GOSSIP OF THE RACETRACK

A BRILLIANT GERMAN ELECTIONEER THAT CLAIMS HIS ART DISEASE.

Passenger Hastie Has Hard Luck With Bills of Dropsie and Tralee—Knapp's Rides Generally Grand—Narrations of Bookmakers on the Various Events.

Five years a well known Philadelphia theatrical and hot entertainer, named Blum, in Electioneer in the fourth race at the Bay yesterday, but he must have had a case of cold before the race, only another was absent. Talent in the race of Electioneer, for which he paid seven to William Fahrbach for one, and after the call had gone the favorite. When Electioneer reared up the first time this owner he put Plate in a small margin in the Hundred Guinea Bar, plus that he had made money in an and bought up again in that Trainer Lake, and decided to let this have a long run. After a good deal of generation Electioneer finally the right and for the first call in competition, and not just quite in tension that the trainer was not but had a down very from Hughes, that in the long run the horse proved to be. Plate got the big money back and Electioneer could run in a gallop. Only a general plunge at the pelting. Jimmy and his friends were in clover, then there was Electioneer the running out in Four so he started into the stretch, for Lane, or was outside Hundred and into a racing of an exhibition as Woodford Clay's Kentucky Boy. As it began to overhaul the Peter Pan, Brazel, who rode the favorite, was also commissioned until he reached the last furlong pole, where he began to fumble for his whip, and when he finally got on the problem Electioneer not only secured out and came within an ace of fooling Kentucky Boy, for also proved to be ready to quit cold. It was a desperate finish and a most exciting moment for Lemon, but Electioneer managed to stagger home a couple of inches in front of his rival, whereupon the plunging Quaker removed his hat and mopped his forehead. It was the narrowest kind of an escape from disaster.

The Parkington stable, owned by William H. Du Bois, was up against some fierce luck in two races. Du Bois thought that his mare Belle of Troquois would walk off with the second race, and he backed her liberally only to have her left flat-footed at the barrier. He cooled off quickly, however, for he fell sure that Nealon would win the Turf Handicap in a gallop. The last time Nealon ran he won the Twin City Handicap, one mile and a quarter, in a big gallop. In that event he carried 127 pounds, made all his own pace and defeated Beacon Light, who was third, by eleven lengths in 2:05 3-5 over a slow track. With two pounds more to shoulder and Beacon Light having ten pounds less Nealon was beaten yesterday by the latter by about three lengths over a mile and three-sixteenths on the grass.

As Nealon won the Turf Handicap last year it could not be said that his defeat was due to the turf course. Then what was the reason for his downfall? This question was answered in various ways. Some said that it was the early pace set by the lightweights, which made it impossible for Knapp to obey orders and take Nealon to the front. Others said that it was due to a rough journey in which Nealon was knocked back, jammed to the rail and shut off repeatedly. There were more critics who said that Knapp was guilty of a ride that should have caused an inquiry on the part of the stewards. Whatever was at the bottom of the pitfall dug for the public the fact remains that the owner of Nealon lost a big wager himself and was unable to account for the disappointing performance of his $11,000 colt.

While the bookmakers cleaned up a large amount on the defeat of Nealon, Beacon Light, the winner, was well backed three ways, while a killing was trained with Miss Crawford. W. W. Darden, the owner of the mare, as soon as he secured the services of Dugan, told his friends that Miss Crawford with 100 pounds could not lose. If Dugan had not been so anxious to hang onto Acrobat, the pacemaker, he might have won, but as it was the mare tired in the last furlong and enabled Beacon Light to get up at the sixteenth pole. Beacon Light bore out and clearly bumped into Nealon, who had no chance at the time. For that reason Knapp made no protest of foul. If Acrobat had won R. E. Carman would have taken a barrel of coin from the books, as the colt was backed across the boards by him with a lavish hand. The Turf Handicap was run for the first time in 1885, with these winners: Mollie McCarthy's Last, Little Jim, St. Luke, Philosophy, Carroll, Gloaming, Versatile, Blume, Bathampton, Halfing, Deerslayer, Ben Holladay, Imp, Lady Massey, Watercure, Articulate, Flirtam, Queen, Carbuncle, Graziallo and Nealon.

Just how much the books took in on Cairngorm in the third race nobody could say, but it is a safe bet that it was not less than $100,000. There seemed to be a perfect mania to back Sydney Paget's horse, who was hammered down from 6 to 5 to 4 to 5. But Roger Minton, the trainer of Right Royal, who is in magnificent trim just now, told his friends that the Rapallo horse would defeat Cairngorm as surely as the sun rises and sets. Right Royal opened at 2 to 1, but Sam Lazarus and the Haymans did not bet until the price had gone up to 7 to 2. Then the money went into the ring in bundles, so that Right Royal was backed down to 11 to 5 at the last moment. There was a solid play on Missouri Lad for the place in this event.

The Sullivans, from Big Tim down, handed the books an awful jolt when Royal Lady won the second race. The filly figured the best any way, and when the Sullivans had loaded on the coin at top price, 2 to 1, the public at large followed suit. Royal Lady going to the post 10 better than 8 to 5. As Clare Russell was widely played for the place the ring lost all kinds of money. Belle of Iroquois and Miss Strome were both taken three ways. At the last moment Killiecrankie was taken to show at liberal odds by Barney Schreiber and his friends.

Many of the trainers took Jack Joyner's tip and played Rialto in the opening event, but in spite of this the Watercress colt went up from 8 to 10. The crowd made John Sanford's Onatassa a favorite for some unknown reason, as Ben Fleet figured best, but was installed second choice at 13 to 5. With better racing luck, by the way, Ben Fleet would probably have won. King Cobalt burned up a lot of coin wagered by the clubhouse operators.

Sam Emery enjoyed unusual success. Blue Heron ran third in the first race in his colors at long odds, but this was not a marker to the coup with Arasee in the concluding event. Arasee, a colt named by means of a combination of Dick Canfield's initials, R. A. C., was a bottled up good thing. Emery and his friends backed him from 10 down to 5 and won, it is said, about $30,000. It was Miller's horsemanship which made the good thing go across the plate, for the colt was weary and Miller helped him along with a splendid bit of hand riding. This race fairly bristled with alleged good things. The Oneck Stable's Ariel was the medium for a heavy play which reduced his odds from 30 to 1 to 7, the money being placed by a well known clubhouse commissioner. Miss Delaney was also well supported across the boards, while Servile, Kerry, Complete, Banrita and Sunglean were all in demand.

"In spite of the bad weather," said a member of the Coney Island Jockey Club yesterday, "the attendance is up to the average, if not a trifle better than it was at this time last year. I make this statement because a report has been circulated that the crowds are smaller than usual. We are entirely satisfied with the present state of affairs."

It is said that the stewards of the Jockey Club are considering the case of Jockey Beckman, who was permanently set down by the Farrell stable for a couple of unsatisfactory rides at Saratoga.

The story circulated last night to the effect that a delegation from Saratoga visited the clubhouse at the Bay and made it known that there must be no conflict with the Spa next season was pronounced a raw fake by persons in the know.

DRYDEN TROPHY MATCH

New Jersey Shooters Fail to Retain $5,000 Prize, Which Is Captured by Cavalry.

SEA GIRT, N. J., Sept. 6. The New Jersey rifle team failed to-day to keep at home the $5,000 trophy Senator John F. Dryden presented four years ago and which the local sharpshooters retained in 1904 and again last year. The U. S. cavalry team won to-day by 24 points from Massachusetts, the Maryland team a point behind, with New Jersey in fourth place.

The cavalrymen shot steadily and in fine form. Massachusetts shot without one of its best marksmen, Private J. E. Burns, who was called to Lowell last night on account of the accidental shooting of his brother, Edward Burns, in a rifle gallery. Being without a substitute, Massachusetts was about to withdraw from the Dryden when Col. John Caswell of Boston happened to come to camp and was conscripted.

High score for the match was 136, by Sergt. C. J. Jeffers of Massachusetts. Sergt. J. J. Gibney of the Cavalry was second at 133. Major Arthur Rowland with 129 scored high for New Jersey. Sergt. Gibney was also high at 200 yards with 48 and at 600 yards with 49 and at 1,000 yards Sergt. Jeffers of No. 5 Company with 47. The scores of the seven contestants were:

Names.	200 Yds.	600 Yds.	1,000 Yds.	Total.
Cavalry	345	350	299	1,000
Massachusetts	342	337	278	957
Maryland	339	353	294	976
New Jersey	345	334	292	971

Infantry, 957. Marine Corps, 954. District of Columbia, 935.

Sergt. M. L. Brown of New Jersey's Second Troop, Red Bank, took the offhand 200 yard match and $20 with a 48. J. A. Dietz of the Manhattan Rifle and Revolver Association tied him on the same target, but with last year the end and got $15. Private J. Markey of the Marine Corps got third money, $10, with 47.

Clark, 3d, Ekwanok. Gring had a hard fight for his place with Clark Burnham, Dyker Meadow, winning on the home green.

BILLIARDS.

Step Taken to Bring About International Tourney of Amateurs.

A step toward bringing about the international amateur billiard tournament suggested by the letter received the other day from the Comte de Dree of Paris was made last night at a meeting of the National Association of Amateur Billiard Players. Representatives of twenty of the billiard promoting organizations met at the Liederkranz with President Howell presiding. The decision was in favor of bringing about a consummation of the plans suggested by the French Amateur Billiard Federation. The working out of these plans will be left to a committee of three to be appointed within a week.

During the discussion as to the meeting of the French and American amateurs the fact developed that there is an excellent prospect of the Parisians visiting this country, probably in March or April. The idea is to have them play the international matches within a week or two after the deciding of the American amateur championship.

Reroille, Farrouix, Dumutierre and the Comte de Dree were all mentioned as possible competitors for France. Who the Americans will be remains to be determined by preliminary matches which will be arranged.

It is among the possibilities that the Americans may journey to Paris, but this is regarded as remote, so that plans are being made for play in this city and in Chicago.
