334 | 294— | 2,764 |

The complete round is 5,648, very fine amateur record is 84, held by J. Campbell Phillips. While the play for the President's cup was on yesterday Bernard Nicholls, the club's professional, playing with a member, made the following record for the links:

| | | | | | | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Out | 4 | 4 | 6 | 3 | 4 | 4 | 4 | 6 | 4— | 39 |
| In | 4 | 4 | 5 | 4 | 4 | 3 | 5 | 5 | 3— | 37—76 |

The semifinal and final round for the President's cup will be played on next Saturday.

The qualifying round for the prizes presented by C. C. Mason brought out the largest field of the season at the Crescent A. C. links yesterday. The round was an eig teen-hole handicap, the two best scores playing off at thirty-six holes match play on next Saturday. The summary:

Match play for three cups engaged the attention of the Apawamis club members yesterday. The events were the final for the Sackett cup, the semi-final for the Kemp cup and the first round for the Lapham cup. In the latter event the meeting of F. S. Wetmore and Marvin Bacon was postponed until the return of the latter from Glenview, where he is one of the representatives of the U. S. G. A.

Cricket.

The great cricket game of the season between the Brooklyn C. C. champions of the Metropolitan League and the Knickerbocker A. C. ex-champions took place yesterday at Bayonne, where the Knickerbocker scored a victory by 24 runs. The game was full of peculiar positions, one of which was the fact that the Knickerbocker lost their first four wickets for 2 runs. F. P. Kelly and F. D. Meckler then advanced the score to 82, and it so happened that these were the only men to make runs. The Brooklyns' wickets fell rapidly in their turn at bat and 8 runs were down for 39, when E. H. Smith and C. A. Worth made a stand. The odd runs got up to a total of 74, however, and the victory secured with a good margin in hand. The score was 113 to 79.

The Livingston Field Club had its first meeting in the championship series of Metropolitan cricket with the Manhattans to-day at Staten Island. Some fine batting was done by the Livingstons, who won in rather hollow style by 180 runs and 6 wickets to spare. M. H. Cobo repeated his performance of last week by scoring a century, but not quite. W. J. H. Clarke achieved great success with the ball, and captured 7 wickets for 18 runs. N. S. Walker, Jr., also bowled in fine style for the winners for 70, and H. E. Jackson hit in his usual vigorous style for 36. For the Manhattans the only men who obtained double figures were F. Flannery and L. Edwards, the scores was 243 to 63.

Prospect Park looked deserted yesterday, for but one game was played there. This was the contest between Kings County and Flatbush in which the former had a easy victory and won by 75 runs. The totals were: Kings County, 134; Flatbush, 59.

The Columbia Oval Cricket Club had a visit from Paterson team in Brooklyn yesterday at Willoughby Park for its association match. Brooklyn won. The visitors suffered defeat. The totals were: Columbia Oval, 75; Paterson team, 71.

Brooklyn Team played its championship game of the New York Cricket Association series with Newark at Prospect Park, Brooklyn. Newark were victory was obtained by 12 runs. The totals were: Brooklyn, 84; Newark, 72.

K. A. C. CLUBHOUSE ABLAZE.

Henry Fuller and Jim Boyd Help to Put Out Fire at Bayonne Oval.

The Knickerbocker A. C. clubhouse at Bayonne, N. J., caught fire late on Friday night and but for the prompt and persistent efforts of a few club members only the cold gray ashes of the structure would be now left to mark its location. Nobody knew how the blaze started, but about 11 o'clock a few of the "night owls" were sorting the flavor of a "parting nightcap" when a volume of smoke burst from the basement and made lurid streaks in the snuggery. There was a cry of fire and the club members made a dash for the green plot in front of the house. A few of the old amateur fire vamps, including Henry Fuller and Jim Boyd, held their ground and made for the buckets and there were frantic cries for help and water. Meantime the fire had made some headway. Its flames licked the greased beds of the bowling alley, and oil stewed bowling balls were cracking with the force of the blast. Upstairs the flames reached the curtain lattice tops, the same being used as bulletin tables, but the amateur firemen were doing good work, splashing buckets of water in every direction. In about fifteen minutes the conflagration was under control. Much was found of an alarming character. The injury done to the bowling paraphernalia were out of business and the total damage amounted to about $2,000, which amount is nearly covered by insurance. The only department of the club which escaped with comparatively was what is known as the "dispensary." This contains the materials for the manufacture of "ping-pong" puncees, cricket rosiners, "golf balls and other refreshments adapted to warm weather. The fire had scarcely been put out when the fire laddies sat late celebrating and a many a health was drank to the old fire brigade of Bergen Point.

Canoeing.

Four starters were sent away yesterday afternoon off the clubhouse of the New York Canoe Club in the record race of that organization. The wind was fluky from the southeast. The course was about six miles in length. Daniel R. Goodsell, the veteran of the Yonkers Canoe Club, and a former successful defender of the International cup, got the windward berth at gunfire, and was never headed. The order of finish was: Daniel R. Goodsell, 51 minutes 8 seconds; George W. McTaggart, 52 minutes 3 seconds; F. A. Myers, 53 minutes 5 seconds; W. Tudor Tyson, withdrew.

H. A. Reitzenstein, Vice-Commodore of the Brooklyn Canoe Club, proved himself an expert in the contests of the club held on Gravesend Bay yesterday. He defeated
