CATTARAUGUS
CUTLERY!

Every Knife of this brand is warranted to be perfect in material and workmanship. See them.

We have just received from the factory in Cattaraugus, New York, a very fine line of these celebrated goods—and those who have used them realize that there are none better. The higher-priced knives are beauties, and the lower-priced possess the same excellent cutting qualities. The steel in these knives is simply perfection. Come see them.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Borens and the Misses Fanny and Nancy Connelly, sisters of Mrs. D. V. Hart, of 1600 Hurst street, have returned home after a pleasant visit with their relatives. They are from Missouri.

Here is a correct list of the officers of Marietta Rebekah Lodge: N. G.—Mrs. Belle Nash; V. G.—Miss Bessie Beaumont; Secretary—Mrs. Emma Hemstock; P. N. G.—Mrs. Singer; Chaplain—Mrs. Ackerman.

Take notice! Parents of fine babies and all sorts of babies living in University Park! Babies are being enumerated on Dan McAllen's list for that special day at the fair in September. So prepare the babies for that occasion and win a prize.

Wedding bells were again heard in University Park last Thursday evening when Miss Agnes E. Hunt, of St. Johns, and S. Mark Stewart were united in marriage. They will continue to reside in University Park. We wish them much happiness.

Louie Serra, an Astoria boy, is guest of Mrs. H. Dyer, 749 Dawson street, and is taking in the fair and everything in sight as this is his initial visit to Portland, with which city he is delighted. His sister is the wife of Mrs. Dyer's youngest son, George, also of Astoria.

Mrs. Pincers, at present a resident of Vancouver, is building a fine house on Dawson street, just in the rear of Reynolds' grocery store at Portsmouth. The four carpenters who are employed on the building are Mr. Chipman and two sons and Mr. Metcalf. They are boarding at Mrs. Martin Brenner's on Dawson street, and are greatly pleased with the Park. They expect to finish the house in three weeks for occupancy.

A friend of your reporter, who is amongst the real estate owners, Mrs. E. G. Frame, of Portland Heights, has been entertaining, together with her numerous fair visitors, Honorable John Tiler Campbell, of Santa Rosa, California, whom she has not seen for 20 years. He was appointed under President Cleveland consul to New Zealand and was for three and one-half years in Hong Kong, China. He is now assistant district attorney in Santa Rosa. Amongst his dinner-table stories was an account of the seventeen servants employed by them when in China. A presiding consul wishing to show appreciation for faithful service gave each a Mexican dollar as a gift but could not make them understand it as such. They demanded it ever afterwards as an increase of wages, and would not work without it. Another tale was when a tramp accosted him for the price of a bed on a cold winter's night. He refused, and next day a man was found frozen, dead, in the snow. On investigation to see if it was the tramp he refused to aid he suffered great remorse at his thoughtless action. He said in telling the story that the destitute should not be repaid.

Will Run Store.
Some time ago J. M. Leisure purchased from the heirs of G. H. Hurlburt the little store on Philadelphia street. He has just sold it to F. W. Valentine, who will conduct it as a confectionery and tobacco store. Judge Hanks made out the sale papers, and the consideration was $1,450.

Turned Out to Die.

Turned out to die? The faithful horse You mounted twenty years ago. A laughing boy and galloped fast Amid the whirling flakes of snow. A better friend a man ne'er had Than Dobbin with the gentle eye; But now a stranger's in his stall, For you have turned him out to die! How oft he drew the heavy wain To market over the winding road, And homeward, cheerily again, Pulled back of winter's stores a load. And oft, bedecked with ribbons gay, To fairs, beneath the autumn sky, He drew a crowd of girls and boys— To be at last turned out to die!

Have you forgot the stormy night When little Neil was taken ill? The way to help was long and dark, Skirting the spectre-haunted hill. Old Dobbin failed you not that time, Though lightning cut the inky sky; He bore you to the doctor's door— And now he's been turned out to die! And when your father, breathing low, Committed all things to your care, He said, "He kind to Dobbin, gray, The good old horse has done his share. He never shirked before the plough, But pulled it steadily, and why? He loved you all, and never thought That he would be turned out to die! Oh, shame! call back the trusted friend, And shelter from the bitter blast, The good old horse that's served you well. In happy times forever past. What if, when age has bleached your hair, Your children, without tear or sigh, Shall say, "You've served us long enough; Father, we turn you out to die!" One touch of nature, it is said, Doth make the whole world kin, and now Call home from the meadow bare The old companion of the plough; Give Dobbin, true, the warmest stall— He's been a noble friend to you. Beneath the old roof let him die!

Mrs. Bell is still very ill but is improving slowly.

W. C. Gay has entirely recovered from his severe illness.

A. Falkenberg, recently of Portland, has moved to Linnton.

Mrs. R. A. Alcorn was brought home sick, Wednesday noon, from the fair.

Great numbers of springs containing the best water for drinking in the country are in great abundance.

Jessie Epperson, the little granddaughter of Mrs. Crandall, is suffering with a severe attack of cholera infantum.

Miss Elsie Tift, of Appleton, Wisconsin, en route to California, was guest of Mrs. James Tufts and family this week.

Work was started on the new school-house Wednesday morning. Men are now employed in laying the stone and brick foundation.

The steamer South Bay, of San Francisco, cleared for Westport. She took part of a cargo of ties from the C. & W. Lumber Company.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Buckley, of Portland, formerly of Manistee, Michigan, spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Willson, also from Manistee.

The Misses Reynolds, who have been visiting Miss Ruby Wilson for the past few days, have returned to their home at Carson, Washington.

Gus Hengerveldt, proprietor of the Linnton hotel, is adding five rooms to his building in order to help meet the great demand for sleeping places.

The steamer Republic on Monday and Tuesday evenings made an extra trip to accommodate the people coming and going from Linnton to the circus.

Tom Henneberry, of Everett, Washington, who has been visiting his aunt, Mrs. Nora McCann, for a couple of weeks, has returned to his home.

Mr. Blackman of Stockton California, left for home last week. Mrs. Blackman will follow in a few days. She has been spending the summer with Mrs. Hill.

Tuesday a truck smashed into the resaw of the Clark & Wilson Lumber Company's mill and broke the pulleys. Work was suspended until new ones could be gotten.

Mr. and Mrs. Turk and three children, of Fisher's Landing, Washington, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Willson, of this place. Mrs. Willson and Mrs. Turk are sisters.

A dance will be given above the new store Saturday, August 26. Price of admission, 50c. There ought to be as good and merry a crowd as last time since evenings are cooler now.

A Portland man has been looking around here for land upon which he intends to build a barber shop. There will be lots of trade for any person who wishes to start up a business like that here. Good opportunities are now open for shoe repairs.

Linnton always welcomes visitors, especially those from St. Johns, but not those of the drinking kind. Sunday last four St. Johns boys visited Linnton looking for drinks. Of course they succeeded in getting drunk and disturbing the peace of this place with their cursing and cursing. Not only is this a disgrace to St. Johns but also to Linnton, giving it a bad reputation. The mothers and fathers of these boys had better find out where and how their youthful sons spend their Sundays.

Oh, never mind Linnton! She will grow anyway, no stopping how. All we need is to have better conveniences for getting to and from this place. There is talk of putting a street car line out this way—something which would be well patronized and which would also help to fill up the beautiful space between this city and Portland with residences. No better place could be found for suburban residences. It is always cooler than any other place around Portland in the summer and warmer in the winter, being protected from the fierce sun in the summer and from the cold winds in the winter by the high wood-clad hills.

Changing Owners.

W. A. Edgerton has sold his general merchandise business in the Cochran block.

He has long been a merchant of the town—and has concluded to rest upon his laurels and spend some of his money.

The new owners are H. W. Bonham and Ed. S. Currier—two young men of experience from Keokuk, Iowa. The firm will be Bonham & Currier, and the members are hustlers. They will strive for a larger trade and their advertising will soon commence. That they will meet with success is well assured, because the growth of St. Johns will certainly continue.
