SOMETHING ABOUT THE BREEDING OF THE $30,000 BASHTI.

Her Grandsire Was Flying Fox, Winner of the Triple Crown, Who Was Sold for $187,500—Adam, His Son, Brought $80,000—Can She Win the Futurity?

[illegible] at Saratoga last Saturday [illegible] to the interest in the [illegible] Wednesday at the Spa. One [illegible] Bashti to H. P. Whitney [illegible] the other, the gallant victory [illegible] the Honeful Stakes. It is a [illegible] which of these two-year olds [illegible] for the great race, though [illegible] opinion among the horsemen [illegible] toward Bashti. She will carry [illegible] while Novelty must take up 127.

[illegible] would pay $30,000 for a [illegible] at this time naturally created [illegible] sensation, even if Bashti [illegible] the best of her sex that [illegible] developed for some years. But [illegible] from a line on her sire's side [illegible] in big turf transactions in [illegible] sire, Adam, cost $80,000 when [illegible] importation to this country and [illegible] brought the highest price [illegible] horse at auction in the history [illegible]

[illegible] was Flying Fox, by [illegible] Vampire. He was bred by the [illegible] Westminster at Eaton Stud [illegible] colors. He was the great [illegible] winning the Two Thousand [illegible] and St. Leger, a triumvirate [illegible] old classics known in England [illegible] Crown. This was in 1899, [illegible] the St. Leger the Duke of [illegible] and in December of that [illegible] was sold by auction [illegible] Blanc bought Flying Fox for [illegible] price of $187,500. The horse was [illegible] stud in France, and the first of [illegible] included Ajax, who was never [illegible] and covernant, who after a brilliant [illegible] was sold for $100,000 to head a [illegible] stud in Europe.

[illegible] second crop of Flying Fox to race [illegible] Jardy, Valdor and Adam, the latter [illegible] to Ajax and the sire of Bashti. [illegible] horses made practically a clean sweep [illegible] two-year-old fixtures in France, [illegible] being the least prominent of the [illegible] though he won the only two races in [illegible] run. The following year Jardy [illegible] to England, where he ran second [illegible] Esseborn's Cicero for the Derby. [illegible] after this sickness broke out in the [illegible] stable and Adam was retired to the [illegible]

[illegible] season in the stud in France, [illegible] which he sired Marsa, one of the best [illegible] old fillies racing there now. [illegible] purchased by Francis C. Bishop [illegible] brought to this country. The [illegible] get in this country are now two- [illegible] and in addition to Bashti he has [illegible] other good winners.

[illegible] dam of Bashti, is by [illegible] of Vantage and was bred at [illegible] Stud in Kentucky. She won five [illegible] of which were stakes. Bashti [illegible] foal. The first two were [illegible] of in a racing way, but Me- [illegible] Sanders now a three-year-old, [illegible] of races last year for Thomas [illegible]

[illegible] of Bashti for the English [illegible] year undoubtedly was a factor [illegible] in, but it is possible for her new [illegible] another on this year and in this [illegible] In addition to the Futurity Bashti [illegible] for the Matron Stakes, to be run [illegible] this fall, which will be worth about [illegible] to the winner. She looks to be an [illegible] for the filly end of this [illegible] good.

[illegible] Futurity will be worth about $25,000 [illegible] winner, so as racehorse investments [illegible] at $20,000 may not be accounted [illegible] If Bashti should win the [illegible] she will be the sixth filly to land [illegible] such turf prize.

[illegible] after Continuo defeated S. C. H. [illegible] Hampton Court for a head in the [illegible] Handicap at Lewiston, Hildreth met [illegible] Avenue in the paddock. Said Hildreth:

"My horse would have won that race if he had been ridden by Shilling. Don't you think there should be a rule allowing a jockey suspended by the starter to ride in races for his employer?

"I do not," replied the Jockey Club's chairman. "On the turf all persons should be treated alike. An owner of good horses is entitled to no more consideration than a poor turfman with a few cheap horses. I do not favor any such rule, but believe there should be an improvement in the method of conducting the races, especially the inspection of them. We should have more patrol judges and the men who review the races should have good eyesight. For the best interests of the turf they cannot be too closely watched."

DUDIE ARCHDALE BEATEN.

Joan Beats Favorite in Windup at Empire City.

Leftwhich, the bay pacing filly, by Moko, which L. V. Harkness nominated for the Matron Futurity, won in straight heats at the closing of the Grand Circuit meeting at Empire City Park yesterday afternoon with nothing close enough to make her extend herself. Leftwhich drew the pole and she never relinquished it from start to finish. A John R. Gentry filly called Niel Gentry finished in second place, but at no stage of the game was she close enough to make the race exciting. Clem Beachey, Jr., had a bay colt, Tommy T., entered, but Tommy did not have to be reckoned with as he just managed to get inside the flag, which if it had fallen the fraction of a second earlier would have shut Tommy T. out of third money in the final heat. A silver trophy valued at $250 was presented to L. V. Harkness as the nominator of the winner of the Matron Futurity.

Eleven entries and an added starter made up a good field in the 2:25 trotting class for the Bonner Memorial stakes. The real race was between Dudie Archdale, the favorite, and the Directum Spier mare Joan. Dudie Archdale took the pole almost at the getaway and Joan trailed her all the way until the two had turned into the homestretch, when Joan reached even terms and passed her fleet adversary a few feet from the finish.

In the second heat Dudie again took the lead and showed the way from the start to finish. Arlo Leyburn, who finished in third position in the first heat was second all the way until a break threw him out of the running and Joan, who was right at his heels, took second place again. In a neck and neck finish which looked like a dead heat Joan won in 2:11, from Dudie Archdale. Arlo Leyburn was forced to divide third money with Capt. George, who finished third in the second heat to Arlo Leyburn's score of 2:6. The first half of the first heat was in 1:05, and the final half at a 2:10 clip, which shut out Ben Cameron and Fred Hopes, an added starter.

While the Abbe did not appear to be in his usual form yesterday it was no difficult matter for him to beat Branham Baughman, who was his only opponent. Branham might have gone a faster mile if he had been driven a shorter mile, but Mr. Cox appeared to think that the longest way round was the shortest way home, and he was never within two lengths of the favorite in the first heat.

He paced neck and neck with The Abbe in the second heat until they turned into the homestretch and finished closer, in 2:07, than he had done in the opening heat, five seconds slower.

The track was in good condition and the only apparent effect which the rain had on the meeting was to reduce the attendance to about half of what it was the first day of the meeting.

FAIRY TENNIS.

Schultzberg, Champion of Berlin, Plays Well in Riverside Tournament.

The best match in yesterday's session of the Riverside tennis tournament occurred in the third round between Paul Schultzberg, the champion of Berlin, and T. Sheldon, a local player. Schultzberg serves the ball in the real European fashion, that is he throws the sphere up high and then gives it a straight wallop across the net. In this style he is pretty accurate, and this with a strong backhand return and good forehand chop points make him a player of more than ordinary calibre.

Sheldon led off in the opening set, but after a while Schultzberg steadied himself and made the tally 3 all. The German had the upper hand afterward and secured the set at 6. It was game and game in the second set, Schultzberg having a little the better of it right through, and he finally won at 6-3. The victory put him in the fourth round. Others to reach that round were the Rev. Edgar A. Lowther, J. P. Sammis and I. J. Dreyfus. The summary:

Men's Singles, first round: R. H. Baggs defeated H. W. Clark, 6-3, 6-4; H. King defeated H. Shamberg, 9-7, 6-3; J. Tounsteine defeated H. W. Holbrook, 6-3, 2-6, 6-4.

Second Round: T. Levy defeated R. Brown, 6-3, 7-5; G. W. Sailinger defeated F. H. Ehrich, 4-6, 6-3, 7-5; R. H. Baggs defeated M. A. Berg, 6-2, 8-6; T. Sheldon defeated J. F. Troutsteine, 6-2, 6-4; E. P. H. Anderson defeated A. Ballard, by default; A. Scheffer defeated W. Duffy, 6-0, 6-4.

Third Round: The Rev. Edgar A. Lowther defeated O. Ottenberg, 6-0, 6-1; P. Schultzberg defeated T. Sheldon, 6-4, 6-3; J. P. Sammis defeated G. F. Holbrook, 7-5, 6-2; I. J. Dreyfus defeated A. Scheffer, 7-5, 6-3, 6-1.

FIGHT WITH QUICK FINISH.

Morris Harris Settles Overby in Two Rounds.

Tom Overby, a colored heavyweight from the State of Pennsylvania, was knocked out at the National Sporting Club in the second round of what was scheduled to be a ten round affair by Morris Harris, another colored heavyweight.

In the opening round of the go the Pennsylvania man, who was a full head over his dusky rival, started out like a winner, but Harris went at his man in the second round and soon put a finish to the short bout. It was exciting while it lasted.

Harris started the first round by placing a hard left to the body. Overby jabbed to the face with a right as they clinched. On the break Harris sent his left to the jaw and Overby forced him to the ropes. Overby then put a right and left to the body.

In the second round Overby put a right to the stomach and Harris came back with a short uppercut to the chin. Overby sent a volley of left and right swings to the head. Harris returned them with a left on the jaw which sent Overby to the floor. After he regained his feet after a count of six, Harris forced him down again with a terrific right to the jaw and after the count of eight Harris put Overby down and out for the final count with another right on the jaw. Overby falling heavily on his face in the centre of the ring.

Ancient Order of Hibernian Games.

The Ancient Order of Hibernians of New York county will hold its annual games to-morrow afternoon at Celtic Park, where a good programme has been arranged. Chief among the attractions will be the appearance of Wilton Paull of the New York A. C., at present doped to be the fastest distance man in America. He will start in the mile run. Harry Gissing, another New York A. C. man and the metropolitan half mile champion, will have a cut at his favorite distance. John Daly, the ever popular Galway man, has been training for some time and will try for the three mile run. Spirited running will no doubt result in the six yard relay closed to the Catholic Athletic League, as there are seven teams entered. There will be a number of matches at Gaelic hurling and football, and those who enthuse over Irish dancing will be catered to with contests in the jig, hornpipe and single time.

New York A. C. Annual Regatta To-day.

The New York A. C. will hold its annual club regatta this afternoon at Travers Island. The programme will consist of about half a dozen events, the most interesting to be the single sculls handicap Durando Miller, the club's champion, will be the scratch man, and he will allow liberal starts to such men as Kusche, Mann and Krapp. In addition to the rowing events there will be a handicap diving contest between club members. Those likely to be seen in the competition are Harold Smyrk, O'Callaghan, Lee, M. Aleenan and Mullen. The rowing events will begin on the arrival of the special train from New York.

MARY DAVIS'S AMSTERDAM

WATERCRESS MARE BEATS RESTIGOUCHE IN STAKE EVENT.

Harry La Montagne Wins Two Races with Martinez and Scarpia—Stinger Takes Two-Year-Old Handicap—Hildreth Cuts Kormak Loose at Saratoga.

SARATOGA, Aug. 26.—R. H. Davis's Watercress mare Mary Davis, a strong second choice, won the Amsterdam Selling Stakes of $2,000, one mile, here to-day in a hard drive by a length. She was backed down from 8 to 5 to 11 to 10, while S. C. Hildreth's Restigouche, opening at 7 to 10, receded to even. Nimbus, who was short, led for nearly half a mile, where Restigouche took command, but when Estep got busy with Mary Davis she closed with a plucky rush and landed the wise money in 1:39. Restigouche had no trouble beating Nimbus for the place.

Harry La Montagne won two races with Martinez and Scarpia. The former, well taken at 11 to 5, was many pounds the best in the handicap for all ages, one mile. He trailed in the ruck until he hit the homestretch, where he moved up swiftly and won galloping by four lengths in 1:38. Hildreth's Firestone, 6 to 1, always up with the pace, stood a drive to beat Barleythorpe, 4 to 1, a head for the place.

Scarpia captured the second event, for three-year-olds, six furlongs. With Shilling up he caught Danfield, 7 to 2, at the last furlong pole and rolled home on the bit with two and a half lengths to spare, in 1:12 3-5. Danfield was second with a safe margin over Galley Slave, 20 to 1. Folle Levy, 4 to 5 favorite, was up to her old tricks, for when the barrier was released she bolted and was left.

Stinger, a Voter colt, backed down to 9 to 5, was successful in the handicap for two-year-olds, five and a half furlongs. He came from behind and managed to get the verdict by a head from Harry La Montagne's Gauntlet, 6 to 1, who weakened in the last few strides. J. R. Cassatt's former Keene filly Heatherbloom, 3 to 1, came from nowhere in the stretch and was third, three lengths back, at the same time beating H. P. Whitney's Stilly Night, a 40 to 1 shot, by half a length. Golden Egg, the Western filly, had some early speed. The time was 1:07.

Hildreth cut loose Kormak in the fifth race, for two-year-olds, seven furlongs, and got the coin. The colt was played down from 8 to 5 to 2. Shilling waited with him until he reached the end of the far turn, where Kormak soon joined Dr. Duenner to 1 to 2, who was in front. The latter tired and Kormak beat him a length and a half in 1:26 4-5. F. E. Hitchcock's Whin, a 25 to 1 shot, running into third place. August Belmont's Sand Hill, a lukewarm favorite, received weak handling.

John Sanford's Baron Dieskau, 5 to 1, led all the way in the last event, for maidens, at a mile, and won in a gallop by three lengths. M. Cambon backed from 20 to 1 to 1 into the place. After being interfered with and beat Frances Bay, 3 to 1, half a length, John F. Madden's Bishop, the favorite, lacked the usual speed and was badly beaten. The mile was run in 1:39 1-5. Negotiations Pending for the Sale of a New $300,000 Loft Building in West Twenty-fifth Street. A Good East Side Private Dwelling Changes Hands.

The International Congress of Improved Housing for persons of moderate means held its annual session in Vienna recently. Among the addresses was one by John Nolen, city planner, Cambridge, Mass., who went into an exhaustive study of the plan of cooperative building and loan associations, approving the methods of well managed associations in the highest terms. He said in part:

"The main benefit of building or savings and loan associations is the ready, practical and economical means which these associations afford to acquire a home of one's own. The report of the United States Department of Labor shows that the 4,444 associations from which reports were secured were the means by which 314,755 homes were acquired by their shareholders and that in addition to these the members acquired 28,459 other buildings. Here we have a means of self-help which can be easily applied almost anywhere among thrifty people. Its merits and steadily increasing contribution to the solution of the housing problem can scarcely be overestimated. The facts are convincing, and they point clearly the way to a wider and wider application of this fruitful use of the principle of cooperation. There is no philanthropy, no charity in the ordinary workings of building or savings and loan associations. They provide a straight, clean, safe, economical and well regulated business method which may outstrip charity wherever it can be applied. It is gratifying to note that the losses sustained by these associations by reason of inadequate security are not only infrequent but inconsiderable. Surrounded as these institutions are to-day by legal restrictions and regulations, it is doubtful if any other class of financial establishments renders such uniformly beneficial results to the wage worker or so perfectly meets his needs as a means of saving and home gaining."
