CORRESPONDENCE.
DAYTON.
May 14th, 1893.
Farmers are planting corn.
Mrs. Chapman will soon make a visit to her old home in Iowa.
Mrs. Wardwell started Monday to visit relatives and old friends in Illinois.
Miss Ella Parke has so far recovered from her late illness as to be able to accompany her relatives to Nebraska, where she will stay for a time.
S. W. Bentley and Fred Smith find Dayton an agreeable place to stop.
Miss Dora Nichols of Sioux Falls is visiting with Miss Rachel Fee.
Jas. Fee went fishing last Saturday, but the fry was small that came home.
A few evenings ago the writer heard the following suggestion for the old settlers picnic: Postpone the Patrons picnic at Lincoln Center one week then join with the old settlers and have a grand time. Remember July is harvest time and farmers must take care of their grain. Dayton will be with the old settlers to do their part.
There will be a dance at Nine Mile Hall June 1st. The best of music will be furnished.
Picnic at Nine Mile Hall, June 1st.

HARRISBURG.
May 10th, 1893.
There is a little talk of strting a boarding house and restaurant at Harrisburg.
Mr. Howard's foreman expects to move to Nebraska in the near future.
Mr. Burns of Rowena called on his friend Wm. Davidson Sunday last.
The click clack of the corn planter is heard in every direction.
We have a new bridge just west of town.
Mr. Handscheig has been planting some snow catchers.
F. Keidel has been recuperating the last two weeks.
Mr. Keidel marketed a twelve month and a nine month old pig which brought him $50.
Lucy.

COLLEGE NOTES.
May 17th, 1893.
The students are celebrating Norway's Independence-day in Thorson's park.
The orator and delegates to the state oratorical convention at Redfield, will leave next Thursday as the contest will take place Friday.
Prof. Tuve is improving the greater part of his time in the country. We hope he may be rewarded for his labor by getting a new college building.
E. Holter was visiting with his friends at the College last Saturday. Holter is a former student of Augustana, and has a number of friends among the students.
O. A. Queen left Augustana last week. He started for Brookings where he is to take a course of pharmacy. He has the best wishes of all the students with him. We hope to see him as the proprietor of a large establishment some day.
Only three weeks left at school, and then comes the sad hour of departure.
Max.

GRAND VALLEY.
May 17th, 1893.
During this warm weather wheat has been coming at a good rate with oats a close second, barley is however lagging behind a little, while corn seems to have hardly started yet.
W. Thorstenson's new house has received a new overcoat to protect itself against the tortures of old Sol, when he comes around to make examinations during the hot summer days. Master Ole took the job of putting it on and says it is a perfect fit all around.
L. E. Flory is now nearly as spry as ever, but does not feel himself quite able to do much heavy work.
Elisa Holter of River Side is engaged for three months school in the Griswold district south of town.
Sam Artz like all other Germans, is putting in a large crop of corn this year.
E. Torkelson was determined to have his corn planted by the 17th, and in order to make a sure thing of it marched into the field last Monday with nine horses and four drivers, two plows, a harrow, and the corn planter.
Mr. Ferris has been here lately attending to his timber claim, and we understand he will soon erect a house and locate on his claim. This makes the eastern part of Grand Valley quite thickly settled.
Thory Reiferson, one of our old acquaintances, is now back again. Thory has for the last four years been one of the leading merchants of Mitchell, S. D., but thought the space behind the counter was too small, so he concluded to take a waltz into the country; and in consequence severed his connection with the store and aimed for a place on some fine farm in Lincoln county where he was caught by M. O. Mickelson, and will now be in his service for a period of three months.
RADUIS.

WORTHING.
May 17th, 1893.
Lots of sunshine and rough roads.
T. Mausbach has bought the old Gard. Leavitt homestead. He believes in the grand future of Worthing and vicinity.
Corn planting is all done and breaking is well under way.
Ed. Lewis who is always thinking of Worthing's needed improvements, is now circulating a petition for sidewalks and street lamps.
Will Jones and Dr. Buchanan are building a drug store.
The Odd Fellows hall will soon loom up, as the foundation has been laid for some time. Our town is steadily improving.
William Bent who has built a fine residence north-east of town, is fast converting Dakota soil into fertile fields. He left Iowa last spring and feels sure that Dakota is superior to Iowa.
Our depot agent is back after a short visit east.
The Alliance Elevator is taking in lots of grain and James Madden is happy.
The bicycle fever struck this place this spring, and they have all got it bad.
Hurrah for the old settlers reunion here!
JILL.

BROOKLYN.
May 13th, 1893.
Farmers are planting corn between showers.
C. A. Carlson left for Canton yesterday.
Engelbreht Hammer, who has been sick for some time, is able to be around.
Mrs. J. Minot is confined to her bed by paralysis.
Magney Johnson is working his mother's farm this season.
A woman at the lines—and the result was a smashed buggy and slightly injured lady, at John Gundersons.
Charley Holmberg is breaking up his new land which he bought a year ago.
A number of our young folks met at Nick Donkson's last Sunday evening, and reminded Nick of the anniversary of his birthday.
F. E. Norton was the first to commence planting corn. Mr. Norton is making things hum.
Some of our farmers evidently made a mis-calculation on the length of the year last fall, in putting up hay, as they are already around looking for spring grass.
JUPITER.

PUBLIC SCHOOL ITEMS.
May 18th, 1893.
Next week will end the schooling for this year.
The seniors had examination in Literature last Monday.
Chas. Bertrand and Clyde Stone have discontinued their schooling for this year. Rather a poor time to quit boys.
When school begins next year the school room will look rather gloomy, as the pleasant faces of our senior friends will then be gone—forever.
The past week has been put in as a general review week. We would certainly feel badly to see anybody left behind when promoting time comes.
We were favored by a visit from Mrs. L. N. Christenson and Mrs. J. B. Bertrand last Wednesday afternoon.
Harvey Hewitt returned from Watertown Wednesday, and made his old school mates a visit the same day.
Commencement exercises will be held a week from Tuesday evening.

HIGHLAND HINTS.
May 15th, 1893.
The click of the check-rower is heard far and near.
Wm. Munger left last Thursday for the Sioux Reservation to take up a homestead.
Ole Ulrickson is building a new barn.
A large number of trees has been planted on the school grounds in the Highland Center District.
Halvor Olson has the frame up for his new barn. It looks as though it will be a mammoth.
C. S. seems to think that the only place he can keep the Sabbath is at Canton.
Several of our young ladies were overtaken by the rain on their way to the sewing society, last Thursday afternoon.
Peddlers and gophers are very numerous these days. To get rid of them I think they require about the same treatment.

What is the matter Old Settler? Could our opposition to your politics scare you out from among the LEADER correspondents?
It must have been more than a common fire that consumed Jake Brigel's hay some time ago, for in spite of all the rain and snow that has fallen since that time it appears as though it is as hot as ever on both section 10 and 15. PUMPKIN.

"A Talented Editor."
During the coming months or the heat period, those who are traveling or contemplating a trip away from home should read the following letter from a brilliant and well known editor and provide themselves against attacks of headache and dizziness:
GENTLEMEN:—I had occasion to use several boxes of Krause's Headache Capsules while traveling to Chicago to attend the National Democratic Convention. They acted like a charm in preventing headaches and dizziness. Have had very little headache since my return, which is remarkable.
Yours Respectfully,
