Mr. Holmes is an old settler in this county, and the writer has known him from boyhood; yet this is a new departure and we hope his effort to reform will be crowned with success. God knows true reform is needed everywhere. Millbrook excepted.

RUSTLER.
 January 30th, 1894.

The people in the vicinity of Shindler assembled at the church yesterday evening and organized the Springdale debating society, by the election of the following officers: President J. M. Buswell, Vice President R. Buchanan, Secretary C. H. Moulton, Treasurer C. B. Hamilton. The society then took up the following question for discussion.

Resolved, that the signs of the times indicate the downfall of this republic. Affirmative, P. C. Parke, Wm. Bentley J. M. Buswell; negative, S. H. Hamilton, E. Moserip, R. Buchanan; Judges, Jas. Fee Jr., Bert Vandiver and Mr. Perry. The battle royal lasted until eleven o'clock and was decided in the affirmative two to one. Next meeting Monday evening Feb. 12th. A cordial invitation to all. MURDOCK.

A NEW POPULIST.
 FRIEND LINK—Permit me to review the letter of Judge Claggett of Idaho, that appeared in a recent issue of the LEADER under the above heading.

Our party has no use for new populists like Claggett for leaders. Even our friend Buchanan of the Forum, adheres to a "money of final redemption." The theory of "money of final redemption" is a legacy that has been handed down to us as a relic of barbarism and has no place in true financial reform, and there is no room for it in a platform of the people's party. I deprecate the hignra from the old parties of men, aspiring men, who entertain such views. They are sure to make trouble in our councils and prolong the fight for financial reform. To me there is as little difference between a populist of "money of final redemption" and a republican or democrat of "money of final redemption" as there is between a republican protectionist and a protectionist democrat.

Mr. Claggett says: "This increased circulation should be supplied directly by the government through the free coinage of both gold and silver and paper issues based upon coin, and redeemable in coin. A change in the law so as to require the customs duties to be paid in coin would supply the necessary coin reserve. Keep this coin in the treasury, and for every dollar, issue three or four dollars of legal tender coin certificates, until the circulation becomes sufficiently abundant to restore prices to a normal and profitable basis." A per capita circulation of fifty dollars would require a reserve in coin of $1,000,000,000. If that would not satisfy a Wall street goldbug, he would surely want the earth with a fence around it. It is the same policy that crippled the greenback, only on a broader and more ruinous scale.

Does not Mr. Claggett know that there is now a law requiring customs duties to be paid in coin? Does he not know that it was, and is the violation of that law, that keeps green backs at par with gold? Is he among those "confidence" men who believe that it is the Resumption Act?

Were it possible under the "money of final redemption" theory, to exchange $1,000,000,000, for $3,000,000,000, to use the language of Senator Kyle: "It would not constitute redemption" for the reason that "a mere exchange of dollars is not redemption—never has been and never can be."

Money is a synonym for civilization and enlightenment—in other words it is a necessity in a civilized community and the permanency of civilization and freedom; is governed largely by its volume (see report of Monetary Commission) and to hold that business and civilization and freedom and prosperity must rest upon the accidents of individuals in discovering the so-called precious metals, is, to my mind, a relic of barbarism that must not find an abiding place in our platform.

In our fight for silver we must not permit ourselves to be side-tracked by silver fanatics whose only idea of financial reform is to make silver a "money of final redemption."

So long as men like Stewart and Claggett can content themselves to vote for our party instead of requesting our party vote, they can do us no serious harm; but I question if they can do us any permanent good. A man whose brain becomes sufficiently clear to see that one dollar is as good as another, if it has the same rights, never backslides.

The Inter-Ocean.
 Chicago newspapers have lately gone into merchandising in connection with their efforts to increase their circulation, to such an extent as to involve them in some difficulty with their large advertisers who object to the low prices and good ones offered. The most notable instance is The Inter Ocean, which was compelled to dispense with its very popular Department for no other reason. I confess its World's Fair Portfolio Department, however, which is delivering about 1,000 per day at present and has not added a comprehensive series of "Views of the World," and a book of music called "Harmonized Melodies" on the same plan. They are sold at a certain price and the purchaser presents a certain number of coupons cut from the paper.

 Cough cure is the only preparation which will retard digestion; it will not nauseate like so many cough mixtures. The druggists and the public in general are fast appreciating the fact that a cough remedy like Cough Cure—that will give instant relief and a sure cure—is the great desideratum of this age, and not a cough remedy that requires twenty-four to forty-eight hours to give relief to a severe cold which by that time, in a great many cases, has developed into a fatal attack of pneumonia.

Cough Cure goes directly to the seat of the trouble, is prompt in its action, gives instant relief and prevents that delay which is often dangerous.
