WAITING FOR CHEAP IRON.

Temporary Stagnation in Pittsburg District—Furnaces Out of Blast.

PITTSBURG, June 25.—With stories of the shading of No. 2 foundry iron below the $14.50 minimum amply confirmed in late sales for forward deliveries, and with bessemer quoted flatly at $15.50 for prompt and $15.75 for future deliveries, large curtailment in pig iron production in Pittsburg and valley territories is promised during the next fortnight. There are heavy inquiries in this market for both steel making and foundry grades of iron, but buyers want prices that valley makers cannot meet, except those using their own ores. Pittsburg and the valleys have become the shipping ground for the entire West, which wants cheap iron. The fact that bargain metal is being taken up rapidly augurs well for better prices soon. A large part of the trade has not yet closed for its third quarter iron.

The new inquiries in this market for steel making irons at the close of the week included the Oliver plough interests, which want 12,000 tons of bessemer and basic for third quarter delivery at South Bend, Ind. The Oliver interests formerly took their iron from Toledo and Chicago, but came into this territory expecting to get low prices. A Pittsburg district interest wants 5,000 tons of basic. Scattering inquiries for bessemer and basic probably aggregate 10,000 tons.

The Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Company, which closed a week ago for 14,000 tons of foundry and forge irons for third quarter, is in the market for 10,000 tons additional for fourth quarter. Negotiations were originally opened with Southern producers, but these have been abandoned and Northern iron will be purchased. Three sales of prompt and third quarter foundry iron were made during the week aggregating 2,200 tons, all at $14.50 furnace.

Eight furnaces in Pittsburg and valleys districts will go out of blast within the coming week. This is practically half the merchant capacity of this territory.

Crude steel producers admit that contracting for third quarter is still disappointingly light. Some consumers are holding off expecting some drop in crude steel. One of the largest sellers in this district is said to have less than two months output actually engaged beginning July 1. In view of this situation it would not be surprising if there was some softening of crude steel prices early in the coming quarter. Prices on semi-finished material were generally upheld the past week, the price minimum of $25.50 mill on bessemer billets being slightly shaded on one or two small prompt sales.

Structural prices are admittedly softer, some of the mills in this section having considerable unengaged capacity in the third quarter. Shapes have been shaded $2 and even $3 and plates have sold at $2 off the accepted market. Mills are preparing for considerable curtailment in crude steel, shapes and plates during July, while merchant steel mills and the tin plate trade will run practically without interruption.
