FINANCIAL NEWS AND COMMENT

Stock Market Relapses Into Dulness, With Slight Changes in Active Stocks.

MORE GERMAN BORROWING

Unfavorable Statement by German Bank Renews Demand for Local Funds.

In the first session of the week the stock market displayed much less animation than in the closing days of last week, but while it was less active it was also much steadier. Selling pressure, whether from speculative liquidation or bearish operators, was at no time exerted with any considerable force; there was a complete absence of liquidation. At the same time neither speculators nor investors were in a mood to take on stocks in any considerable quantity and the market drifted idly back and forth in a narrow range during most of the session and closed with no appreciable changes in the active stocks. Reasons for hesitancy were found in the uncertainty over politics and in the fact that the present is a formative period as far as crops are concerned, and the multitude of people who desire positive opinion on the crop prospects before undertaking large commitments could not feel certain of the trend of the market in the near future. Trading was much less active than in the declining market of last week and it appeared that the market was establishing a close approach to equilibrium before again embarking on a wide movement in either direction. In the noon hour the turnover was only 37,000 shares, in the fourth hour only 21,000, and the total for the day was 266,000 shares, as compared with more than 600,000 on the last five hour session of last week.

Stocks unaffected by the general lethargy were those of International Harvester and various tobacco companies. International Harvester advanced 3½ points and there were gains of 1¾ points in Lorillard, 3¼ points in Liggett & Myers and 1¾ points in American Tobacco common, the latter stock equalling its previous high record of 187. Those movements called attention anew to the position of securities of companies dissolved by process of law or likely to be so dismembered, but stimulated no speculation in the securities of other companies against which actions have been brought. Other movements out of the ordinary were gains of 3¾ points in Sugar preferred, 2 points in Republic Steel common, 4 points in Republic Steel preferred, and 6¾ points in Sears-Roebuck, and a decline of 2½ points in Texas Company. The Republic Iron and Steel Company, it was announced, had advanced tube prices $2 a ton to the level established by the National Tube Company last week. The copper shares were sluggish, though some few sales of copper were reported at 17¼ cents. These sales at advanced prices were undoubtedly influenced to some extent by rumblings of labor troubles in the refineries and the fear of consumers that strikes may further reduce an already small visible supply.

On the whole reports of weather conditions over the week end were not at all unfavorable, but in the grain markets wheat options advanced 1⅞ to 2 cents and corn and oats were also stronger. It was thought that the advances in prices were due to the circumstance that a grain market which was topheavy some short time ago and had since declined sharply had become oversold. It was to purely speculative operations rather than to careful analysis of crop conditions, in other words, that the advances were attributed. The report of the Missouri Board of Agriculture placed the condition of winter wheat higher than a month ago and the condition of oats at 83.4 as compared with 62 at the corresponding time last year. In the money markets the principal matter of interest continued to be the German borrowing in this city and its relation to the condition of German banks. The weekly statement of the Bank of Germany, showing a decrease of $9,400,000 in cash reserve, an expansion of $28,000,000 in loans and an increase of $24,000,000 in circulation, was distinctly unfavorable and gave point to the requests of the bank that other banks strengthen their resources and call their loans. On account of the efforts of the private banks to comply with the urgings of the president of the Bank of Germany Berlin borrowers are again looking to this city, and it may be that considerable additional sums will be loaned in Germany as the time of the midyear settlements approaches. Money continued easy here and bankers are entirely willing to make additional loans in Berlin, but yesterday the bids of German bankers were not sufficiently attractive. The bond market was not at all active as concerned old issues, but it was announced that applications had been received for the $170,000,000 Interborough Rapid Transit bonds in an amount more than sufficient to cover the entire issue. April railroad statements of Louisville and Nashville and Missouri Pacific made favorable comparisons.
