COPPERS

THE BOOM'S HERE

Unless I miss my guess the long coming copper boom is with us. No man can tell to a cluteh anchor sureness whether or not a stock boom has brought its trunk, for stock booms, as a general thing, land on their long stay trips with the same sort of you-see-I-am-with-you-ness as when they only look in to see how the land lays. Some writer has scratched on the tablet of time, "A flea is a mighty oncartain critter," but this writer evidently had never travelled with a long time coming stock boom.

Any way, I am willing to go on record that the copper boom is with us. First, we know that with copper, the metal, at 25 cents and still going up, that there is a copper boom on the way, and some of us who have spent our lives in the stock market think we know the permanent arrival signs of a stock boom. At noon to-day I covered the country with telegrams to all Stock Exchange members, saying "Buy Anaconda now—right now." It was 284½ and jumped to 295¾ and closed there; Amalgamated jumped to 114½ and closed there. I strongly think the boom is with us. In my advertisement day after to-morrow I probably will be able to tell to a certainty.

TRINITY

To fully appreciate the satisfaction there is in a stock movement which while enthusiastically rampant is at the same time always docile, one must be familiar with the uncertainties and vicissitudes of stock campaigns. In my old Butte campaign, and in my Tri-Mountain and my Copper Range campaigns, when Butte was going from 2 to 130, Tri-Mountain from 10 to 125 and Copper Range from 10 to 105, and making over $50,000,000 in profits for the public, it may have looked easy to the man on the stage, but many and many a time each one of these movements called in a hurry for quick attention.

The Trinity movement, though, does seem perfect. It almost runs itself. I suppose it is largely because it is so well founded and because before starting it I waited so patiently for perfect conditions. Besides, my following knows that I have never had a losing "copper" (except Arcadian, which they knew so well about that they lay no blame to me), and they have had before them object lessons in the tremendous success of Butte, Tri-Mountain and Copper Range, which teaches them to avoid the traps and snares of my enemies.

Whatever the cause, Trinity certainly does run smoothly. For instance, in Saturday's and to-day's advertisements, I advised all who were about holding on to take their profits and to look them over for a while before coming in again. This brought down on me inquiries from many of my following who had big profits as to whether I thought they would hurt the cause by taking some of them. One illustration will cover the advice to all. A man in a State outside of Massachusetts had 4,000 shares he had purchased at 12 and another 4,000 he had purchased at 26. He called me on the telephone and said that while he wanted to keep along and do all he could to help the movement to its ultimate success, he would like to take a portion of his profits if I believed that it would do no harm and bring about no setback. I assured him that it would make no difference to the Trinity movement, as there was an unlimited market, and I said to him: "Let me sell your 4,000 shares costing 12." He said: "Go ahead." I did so and got between 36 and 37 for them, leaving him with 4,000 shares on hand costing him nothing.

After the market had closed I told him what I had done, and he said that he had concluded he'd rather have the stock back. I told him it was too late to purchase it, as the market had closed, whereupon he insisted upon my buying it when the market opens on Wednesday.

This is a fair illustration of a good market movement. This man is more anxious to-night to get back his stock than he was to-night to take his profits, and to my mind it is odds on if he won't pay a number of thousands of dollars for his test. And then again it is a question if it won't be worth what he pays. I know it gave me considerable satisfaction to be able to throw his 4,000 shares into the market, along with some from a number of others like him, and to have Trinity stand right up to its top and close there after an active day of some 20,000 shares traded in.

As to-morrow is a holiday and as there will be no market on Trinity I will break off this advertisement and give you the section of it in time for Wednesday's market, reminding you of what I said at the opening: I believe the boom is with us, and that you're going to have exciting times on the up side in "coppers" and that, even with all of them jumping, there will be more profit in Trinity from 40 up than there has been from 11 to 40.

Copper Shares

LINCOLN.

Here are some points that should prove of interest to all readers of this paper who are in the market for a profitable deal, whether as a speculation or investment.

To give our clients and the public some idea of the value of copper shares in mines located in the Appalachian field, we desire to call attention to the following facts, taken from the last issue of "Stevens' Hand Book on Copper":—

"The Ducktown Copper and Iron Company is located in Tennessee, organized February 16, 1891, with capitalization of $375,000, par value shares $5 each, divided as follows:—200 founder's shares and 74,800 ordinary shares.

"The ordinary shares have paid

963% IN DIVIDENDS.

The founder's shares have paid

19,144% IN DIVIDENDS.

"The property includes the Mary, Callowell and other mines; main shaft is 600 feet deep; the ores averaging under 3% copper, without either gold or silver value; has one smelting furnace of 500 tons daily capacity. Last year's production of copper was 6,547,213 pounds, and is second only to the Tennessee Copper Company in the Appalachian field."

And this record was made during the time copper had been selling for about 11 cents per pound over a period of years. This means that for every dollar invested in the ordinary shares the holder has already been paid at the rate of 65% yearly, and for every dollar invested in the founder's shares the holder has already been paid at the rate of 1,274% yearly. The shares started at much below par and have gone to such a figure as to remove them entirely from the market. All of this has taken place on ore that runs less than 3% copper, which is the only metal of value produced by the company.

The Lincoln Copper Company is located in the same copper zone, with 900 acres of mineral territory and an average of 9 3-10% copper to the ton, and in addition from $10 to $20 per ton in gold, with five developed veins and twelve veins still unopened, carrying a larger percentage of copper than any other mine located in the South or West. These shares have just been introduced on the market and are selling at a price which, taken in consideration with the above facts, will prove very profitable in the near future. It doesn't take a man with more than the ordinary amount of sagacity to determine that here is an opening to profit by.

The purchase of shares in any producing copper mine at this time will return for the next two years a greater amount of profit than in any other share investment on the market. We desire to go on record with the statement that low priced shares in any producing copper mine will, through the advanced price of its products and its increased earnings, find its shares in demand at double the present figures before the end of the year. The wisdom of investing in producing copper mines was illustrated in the recent slump of all classes of railroad and kindred securities, while the prices of copper shares not only held their own but in most cases showed an advance compared with two months ago.

The price of Lincoln Copper shares when we first called attention to them, some three weeks ago, was under 60 cents; they closed Saturday night at 75 cents per share.

We predict that this stock will sell at $2.50 per share before dividends are announced, which will be in short order. The Lincoln Copper Company is just beginning its career, and will prove another "Ducktown Copper," both as to its production and advance in the price of its stock.

Orders in all producing copper stocks promptly executed. Weekly market letter on copper furnished our clients.

C. G. Martin Buys a New Apartment House Adjoining the Knickerbocker Club in Thirty-second Street—Nos. 15 and 17 in the Same Block Figure in a Deal.

The unusual activity which has been apparent lately in the midtown retail district, along Fifth avenue and in the side streets south of Thirty-fourth street, was again reflected in the list of brokerage transactions made public yesterday. Thirty-second street, east and west of Fifth avenue, was the chief seat of professional trading. The sale of Nos. 15 and 17 East Thirty-second street for $195,000 was reported, as was also the purchase of No. 7 by C. Grayson Martin. Several deals in the same block and in adjoining streets are said to be under negotiation. Only one parcel was sold at auction in the Vesey street exchange, a six story flat in Harlem. It brought $45,541.
