SMITH GOES TO FACE CHARGE

DETECTIVE FAILED TO FIND JERSEY CITY POLITICIAN.

Arrives With a Warrant on 12-Year-Old Forgery Charge Only to Find That Smith Had Left for York, Pa., Where Accuser Lives—Innocent, Friends Say.

William E. Smith of Jersey City, ex-Freeholder, president of the Robert Davis Association of Hudson county and one of the three commissioners in charge of the construction of the new $1,000,000 county court house, who is wanted at York, Pa., on twelve-year-old charges of forgery, as told in yesterday's issue of THE SUN, left Jersey City yesterday afternoon over the Pennsylvania Railroad, accompanied by his wife. He announced before his departure that he proposed to go straight to York to face his accuser and secure vindication. He said that he was absolutely innocent of any wrongdoing.

Detective Oscar Stoner of York arrived in Jersey City yesterday with a warrant for Smith's arrest. On Tuesday the detective presented a requisition for Smith's extradition signed by Gov. Stuart of Pennsylvania at the executive offices in Trenton, but a warrant of extradition was refused because Smith was not then in custody. Stoner called on Capt. James F. Larkins, chief of the Jersey City detective bureau, at noon yesterday and explained the predicament he was in. He did not find Smith and was told that the ex-Freeholder had informed friends that he intended to go to York without loss of time. After making sure that Smith was bound for Pennsylvania Stoner said he guessed he might as well return home.

Smith said yesterday that he signed some notes to enable a friend to raise some money years ago and had learned yesterday by long distance telephone from York that all of the notes had been paid by Frank P. Reever, the father of his first wife, excepting one for $117, the indorsement of which Reever disavowed. He said that he never heard anything about the notes and never had occasion to worry about them, as the man who benefited by the money was to meet the notes at maturity. Smith withheld the name of the friend whom he helped in the transaction.

"I have been in York many times since I moved away," Smith said. "I have visited my daughter, who is living with her grandfather, and many of my friends there have visited me in this city, so it is very apparent that I have not been in hiding all these years."

The fact that a warrant had been issued in Pennsylvania for Smith's arrest created a profound sensation among the Court House Commissioner's personal and political friends in Hudson county.

Mayor H. Otto Wittpenn of Jersey City declared he had no hesitation in saying that he believed Smith to be innocent of the charges against him.

"I could take it upon myself," he said, "to ask all my friends to withhold judgment until this whole affair can be thoroughly sifted. It seems significant that this whole matter should be ventilated after a wait of twelve years."

Robert Davis, Democratic leader of Hudson county, said that he believed that somebody in York with an old grudge against Smith was trying to get back at him. Smith formerly dabbled in politics there.

YORK, Pa., Nov. 19.—W. E. Smith, the Jersey City politician who was indicted in this city for forgeries which aggregate about $1,400, arrived in this city to-night accompanied by Detective Oscar Stoner. He came of his own volition and with his family engaged a suite of rooms at the Colonial Hotel, the finest hostelry in the city. He says that there has been a mistake in the charges lodged against him, which he will explain to the satisfaction of all concerned to-morrow. He refused to discuss the charges to-night.

HENRY J. TATTERSALL KILLED.

He Was Father-in-Law of Postmaster Morgan and a Railroad Conductor.

Henry J. Tattersall, father-in-law of Postmaster Edward M. Morgan, was struck by a passenger train at the High Bridge station of the New York Central Railroad yesterday morning and killed. Mr. Tattersall was 72 years old and a veteran conductor on the New York and Putnam Railroad. His train was standing at the station and Mr. Tattersall started to cross over to the west platform. He was run down by a southbound passenger train.

Engineer James Harvey, a friend of Mr. Tattersall, who was in charge of the oncoming train, brought the cars to a stop. Mr. Tattersall was thrown twenty feet. Several members of his train crew saw the accident. Harvey backed his train up and assisted in picking up the body. Dr. Riley of Fordham Hospital found that Mr. Tattersall had been badly crushed and said that death must have been instantaneous. Corner Schwaneke decided that Harvey was not to blame for the accident.

Mr. Tattersall had been a conductor for forty-five years, and in the employ of the New York and Putnam Railroad in that capacity for twenty-eight years. The body was removed to the Morgan residence at 613 West 146th street, where Mr. Tattersall had made his home.

It was said that Mr. Morgan's condition is very encouraging. He is able to sit up for a time each day and his doctors feel confident that he will be out by the first of the month.
