KNOCK OUT BEATS ONE ROUND

BROWN AND HOGAN BATTLE FOR TEN FAST ROUNDS.

Local Fighter Does the Bulk of the Work and Lands More Clean Blows Than California Rival—Hogan Shows Surprising Skill and Is Cheered by Crowd.

Although he did the bulk of the work and landed the greater number of clean blows Knock Out Brown failed to inflict any serious damage in a fast ten round bout with One Round Hogan, the California lightweight, at the Madison A. C. in Harlem last night.

Brown was the winner by a fairly safe margin, but Hogan made a surprisingly good showing. He had a tremendous right hand swing and in the first round he landed it squarely on the jaw with so much power that Brown was staggered and surprised. As the battle progressed Brown's great physical strength began to tell the tale. He rushed incessantly and put in smashes to the body and head that would have stopped an ordinary antagonist, but Hogan's vitality kept him on his feet while his clever defensive tactics enabled him to avoid other wallops, which if landed might have worn him down.

Hogan was the better boxer, but he was up against a fighter pure and simple who cared nothing for blows on the jaw or in the bread basket and stuck close all the way. Hogan was a surprise in the first round and when he made Brown back into a corner under a sudden volley of right hand swings six thousand men leaped up and went simply wild. It was the biggest crowd seen at a glove contest since the days of the Horton law and hundreds were soon rooting like demons for Hogan.

Brown began to get into his stride in the second round and had it on aggressiveness. Hogan evened up the third and Brown took the fourth, because of heavier hitting. Hogan's nose was bleeding in the fifth, but he held his own. In the sixth round Brown fought with never ceasing vigor and the Californian went to his chair with a split lip.

With a wonderful rally Hogan came back for the seventh and shooting over a right hand swing to the jaw several times he had Brown reeling into a clinch, but that was just a flash in the pan, for Brown after that did the harder work and drew away, but not before he received a rocking wallop on the chin a couple of seconds before the fight ended.

Brown did not show the form that enabled him to vanquish Wolgast in Philadelphia, but he possessed enough fighting skill and strength to carry off the honors. The battle was very clean, and beyond a few superficial bruises neither man was hurt. The crowd gave a rousing cheer for Hogan as he left the ring. He said after the bout that another scrap with Brown would suit him down to the ground. They may be rematched, as Brown, like Barkis, is willing. The battle took place in the New Harlem River Casino, Second avenue and 127th street.

The conditions of the Brown-Hogan match called for ten rounds at 133 pounds scaling at 6 P. M., or more than four hours before ringtime. Brown weighed 130½ when he jumped on the scales and Hogan carried a few ounces less than 133. After a wrangle Dan Tone, the referee of the Empire and Olympic A. C., was mutually agreed upon.

A half hour after the doors were thrown open great confusion prevailed and reserved seat holders clambered over railings and grabbed the chairs nearest the ring. More than 5,000 men at that managed to get into the arena. In this big eager throng were many well known patrons of boxing, including John A. Drake, F. J. Scanlan, A. B. Hudson, Bob Vernon, J. G. Follansbee, Mike Donlin, Victor Williams, Bob Rose, Joe Weber, Billy Gibson, Harry Tom Tilzer, Honest John Kelly, George Considine, P. J. Dougherty, Eddie Farrell, Jess Willard, Tom O'Rourke, Jim Sullivan, Johnny White, Jim Hurst, Hal Chase, Tom Foley, Owen Moran, Battling Nelson and many others.

First Round—Brown tried a short left and then ran into a clinch. On the break Hogan swung a wild right and Brown, boring in, punched him in the stomach with the left. Hogan dashed in with a storm of smashes, a right sending Brown onto the ropes. Hogan followed up closely and lisped in another right to the jaw. Brown clinching. Hogan shot still another right to the ear and Brown missed it to a clinch. His blows were wild and ineffective and Hogan had the round.

Second Round—Brown tore in, swinging both hands, but he was blocked. He bored in again and shot the left into the ribs. Hogan blocked a head blow and clinched when Brown rushed. Hogan tripped away from a dangerous punch for the jaw and as Brown came in full tilt he received a right on the ear. Brown put the left across the mouth and then sparred a moment as if puzzled. They came together then with a crack, both taking right hand swings on the head. Brown put a great left to the pit of the stomach and had the round on work.

Third Round—Brown tore in with a left on the forehead. Then Hogan put left and right on the neck and in a half clinch Brown fell partly through the ropes. When he got up Hogan sailed in with a heavy right on the jaw and Brown backed into the ropes. He bounded back with several stomach punches and swung the left on the ear. Hogan took another body punch and then mixed it. Brown reached the stomach with a left but Hogan jarred him with a corking right on the jaw just as the bell rang. The round was about even.

Fourth Round—Hogan ran in with a double swing but was blocked. Brown handed a left to the neck and crossed his man on the jaw with the right. Brown rushed into a clinch and repeated the assault, reaching the stomach with the left. Hogan became cautious and stood away for a moment, content to jump back with a right that grazed the point of the jaw. Brown put steam into two body punches. Hogan blocked several lefts for the head. Hogan put in a terrific body punch that made Brown jump off the floor, but K. O. tore back with a hard left on the ear that almost put the Californian down. Brown's round.

Fifth Round—K. O. ran into a clinch, out of which they quickly broke. At close quarters Brown sent in both hands with great power, but he could not seem to make the desired impression. Then he drove a left squarely into Hogan's face and the latter's nose began to bleed. Hogan tried to stall, but Brown went after him with a relentless attack, landing another dangerous wallop on the neck. Hogan lashed out with right and left, but Brown shook him with a right over the heart. Hogan pulled himself together just as the bell rang and rocked Brown with two right hand swings squarely on the jaw. The round was even.

Sixth Round—Hogan blocked a left swing and stepped into a clinch. Brown cut his lip open with a swing and with a left on the ear he jarred Hogan to the heels. Brown missed two swings, as Hogan danced out of harm's way, but the latter soon was cornered and Brown uppercut him in the body. Hogan used his feet after that and Brown rushed fruitlessly. The Californian had a good defense until Brown roughed him on the ropes. Hogan was backing off at the gong. Brown had the round on work.

Seventh Round—With lowered head Brown rushed into a clinch. Hogan blocked a swing and then staggered Brown with left and right flush on the jaw. K. O. shook his head and tore in like a bulldog. Hogan drove over another corking right to the neck. Brown never stopped, however, and rushed to close quarters. Hogan blocked and escaped with Brown in full pursuit. They fell against the ropes and Brown in a mix had the better of it. Then Hogan met another rush with a clean right on the mouth. Brown roughing it to a clinch. Hogan's round on blows landed.

Eighth Round—They met head on in the middle of the ring. Brown mixed it to a clinch. In another fierce exchange Hogan reached the jaw with a left uppercut and put the right across to the jaw. Brown was jarred, but not hurt, and hotened up with a great rush. Hogan met him with a right on the jaw and then coupled that to had been hit low. They shook hands and resumed the hardest kind of fighting, Brown's blows having tremendous power. Brown's round on work, but not by much of an advantage.

Ninth Round—Brown came up with the usual bull like rush. Hogan checked him with a right cross counter on the jaw, but Brown came again with a left to the stomach that made Hogan clinch. Another left smeared Hogan's face with claret and he proceeded to stall. Brown kept on top of him and both landed heavy body smashes. A clt on the jaw forced Hogan into a clinch and another in the same place made the Californian back away. Brown put a left uppercut to the stomach and a right on the jaw. Hogan reeling into a clinch, but the latter rabbed quickly and was on the defensive when the gong clanged Brown's round.

Tenth Round—Brown began wild fire slugging as soon as the hand shake was over. He shot the left into the body and followed with a left swing on the neck. Hogan didn't have time to think before he got a left hook on the mouth. He met another rush with a heavy right on the neck, but Brown outfought and outpunched him until the referee had to tear them apart. Hogan was strictly on the defensive after that though a left in the face made him see stars. Brown received a heavy right on the jaw just as the bell sounded, but he was the winner. He shook hands with Hogan, who laughed and returned the compliment, also hugging K. O. to show there were no hard feelings.

Joe Blum, the newsboy champion of Philadelphia, met Joe Allen, who took the place of Tommy Murray of Canada, the distance being six rounds. Blum, a clever 116 pound boy, who looks like Packey McFarland, had an easy time. Allen roughed it in the second and third rounds but he did no harm. Blum went the rest of the way apparently under a pull and won as he pleased.

Frankie Fleming, a Canadian bantam, went on in the next for a ten round bout with Bud White, a local boxer. Fleming's fast tabs drew the blood from the mouth in the first round. The Canuck showed unusual cleverness as the scrap progressed. White managed to hook a heavy left to the jaw, his best blow, but Fleming wasn't hurt. The gong saved White in the fourth round, as Fleming had made him groggy from several right hand swings on the jaw. As the fifth round began Fleming landed a left in the stomach and White, claiming that he had been hit low, went down to one knee. When he got up after a count of six Fleming knocked him flat on his face with a right on the chin. The referee stopped the bout then, as White could not continue.

Jimmie Carroll, California's bantam champion, and Tommy Houck of Philadelphia followed for another clash of ten rounds. Houck forced the issue from the start. His best blows were landed in half clinches and Carroll, who used a long, sharp left effectively, went to his corner when the first round ended with a bleeding nose. A swinging right on the jaw stopped Houck's rush in the second round for a moment, but he rallied quickly and rocked Carroll's head with a similar punch. Carroll outpointed his man for the rest of the round.

In the third and fourth rounds Carroll scored incessantly with a fast, snappy left and blocked many dangerous smashes. But Houck came back for more in the fifth, always trying to put over a swing on the jaw. Before this round ended Houck did some great infighting and Carroll seemed to be weakening.

Houck went in to sling in the sixth and for a time he scored with effect. Carroll, however, stood off and outpointed the rugged Quaker until time was up. Carroll scored the greater number of points in the seventh round, but Houck did the heavier hitting.

Carroll piled up more points in the eighth round, landing three blows to one by Houck. In the ninth Houck fought harder than before and Carroll took a severe walloping, though he stood up gamely and poured in a constant rain of blows. The last round was another fierce mixup all the way, Houck doing enough hard fighting to earn a draw.

SLIPPERY TRACK FOR RUNNERS.

Manual Training Boys Hold Up Well and and Take Point Honors.

The scholastic athletes competed under unfavorable conditions at the games of the Jersey City High School yesterday, but the events drew the best runners from New York as well as the neighboring towns in Jersey and the interest was well kept up. The bad feature was the slippery floor in the Fourth Regiment Armory, where the meet took place. It made the going very difficult in the shorter sprints, but when the boys tried to get around the turns they were in no end of trouble. It practically meant that the speed was automatically limited, because anything beyond a certain pace resulted in a spill.

The rivalry between Poly Prep. and Manual Training for the point honors made an added interest. Both schools had full teams entered and the score ran along evenly, with first one and then the other in favor. Jersey City itself had to be reckoned with in this question, for its runners seemed to do particularly well on their home track. The result finally was Manual Training, 24; Poly Prep., 22; Jersey City, 21; De La Salle, 8, and De Witt Clinton, 6.

The waxy floor did not bother Woodcock of Manual Training in the mile. He completed the twelve laps in 4 minutes 46 4-5 seconds, which is pretty good running on any track. Cadiz of Manual was second in the race, sticking close to Woodcock and finishing about four yards behind him. The time is faster than that in which Woodcock won the championship of the P. S. A. L. last month.

The summary:

50 Yard Run, Junior—Won by F. Goodwin, De Witt Clinton; W. Bartsch, Jersey City H. S., second; F. Morningstar, Barnard School, third. Time, 5 4-5 seconds.

Works All Night; Wins Run.

BOSTON, Feb. 22.—Henry L. McCormick, who worked all night in the pressroom of a Boston newspaper, won the annual cross-country run of the Armory A. A. this morning from a field of fifty-four starters. His elapsed time was 57 minutes 5 seconds. McCormick barely had time to change from his working clothes to running togs when the runners were started. The course was out over Beacon street to the reservoir and return. G. W. Porter of Brookline led most of the way. When the finish line was in sight McCormick sprinted and broke the yarn five yards ahead of Porter.

West Point Beats Dickinson, 35 to 24.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Feb. 22.—By some good shooting in the last period the West Point basketball team defeated Dickinson here to-day by a score of 35 to 24. The first half ended with the score Army 12, Dickinson 10. In the last half the Army kept increasing its lead, while up to within five minutes of time the visitors had only caged one field goal. They braced, however, during the last few minutes and shot four goals in rapid succession.

O'Keefe Outpoints Moran.

Eddie O'Keefe, the Philadelphia bantam, outpointed Johnny Moran, a local boy, in a ten round bout at the Sharkey A. C. last night. O'Keefe throughout the contest used a right which did a lot of damage. In the fifth round O'Keefe floored the local boy with a straight blow on the jaw. Moran took the count of five and when he got to his feet managed to hold on until the bell sounded.

The deciding baskets were shot in the last few minutes of the second half, with the final score 25 to 22. The Erasmus rooters won from Poly Prep. with 25 points to 0.

One of the largest fields of the year took part in the special Washington's Birthday shoot of the Larchmont Yacht Club yesterday. The morning was given over to a special scratch shoot at 50 targets and the afternoon programme called for a 100 target event for a special cup offered by R. L. Spotts. In addition there was an interclub match between the gunners of the New York A. C. and the Larchmont Yacht Club.

The morning event was won by J. H. Anderson of Philadelphia. The Quaker City gunner broke 49 out of a possible fifty targets. The second prize was taken by F. A. Hodgman of the New York A. Washington's Birthday was celebrated by the gunners of the Crescent Athletic Club with an unusually lengthy programme at their Bay Ridge traps yesterday. Champion Frank B. Stephenson captured the holiday prize with the excellent score of 48 kills. He made 24 targets each time he went to the traps. The shooting was unusually good, as it was not only exceedingly cold on the firing line, but a high wind made it almost impossible for the gunners to rightly judge the flying blue rocks.

The best work of the day easily was done by Champion Stephenson. In addition to taking the Holiday cup, this excellent shot won a leg in the gun below the elbow event for the Clinton R. James prize and also took two of the club trophy shoots.

G. G. Stephenson, Jr., a brother of the champion, also was a double winner. He took a leg on the J. S. Lawson prize and won the most interesting sweepstake of the day. The latter event ended in a tie among F. S. Hyatt, G. G. Stephenson, Jr., F. B. Stephenson, A. Blake and A. E. Hendrickson. In the shootoff that followed G. G. Stephenson, Jr., and F. S. Hyatt both again tied for the prize. The final winner was Mr. Stephenson.

J. C. Hopkins won the only other fixture of the afternoon. It was a special leg on the stake trophy and it was taken with a score of 23 out of a possible 25 targets. There also was a shoot at ten pairs of doubles. The prize was divided between G. Felix and C. H. Pulis. Among the winners of trophy prizes were Capt. H. W. Dreyer, F. S. Hyatt, A. Blake and A. E. Hendrickson.

Only four gunners reported at the Bath Beach traps of the Marine and Field Club yesterday. The principal event was a shoot on the 300 "bird" match that is running throughout the month. J. H. Emanuel, Jr., succeeded in finishing a string of 200 targets, breaking 145 of the tiny blue rocks. The scores:

Name	Strings of 25								Hp	Tl
J. H. Emanuel, Jr.	19	15	15	20	19	14	20	21		145
P. B. Towne	13	11	13	13	13	11	11		36	115
C. B. Ludwig	13	11	18						6	59

MONTCLAIR, N. J., Feb. 22.—At the holiday shoot on the grounds of the Montclair Gun Club to-day six contestants tied in the third leg for the February trophy at twenty-five targets handicap. In the shootoff of the ties at a miss and out event Y. I. Frazee won out with 5 breaks.

COLUMBIA OUTPLAYS N. Y. U.

Basketball Champions Settle Aspirations of Local Rivals.

Columbia came down with a heavy hand on the aspirations of the New York University basketball team for the city championship in a game played in the Morningside Heights gymnasium last night, defeating the pretentious Morris Heights five by the score of 28 to 12. Not for a single second of the forty minutes of play was the N. Y. U. team in the running. The game was Columbia's twelfth straight victory in as many games played this season.

In team work and individual playing Columbia had the five from University Heights at its mercy and from whistle to whistle was never really hard pressed, although for a few minutes in the first half when the N. Y. U. team showed a flash of play better than it knew how to keep up, the Blue and White had to move pretty lively.

Columbia was the first to draw blood when Kiendl dropped the ball into the basket from the foul line. On another foul a moment later he tallied Columbia's second point, and then to show that he could shoot from the field he made the score 4 to 0 by caging the ball on a difficult shot from the corner of the court. The Blue and White five had found itself and was outpassing and outplaying the visiting team with ease. Benson then scored another goal for Columbia, but Streusand and Smith, with a foul goal and field goal respectively, gave New York University its first point.

After that, however, Columbia was never pressed, and goals by Mahon and Kiendl furnished Columbia so far in the lead that the score at the end of the first half stood 15 to 6 in favor of Columbia.

In the second half Columbia had the University Heights team outclassed, and finished the game with a line up of substitutes on the floor. Benson and Girdansky were each retired near the end of the period, when they exceeded the five personal fouls limit.

The lineup follows:

Columbia	Positions	N. Y. U.
Mahon	Right forward	Smith
Alexander	Centre	Murfey
Benson	Right guard	Moore

Score—Columbia, 28; New York University, 12. Goals—Kiendl, 4; Mahon, 3; Benson, 3; Mendelsohn, 3; Smith, Streusand. Goals from foul—Kiendl, 5; Streusand, 3. Substitutes—Rohn for Benson, Jaques for Alexander, Josephs for Girdansky. Referee—F. Fauver. Oberlin. Umpire—F. J. Quigg, N. Y. A. C. Time of halves, 20 minutes.

DR. HUDSON'S RECORD SHOOT.

He Scores 922 Out of a Possible 1,000 at Jersey City.

JERSEY CITY, Feb. 22.—Dr. Walter G. Hudson of New York established a new record for 100 shots at a 200 yard standard American target at Greenville Schuetzen Park, Jersey City, this afternoon. Dr. Hudson made 922 out of a possible 1,000. The best previous record was 917, made by D. W. King at Denver, Col., in 1903. A year later H. M. Hope of Jersey City tied the record.

Dr. Hudson made a sensational finish with his last string of ten shots. He obtained nine with his first shot and then rattled off nine perfect shots each counting 10 points and hung up a score of 99 out of a possible 100. Arthur Hubalek of Brooklyn was second, his score being 918.

COLD FOR THE GIANTS.

Practice Games Will Follow Warm Weather—Colts' Batting Order.

MARLIN, Tex., Feb. 22.—Cold weather again to-day did not keep the Giants housed up, although it was so chilly this morning that the first practice period of the day was cut short. It was still too disagreeable this afternoon for McGraw to put on the practice game that he had scheduled, but the wind died down about 2 o'clock and a warm sun thawed the players out enough to permit of a brisk workout lasting two hours. McGraw cooked up a batting order for his colt team this afternoon and the youngsters expect to be in shape to give the regulars some great battles next week. The manager put his fast men at the top and alternated right and left handed batsmen. McKnight, the little outfielder from Kansas City, led off, followed by Johnston, Manush, Forsythe, Fullerton, Becker, Lush, Gowdy and Hartley. This is about the order for the first two games in Dallas the end of the week.

After more than an hour of this work the players scattered to various positions in the field and for the first time there was an outfield practice, Raymond rapping "fungoes" to the fly chasers, while McGraw scattered grounders about the infield. The outfield to-day consisted of Lush, left, McKnight, centre, and Johnston and Becker, right.

This was Becker's first days work. The infield lined up the same as yesterday and again Manush and Fullerton delighted the spectators with their accurate throwing. Gowdy acted as catcher at the start and later relieved Forsythe at first base. Hartley was not able to do any throwing, as he stopped a foul tip with his thumb yesterday and it is puffed up to twice its natural size to-day. The pitchers, except when they took brief turns on the slab kept close to the sheltering fences and some of them cut loose with considerable speed. Tesreau, Raymond and Nagle did very light flinging, as their arms are a bit sore. Dick Rudolph sped them over to Robinson to-day and Hendricks, Shontz, Rustenhaven and Jenkins worked as if they never heard of sore arms.

The team will line up Saturday about as indicated by to-days batting order with Gowdy and Hartley doing the catching. The pitchers who will go along are Rudolph, Shontz, Rustenhaven, Jenkins and Hendricks. There will be games to-morrow and Friday if the weather moderates and the team will go to Dallas in fair shape. Anyhow the Dallas team will have no advantage, as the Texas league players reported only this week and are up against the same weather as the Giants.

Five More Giants Sail.

The steamship Creole yesterday carried five more Giants to the land of the lotus. The voyagers were Arthur Devlin, Josh Devore, Larry Doyle and Fred Merkle. Jake Daubert, the Brooklyn first baseman, went on the same boat. The Giant veterans will go to Marlin from New Orleans, arriving at the Texas training camp on the same day that a contingent of Giants gets in from St. Louis.

UPSET AT JUAREZ.

Lightly Weighted Intrinsic Beats Round the World.

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 22.—The $1,500 Washington Handicap, at a mile, proved the biggest upset of the year, as the Kentucky Derby favorite Round the World was beaten out rather cleverly by the four-year-old filly Intrinsic, in at the light weight of 98 pounds. AMONG THE AUTOMOBILISTS

ABOUT 60,000 CARS REGISTERED THUS FAR IN STATE.

Card From Secretary of State's Office Indicates That Shows Go On in Brooklyn and Newark—Racing Talk From France to California and Back.

A card from the office of the Secretary of State, received in this city yesterday acknowledging an application for a 1911 license number, indicated that the total had passed 60,000. That being the case, the present registration is well up to last year's and probably with the spring deliveries the numbers will go away beyond it.

Is there any sensation that can match for utter despair the feelings of a novice in a motor school when the instructor says to him: "This engine's out of order. Fix it!"

The automobile show in the Twenty-third Regiment Armory in Brooklyn attracted many visitors yesterday afternoon and last night. The holiday helped the attendance greatly, and some of those who couldn't attend on Society Day, as the double admission day is called, were there yesterday. It was noticeable that the Society Day crowd had many persons who came there apparently with car buying in mind. There were many requests for demonstrations on Tuesday and yesterday too.

It has been a busy time too in the show in Newark. There are about 200 distinct models of automobiles to be seen at the New Jersey exhibition, which is being held in the First Regiment Armory.

The makes on view are these: Abbott-Detroit, Alco, Atlas, Atterbury, Auburn, Autocar, Buick, Cadillac, Chalmers, Cole, Columbia, Correja, Detroit Electric, De Tamble, Elmore, E-M-F., Fiat, Flanders, Franklin, Grabowsky, Haynes, Hudson, Hupmobile, Inter-State, Isotta Fraschini, Kline Kar, Koehler 40, Locomobile, Lozier, Johnston Silent, Mack Truck, Marion, Marmon, Maxwell, Mercer, Mitchell, Moline, Moon, National, Oakland, Oldsmobile, Overland, Packard, Paterson, Peerless, Penn, Pierce-Arrow, Premier, S. Before W. J. Morgan, American representative of the club that is promoting the Grand Prix in France, sailed last Saturday he had a talk with Robert Lee Morrell, chairman of the contest committee of the Automobile Club of America, and Charles E. Forsdick, secretary of the A. C. A. Mr. Morgan learned then that the Automobile Club de la Sarthe, the promoting organization, had not communicated with the A. C. A. with regard to American entries. The A. C. A., which is allied with the Automobile Club of France, felt naturally
