RAID BY THREE MEN ON MOTION PICTURE CO.

Exciting Battle Followed That It Took the Reserves to Stop.

ALL FROM BUSINESS DEAL

Disagreement Over a Sale—Case Thrown Out of Police Court.

An automobile halted in front of the loft building at 251 West Nineteenth street at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and disgorged three men who straightway tramped upstairs and thumped at the door of the New York Motion Picture Company's plant on the second floor. There were twenty-five persons on the other side of the door, but none opened it. So the invaders smashed the glass panel and then forced the door.

"Every person must leave this place at once," shouted the spokesman of the smashing party. Instead of leaving the employees of the moving picture company rolled up their sleeves for action. The employees fought and the three men from the auto fought and chairs were smashed and the telephone girl was so scared that her trembling fingers disconnected every wire, so that when an employee named Strevchmans tried to get the police he couldn't raise even a whisper until he had plumped himself down in the girl's place.

The policeman that came sent for reserves the moment he looked into the turbulent room. After sending George Dobbs, an employee, who had been cut by glass when the door flew in, to New York Hospital for repairs the reserves stopped the fighting and arrested two of the three men from outside who seemed to be most excited. The prisoners said they were Frank Lake, a chauffeur, of 188 Schermerhorn street, Brooklyn, and John H. Sloan, a bricklayer of 130 Bergen street, Brooklyn.

In the night court the puzzling episode was explained. It appeared that two months ago the New York Motion Picture Company and four other firms in the same business agreed to sell out to a new corporation, the Universal Film Manufacturing Company, which expects to raise the price of film a cent a foot, standardize the trade and fight the big concern known as the Film Patents Company. Transfer of property was to have been made on June 10, but the New York Motion Picture Company, alleging breach of contract, served notice yesterday that the deal was off.

Yesterday morning the Universal Company sent two men to watch over the New York Motion Picture Company's plant, in the afternoon both watchers were thrown out. One of them was Mark M. Dintenfass, manager for the Universal Company. They flashed the news to their headquarters and the result was the appearance of the three men in the automobile. Lake and Sloan, both detectives, and Patrick Powers, vice-president of the Universal Company.

Magistrate House threw out the case. He said that the charge should have been breaking and entering, a felony, if anything, and suggested that a new complaint be made today. Nathan A. Elsberg appeared for the prisoners.

SLAM BANG ROW IN HOTEL.

John Mason, Once Thrown Out, Returns to Be Ejected Again.

A man describing himself as John Mason, "a promoter of various things," was arrested outside the Hotel Martinique a little after 10 o'clock last night after he had made a big disturbance in the dining room and had knocked down a man in the lobby who chanced to be in his way. He was taken to the night court charged with malicious mischief and assault.

Mason was sitting in the main dining room with another man and a woman. He and the man appeared to have a disagreement and Mason jumped up and hit the other man in the face. Then he pulled the table cloth from the table, smashing up the dishes and glassware, upset two or three chairs, and ran into Bridge Detective Randolph Ganter, who put him out.

This was at the Thirty-second street side of the hotel. Mason walked around the hotel to the Thirty-third street side and came in the other entrance. As he was rushing toward the dining room James H. George and another man were passing. Mason grabbed Mr. George and threw to the floor. Mr. George's companion and other men, including Ganter, came up, and this time Ganter threw Mason out the Thirty-third street entrance and turned him over to Traffic Policeman Ryan, who took him to the night court.

WIFE DEAD, HE TRIES TO DIE.

John Gibbs Attempts to Kill Himself on Finding Mrs. Gibbs a Suicide.

YONKERS, June 27.—When John Gibbs, who is in the rubber business in Manhattan, came home this evening he found his wife dead by her own hand and he tried to end his own life, but was thwarted. Mr. Gibbs and his wife occupied apartments at 46 Van Cortlandt Park avenue. Mrs. Gibbs, who was 54 years old, had been despondent because of failing health, but had never talked of suicide. The couple had no children.

On his return tonight Mr. Gibbs was surprised that his wife did not meet him at the door as was her custom, and he went in search of her. He found the door of the bathroom locked and forced it open. His wife lay dead on the floor with one end of a gas tube in her mouth and the other end attached to a gas jet, which was turned on. She had been dead about two hours, a physician said.

In answer to an alarm raised by Mr. Gibbs policemen and neighbors came and then Mr. Gibbs lost control of himself. "We have been married twenty years," he said, "and I cannot live without her." He managed to elude those who had gathered in the apartments and went down to the cellar. There he tried to shoot himself with a revolver. The weapon missed fire and in some way became locked so that none of the chambers could be discharged. Mr. Gibbs was missed and a policeman who went to the cellar in search of him found him still trying to fire the revolver. He was disarmed, but a little later he stole away from the house and, going to a neighboring drug store, tried to buy carbolic acid. A policeman who had gone after him found him in the store and prevented him from making the purchase.

Tonight a policeman is on guard in the apartments to see that Mr. Gibbs does not harm himself.

CONSOLIDATED TO OPEN AT 9:30.

Board of Governors Decide on Early Call of Stocks.

The board of governors of the Consolidated Stock Exchange yesterday voted approval of the proposition for daily opening of the exchange at 9:30 o'clock, or half an hour earlier than the big exchange opens. President M. F. D'Agnero has authority to fix the date when the early opening shall go into operation.

FOUGHT ROBBER ON BROADWAY.

No One Helped Young Bolivian, Whose $400 Was Taken.

Frederico Renjel, a young Bolivian of means who is in this country studying scientific agriculture, was robbed of nearly $400 on Broadway between Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh streets at 10 o'clock last night and fought up and down the street with the robber until two other men interfered and forced Renjel to give up his prisoner. Renjel was on his way to Ithaca to take a summer course at Cornell and stopped over in New York to look around, taking a room at 305 West Fiftieth street.

As he stood before a cigar store window a slender young man who wore a light brown suit with yellow stripes put his hand in Renjel's right hand trousers pocket and taking out his roll of bills put it into his own inside pocket. Renjel grabbed him and the young man started a rough and tumble fight.

The Bolivian, who speaks excellent English, yelled for police, but although a crowd gathered nobody offered to help him. He got the pickpocket into the lobby of the Hotel Marlborough, but his antagonist pushed the fight out onto the street again. The tussel continued around the corner of Thirty-seventh street, where two men stepped up and told Renjel that his prisoner was a good fellow and one of them stuck his thumb in the Bolivian's eye and pressed it until Renjel released his hold. Then the three men ran across Broadway.

Renjel continued his search for a policeman and finally found one in the West Thirtieth street station. Detectives were sent out to look for the young man in the yellow striped brown suit and his friends.

INVESTIGATE NAVAL TRAGEDY.

French Officials Look Up Powder—Overheated Gun as Cause.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

TOULON, June 27.—There are four dead and nineteen injured as the result of the explosions on the warship Jean Michelet yesterday. It is granted that the first explosion was due to want of care and it was impossible that the second which occurred so soon after should be due to carelessness. It is officially stated that the powder was dated 1910 and came from the Saint Medard factory, of which there had been no suspicion. The gun had been fired often. The commandant of the Jean Michelet ascribes the explosion to the fact that a gun was overheated.

GREAT ATTACK ON LANDOWNERS

Lloyd George May Apply Late Henry George's Ideas.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

LONDON, June 28.—According to the Tory Express Chancellor Lloyd George is planning another great attack on landowners which will dwarf all his previous efforts. The plan is nothing less than a tremendous scheme of land taxation based on the late Henry George's idea of a single tax. An article in a Radical British weekly and other recent radical statements indicate that the Express is very near the mark.

KAISER HONORS AN AMERICAN.

Allison V. Armour Gets the Order of the Red Eagle.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

KIEL, June 27.—The Kaiser called on Allison V. Armour on the yacht Utowana this afternoon.

The Emperor bestowed upon Mr. Armour the order of the Red Eagle of the second class, with the star.

TRAIN WRECKS AN AUTO.

The Owner and His Wife Dead and a Woman Guest Hurt Mortally.

UTICA, June 27.—John B. Griffiths, a wealthy contractor of Yorkville, a suburb of this city, and his wife are dead. Miss Sarah Eaton, a music teacher residing in Utica, is injured mortally, and Miss Mary Griffiths, daughter of the couple who met death, is suffering from shock as the result of a passenger train on the Mohawk and Malone division of the New York Central crashing into their automobile near Poland, a few miles north of this city, at 6 o'clock tonight.

The Griffiths family had recently purchased an automobile and this afternoon, with Miss Eaton as their guest, went motoring in the foothills of the Adirondacks, Miss Griffiths acting as driver. Approaching the village of Poland they crossed a bridge and then drove onto the railroad tracks, directly in the path of a passenger train bound for Herkimer.

The locomotive struck the automobile squarely in the middle and after smashing it carried part of the machine 200 feet on the pilot before the train could be stopped.

Mr. Griffiths was flung fifty feet and landed near a fence and his wife was buried under the debris of the wrecked car. Miss Eaton was also crushed in the debris and Miss Griffiths landed twenty-five feet from the spot where the smashup occurred, only slightly bruised. The four persons were carried aboard the train, which made a fast run to Herkimer. Mr. Griffiths died on the way there and Mrs. Griffiths died at 7:30 to-night in a Herkimer hospital. The physicians say Miss Eaton has suffered severe internal injuries and express doubt for her recovery.

CASSIDY IS INDICTED.

Also William Willett, Jr., Who Ran for Supreme Court.

Joseph Cassidy, William Willett, Jr., and Louis Walter, the three who figured in the alleged purchase of a judicial nomination last fall, were notified last night that they must appear for arraignment this morning in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn. They had been indicted by the Kings County Grand Jury. If they are not in court bench warrants will be issued.

This action was most unexpected. The Queens County Grand Jury spent more than a month on the case and failed to return true bills. A week ago Willett and Walter had their bail cancelled. Cassidy, long a boss of the Queens Democracy, regarded himself as having been vindicated when the Appellate Division in Brooklyn ordered his dismissal from arrest on a writ of habeas corpus.

The story of the alleged purchase of Willett's nomination for Supreme Court Justice in the Second Department from Joe Cassidy got into the newspapers just before election through charges made in a Brooklyn newspaper. It was alleged that the purchase was made through Louis Walter in Far Rockaway.

Willett and his two running mates were badly beaten at the polls and then District Attorney Whitman of New York county had his assistant, William De Ford, make an investigation, assisted by Frederick De Witt, the Queens District Attorney. There followed the arrest of the three officed by Judge Scudder. Then came a long investigation by the Queens Grand Jury with a failure to indict.

HANFORD QUIZ BROADENS.

Judge's Dealings With N. P. R. R. to Be Investigated.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 27.—The Congressional committee, consisting of Graham of Illinois, chairman; Higgins of Connecticut and McCoy of New Jersey, sent here to hear evidence and investigate the charges lodged against Federal Judge Cornelius H. Hanford by Congressmen Berger of Wisconsin and Norris of Nebraska, indicated to-day that more sensational matters than those already filed against the Judge were to be investigated. The committee today refused to permit lawyers nominally representing the Bar Association, but really Judge Hanford, to make any statement for record.

The committee indicated it was to investigate Hanford's commercial dealings with the Northern Pacific Railroad Company in connection with his big irrigation project known as the Hanford Irrigation Company at Hanford, Wash.

The committee also is to delve in detail into the acquisition of the properties of the Western Steel Company by the Metropolitan Trust Company of New York city, which happened in the bankruptcy court within the last few months, and which is now the subject of a suit involving a million dollars damages. In this case the records disclosed that the Metropolitan Trust Company secured properties valued at over $3,000,000 on a loan of only $600,000 on which all of the interest had been paid, paying in cash to the court only $72,000, of which Judge Hanford allowed $42,000 in fees to receivers, trustees and their attorneys, whose work consisted of paying out only $14,000 in labor claims.

STRIKERS' RIFLES CRACK.

Popping With Steel Bullets at Factory Searchlights.

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., June 27.—Strikers gathered outside the Williams & Clark fertilizer plant in Roosevelt tonight and resumed their diversion of shooting with rifles at the searchlights which the company has placed on the roof. They were more successful than usual, for they were using steel bullets, having found lead ineffective. One hundred special policemen employed by the company could do nothing, having been forbidden by Mayor Joseph Hermann to pass outside the factory fence.

Following a conference this morning between Deputy Sheriff Houghton and the Mayor the 200 special deputies who had been enrolled to keep the peace were discharged. The Mayor held that their presence incited the strikers to violence. He could handle the situation in his own way, he said.

An alleged promise of the Mayor to close the saloons of the strike district has not been fulfilled. The saloons are still open and many of the strikers who were in the target practice at the Williams & Clark plant to-night were excited by liquor.

WOMEN'S CLUBS CONVENTION.

Mrs. D. T. S. Denison Scores Meat Riots in New York.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—In an address before the general session of women's clubs to-day Mrs. D. T. S. Denison of New York city, honorary president, spoke of the pain with which she learned of the lawlessness of women in recent conflicts between labor and capital in New York.

She cited cases of lawlessness in the wrecking of butcher shops because of annoyance over high prices of beef. She said it was a proof that women had very poor understanding of the source of their economic evils.

She concluded by saying charity should be shown toward our English sisters for their expression of displeasure at the laws by the throwing bricks at the law wreckers.

700 SAVED AS BOATS CRASH.

Steamer Sinks Tug in St. Croix River, Me.—One Drowned.

CALAIS, Me., June 27.—More than 700 excursionists on the steamboat Grand Manan were saved this morning, when the vessel collided with a tugboat in the St. Croix River. The captain of the tug, James Carey of Boston, Mass., was drowned when his craft sank.

A big hole was ripped in the steamer's hull and the passengers were taken off in small boats.

The Grand Manan's passengers were members of the Thistle Athletic Association and their friends who had come here on a moonlight excursion from St. Stephens, N. B. There was no panic among the passengers.
