S. Farris, Pennington & Co., J. E. Atkinson, Currins, E. R. Sully, Thos. McKain, Fairchild Market, Chili Parlors.

J. M. Swisher, who has been reelected Constable by a large vote, has made good. The people have realized this, and because a change in the office was not required, none was made. He has proven himself to be capable, in every respect, and while nothing can be said against the characters of his opponents, his reelection is a source of satisfaction to the people of this district.

Menu for the Winter, at "The Geneva Chili Parlor," 215 1/2 N. Jersey street: Chili con carne, chicken tamale, pot pie, Chinese noodles, clam stew, clam, beef and tomato bouillon, oyster cocktails, hot chocolate, coffee, sandwiches, pie and soft drinks. The only place in the city where they make the genuine Mexican chili con carne, and chicken tamale pot pie.

Hallowe'en Party

One of the prettiest parties ever held in St. Johns was the Hallowe'en party given Saturday night by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Derrie at their lovely home on Oswego street. A "ghost" with a lighted lantern in his hand lighted the guests up the steps to the porch, and another "ghost" received them at the door. The rooms were in semi-darkness, the only light being from grinning Jack-o'-lanterns. The decorations consisting of autumn leaves, Jack-o'-lanterns and many other Hallowe'en novelties, were very effective and artistic. Much merriment was caused by the efforts of some of the guests trying to bite a piece from an apple dangling from a string without any assistance from their hands. Later 500 was played and unique Hallowe'en favors were won by Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Gammel, Dr. B. F. Rambo and Mr. Gammel. An elaborate luncheon was served in the den and the tables were beautifully appointed in every detail. The favors caused much fun. Those fortunate to be invited as guests were Mrs. Alice Learned, Dr. and Mrs. Rambo, Prof. and Mrs. Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Ingledue, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Muck, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Muck, Mr. and Mrs. Gammel, Mr. and Mrs. Markle.

Pleasant Dinner Party Was Model Young Man

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Marchi entertained delightfully with a dinner party Sunday evening, November 1st, at their home, 825 Central avenue, the occasion being the anniversary of the birth of Mr. Ben Bifore. The house decorations throughout were of roses, dahlias, ferns and palms. Beside the floral decorations of the table, consisting of dahlias, a beautiful birthday cake graced the center. Dinner of five courses was served. Mr. Bifore cut the cake, Mrs. Marchi receiving the thimble, Mrs. Shea the ring, and Mr. Bifore the cane. After dinner games of various kinds helped pass the evening very quickly. At a late hour all turned homeward, wishing Mr. Bifore many happy returns of the day.

The death of Carl Stone which occurred last week was a most distressing one. Just when he was in the full glory of his budding young manhood and life was just opening out in its brightest and most alluring aspect, and when it was so good to live and so hard to die, he was called to his home on high. Bright, clean, industrious, faithful, affectionate, kind and gentle, with no vicious habits of any nature, he was a model young man and a loving son and brother. He was the main support of a widowed mother and younger brother, and for some time had been a trusted employee of the S. P. & S. Railway Company. Stricken with that dread disease, typhoid fever, he lingered along in the full hope of soon being restored to his usual good health, when death came. His passing away is a severe blow to his mother, for whom he had a wonderful affection, and his two brothers, and the community suffers the loss of one of its best and most promising young men at the early age of 21 years. Truly the ways of Providence are at times beyond comprehension, but we must believe that it was all for the best, and that God wants some of earth's brightest jewels for his own.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. Noce, Mr. and Mrs. H. Marchi, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Shea, Masters Victor and Mario Marchi, Mr. F. Salvatore, all of St. Johns; Messrs. F. Lavorato, M. Jerully of Portland; Miss A. Bianconi, Mr. Joe Belfino of Seattle, Wash.

A very enjoyable time was spent at a Hallowe'en party given by the Misses Madonna Wright, Verda McNiven, Greta Paul, Ruth Cowles, Alice Gee and Mattie Keliher on Friday evening, October 30th. Many games suitable for the occasion were indulged in. Each guest was presented with a sealed paper in which was written his fate. About eleven o'clock a bountiful lunch was served. The guests departed at a late hour, each having told what an enjoyable time he had spent. Those present were: Messrs. Ray and Gilmore Clark, Donavin Palmer, "Shrimp" Phillips, Russel Smith, Jay Asper, Norma Brokaw, Everett Day, William Aiskhe, Hubert Martin, Harry Crouch and Otis Stringer; the Misses Isabel McQueen, Edith Ericson, Florence Bredeen, Eva Smith of Vancouver, Wash.; Rachel Edgren, Minnie Balke, Ruth Cowles, Mattie Keliher, Alice Gee, Greta Paul, Verda McNiven, and Madonna Wright. Misses Viola Westhefer, Hazel and Vida Evans and Fred Marlett chaperoned the crowd.

Teachers' Association

The St. Johns Grade Teachers' association held the regular monthly meeting Oct. 30th. A number of important matters were discussed. A dinner will be given Nov. 14th, in honor of the newly elected officers of the association.

The Central School Parent-Teachers' association will hold the regular monthly meeting in Central building Nov. 12th, at 3 p. m. It is desired that members be in attendance as business of importance will be transacted. Mrs. Edmondson, president of the Central Parent-Teachers' association and ten delegates attended the convention of Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers' associations held in Portland during the week Oct. 27-30. A very interesting and instructive session is reported.
