BARNARD FRESHMEN HAZED

CEREMONIES OF "MYSTERIES" FOLLOWED BY A DANCE.

Annual Infliction of Torture and Weird Performances When the Freshmen Get Their Instructions and Are Made to Swear to Obey the Injunctions Imposed.

Don't you want a sister, Freshies?
One that is good and true?
Don't you want a great big Junior
To be good to you? Oh, don't you?
One who'll drive away the Sophomores—
No 'count little fry?
Come a little closer, dearies,
Nineteen-nine will try.

With these encouraging words ringing in their ears the Barnard freshmen, in obedience to the command of the sophomores, marched fearsomely down to the gymnasium to be hazed yesterday afternoon.

The juniors, who are not supposed to interfere with the education of the freshies, could only stand at the top of the stairs shouting and singing encouragement to the youngsters.

The "Mysteries," as this annual initiation of the first year class is called, are a secret and awful proceeding known only to Barnard girls. But any one watching the college windows yesterday afternoon could see masked figures flitting past the windows and girls with hair streaming down their backs and eyes closely bandaged being led about the halls. From Brinckerhoff Theatre, the scene of most of the stunts, an odor as of something burning issued. Who knows, perhaps each little freshman had the Barnard seal branded upon her?

In spite of these gruesome indications of the torture going on within no hard feeling was aroused, for every few minutes the freshmen could be heard shouting their song of defiance:

We have strength and we have courage,
We're not the least bit shy,
If you think that you can scare us
Why don't you try? Why don't you try?

And after the hazing was all over both classes danced together in a most amiable manner. The freshmen were served with lemonade in baby bottles, which they were allowed to keep as souvenirs. The freshmen were led by their chairman, Miss Margaret Hart; the sophomores by their president, Miss Mabel Paliser.

The following injunctions now appear on the wall of the freshman study, and rumor has it that they had to swear to keep these commands:

FRESHMEN: 1910 commands that ye keep implicitly the following:

1. Ye shall not enter the sophomore study during your freshman year.
2. Ye shall not wear cap and gown except on field day.
3. Ye shall wear the green bow and bell in a conspicuous place for two weeks.
4. If a freshman be seen with a man within three blocks of college dire punishment awaits her.
5. Ye shall wear only black hair ribbons.
6. Ye shall not wear Barnard pins, neither shall ye wear the Barnard colors.
7. Ye shall always yield precedence to your honored superiors in entering the elevator, passing through doors, in cars, lunchroom and cloakroom.

Kings County Grand Jury's Recommendations.

The Kings county Grand Jury for September, before being discharged yesterday, handed down a presentation recommending that the jurisdiction of streets in Brooklyn under which subways were being constructed should be taken from the Public Service Commission and returned to the Borough President. Judge Fawcett concurred in this recommendation as well as one for the improvement of Raymond Street jail.

INDIAN CHIEF HANGED.

Breaks Jail to Escape Trial for Murder and Is Found Dead.

NORWAY HOUSE, Lake Winnipeg, Oct. 4.—José Pacoje Quan, a famous Indian chief of the Far North, who was in jail awaiting trial for executing a young girl affected with fever according to tribal tradition, broke jail and though fired upon repeatedly by the mounted police escaped. Later he was found hanging to a tree dead.

The man either committed suicide in terror of his approaching trial or was executed in revenge by members of his tribe. He had executed twenty members of his tribe under this ancient rite, which prescribes public strangulation in case of fever, because the Indians believe a person in delirium can never recover his spirit, and unless executed before recovery can never enter the happy hunting ground.

POLICE CRUSADE ON BOXING.

Magistrate Discharges Manager and Fighters—Get Evidence, He Says.

Magistrate Cornell discharged yesterday the manager of the Long Acre Athletic Club and the two principals in a boxing bout held at the club the night before. Then Emil Fuchs, counsel for the club, asked for summonses for Commissioner Bingham, Inspector Burns and Capt. Wiegand of the Tenderloin station, who were persecuting the club, he said.

Detectives McGuiness and McConnon, who arrested Mike Newman, the manager of the club, and Tommy Nelson and Joe Black, the boxers, told the Court that Newman had refused to allow any one into the club who was not a member. They got in by slipping by the ticket taker.

"Don't you policemen know that it is essential that admission be charged in order to prove violation of the law in a case like this?" said Magistrate Cornell. "You must either get evidence against these clubs or leave them alone. I'll discharge these men and every other case brought before me unless you prove that there is a violation of the law."

"We have to obey orders, your Honor," said one of the policemen.

"And that's where we ask for your Honor's protection," said Fuchs. "Capt. Wiegand stationed his men in the lobby of our club, threatened to smash in our doors if we held a fight there. We didn't throw his men out for fear of starting a riot. We went to Justice McCall in the Supreme Court for a remedy and he told us to go to a Magistrate."

"I appreciate your situation," said the Magistrate, "but the case is too complicated for a police court. District Attorney Jerome can deal with it adequately."

"I'll fetch it to him," said the lawyer. "We're going to see this thing to a finish."

Held for Nineteen Deaths.

Coroner Shrady yesterday held Nicola Achilli, charged by a Coroner's jury with having caused the deaths of nineteen persons on the night of July 20 by setting fire to his store at 223 Chrystie street, without bail. Achilli disappeared the day after the fire and was caught in Kansas City.

LOSES TROLLEY FRANCHISE.

Appellate Division Decides Against the South Shore Traction Company.

The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in Brooklyn yesterday handed down a decision in which it holds that the South Shore Traction Company has lost its franchise to construct a trolley road in Islip in Suffolk county. The action was brought by Mark F. Manton, a property owner.

The road is now under construction and it was proposed to operate a trolley line through Patchogue, Islip, Bay Shore, Babylon, Amityville, Freeport, Lynbrook, Jamaica, Newtown, Long Island City and the Blackwell's Island Bridge. It was intimated that large Pittsburg interests were behind the proposed trolley road. Mr. Manton contended that the company had lost its right to use the franchise because it failed to construct the road within the time given by the franchise.

Justice Woodward wrote the opinion, which is concurred in by Justices Hirschberg, Gaynor and Rich, while Justice Hooker found for the respondents.

TELEPHONE CO. INDICTED.

Boston Concern Accused of Acceding to Demands From Politicians for Jobs.

BOSTON, Oct. 4.—The New England Telephone and Telegraph Company has been indicted by the Suffolk Grand Jury for acceding to the solicitation of certain Aldermen, Senators and members of the House to give employment to various men.

The indictments are the result of the inquiry by the Grand Jury into telephone matters which resulted in the indictment of several politicians.
