CURRENT SPORTING GOSSIP

NEW TALENT SECURED BY THE BROOKLYN CLUB.

President Ebbets Has 33 Players Under Reserve, Including Those Drafted and Purchased at an Outlay of $30,000—World's Series Regarded as a Toss Up

President Ebbets of the Brooklyn club has expressed satisfaction with the management of William Dahlen this season and will retain him in that capacity for next year. The Brooklyn magnate has paid out $30,000 for new players, drafted or purchased, and says he has made few mistakes in selecting material that will strengthen his team for the championship race of 1911. The club's reserve list, including thirty-three players, as compiled by President Ebbets yesterday, is as follows: William F. Dahlen, R. Aitchison, F. B. Barger, G. G. Bell, William Bergen, A. W. Burch, Sanford Burk, R. J. Coulson, J. P. Dalton, J. Dauber, W. A. Davidson, F. Dessau, R. E. Erwin, J. E. Hummell, Elmer Knetzer, S. A. Leroune, Edgar Lennox, J. A. Manser, F. M. McElveen, Charles L. Miller, Otto Miller, F. H. Myers, P. Ragon, Lee Quillan, G. N. Tucker, W. D. Scanlan, Wilbur Schardt, Tony Smith, M. E. Stark, Bert Tooley, Zack D. Wheat, E. D. Zimmerman and Harry Smith.

Aitchison is a left handed pitcher drafted from Wichita of the Western League. Burk is a right handed pitcher from Fort Worth of the Texas League. Coulson, an outfielder, who has been playing recently with the Brooklyns, comes from Altoona of the Tristate League. Leroune is an outfielder drafted from Evansville of the Central League. Manser, a pitcher, is taken from the Jersey City Eastern League team. C. Miller, a catcher, hails from the Montgomery club of the Southern Association. Myers, an outfielder, is a product of the Sioux City Western League club. The champion Rochesters of the Eastern League have received drafts for Pitcher Ragon and Shortstop Tooley. Quillan, an infielder, comes from Sioux City. Schardt, a right handed pitcher, was purchased from the Milwaukee American Association club. Zimmerman, a third baseman, was drafted from the Newark Eastern League club. Stark, now covering short field for the Brooklyns, was bought from the Dayton club of the Central League. Harry Smith, a catcher, comes from the Boston Nationals, the Brooklyn club having secured him at the waiver price.

It was understood some time ago that Zimmerman was drafted by the New York Nationals, but President Ebbets it appears had a prior claim. Tom Daly, the veteran National League player, who was a member of the Chicago, Brooklyn, Washington and other teams, has done the scouting for President Ebbets and says the new men are very promising.

Capt. Chance of the Chicago Cubs will probably manage the team from the bench next year. Catcher Archer has developed into a sterling first baseman and Chance thinks seriously of keeping him permanently at that station. In regard to the world's series with the Philadelphia Athletics Chance isn't saying much, but he is known to be pretty confident. He has a wholesome respect for Mack's team, however, and does not expect a walkover. He believes that Catcher Kling, who is at his best, will be able to stop the Athletic base runners and that the Cubs will also show faster and more reliable fielding. The Chicago pitchers according to Chance's reported belief, will hold their own, although the Cubs are said to realize that in Frank Baker, Coombs and Morgan the Athletics have an array of hitters that will be hard to beat.

The Cubs think the Athletics catchers are not up to championship standard and hope to be able to make successful headway on the base paths. Baseball sharps in various parts of the country have figured it out that the rival pennant winners are very evenly matched and that the series will be productive of a bitter fight.

Rochester's success in the Eastern League pennant race has been a bitter pill for Joe McGinnity of Newark to swallow. The Newarks were just nosed out last year, and when the present season opened McGinnity, confident that he had strengthened his team, believed that he would turn the tables. From the start the struggle for the pennant has been confined to Rochester and Newark, with the other teams trailing. For a time Newark seemed unusually formidable, but Rochester had the stamina and made a better finish. The quality of ball played in the Eastern League this year excelled that in any other minor league.

The present winning streak of the White Sox has demonstrated the popularity of the American League in Chicago. Although Comiskey's team is struggling along near the tail end of the race the attendance at the home games has been surprisingly large. Comiskey's new half million dollar plant recently held the biggest Sunday crowd of the year. If the White Sox continue to improve next season Hugh Duffy will be vindicated. When it comes to spending money for new talent Comiskey is in a class by himself. He has put up close to $100,000 since the season of 1909.

After two years of long distance challenges and warlike talk Jack Johnson and Sam Langford have finally come together in a contest that has resulted in pitting Langford said two months ago that he had $20,000 to post to bind a match with Johnson. If he had produced this money in Boston on Wednesday sporting men said he would have confronted the heavyweight champion in such a manner that the latter would have been forced to fight or retire. But when Langford and his manager insisted that Johnson should display the color of his money first it was agreed that they were splitting hairs. The impression prevails just now that neither man is really anxious for a scrap with the other.

New Yorkers for the first time will have a chance to see the much talked of Young Sammy Smith, of Philadelphia, in action at the National Sporting Club on night. Smith, a youngster with a year's experience in the ring, is said to be one of the most scientific lightweights in the profession. In knockout Brown he will provide a relentless, hard hitting rusher who can take chastisement and is always boring in for more. Brown recently became too heavy for the featherweight class and is an aspirant for the lightweight crown. If he can beat Smith, Danny Morgan, his mentor, says he will send him after all of the top notchers. There will be several preliminaries and Patsy Haley, the old time boxer, will referee.

Members of the Fairmont Athletic Club think they have discovered a first class pugilist in Fred Gunther, a heavyweight who can hit like the kick of a mule. Gunther was picked up over in Brooklyn and after he had knocked out a heavyweight he was introduced in a preliminary at the Bronx club two weeks ago and promptly occasioned a surprise by knocking the daylights out of Myles O'Donnell, a better weight with a local reputation. Last Tuesday night Gunther was pitted against Dick Miller, an experienced campaigner who has been a trial horse for Retzer, Jim Smith and others, but the result was the same. Gunther, after taking a few stiff wallops without flinching, landed terrific punches that put Miller away. Now the club's matchmaker is looking around for another fighter of greater prominence so that Gunther may have a severe test. The Jersey hammersmith is built like a Sandow and weighs about 185 pounds.

THE DAVIS CUP.

Report From England That Lowe and Mavrogordato Will Go to Australia.

The British Isles team is to journey to Australia and fight the challenge for the Davis international cup according to a letter received from Louis A. Hoskin in England. The letter is dated at the Cumberland Hotel, Eastbourne, September 11, and says A. F. Lowe and J. N. Mavrogordato are to make the trip with Hoskin. The two have been performing consistently while on the tour of Hoskin and Barrett. Barrett, however, is not to go to Australia, he having to return to his business. It should be mighty hard to defend the trophy successfully against some topnotchers from Down Under, but if the British team should be defeated it would go to Australia, the Lethians may have changed their minds.

JUDGING HORSES AT THE FAIR.

George Watson Displeased When One of His Pair is Declared Lame.

A record breaking crowd, which taxed the capacity of every train, automobile or coach in the vicinity, was in attendance at the Mineola fair yesterday afternoon, and while a few of the unwary fell by the wayside and remained to have their palms read or eat hot frankfurters most of them wended their way to the rail which enclosed the horse show and then took up their points of vantage. Almost as great, but not half so enthusiastic, was the crowd which viewed the exhibition from the boxes and lawn, and every one was happy save George Watson, and thereby hangs a tale.

The harness classes are never very numerous nor well filled at the Mineola show, as it is almost an exhibition of saddlers and hunters, but an incident in the tandem class still further reduced the ranks of the heavy harness volunteers. Clarence H. Mackay was showing Irish Lass and Land o' Burns, and he had to compete with entries from the stables of Herbert L. Pratt, James A. Benwick and George Watson, who showed his famous Florham Lady and Leader. It was a surprise to every one when the judges did not reward Mr. Watson's pair, and when he questioned their judgment he was told that one of the pair was lame. Mr. Watson was equally certain that both were sound, and then and there ensued a battle royal, at which Mr. Watson announced his determination not to show again until the edict was removed. This left only Mr. Mackay and Mr. Pratt to exhibit in the class for pairs, and it did not take the judges long to decide in favor of the Irish Lass and Land o' Burns.

A class which was a novelty to the spectators as well as the competitors was the special pony class, where the only exhibitor who was large enough to sit on a real saddle was Master Hubert Phipps, aged 3 years, and he objected to riding in this class on account of his extreme manliness. He evidently thought it incompatible with his dignity to compete with little men and women who rode in baskets as the rest of the competitors did. Ogden Phipps, who is almost 2 years of age, rode the bay gelding Tutters and won the silver trophy offered by Mrs. Thomas Hitchcock. Miss Peggy Phipps carried off second honors with Jimsie, and third prize went to Thomas Hitchcock, Jr.'s Get There. Whether the ribbons went to the babies or their mounts no one could tell, but there appeared to be not the slightest jealousy, and they left the ring with a calm demeanor that their elders might do well to copy. Their philosophy evidently was that each exhibitor could not win in the same class.

Henry Ria's chestnut thoroughbreds had everything their own way in the saddle classes, with Hearthspring picked to wear the blue each time. The thoroughbreds are such a different type from the other entries that it was a good idea to have them barred in certain classes. George Watson's Florham Fashion won in one of these with Edward Brennan's black gelding Rocklands second.

The summaries:

Class 18. Pacing roadsters owned by members of the Nassau Driving Club, prize cup. First, Mrs. Edward D. Lotts's g. g. Highlander; second, Edward D. Lotts's gr. g. Highland Boy; third, Garrett Bush's ch. m. Sadie Ma.

SURPRISES AT LEXINGTON.

Beau Chilton Defeats the Much Touted Helmet.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 22.—One of the largest crowds that ever attended a fall race meeting in this city was out this afternoon. In the Nursery Stud Selling Stake Gold of Ophir was an overwhelming favorite, but finished sixth, the race going to A. G. Vance's chestnut filly The Hague. The greatest surprise came in the fifth race, when Beau Chilton defeated the much touted Helmet, recently purchased from the stable of James R. Keene by E. R. Bradley. The summaries:

First race, six furlongs, Gentle Bess, 103 (Martin), won; Jabia, 108 (Thomas), second; Marion, 108 (Lyne), third. Time, 1:14 2-5. Also ran: Princess, Melbourne Bell, Blair, Sidney, Lady Lender, James Stout and Rose also ran.

Second race, five and a half furlongs, Jack Horner, 109 (Lyne), won; Royal Eagle, 115 (Thomas), second; Henry Watson, 112 (Goose), third. Time, 1:08 1-5. Also ran: Chalice, Lucky Lee, Lady Sunshine, Tarpenard, Pola, Oriental Pearl, Helen Harper, Indian Girl, Sylphon and Sir Alan ran.

Third race, six furlongs, Harrigan, 109 (Thomas), won; John Ruffin II, 118 (Howard), second; Mr. Davis, 108 (Koerner), third. Time, 1:14 3-5. Also ran: Tom Hayes, Colonial, Alan an, Miss Sue, Goose Wing, Belmont, Lily Bell, Sonant, Alander, Dr. Gorgas, Bessie Bowman, Tom Cat, Miss Alsatia.

Fourth race, six furlongs, The Hague, 97 (Lyne), won; Helen Baxter, 106 (Reid), second; Lady Meene, third. Time, 1:14 2-5. Also ran: Lex, Chief, Lady Aldous, Gold of Ophir and Wild Irish Rose ran.

Fifth race, one mile and twenty yards, Beau Chilton, 106 (Goose), won; Helmet, 115 (Lyne), second; Alander, 99 (Gorgas), third. Time, 1:46 2-5. Also ran: Dr. Leake, Miss Alsatia, Tom Cat, Dunning, Wild Irish Rose and Lady Sue ran.

Sixth race, one mile and twenty yards, Gold of Ophir, 112 (Goose), won; Belmont, 115 (Lyne), second; Alander, 99 (Gorgas), third. Time, 1:46 1-5. Also ran: Lex, Chief, Lady Aldous, Wild Irish Rose, Miss Alsatia and Sonant ran.

Seventh race, one mile and a quarter, Mr. Davis, 108 (Koerner), won; Tom Hayes, 108 (Lyne), second; Mandie, 108 (Goose), third. Time, 2:11 1-5. Also ran: Alder, Dr. Gorgas, Belmont, Lily Bell, Sonant, Alander, Tom Cat, Miss Alsatia and Lady Sue ran.

YALE GOLFERS ALL QUALIFY

EVEN THE SUBSTITUTE GETS THROUGH AT MEDAL PLAY.

Four of the Elis Left in Championship After First Day's Matches—Princeton Has Two Men and Harvard and Dartmouth Each One—Mosser's Good Score

BOSTON, Sept. 22.—All the Yale team and the substitute qualified for the opening round of the Intercollegiate Golf Association individual championship to-day at the Essex County Club, but after the match play only four of them survived, Waldo, Hunter, Stanley and Mosser. The others left in are Seckel and Kay of Princeton, Davidson of Harvard and Martin of Dartmouth. The sifting out was a rigorous one and included Robert Gardner, last year's national champion, and Harry G. Legg, the Minneapolis man of many titles. Kay of Princeton led Gardner after the second hole, but Legg only lost on the twentieth hole to his college mate, George Stanley.

"I always golf well here in the morning," said Gardner, who was third in the qualifying round, "but I can't play well in the afternoon."

There was no excuse needed, however, for Gardner did well enough to win in most cases, but Kay had a great putting streak and to get to the green meant usually that he would go in with one more shot. The course was in magnificent order and the weather perfect, yet the scores fell below what had been expected after the brilliant golfing in Tuesday's four ball matches.

The pairings for the matches was on the arbitrary plan used by the United States Golf Association for the national of 1902. No. 1 played No. 9, No. 2 met No. 10, No. 3 being against No. 11, No. 4 against No. 12 of the qualifying round, and so on. There was no luck of the draw in it and the pairings indicated an open race for the title. The low medal play scorers lost the most matches.

Gardner had a winning 4 on the first hole, but Kay had a long put on the second to square accounts. The Princetonian was 3 up at the sixth but dropped one by putting out of bounds twice on the seventh. He had the eighth in 5 and was 3 up at the turn. Gardner was bunkered on the tenth but gained a half by a better approach, while Kay holed from clean across the green for a half in 4 on the eleventh. On the twelfth Kay became 4 up with a 3, Gardner taking three puts. Both were on the long thirteenth green in 4, Gardner missing the put for 5 but laying Kay a stiny and winning in 6.

Kay messed his long game on the fourteenth and Gardner won in 4 and he had another by holing a fifteen foot put on the next for 3. At 4 down and 3 to play things looked to look so fine for Gardner, but he flubbed his drive on the short sixteenth and Kay was again 2 up with a three. Both were on the seventeenth green in three, Kay running down his put from the edge, some forty feet, for the match by 3 and 1.

The score:

Kay	5	4	4	4	4	4	*7	5	3	40
Gardner	4	5	5	4	5	5	6	3	4	42
Kay	5	4	3	5	4	4	5	4	3
Gardner	5	4	4	5	4	3	*6	5

*Approximated.

Merriman began poorly with the Yale substitute, Waldo, Jr., and was 4 down at the sixth and tenth. Then Waldo missed a twelve foot put on the eleventh and made a good drive on the next hole, while Merriman by steady play won all three. He pulled his drive on the fourteenth and lost a barn off the course, Waldo being again 2 up. Merriman made a beautiful put of some ten feet for a 2 on the sixteenth, borrowing nearly three feet from an undulation, but Waldo ended the match by 2 up holed on the seventeenth, he losing his iron shot so well up that he holed for 4.

The cards:

Waldo	5	4	5	4	4	5	5	6	3	41
Merriman	6	5	4	4	5	2	5	5	4	45
Waldo	5	5	4	6	4	4	5	4
Merriman	6	4	4	5	4	3	5	4

Seckel was out in 41 and was 3 up. He won the first hole after Hollins had laid himself a stymie in overrunning the hole. Then at the fourth Seckel had a dead stymie to play, but he took a mashie and lofted it into the cup for a half.

At the seventh Seckel was half stymied and he played a carom shot off Hollins's ball for a 4 which was good enough to win the hole. Hollins was in the rough at the tee shot to the next hole and his third was in a trap. He failed to get out and Seckel was 2 up. Hollins placed a pretty iron to the ninth and almost holed a 2, but Seckel was short on his second and could not hole his put for a half.

Coming in, the Harvard man iron shot to the tenth green was trapped and Seckel won in 5, he also taking the next, as Hollins was in the ditch on his drive and out of bounds on his second shot. Hollins holed a 3 at the twelfth, almost getting down in 2, and at the thirteenth he was once more bunkered. Seckel winning the hole in 4. He also won the fifteenth in 3, as Hollins was 4 in a put on his second. The match ended there by 5 and 4.

The cards:

Seckel	5	5	3	5	5	4	4	6	4	41
Hollins	6	3	4	5	5	5	4	7	5	45
Seckel	5	5	4	5	5	5
Hollins	6	3	3	5	4	5

Karl Mosser was playing almost as well as Kay did yesterday when he broke the course record, as he was out in 38, the best figures for that half of the round in any of the matches. Up to that point he had a lead of four holes over F. T. Clark of Harvard. Clark holed a nice put for a 2 at the ninth hole, while Mosser got the twelfth in 4 after a pretty iron shot from the tee. Mosser was only 3 up on the seventh of the holes coming in, so that he had a fine chance of getting around in 75 if he played out the holes.

The cards:

Mosser	5	3	5	4	5	4	5	4	3	38
Clark	6	4	4	5	5	5	6	5	2	42
Mosser	4	6	2	5	4	4	5
Clark	5		3	5	4	4

David was out in 40 and 2 up on Sargent. On the sixteenth Sargent laid him a stymie which Davidson negotiated very prettily with the mashie and became dormie 2. They halved the seventeenth.

Hunter gained the second hole against Hepburn by pitching over a stymie, but the Pennsylvanian got the third by a ten foot put. He had another long put on the fifth. Hunter was 3 to the turn and 2 up, winning by 6 and 5 to 36 and 4 after the turn.

T. D. Standish, Jr., the Detroit player of Williams, had a plucky but not a lucky round with F. A. Martin, the victor going to the Dartmouth man on the nineteenth hole. On the extra hole Martin holed a six foot put for a 4.

Legg and Stanley were square at the turn and again at the fourth. Then Legg started in and won the fifth, Stanley annexed the short one in 3 and then had two fine 4s on the seventeenth. On the home green Stanley ran down a 10 foot put for a 4 and Legg took 5. It was a near 4 as Legg rimmed one of 30 feet. Stanley won on the two extra holes, halving the first in 5 and getting a 20 foot put for a 4 and the victory.

The cards:

Stanley	5	4	4	6	5	4	5	7	4	44
Legg	5	6	5	4	4	3	5	7	4	44
Stanley	4	4	4	6	5	4	5	4	4	41
Legg	4	5	4	5	4	3	5	4	3	37

Extra holes: Stanley 5, Legg 5.

Legg and Merriman had played off their tie in the morning in their matches, Legg's score was 81 as he had been stymied on the third and replaced it for a 4. Merriman finished his round with Waldo with a 6 for 83 and the trophy goes to Merriman.

The Plainfield Country Club has arranged for a one day tournament open to women members of clubs enrolled in the Metropolitan Golf Association and such others as the club may invite. Tuesday, October 4 is the date set. Mrs. H. Reeve Stockton, chairman of the tournament committee, announces a programme consisting of an eighteen-hole medal play handicap in the morning, followed by an approaching and putting contest after luncheon. Five trophies have been offered, but no competitor will be allowed to win more than one. The prizes are for best gross score in the handicap, best net score in the handicap as well as second best net, and first and second prizes in the approaching and putting. All entries should be sent to Mrs. H. Reeve Stockton, Plainfield, N. J., on or before Monday, October 3.

Competition for the championship of the Plainfield Country Club will begin to-morrow with an eighteen hole testing round. Those making the first sixteen will earn the right to continue on for the championship in eighteen-hole match rounds on October 1, 8, 15 and 22. Provision has also been made for a second sixteen to be finished out under similar conditions. A prize has been offered for low score in the qualifying round and another for the defeated eight of the first sixteen.

Enough acceptances have been received for the invitation tournament of the Tuxedo Golf Club which begins to-day to permit of three eights. Among the well known amateurs who will take part are C. W. Evans, Jr., the Western open champion, Walter J. Travis of Garden City, John M. Ward, Findlay S. Douglas and Louis Livingston.

BRETTON WOODS, N. H., Sept. 22.—While the conditions were not conducive to low scoring, three records were established over the Crawford golf course to-day. Miss Constance Righter of Brae Burn cutting several strokes off the woman's record with a 52 and L. C. Servos making two professional marks. A round of 37 was followed by a 35, giving him a 72 for the eighteen holes and the latter round beating his best previous score by one stroke.

MAPLEWOOD, N. H., Sept. 22.—The final tourney of the Maplewood Country Club this season was played to-day. Frank W. Johnston of New York taking the cup with a score of 101. The conditions of the tourney were that the participants should have been in the White Mountains during the entire season and should have played their first game of golf during the present season. R. C. Farnsworth of Boston won the second cup with 108.

LADY TENNIS.

Crescent A. C. Tournament—Women Play at Montclair A. C.

The Crescent A. C. Club tournament is gradually nearing the end. In the handicap doubles only three games are necessary to wind up the schedule and the same number will bring the class C handicap singles to a close. In this latter class J. G. THE HARVESTER, 2:01.

Champion Trotting Stallion Lowers His Record at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 22.—The Harvester, following the fashion set by Joan and Colorado E. on the Columbus track Tuesday and Wednesday, shattered the world's record for trotting stallions to trotting a mile in 2:01 to-day. The time is better by a quarter of a second than that made by the same horse last week at Syracuse.

A few minutes before 4 o'clock A. M. with no wind to hinder, brush towers sent the Milwaukee owned champion away on the same track in which Bitter Sweet made a record for trotters in 2:02¼. Close to the rail the footing was soft and The Harvester was kept well away from it. Alone he stepped the first quarter in 29¼ seconds. On the back stretch a runner swung alongside and the half was reached in 59¼ seconds. The time for the three quarters was 1:29¼. After that Mr. Ward, who made a second runner, took up the prompting. The Harvester lagged considerably in the last eighth, but did the final quarter in 31¼ seconds, giving him the mile in 2:01 and a better grip on the stallion championship. Next Thursday he will attempt to reduce this record.

The regular races on the card did not draw large fields. Bervaldo was the winning favorite, taking three of the four heats of the 2:12 trot. May Day, first choice in the 2:05 pace, was distanced by Major Bruno. Maconda, picked to win an overnight pace, was second three times to Manuella.
