FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

SATURDAY, August 27.

Total transactions on the Stock Exchange to-day were less than 100,000 shares. Not since the stagnant period following the panic of 1907 has so little business been done in any market session. Moreover, to-day in only eight stocks were the transactions above 1,000 shares, and three stocks, Reading, Union Pacific and Steel common, supplied more than two-thirds of the entire turnover. Half an hour before the close there had been no sale of whole groups of stocks in which ordinarily there is considerable activity, such as the Hill stocks, Northern Pacific, Great Northern and Great Northern Ore; the southern group, Louisville and Nashville, Atlantic Coast Line and Southern Railway; Rock Island and Wabash, recently closely associated in speculation, and such important trunk lines as Erie and Baltimore and Ohio. It is doubtful if even in the stagnation following the panic there was at any time a market with such a narrow range. What little trading there was was entirely professional, with price movements in narrow range and net changes only fractional at the end. Only in the Denver and Rio Grande shares was there a price movement attracting any attention whatever, these shares advancing to the accompaniment of the publication of the company's annual report, showing surplus earnings equal to 4¼ per cent. on the common stock, as compared with 1.7 per cent. in the previous year. The grain markets were only less interesting than the security markets and price changes were inconsiderable. In cotton the August option sold up to 16.90, a new high record for the year and for the period since the Sully speculation in 1903. This spectacular movement was of course due to no deterioration in the cotton crop, but entirely to the excessive speculation in the August option, a speculation which has become all the more extravagant on the approach of the time for the retirement of August contracts.

The course of the stock market was reactionary throughout the week, with the railroad shares rather weaker than the industrials. Trading became less and less active as the week advanced. One of the most discouraging features was the subsidence of the investment demand, which last week showed some signs of a return to animation. In bonds, in which the transactions last week held out the hope of permanent improvement, the slackness of the investment demand was quite as striking as in stocks. For this deterioration in the markets the reason generally assigned was renewed political activity displayed in the seeming turn of political events in favor of Col. Roosevelt in this State, in the hearty reception accorded him on his Western trip and in President Taft's reported recommendation of further revision of the tariff. Reasons for waiting for a readjustment of complicated business and financial conditions had been abundant enough before; these political developments supplied another deterrent against purchases of securities, investors naturally determining to remain away from the markets until a reasonably correct idea can be formed as to governmental policies in the future. Weekly trade reports showed a similar disposition among business men all over the country. The satisfactory progress of the crops encouraged buying, but the political developments inspired caution in purchases. Very little business is being done for remote delivery, and the tendency of bank clearings this week has been again toward contraction. Clearings for the week showed a decrease of 18 per cent. from the corresponding week last year. In the railroad business an improvement is indicated by a decrease of 29,000 in the number of idle cars, but the decrease was principally due to the rapid movement of the grain crop to interior centres, and the car surplus is still 78,000, as compared with 38,000 in January and 14,000 in February. In money the trend of events was generally favorable throughout the week. The banks shipped $1,000,000 to Canada and much larger sums to the interior, and the tendency of time money rates was toward increased firmness, but the bank statement to-day showed a loss of but $1,601,000 in surplus reserve and a loss of but $2,416,000 in cash. The surplus reserve remains at $49,464,000, which seems to be a sum more than ample to cover all known requirements of crop moving and other business.

THE BOSTON MARKET.

BOSTON, Aug. 27.—There was a very dull market here to-day in all departments. A great many of the copper shares were not traded in at all while rails and industrials were neglected. Changes in price were confined to small fractions. The summary
