The outlook from our standpoint—

During the past month we sold more suits at $30 and upward than at prices below—seem to be making many new friends who formerly went to expensive custom tailors.

So we are glad that this higher priced part of our stock is in good condition with generous variety of sizes and patterns.

Indeed we see no indication of need for radical reductions in the near future, though of course wherever sizes are broken those left are being marked down.

Perhaps the secret lies in the fact that every one of the mixture suits offered was made for this season.
