CARL MORRIS WINS EASILY

DEFEATS KENNEDY IN TEN ROUND BOXING BOUT.

Empire A. C. Well Crowded With Fistic Enthusiasts—Morris, the Westerner, Outclasses His Rival from Start—Kennedy Holds Own in Two Rounds.

Carl Morris, the Oklahoma giant, handed a lesson in boxing to Tom Kennedy of New York at the Empire A. C. last night, but at no time did the Westerner show any form that would entitle him to be seriously considered as a white hope. In the first round he surprised the crowd that had expected much of Kennedy's cleverness by carrying the fight to the New Yorker and smothering his with lefts and rights.

With the exception of the second round, in which little damage was done, Morris hammered his man around the ring, finding almost at will. Then, into the bigger efforts he began to slow up and Kennedy held his own in the sixth. Neither did much real fighting after that until the last round, when Kennedy started a rally that ended disastrously for him. Morris caught him with a terrific right hook just before the bell ended and the New Yorker was helpless and almost out when the gong saved him.

When the preliminaries began at 9 o'clock there were about 3,000 persons in the buildings. All the dollar seats were sold out early and the cry of "Two, three and five dollar seats only" greeted those who were anxious to see the scrap. Al Palzer, who is to meet Al Kaufman at the National Sporting Club to-night, was one of the early arrivals at the ringside. Kennedy weighed 195 pounds and Morris weighed 228. The seconds for Carl Morris were Paddy Gorman, Jack Moore and Billy Newman. Kennedy had Bob Cook, Dan McKetrick, Joe Bennette and Dan Sullivan. Dan Tomney was the referee.

Morris was the first to enter the ring, at exactly 10:30. His lip showed the effects of the battering he received in his bout with Jim Flynn, otherwise the Oklahoma Giant had developed the real fighter's face—remarkably clean cut and smiling, followed few minutes later and was more enthusiastically greeted than any other fighter.

First Round—Morris rushed his man to the ropes. Two or three clinches followed, when Morris landed on the body. Two more heavy body blows shook up Kennedy. Morris landed a few light ones on the face and rushed his man to the ropes. Exchanges followed rapidly, with Morris rushing his man around the ring and Kennedy holding at the finish of the round. Morris's right.

Second Round—Kennedy rushed, but Morris clinched. Morris landed a stiff left on the chin. Carl landed an uppercut and got boring in. Kennedy took a right and a shaking, but Morris soon came back and forced his man to the ropes. Right and lefts followed. Kennedy ended the round, which was about even.

Third Round—Morris rushed and landed a few quick lefts in succession. He got inside Kennedy's guard again with left and right to the face. A stiff body blow had its effect on Kennedy, who clinched. Force drove him on the ropes before the bell, and he had hard work escaping the sledgehammer blows. Kennedy slipped to his knees, but arose to receive more short hooks on the jaw. It was Morris's round by a long margin.

Fourth Round—Morris rushed in with left and right to the face and repeated this time more without getting a return. In a clinch Morris landed a body blow and then had Kennedy on the ropes, where he sent in two stiff jabs. Kennedy landed a straight left, but carl broke through his guard again and landed more lefts to the body and face. Kennedy brought right to body. Tom's face was bleeding and Morris had all the better of the round.

Fifth Round—After a clinch Morris worked right and left in quick succession. He kept following Kennedy around the ring, landing more blows than he received. Kennedy landed a hot one in the stomach and a jab in the face. Missing a swing Morris left himself open to a short right. Kennedy landing on the jaw with right and followed with left to body. The men were clinched at the bell. Morris's round by a shade.

Sixth Round—Kennedy ducked the usual rush and the men wrestled around the ring. Morris was the first to land clean with a straight jab. A straight left for Kennedy was followed by a similar blow which landed on Tom's chin. He followed with rights and lefts and Kennedy was on the ropes at the finish. The round was about even.

Seventh Round—Kennedy landed a light left in the face, followed by one on the body. Then Morris sent in a left and right to the body, forcing Kennedy to the ropes, in clinches. Morris scored with more body blows and followed them up with several good lefts to the face. A stiff left swung to the body and a right to the jaw had Kennedy groggy and tired at the end. It was Morris's round easily on blows landed.

Eighth Round—The men wrestled and clinched, with Morris again being the first to land cleanly with a left to the jaw. A right uppercut in a clinch was followed by a storm of blows which Carl landed when he had Kennedy against the ropes. Followed with the left but could not keep Morris off. Carl was hammering away with left and right at the bell and had the round.

Ninth Round—Wrestling and clinching with few telling blows opened the work. Then Kennedy landed with the right twice. This woke Morris up and he came back with two smashes to the jaw. Both men were tired but Carl landed a couple of hooks before a rally ended the round slightly in Morris's favor.

Tenth Round—Kennedy opened with a good left and then kept hammering away at the giant's stomach. Carl stood the gaff and exchanged punches in quick fashion. Kennedy leaped in with a left. Then Carl landed heavily with left and right to the body, with Kennedy on the ropes. A right hand short hook sent Kennedy to his knees. He got up, only to be smothered with blows but managed to stay the round out.

FIRST SHOOT AT GLENWOOD.

Weather Conditions Mar Sport—Elliott and Von Boeckman Win.

GLENWOOD, L. I., Dec. 27.—Had it not been for the miserable weather conditions this morning more than ten well known marksmen would have taken part in the opening shoot of the recently organized Glenwood Country Club. The rain of the early morning kept down the attendance and there were only sixteen amateurs and eight professionals on the firing line at the new club. However it was a start for the Glenwood Club, an organization that in time expects to take a very prominent part in the sport. In fact the club has been organized with the idea of particularly catering to the followers of the sport and it is understood that before long the Crescent Athletic Club of Brooklyn will hold all its events here.

The programme to-day called for a special ten target event for amateurs and another ten target shoot for professionals. Naturally the interest centred especially in the amateurs and when the shot bird was trapped it was found that C. Von Boeckman and R. Morgan, both of the Bergen Beach Gun Club of Brooklyn, had tied with totals of 87 "kills" apiece in the shoot off that followed Mr. Von Boeckman was the winner by the score of 21 to 20 out of 25 targets. W. S. Silkworth, chairman of the shooting committee of the Glenwood Country Club, took third and J. F. James, Crescent Athletic Club fourth prize in the shoot.

As far as scores were concerned the professionals did decidedly better than the amateur shots. J. A. R. Elliott, the veteran, was in rare good form and won with an excellent total of 95 out of a possible 100 targets. The score was excellent, considering the weather condition. The winners began to shoot in a heavy fog that was finally blown away by a cold breeze from the west, making the conditions difficult throughout. The scores:

Special Shoot, 100 targets: Amateurs—P. Von Boeckman, Bergen Beach G. C., 87; R. Morgan, Bergen Beach G. C., 87; W. S. Silkworth, Glenwood, 86; J. F. James, Crescent A. C., 85; A. V. Sudan, Bergen Beach G. C., 82; J. H. Vander Beek, Crescent A. C., 82; S. N. Van Allen, Glenwood, 82; C. Sharp, Glenwood, C., 77; W. Hyland, Crescent A. C., 77; A. Lockwood, New York A. C., 76; H. D. Bergen, Bergen Beach G. C., 70; P. N. Becker, Glenwood C., 70; H. W. Dreyer, Bergen Beach G., 70; J. S. Crosby, Glenwood C. C., 70; C. Rowland, Glenwood C. C., 48.

Special Shoot, 100 targets, Professional—J. A. R. Elliott, 95; H. H. Stevens, 91; J. Fanning, 87; C. Apgar, 85; R. S. Schneider, 76; T. B. Doe, 74; H. Laughaar, 74; C. R. Dodson, 66.

Owen Moran Here Again.

Owen Moran, the English lightweight, accompanied by his wife, arrived here yesterday on the Olympic from England. Moran left this country shortly after he was defeated by Champion Wolgast in California on July 4 last. At the present time the English boxer has no definite plans in sight, but is anxious to meet Wolgast again.

CORNELL LEADS AT CHESS

TWO GAMES WON FROM THE PENNSYLVANIA PAIR.

Teichelbaum Gives Ehrlich a Hard Fight Until the Fifty-fourth Move—Sze, a Chinese Student at Penn, Wins Adjudicated Game After Long Fight.

Cornell drew away from Pennsylvania in the thirteenth annual tournament of the Triangular College Chess League, the second round of which was played at the rooms of the Brooklyn Chess Club yesterday morning and afternoon. The pair from Ithaca, J. K. Perkins and A. C. Ehrlich, both won their games and added two points to the score of the first round, making 3½ all told out of a possible four. Rudolph Sze, the Chinese student at the University of Pennsylvania, figured in the longest game of the day. It was finally adjudicated by common consent at 5 o'clock when the referee, G. J. Schweitzer, declared the position, which was quite difficult, to be a win for Sze, the latter's partner having lost to his Cornell opponent. Pennsylvania's total was increased to 2½, or one point behind that of Cornell. Brown's representatives were both beaten again.

It was generally agreed that the final outcome of the tournament, barring unforeseen occurrences, depended to a large extent upon the game at the second table, where the two winners of the first round, Ehrlich of Cornell and Teitelbaum of Pennsylvania, faced each other. Ehrlich was the former champion at the Manual Training High School of Brooklyn and with Teitelbaum as a member of the champion strong team of last year. Consequently the followers of Cornell were very confident in his ability to take care of his Philadelphia opponent. The latter, however, put up a sturdy resistance, having the white side of a four knights game, and at lunch time, after thirty-six moves, the position was even, balanced each player having a knight, two pawns, rook and six pawns. The hard struggle continued throughout the afternoon until the fifty-fourth move, when Teitelbaum lost his grip. The Pennsylvania man made a blunder and two moves later Ehrlich scored the game.

Perkins of Cornell scored first blood of the round by defeating Emmons of Brown at the first table after twenty-eight moves. Emmons lost a rook through an oversight on his twenty-eighth move, but even at that time he had the worst of it, being a pawn down. The victory placed Cornell in the lead.

The board at which Sze of Pennsylvania was pitted against Durfee of Brown was the centre of interest, and to this interest the personality of the Chinaman contributed greatly. Sze played a lively game, sacrificing two minor pieces for a rook and three pawns. Later on Sze captured two additional pawns and had all the better of it when a truce was called at lunch hour. At that time Sze was regarded as a sure winner. Durfee held out in good style until 5 o'clock, at which time Sze had a knight and bishop against a rook and two pawns. Sixty-six moves had been made. The decision of Referee Schweitzer was in favor of Sze.

The summary:

Bd.	Brown.		Black.
1.	Emmons (B.)	0	Perkins (C.)	1
2.	Teitelbaum (P.)	0	Ehrlich (C.)	1
3.	Sze (P.)	1	Durfee (B.)	0

The openings: Board 1, Bird's; 2, Four Knights; 3, Ruy Lopez.

In the third round, to be played at the Brooklyn Chess Club, today, the pairing will be as follows: Perkins vs. Durfee, Ehrlich vs. Sze and Teitelbaum vs. Emmons. The games follow:
