CHARTERED 1866
Brooklyn Trust Company

Business Troubles

Justice Davies of the Supreme Court in an opinion handed down in Brooklyn yesterday upheld the proceedings for the dissolution of the Lincoln Trust Company, which was placed in the hands of a receiver on application of the State Banking Department. The decision was rendered in the case of Frederick Cookingham against the company, which was ordered closed on Nov. 31 (?).

Charles Cotton, president of the Rochester Savings Bank, died at his home here yesterday morning after a short illness. He was president of the Rochester Savings Bank for more than 42 years. Mr. Cotton was born in Rochester in 1837 and was graduated from the University of Rochester in 1860. He was a member of the Rochester Club, the Genesee Valley Club, the Genesee Country Club and the Rochester Club of New York. He was also a member of the Sigma Phi fraternity. He was a director in the Rochester Gas and Electric Company, the Rochester Railway Company and the Rochester Savings Bank. He was also a director in the Genesee River Navigation Company, which owned the Genesee River Navigation Company, which owned the Genesee River Navigation Company, which owned
