GREAT PLAY FOR GOLF TITLE

M. G. A. CHAMPION SUCCUMBS TO C. H. BROWN.

Stubbornly Played Match Goes to the Twenty-second Hole Before Veteran Is Defeated—Travers Defeats Tiffany, While White Puts Out Douglas.

Two hard rounds of match play made serious inroads on the thirty-two qualifiers in the Metropolitan Golf Association championship tournament continued over the links of the Morris County Golf Club yesterday. Champions past and present looked horns, with the inevitable result that favorites had to fall. Among these was Walter Travis of Garden City, the M. G. A. title holder, forced to succumb to C. H. Brown of Yonkers in a stirring contest carried to the twenty-second green.

Earlier in the day that old war horse Findlay Douglas was swept aside by the brilliant of Gardner White, the Oakland lad, who a short time ago gained the interscholastic title. Then there was Gilman P. Tiffany, the medallist of the qualifying round, who after three fine circuits of the links shot his bolt and proved rather easy for Jerome Travers. John Ward also won two good matches, as did Max Behr, the New Jersey champion; Fred Herreshoff of Westbrook, A. F. Kammer, the Staten Island champion, and E. M. Wild of Cranford.

Although defeated in the afternoon Charles B. Macdonald of ideal links fame covered himself with glory earlier in the day by downing Robert C. Watson. Macdonald reeled off a 76, good enough to beat the U. S. G. A. secretary to the tune of 2 up and 1 to play.

The large gallery which trooped out in the afternoon was treated to a double entertainment, as the Travers-Tiffany match immediately preceded the one between Travis and Brown. Because of the tendency of the last named toward occasional wildness few believed he would be able to take the measure of the redoubtable Garden City veteran. Travis, however, showed that he was human by slicing his opening drive out of bounds, which cost him the first hole. He immediately squared accounts with a fine two at the second and then went along in good figures so that going to the eighth hole he stood one up. There Brown squared the match, and supplementing this with a three at the ninth, a stroke under par, the Hudson River champion turned for home one up. Both had gone out in 37.

There was never any doubt of the outcome of the tenth hole, where Travis drove the green and won it in 3. Brown's drive had been sliced to the rough and he took 5. A fine 4 at the eleventh made Travis 1 up and later, by winning the sixteenth hole, the veteran became dormy 2. With two short holes remaining Brown's chances of pulling the match out of the fire seemed slim enough, but the young man from Yonkers showed commendable nerve by winning both in perfect 3s. Travis taking 4s. That squared the match and sent the pair to the nineteenth green.

They halved the first extra hole in 4, but going to the twentieth Travis gave himself a lot to do when his drive over the punchbowl barely reached the edge of the green. He laid his second up some three yards short of the pin, while Brown on the like got much closer. Travis rimmed the cup on his try for a 3 and the ball came to rest so close to the edge that Brown did not dare to go for the hole for fear of knocking his opponent's ball in, consequently Brown played to one side and contented himself with a halve in 4. Good drives and approaches to the third green left each a chance for a 3, but they missed their puts and another halve in 4 resulted.

Over the railroad to the fourth hole, which proved to be the decisive one of the match, both got good drives, but Travis pulled his second shot to the rough, while Brown made the edge of the green on the like. Travis recovered well and laid his fourth shot stone dead. After his approach put Brown had one of about eight feet to negotiate to win the hole and match, which he brought off with a coolness that would have done credit to Travis himself even in his palmiest days. The card read as follows:

Brown—out	4	5	4	4	5	3	4	4	3—37
Travis—out	5	2	4	5	4	4	4	5	4—37
Brown—in	5	5	4	5	4	6	3	5	3—40—77
Travis—in	3	4	4	5	5	5	4	4	4—38—75

Extra holes—Brown, 4 4 4 4; Travis, 4 4 4 5.

Though far from brilliant, the match between Travers and Tiffany served to hold the interest of the gallery for a long time. The pair halved the first seven holes, most unusual in a contest between two strong players. Both had chances to break this sequence of halves, but they failed to take advantage of their opportunities. Tiffany, who had been driving beautifully in his other matches, suddenly became erratic, topping his tee shot to the railroad at the fourth and again at the sixth. On both occasions, however, he managed to halve with the Montclair man when the latter missed short puts.

The first hole of the match to be won was the eighth, where Tiffany drove into one of the pits to the right of the fairway. The stroke lost there was never regained, Travers taking the hole in a par 4 to Tiffany's 5. Going to the ninth Travers left himself only a yard put for a 3, which he missed, but won the hole anyway when Tiffany failed to get his 4. That made Travers 1 up at the turn, the cards reading 39 to 41 in his favor.

It was ragged golf coming home, first one then the other being guilty of some sort of a mistake. Travers continued to pot raggedly, and toward the last Tiffany seemed to catch the fever and did likewise. On the sixteenth green, the decisive one of the match, Travers missed a put of less than a yard for a 4. Tiffany's ball lay an equal distance away from the hole, and it looked a certainty that he would run his put down for a 4 and continue the match at least another hole. The Newburgh man missed by a hair's breadth, so that the hole was halved in 5, leaving Travers the winner by a 3 and 2 margin.

Had the bye holes been played out both would have taken considerably more than 80 for the round. This was a vivid contrast to Tiffany's fine 74 in the morning at the expense of D. H. McAlpin 2d.

Herreshoff began the day by defeating Oswald Kirkby of Englewood. Though the pair were never far apart, Herreshoff generally maintained an advantage, turning for home 2 up and winning by 2 up and 1 to play. Later on the Westbrook man had a rather easy match with P. H. R. Freuthuysen of the home club. Herreshoff won by 5 up and 3 to play, and had he finished out the bye holes he would have had a good chance for a 75.

Ward, after trailing most of the way, beat Clifford Dunning of Nassau on the home green in the first round. Later Ward defeated Macdonald in a fairly close match. Had Macdonald not started badly the chances are he would have made it interesting for the old baseball player, as the former champion came home like a wild horse in 35.

As the situation now stands the survivors will meet in the third round this morning as follows: Ward vs. White, Brown vs. Herreshoff, Travers vs. Behr and Wild vs. Kammer.

WOLLASTON, Mass., May 26.—Neither Miss F. C. Osgood nor Mrs. E. C. Wheeler, Jr., had any difficulty in winning their matches in the championship division of the Women's Golf Association meeting at the Wollaston Golf Club this morning, the former defeating Miss C. E. Morrill by 6 and 5 and the latter defeating Miss K. F. Duncan by 7 and 5.

The championship final match therefore will be played to-morrow morning between Miss Osgood and Mrs. Wheeler, both of whom have been previous winners of the title, Mrs. Wheeler, then Miss M. B. Adams, having won the title at Oakley last year and also at Wollaston in 1902, while Miss Osgood won the laurels at Oakley in 1903 and again in 1904 at Wollaston.

In the bogey competition to-day Mrs. E. F. Aldrich of Brae Burn with handicap of 18 was the winner, finishing 5 up on the Colonel.

HOPPE BILLIARD CHAMPION.

He Defeats Cline by 500 to 394 for 18.2 Title.

William F. Hoppe won the billiard match for the 18.2 balk line championship last night, defeating H. P. Cline of Philadelphia. The match was played in the concert hall of the New York Theatre, which was crowded with lovers of the game. Alfred de Oro was referee. The game was very closely contested until the last few innings and then Hoppe got in a few fair sized runs, one of which was 83, and ran out in the twenty-eighth inning. Both men played good billiards and the result was in doubt throughout the game. Hoppe played an open game until toward the end, when he gathered the balls neatly and showed some clever nursing. Cline played an open game and was particularly strong at single cushion shots.

Hoppe won the bank but failed to count, and Cline also retired without scoring. At his second effort Cline made a good run of 30, all cleverly executed shots. In his fourth inning Hoppe coaxed the ivories all around the table and scored 71, falling on a long follow. He made 19 more in his next inning, failing on a draw. In his half of this inning Cline made 15 and the scores were Hoppe 91, Cline 45.

Hoppe next ran 11 and failed to drive out or balk. This he followed with the high run of the game, 84, mostly made at open play, with a few occasional nursing shots. Cline in his eighth inning made a run of 66, failing on a single cushion shot. He followed this with a run of 15 and then ran 15. These runs decreased Hoppe's lead and the scores at the tenth inning were Hoppe, 180; Cline, 173.

Hoppe made a few small runs and then added 63 buttons to his string, failing on a spread draw, and this made the totals at the fifteenth inning, Hoppe, 289; Cline, 199. In his six next innings Hoppe could only make 6, while Cline, settling down to steady work, gave some clever exhibitions. He ran 18, 9, and then followed in order runs of 40, 52 and 30, so that at the twentieth inning the score stood, Cline, 342; Hoppe, 295. Cline had taken the lead with his run of 52, and one shot, a brilliant single cushion, called forth lots of applause.

In the twenty-third inning Hoppe ran 33 and Cline 38, and then Hoppe settled down to close billiards. He ran 17 while Cline made 7. In his twenty-fifth inning Hoppe ran 83 and Cline added only 2 to his string, and with runs of 32 and 34 Hoppe ran out the game.

The summaries:

W. A. Hoppe—0, 0, 1, 71, 19, 2, 0, 1, 1, 84, 6, 15, 1, 15, 63, 5, 0, 0, 3, 0, 6, 32, 17, 83, 32, 0, 34. Total, 500. Average, 17.24 29. High runs, 84, 83, 71.

ILYS PROBABLE WINNER.

Motor Boats Off Jupiter Inlet, With Berneyo Leading.

JUPITER INLET, Fla., May 26.—Three of the motor boats racing to Havana from Philadelphia passed here this afternoon. The Berneyo, owned by S. W. Granbery, was in the lead, just three hours ahead of the Ilys, and the Caliph was not far astern of the Ilys. Nothing was seen of the Caroline, and she may be ahead or behind this trio.

It was expected that the leaders would pass here early this morning, judging from the speed shown by the Ilys as far as Fryingpan Shoals, where she was reported at 5.40 A. M. on Tuesday. She had then maintained a speed of 8 nautical miles an hour, but after passing that point she may have experienced some rough weather of the Gulf Stream current may have set her back more than was expected. It is thought now that the Berneyo will reach the finishing line between the Morro and La Punta at Havana some time near midnight to-morrow. It is 277 miles from Jupiter Inlet to Havana, and it should take about thirty-four hours to make that distance.

With only a lead of 3 hours the Berneyo has not got the race won yet. She has to allow the Ilys, which is the smallest yacht in the race, 7 hours 28 minutes, so that she has to make up 4 hours 28 minutes in the distance, yet remaining to be covered. This is hardly possible and up to Jupiter Inlet the Ilys seems to have the race won.

COLLEGE MEN CONFER.

Defer Action on Cross-Country Meet Talk of the Games.

PHILADELPHIA, May 26.—A long drawn out meeting of the executive and advisory committees of the I. C. A. A. A. A. was held to-night in the Bellevue-Stratford. The chief business was considering the place and date for the Intercollegiate cross-country run next fall. Harvard suggested Cambridge for the Friday before the Harvard-Yale football game and Princeton offered its course for the morning of the Yale-Princeton game. Massachusetts Tech was willing to take the meet any time. There will be no decision until Saturday afternoon next. There were no protests and the only thing else done was to draw for positions in the various races.

Those present were: Hugh K. Gilmour, Princeton, president; E. H. MacKenzie, Columbia, treasurer, and Andrew I. Tenevyck, New York University, secretary of the I. C. A. A. A. A. John R. Kilpatrick, Yale, representing M. W. Griggs; A. C. Hastings, Jr., Cornell; R. B. Burns, Jr., Pennsylvania, and L. M. Little, Harvard, of the executive committee, and G. T. Kirby, Columbia; Romeyn Berry, Cornell, and Thornton Gerrish, Harvard, of the advisory committee.

Kilpatrick will only put the shot to-morrow. He will not broad jump. It is likely Foster of Harvard will run both dashes, and if so Gardner will not go in the hundred. Manager Little said to-night only Pooch Donovan knew what would be done and he wasn't telling.

There isn't so much feeling of surety to-night that Penn will win the intercollegiates. Harvard, with Foster back, is more than threatening.

Leland S. Scott, the Pacific coast pole vaulter who has done 12 feet 10 3-16 inches, will have a chance to tackle Frank T. Nelson, the Yale captain, who has done 12 feet 6½ inches. They will clash at the New York A. C. games on June 11. Nelson has heard Scott will be there and he's willing to meet him.

To Meet for Recreation.

A mass meeting will be held to-night at Cooper Union in the interest of recreation needs in New York. Representatives of all bodies identified with athletics, playgrounds and kindred movements will be present, and one of the largest gatherings of its kind is expected.

The meeting will be held under the auspices of the Amateur Athletic Union, Parks and Playgrounds Association, Public Education Association, Public Schools Athletic League, Girls Branch P. S. A. L., Women's Municipal League, Big Brothers Movement, Committee on Amusements and Vacation Resources for Working Girls, playgrounds Committee of Brooklyn League, playground committee of Municipal Arts Society, Outdoor Recreation League, Young Men's Hebrew Association and Catholic Athletic League. Among the speakers will be J. A. Riis, Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick, James E. Sullivan, Gen. George W. Wingate, Assemblyman Frederick R. Toombs, Mrs. Charles H. Israels and the Rev. F. J. Sullivan.

College Athletics.

Hammond, the Michigan hurdler, broke down the arch of his left foot and won't be able to compete further.

Manhattan has a pitcher of ability in Nugent. In a game against Villanova he allowed one hit and struck out twenty one men. He also is a strong basketball player.

And after all, they say now, Foster is going to run both sprints for Harvard. If he's fit the dope will have to be revised.

KING JAMES RUNS FAST MILE

WINS VAN CORTLANDT HANDICAP WITH 129 POUNDS.

Qualifies for the Toronto Cup and Beats Priscillian—Antenor, Grandpa, Warbler, King Olympian and Bob R. Also Successful at Belmont Park Races.

King James, S. C. Hildreth's five-year-old Plaudit horse, qualified for the Toronto Cup yesterday when he stepped a mile in the fast time of 1:37 4-5, and won the Van Cortlandt Handicap at Belmont Park in a gallop. He picked up 129 pounds and with Shilling up he followed the pace set by August Belmont's Priscillian to the middle of the far turn. Then Shilling took King James through on the rail and reaching the stretch Hildreth's horse breezed away from Priscillian to beat him by four lengths. Zienap was third, a length and a half back, with Wise Mason five lengths back. Former winners were Oxford, Aeronaut, Ben Ban, Lawrence P. Daley and Harrigan.

Energetic riding by Shilling enabled G. W. Berry's Antenor, a fine looking son of Solitaire II., to win the opening race for maiden two-year-old colts, five furlongs, straightaway. F. A. Forsythe's Colston, a big colt by Fillgrane—Commena, made the running right up to the last few jumps, where Antenor got up to beat him a head in 1:01. R. T. Wilson, Jr.'s, Amalfi, by The Scribe—Tarantella, was third, five lengths back.

Grandpa, ridden confidently by Mr. H. S. Page, made a show of Jimmie Lane, Allen up, in the steeplechase at about two and a half miles. He led all the way and won by fifty lengths in 5:42.

Warbler, a son of Garry Herrmann—Penury, owned by the Quincy Stable, led from start to finish in the third race for maiden two-year-old fillies and geldings, four and a half furlongs, straightaway, and won by a length and a half in 0:54. R. T. Wilson, Jr.'s, Mystic River, by Yankee—Ocean tide, always the contender, took the place by four lengths from August Belmont's Nisi, a filly by Octagon—Niminy. The time was 0:54.

W. F. Schulte's King Olympian, with Dugan on the alert at the barrier, got away flying in the fifth race for three-year-olds, six furlongs, main course, and was never caught. He led by six lengths on the turn, but the advantage was cut down to a length at the wire by H. R. Brandt's Big Stick, who closed with a gallant rush. The Quincy Stable's Everett, the favorite, had very little speed and was a poor third. The time was 1:14 1-5.

Bob R., running for the first time in the colors of the Beverwyck Stable, was the winner of the last race for platers at a mile and a sixteenth. He moved up on the rail at the head of the stretch and won easily by three lengths in 1:45. H. F. Carman's Sir Cleges, the favorite, after a rough journey, finished in the place, a length before R. T. Wilson, Jr.'s, Falcada, who made the early pace. Petronius, a head out of the way, quit at the last quarter pole.

Sir Montagu Allen and Mr. Colin Campbell of the Montreal Jockey Club were visitors. The summaries:

The stake feature for Belmont Park to-day is the Cosmopolitan Handicap, one mile and a sixteenth, with Fitz Herbert, Olambala and Dorante probable factors. In the first race, for two-year-olds, four and a half furlongs, Novelty should have no trouble beating Textile and Ben Lomond. KILLED FOR PULLING HORSE.

Bookmakers Shoot Jockey After Finish of Race.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

BUCHAREST, May 26.—Jockey Gallas was shot and killed by infuriated bookmakers during the races at Braila yesterday. In one of the events it was noticed by everybody that Gallas was pulling the horse on which he had the mount. THE REAL ESTATE MARKET

HOTEL PIERREPONT BRINGS $440,000 AT AUCTION.

It Is in Thirty-second Street, Near Fifth Avenue, and Went to the D. A. Cushman Realty Corporation—Sale of a Fine Building Site in Thirteenth Street

Yesterday was another quiet day in the real estate market. Even the Fifth avenue brokers, who were doing a good business until a week ago, are beginning to complain of scarcity of inquiries. About the only transaction of any consequence yesterday was the sale of the Pierrepont in the Vesey street auction room. The D. A. Cushman Realty Corporation paid $440,000 for the hotel, which is a twelve story structure at No. 43 to 47 West Thirty-second street, on a plot 59x98.9, between Fifth avenue and Broadway. The property was offered at voluntary sale by Auctioneer Joseph P. Day. Bidding was started at $400,000 and the property was struck down after eight bids had been made.
