Live Stock Market.

FRIDAY, Jan. 22.

Receipts of beeves were 1,557 head, including 65 cars for slaughterers and 19 for the market, making with the cattle held over yesterday 28 cars on sale. The market was badly demoralized at a general decline of 10@15c. on everything but thin cows, which were in light supply and steady. About 8 cars were held over. Fair to extra steers sold at $4.90@$5.50 per 100 lbs.; bulls at $3.75@$4.60, cows at $2.15@$4.25. Dressed beef was dull and weak at 8@10c. per lb. Liverpool and London cables quoted live cattle steady at 13½@13¾c. per lb., dressed weight; refrigerator beef selling at 10½@10¾c. per lb. Exports to-day, none; to-morrow, 4,915 quarters of beef.

Receipts of calves were 393 head, including 251 for butchers and 142 for the market, making with the state stock 258 on sale. Veals were weak; barnyard calves nominal; Westerns not wanted and the carload in the pens had not been sold at a late hour. Common to prime veals sold at $6@$10 per 100 lbs.; culls at $4; Indiana calves at $4.75@$6. Dressed calves weak at 8@13c. per lb. for city dressed veals and 7½@13½c. for country dressed.

Receipts of sheep and lambs were 1,627 head, including 4 cars for slaughterers and 4 for the market, making with the state stock 15½ cars on sale. Sheep were weak; lambs very slow and 10@15c. lower, and half the stock was likely to be carried over. Common to prime sheep sold at $3.50@$4.75 per 100 lbs.; wethers at $5.25; medium to prime lambs at $6.50@$7.45, with $7.25 the general top price; culls at $5. Dressed mutton weak at 6@10c. per lb.; dressed lambs at 10½@13c.; country dressed hothouse lambs full steady at $11@$12.50 per carcass.

Receipts of hogs were 3630 head, including 1 car for slaughterers and 18 for the market. Nominally weak. No sales reported up to 4 late hour. Country dressed hogs unchanged.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

FRIDAY, Jan. 22.

The same improving tendency in security prices as that noticed yesterday continued to prevail in the stock market to-day during the first two hours of the Stock Exchange session. Then after the usual midday interval of dulness the market developed weakness so that all the earlier gains were lost and net recessions were commonly substituted in their place. It must be confessed that such a result had been rather uniformly prophesied by the more experienced observers, their sceptical views as to the permanency of the rise being largely based upon the fact that the advance in the market centred mostly upon a relatively small number of stocks and that the strength shown in these particular quarters did not induce buying of the list of stocks as a whole. Indeed the rise in the morning to-day was practically centred upon two stocks, the American Cotton Oil common and United States Steel common shares. The first named stock has been moving upward in a distinct way for some time past because, so far as generally understood, of improving prospects for the American Cotton Oil Company's business that have been especially heightened in recent weeks by an unfavorable prognosis for the season's olive oil crop in Italy which if borne out will naturally cause larger purchases of the American product. The sudden starting up into life of the United States Steel common shares in the last few days is admittedly more or less of a market mystery. Reason for it is certainly not to be found in any brightening of the outlook for the iron and steel business, for the tenor of all reports from trade centres is to the effect that business in iron and steel does not show any quickening although still holding in a fair, average volume. The explanation commonly heard, therefore, to-day for the strength of the Steel stocks was that the proposed reduction of the tariff on iron and steel would not be as severe as has been anticipated. It would surprise no one if the next rumor on the subject was that after all a drastic cut in the iron and steel duties was meditated, and it is manifest that from now on constant and varying reports of this kind will be a factor in the security market. What did become clear in the case of United States Steel common stock was, however, that after its rise was carried to-day somewhat beyond yesterday's closing figure a large amount of stock was offered for sale at the current quotation. This led to a cessation of that urgent buying that had previously been in evidence, and in the decline in the Steel stocks that followed the rest of the market shared.

There were those, however, who attributed to-day's reaction in prices to reports here that subscribers to that portion of the new Russian loan set apart for London had been allotted 44 per cent. of their subscriptions—this being a larger amount than it had been supposed they would receive—and that the new loan was already selling at a discount of one-eighth of 1 per cent. in the English market. This was in decided contradiction to other reports received from Paris that the French portion of the Russian loan was selling at a premium of 2 per cent.; and in banking circles to-day no other opinion was expressed but that the Russian borrowing would be concluded as satisfactorily as had at any time been thought. Here, as in all the great financial centres of the world, every indication to-day was of increasing monetary ease. It was said that a loan of $1,000,000 had been made for a year by a Western institution at a 3 per cent. rate, and it is admitted that time money for the longer periods can be had at concessions from rates heretofore quoted. The local banks continue to gain money in such large sums from the interior that their net cash gain from all sources in the week, as shown in to-morrow's bank statement, was estimated to-day as being between $9,000,000 and $12,000,000. As presumably the trust companies are still pursuing their policy of transferring loans to the banks in preparation for the fulfilment of the conditions of the new law as to reserves becoming operative on February 1, it is probable that the loan account of the banks in to-morrow's Clearing House return will be increased; but there is no doubt that the bank surplus will again be heavily enlarged. There was no change of importance to-day in sterling exchange rates either here or abroad, and the real news of the day was practically limited to the announcement of the successful and instantaneous distribution to investors of one or two large bond issues.

THE CURB MARKET.

The further decline in the quotations for copper metal was responsible for continued heaviness in the stocks of copper companies in the curb market to-day, which, with a resumption of active buying of the shares of the Standard Milling Company, furnished the only features of the day's trading. Standard Milling common sold up to 20 and the preferred as high as 52, a net advance in each case of about 5 points in the last three business days. The prosperous condition of the company's business at the present time was the only reason advanced in explanation. Cumberland-Ely was again notably firm, but Giroux reacted. Bay State Gas was higher. Transactions in detail in the market to-day were as follows:
