GOSSIP OF THE RACETRACK

BARNEY SCHREIBER'S BIG STABLE GETS INTO THE LIMELIGHT.

Three Horses Out of the Same Dam Run in His Interests—Checks Down on Tom McGrath and Chief Hayes, but Banyah and Joe Carey Neglected by Stable.

The blood relationship of three horses that ran in Barney Schreiber's interests at Belmont Park yesterday caused interesting comment among the breeders. Tom McGrath, who won the first race, was bred by Schreiber, who turned him over recently to his trainer, H. R. Brandt. McGrath is a four-year-old gelding by Sain—Miss Marion, hence a full brother to the filly Minnie G., who ran in the fourth race, and a half brother to Joe Carey, by Bannockburn, who triumphed in the Larchmont. Five horses from Schreiber's barn started during the afternoon, and while three of them got the money the others were well backed and were expected to come out victorious. Minnie G. was a short distance out of the money after a rather rough journey, but Chief Hayes, by Balgowan—Grand Lady, got no part of the purse in the last event.

Those who had a line on the Schreiber horses bet heavily on Tom McGrath, sending him to the post a favorite in the first race. The Western crowd also played him, so that the ring received an awful jolt. But the stable connections did not bet much on Banyah, a splendid looking colt by Bannockburn, the sire of Dr. Gardner, who ran off with the second race. Trainer Brandt thought that the colt had a chance, but he did not advise liberal play. Banyah therefore went up to 20 to 1, his success being a cause for general surprise. Having put two winners over the plate the stable attracted so much attention that hundreds backed Joe Carey in the Larchmont, forcing his price from 10 down to 7, but as a matter of fact Trainer Brandt again did not have the confidence he displayed in McGrath, so that the big operators who were in search of a line on the Bannockburn colt did not go to him.

By capturing three races off the reel it was not at all strange that the stable commanded further attention in the fourth race, in which it was represented by Minnie G. The crowd at large played the filly three ways because of the hunch, but this time there was a slip up. It was in the last race that the stable connections bet extensively on Chief Hayes, taking him both ways at 5 and 8 to 5, but like Minnie G. he ran just out of the money. Schreiber has many good horses, including some classy two-year-olds, in his barn and as they are all in fine condition they will bear watching in future events.

While the ring lost heavily on the success of Tom McGrath there were several losing propositions in that event that caused a feeling of dismay among their backers. James R. Keene's Bohemian, a former stake winner, was a starter, entered to be sold for a paltry $1,000. He opened at 7 to 2, but even with Miller on his back he did not prove a magnet except for those who played him because of what he had done as a two and three-year-old. He went up in the prices to 5 and ran as if he was on the verge of a breakdown. Yorkist, a Keene cast off, who ran second, was well played, while Senator McCarren's Lee Harrison II. was such a hot paddock tip that he dropped from 6 to 4.

The talent dropped a large amount on Thermidor, an Ornament colt, in the second race. He was backed from 3 to 13 to 5, only to succumb to Banyah. Lady Winifred, who took third money in the Madden silks, is a filly by Plaudit—Passan, who was played chiefly to show by her shrewd owner. P. J. Dwyer's Montauk, a colt by Star Shoot—Janie Clay, was well taken at 4, while W. L. Powers's Treasure, by Goldcrest—Mamari, was in demand at 5. James R. Keene's Twigs, a son of Ben Brush, with Miller up, got support at 7, while Louis Cella's Canada, a Fatherless colt, was backed at 6.

R. F. Carman's Henry of Shennamere, by Henry of Navarre, was another tip, also Senator McCarren's Gene Wood, a colt by Sir Hampton—Avantut.

In spite of the fact that he picked up 125 pounds, Aletheuo was the hottest kind of a favorite in the Larchmont. The plungers and the wise ring operators backed him from 7 to 5 down to 13 to 10, but he suffered a crushing defeat. If Dan Buhre had left the post with more alacrity he might have beaten Joe Carey, who was bearing out all the way down the homestretch. Buhre was solidly backed straight and place. Dinna Ken was also taken eagerly for the place, so that the ring cleaned up in spite of the play on the winner. Previous winners of the Larchmont were Mirthful, A. N. B., Kilogram, Smile, McDowell, Ingold, Bryn Mawr, Inspiration, and Belmere.

Although there were eighteen starters in the fourth race the smart players did not hesitate to make Marbles, a swift footed Lissak filly, a favorite. She was backed from 7 to 2 down to 2 to 1. It was only by the shortest of margins, however, that she got the money. Etta Louise, a Russell filly who had run some fair races at Pimlico, was taken across the boards by her owner and his friends, who would have taken a good sized bundle from the bookies if she had won instead of running in the place. This race fairly bristled with supposed good things. Ben Cole, Louis Cella's Aim, Sussex, Fred Johnson's Okitan, a filly by Planudes—Ondurdia, backed from 30 down to 15; Paul Pry, Split Second, Thomas Calhoun and Minnie G. carried all kinds of wagers, which remained in the layers' boxes.

Because of a flagrant piece of rough riding, Jockey Miller was called into the stewards' stand after the fifth race and warned. He rode Dolly Spanker, the favorite, and all through the last quarter of a mile he appeared to be purposely interfering with Holscher, John Hennessy, who rode Holscher in fine style, was not to be denied, however, and in spite of Miller's foul tactics he went on and won. Beauclere, the Salvator colt who ran behind Roseben when the world's record for seven furlongs was lowered last fall, got a heavy play in this race because of a great warming up gallop. He had a world of early speed and was beaten two heads. Holscher was really the most heavily backed horse in the race, the wise set going to him with a rush at the last moment. J. E. Madden started The Quail in this event, probably to get him fit for some future event, but that was all.

Long before the last race was run the word was passed that Paddy Sullivan's horse Samuel H. Harris could not lose that event. Although Paddy was not at the track it was said that he sent a commission to be placed upon the son of Sir Walter. The tip became so prevalent that as soon as the books put up 8 to 1 there was a panic in the ring. Thousands of dollars were placed on Harris, who was sent to the post an 8 to 5 favorite.

Then the faithful saw him trail home next to last. The Shields family, having picked up some fat bets with Holscher, bet the coin back on Reidmoore, who they said was a cinch. But, like Harris, the Shields horse ran far below expectations. Eudora was as good as 40 to 1 in some of the books and was taken by a number of small bettors, who became hysterical when she nosed out Gallant Dan. If the latter had won Jack McGinnis would have been able to stuff his pockets with yellowbacks. El Dorado, who ran third, was backed from 7 down to 5 by the Smithson-Coles-Garth combination.

Al Dryer, who was a big winner on the Eastern tracks last year, returned from Europe in time to see the Metropolitan Handicap run on Thursday. He said that he attended the races in Rome and Paris, but that the sport in those cities did not begin to compare with the racing under the Jockey Club's rule.

Billiards.

Theodore Cassebeer, handicapped at 75 points, won the 14 inch balk line handicap billiard tournament of the New York Athletic Club last night by defeating Dr. Walter G. Douglas, the scratch man, in a closely contested game. Douglas was only seven points from his required 200 when the game ended. Cassebeer won every game he played in the tournament, and last night's game was the first Douglas lost. C. D. Colman, 125; W. S. Wilson, 50, and Dr. Douglas are now tied for second place. The tie will probably be played off next week. The score of last night's game was 75 to 193. Douglas made high runs of 41, 28 and 24, and averaged 5 8-37.

TRAVERS AT PRINCETON.

Scoring in Style for the Golf Tournament Cup Matches.

PRINCETON, May 10.—Schoolboys were as prominent as collegians in the opening rounds of the tournament of the Princeton Golf Club to-day. The Lawrenceville boys, who won the team match at the last New York interscholastic tournament at Garden City, made an especially good showing in the morning, when one of them, H. C. Jordan, put out Ralph Peters, Jr., by 2 up. Two of the best of them, Harry Legg and G. W. Bunn, were unfortunately drawn together, the former winning. Jerome Travers, who may still be termed in the schoolboy class, as he is "coaching" for college, was in excellent form. He went out in 43 in the morning and put out D. H. Barrows of the Princeton team by 4 up and 2 to play, after being dormie 4.

The long course, the nine holes being 3,200 yards or so, was pronounced by the few visitors to be ideal to try the muscles and the temper of the golfers. The morning feature of the Nassau cup race was the putting down of Robert Wiel, the Lakewood winner of last fall, by McLeod Thompson of Altoona, Pa., on the nineteenth hole. The schoolboys did not do so well in the afternoon, all of them dropping out of the president's cup contest. Travers defeated Legg and revealed that he is again on his game, an assurance needed after his indifferent playing at Atlantic City. Going the first nine in 40, Travers was 2 up. He won the next three in record figures, but then got a 6, so that Legg got back a hole.

In making the break, Travers pulled his drive to the rough near the brook, and getting out fairly well he made the edge of the green with the third, holing in three more strokes. Travers got halves on the next two in 4s, which won the match by 4 and 3. They played the seventh, which led toward the clubhouse, Travers getting a 3. Then they quit, Travers relinquishing the excellent show he had for a 78. Their cards:

Travers:
Out.....4 5 4 5 4 5 4 4 5—40
In.....4 5 4 6 4 4 3
Legg:
Out.....4 6 6 5 5 4 4 5 4—43
In.....5 6 5 5 4 4 4

Travers was scoring about six to ten strokes faster than any one else. He will play Corcoran in the semi-final and Ballin plays McAdoo. Finalists in the other cups will be Thompson and Morse for the Nassau, Woodward and Jamison for the Princeton cup. The summaries:

President's Cup, First Round—Harry Legg Lawrenceville, beat G. W. Bunn, Lawrenceville 5 up and 4 to play; B. W. Corcoran, Princeton, beat Percy Pyne, Princeton, by default; D. There is a large entry for the eleventh annual handicap to-day of the New York Stock Exchange, to be at the Knollwood Country Club. The competition has always brought out large fields. Gross score winners of the past have included C. B. Macdonald, H. P. Toler, A. L. Norris and Daniel Chauncey, while low net has been returned by L. S. Kerr, W. S. Edey, Dyer Pearl, B. B. Sloan, R. Underhill, R. P. Worrall and C. M. Cohen.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Samuel Dalzell, Chevy Chase, and George C. Lafferty, Chevy Chase, and Lee L. Harban, Columbia, and W. R. Tuckerman, Chevy Chase, meet in the semi-final round of the first sixteen to-morrow in the golf tournament of the Chevy Chase Club. Dalzell's victory in the second round over Allan Lard, Columbia, who had gained a lead of 3 up on the first six holes, was unexpected. Dalzell was even up at the twelfth hole, 1 down at the thirteenth and even up again at the seventeenth, where he laid his opponent a stimy. Dalzell won the match by piping the home hole in a par 3, while Lard required three strokes from the edge of the green. Dalzell and Harban are expected to win in the semi-final round.

First Sixteen—First round—C. W. Noyes, Columbia, beat W. P. Compton, Chevy Chase, 5 up and 4 to play; L. L. Harban, Columbia, beat H. Morris, Chevy Chase, 6 up and 4 to play; M. Thompson, Chevy Chase, beat Alex Britton, Chevy Chase, 4 up and 3 to play; G. C. Lafferty, Chevy Chase, beat J. H. Brickenstein, Chevy Chase, 4 up and 2 to play; Allan Lard, Columbia, beat J. C. Davidson, Columbia, 5 up and 4 to play; W. R. Tuckerman, Chevy Chase, beat O. McCammon, Chevy Chase, 5 up and 4 to play; S. Dalzell, Chevy Chase, beat W. L. Hillyer, Columbia, 2 up and 1 to play; A. S. Mattingly, Columbia, beat R. Lewis, Chevy Chase, 1 up in 21 holes.

Second Round.—W. R. Tuckerman beat C. W. Noyes, 1 up; L. L. Harban, beat A. S. Mattingly, 3 up and 2 to play; G. C. Lafferty beat M. Thompson, 3 up and 2 to play; Samuel Dalzell beat Allan Lard, 1 up.

CHICAGO, May 10.—The Homewood Golf Club house at Flossmoor was destroyed by fire to-day. The loss is $100,000. Coincident with the destruction of the club it was announced this afternoon by directors that both the Woman's Western and Western Amateur championships will be abandoned. They will be given to the Women's Western Golf Association and the Western Golf Association respectively to dispose of again.

TO-DAY'S CARD FOR BELMONT.

Toboggan Handicap, Juvenile Stakes and a Steeplechase Features.

Roseben will pick up 140 pounds in the Toboggan Handicap, six furlongs, straightaway, the feature of to-day's card for Belmont Park, and if the track is good he will be played to beat a lot of good sprinters, including McCarter, They're Off, Halifax, Pretension, Red River and others. The Juvenile Stakes, for two-year-olds, five furlongs, straightaway, is another attraction, R. T. Wilson's entry, Sanguine and Alauda, being in favor over August Belmont's Raymond, F. R. JOE CAREY WINS LARCHMONT

BARNEY SCHREIBER'S COLT COMES HOME AT LIBERAL ODDS.

Tom McGrath and Banyah, From the Same Barn, Also Succeed—Holscher Takes a Handicap From Dolly Spanker by a Head—Eudora and Marbles Also Score.

With the rain falling in sheets all the afternoon nearly 15,000 persons went to Belmont Park yesterday in spite of the severe financial losses of the preceding day. The track was sloppy and the horses did not run any closer to form than on Thursday. Four favorites, heavily backed, suffered defeat, and the bookmakers made another good haul.

Barney Schreiber, who has one of the biggest stables in training, won two races, while his clever trainer, H. R. Brandt, captured another in his own colors. Joe Carey, a colt by Bannockburn, backed from 10 down to 7, was victorious in the Larchmont Stakes, for three-year-olds, seven furlongs, main course. He made all the running and won rather easily by two lengths from J. L. McGinnis's Dan Buhre, 3 to 1, who was off poorly, but made a gallant rush down the homestretch. R. T. Wilson, Jr.'s Aletheuo, 13 to 10 favorite, seemed to be anchored by the weight, as he was a poor third. H. P. Whitney's Dinna Ken, 7 to 2, evidently did not like the going. The time was 1:28.

Schreiber's colors were also carried to victory in the second race, for maiden two-year-olds, four and a half furlongs, straightaway, when Banyah, at 20 to 1, showed the way from the start and came to the wire a length and a half in front of R. T. Wilson, Jr.'s Thermidor, 13 to 5 favorite. The latter had the same sort of a margin over John E. Madden's Lady Winifred, a 20 to 1 shot.

Tom McGrath, running in the colors of Schreiber's trainer, was a real good thing in the first event, at six furlongs, main track. He was backed from 4 down to 5 to 2 and simply won as he pleased by five lengths in 1:14 3-5. Yorkist, 4 to 1, beat Water Tank, 15 to 1, a length for the place. Senator McCarren's Lee Harrison II., backed down to 4, was two lengths out of the money.

In a driving finish Marbles, a 2 to 1 favorite, stood a long hard drive and won the fourth race, for two-year-olds, half a mile straightaway, by a nose, with D. T. Morris's Etta Louise, 25 to 1, half a length before F. A. Forsythe's Sussex, 6 to 1. Barney Schreiber's Minnie G. was half a length out of the money. The time was 0:48 3-5.

Willie Shields's Holscher, backed from 7 to 2 down to 11 to 5, won the handicap, at a mile and a sixteenth, by a head. He outgamed Dolly Spanker, 6 to 5 favorite, in the run home, the latter having a head over the three-year-old Beauclere, played down to 16 to 5, who showed the way for three-quarters of a mile. The time was 1:49 4-5.

Harry Schaffer's good little mare Eudora, 20 to 1, got up on the rail in time to win the last race, at a mile, by a head on the post. Gallant Dan, 8 to 1, was in the place, a short margin in front of El Dorado, 5 to 1. Samuel H. Harris, 8 to 5 favorite, Chief Hayes and Reidmoore, all heavily played, were never prominent. The time was 1:41 4-5. The summaries:

Games of Collegiate School.

Close finishes marked the sprints at the annual outdoor games of Collegiate School, held on Ohio Field on last Wednesday. In the events for the seniors F. T. G. P. GRANBERY CHANGES BOATS.

Yachtsmen Have a Rough Time Sailing the Tanya From Portland.

G. P. Granbery of the New Rochelle Yacht Club, who last year won the championship in the handicap class with the sloop Rube, for which he has since been popularly called "Rube," with a few yachting friends went to Portland last week to bring down the sloop Tanya, which he has purchased to race this year in the handicap class. He has sold the Rube, and strange to say that yacht has gone to Portland, where the Tanya came from.

The Tanya is a Crowninshield designed yacht and a rattling good cruiser, as her record on the trip from Portland shows. She is 40 feet over all, 25 feet on the water line, 10 feet beam and 6 feet draught. The party who went with Mr. Granbery to Portland were: Harry Jackson, W. M. Bieling and J. R. Thomson.

The yacht got under way in Portland harbor at daybreak on Saturday morning, May 4. The Tanya sailed briskly down the beach for about ten miles, when a strong southeaster began to blow. It snowed, hailed and was bitterly cold, and as there was no stove on the yacht and the men needed more warm clothing they put back to Portland and then started off again at 6 o'clock on Sunday morning. The wind just suited the Tanya, it was from the northwest and quite fresh, and the yacht sailed in a way that surprised all hands. All day and until 2 o'clock the next morning they rec'ched along without sighting a vessel of any kind and then were abreast of Highland light on Cape Cod. The run had been made in twenty hours, which is "going some."

The yacht kept on down the beach for a time and then it grew colder again. It snowed and hailed, and the yachtsmen took short tricks at the wheel, and the helmsmen always wore two or three pairs of trousers, two or more sweaters, as many socks as he could put on and would even then shiver. Fishermen were heading in to Provincetown. One, two and the three reefs were put in, until the yacht was sailing under close reefed mainsail and storm jib, and after standing this for two hours it was decided to put back to Provincetown.

Last Tuesday morning they started off again in a light air and thick fog. Highland light was abeam at 10 o'clock, and when Nauset beacon was encountered a stiff blow from the northeast which increased until the yacht had all she could stagger under. A consultation was held to decide whether they should go on or back to Provincetown, but they kept on down the beach, rounded Monomoy, crossed the Shoals and through the Vineyard Sound, where they reached the Cuttyhunk lighthouse at 2.25 A. M. on Wednesday, and then the wind died out and they were becalmed and drifted off shore until 3.30 P. M. on Thursday, having been becalmed for thirty-seven hours. The yacht when the wind came headed for Newport and arrived there safely. This evening all hands are going to Newport to bring the Tanya to New Rochelle.

COLUMBIA VS. HARVARD.

Crimson Sure, Locals Hopeful in To-day's Boat Race at Cambridge.

The Columbia varsity crew, which left yesterday for Cambridge for its race against the Harvard crew, got there in time to go over the course on the Charles in the afternoon. The crew left early in order to familiarize the coxswain with the features of the water. The Columbia boat will be made up for to-day's race as it has been rowing regularly for the last few weeks, except that James Mackenzie, who has the mumps, will be out. Mackenzie's place at 6 has been taken by Starbuck. The Columbia men are rather sure of doing well if not winning in the race. They see no reason why their boatload cannot travel two miles as fast as the Harvard crew, and Rice has been drilling it into them that they can do better.

Much stress has been laid on the fact that even if the Harvard crew is composed of veterans of the eight, which beat Yale last year that is no reason to be worried because it was the opinion of many judges of rowing that Harvard would hardly have finished better than fourth on the Hudson last June.

The Harvard crew, like that of Columbia, had to make a change just preliminary to the race. Severance at 3 was overtrained and had to lay off. Faulkner, who went in in his place, was considered by the English last summer to be a good man, so that the change probably means no loss to the Cambridge men.

Harvard is cocksure of victory, while Columbia has more than hopes. There is a better fighting spirit in the Columbia boat than has been observed in some seasons past and the New Yorkers will make Harvard sit up, according to the view of most undergraduates of the local institution.

The race will be started at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Julian W. Curtiss, Yale '79, will be referee. The crews are about even in weight. Harvard is a little the heavier. The Columbia men are a little shy on the side of experience.

Yachts Change Hands.

The following transfers of yachts are reported through the agency of B. B. Crowninshield:

Steam yacht Machigonne sold by Cyrus H. K. Centro of Philadelphia to ex-Governor W. L. Douglas of Brockton, Mass.

The 25 foot knockabout Mab II., formerly owned by Bayard S. Litchfield of New York, has been sold to Percy Chase of Lynn, Mass., who will use her on the Maine coast. Mab II. was designed by Crowninshield and built by Lawley in 1900. She is 42 feet over all, 26 feet water line, 10 feet beam, 6 feet 3 inches draught.

The 15 footer Vera II., formerly owned by Benjamin W. Smith of Gloucester, Mass., has been sold to John F. Cunningham and others, of Cleveland, Ohio, who will race her on the Great Lakes. Vera was designed by Small Bros. in 1904 and has won the championship in her class every year since she was built.
