BASE HITS RATTLE FROM BATS OF CUB INVADERS

a grounder to Saier, Herzog left two on bases.

The New Yorks tied the score in the fourth on a three bagger by Murray and a wild pitch. The wild pitch was providential, for Herzog had just recorded the second out by fanning. Fletcher opened in the fifth with a hit, but Lavender was equal to that occasion. He hit Doyle a painful smash in the arm before the inning was over, but Becker left two on by trundling to Evers.

After four innings of zeros the Cubs bared their teeth again in the sixth, helped by poor fielding. Leach made a two bagger of the floating fly which Devore misjudged, and when Saier sacrificed Merkle missed Herzog's throw. Evers larruped a triple past Murray and came in with the third run on Archer's fly to Becker. Merkle was first up in New York's half and was passed. Three force outs followed with dizzy rapidity. The New Yorks hit directly to infielders, and Tinker and Evers between them retired three men at second base.

The seventh was another instance of the Cubs having men on first and shipping them around and the New Yorks failing to do so. Schulte singled, strayed to third on Zimmerman's double and both scored on a jab to centre by Leach, the played out Pirate. Fletcher bunted his way to first in New York's half and there pined away, while Shafer and Devore raised flies and Doyle splashed to Lavender.

The Cubs made two hits off Wiltse in the eighth and two off Ames in the ninth, but couldn't score. A smart play by Doyle and Meyers nipped Zimmerman at the plate in the ninth and both Wiltse and Ames struck out the last batter and bolstered two Cubs.

It was Becker who led New York's charge in the eighth. He doubled to left, went to third on Merkle's single and waited there while a base on balls to Murray filled the bases. Herzog pounded a single to left, bringing in two men. The ball went through Sheckard and Murray went to third and Herzog to second. Reulbach was called in and Meyers never hit the ball harder. What his drive needed besides velocity [illegible] height. Sheckard backed up against the parapet and took the ball off the [illegible] Murray scored on the play and [illegible] filled on Fletcher's out, but that [illegible] beat the Giants. A scratch two bagger by McCormick revived hope until Devore struck out.

There was no supplementary rally in the ninth. Reulbach was too obstinate. Doyle flied to Tinker, Becker was thrown out by Reulbach, Merkle slashed gaping vents in the air.

ERRORS DEFEAT HENDRIX.

Pirate Pitches Good Ball, So Does Brennan—Fielding Decides It.

PHILADELPHIA, July 27.—Brennan pitched the Phillies into another victory over Pittsburg to-day by a 5 to 3 score. The Kansas southpaw hurled a superb game, holding the Buccaneers down to three singles and two doubles, never being in danger of losing the game. Hendrix, after the opening inning, was effective, but his own miscues in the field, together with errors contributed by Wagner and Carey, offset his good hurling.

ROGER FIGHTS HIS PITCHERS.

In Rage, He Benches Two, and Even Break Is Cardinals' Best.

BOSTON, July 27.—The Wardmen and Cardinals divided to-day's double header. Perdue pitched well in the first game up to the sixth, St. Louis getting half a dozen runs in this and the seventh innings. Sallee and Bresnahan were scrapping throughout and Roger yanked his pitcher in a fit of temper in the ninth. Again in the second game Bresnahan got peeved and pulled out Willis in the second inning after Jackson stole third while Willis held the ball. Tyler was on top of the second game throughout.

BATTLING STORM AND WAVES IN LONG RACE TO BERMUDA

The KATHEMMA, W. C. SMITH'S 51 foot motor cruiser of the Ocean Gate Yacht Club. KATHEMMA, the scratch boat, has a 25 horse-power engine and is expected to cover the 719 miles from Philadelphia to Bermuda in about three days.

The Philadelphia entry, the DREAM, owned by CHARLES L. LAGEN of the Yachtsmen's Club. This craft, fitted with a motor of only 16 horse-power, receives a handicap from the more powerful KATHEMMA.

The LUGEO II., which was incapacitated and was unable to start. In the distance the DREAM is seen again.

BRACE OF MOTOR BOATS SET OUT FOR BERMUDA

Kathemma and Dream Are Only Starters in Race From Philadelphia.

PROBABLY THE LAST ONE

Prize of Cup and $1,000 Was Expected to Attract Many More.

PHILADELPHIA, July 27.—Probably the last of the Philadelphia-Bermuda motor boat races for the James Gordan Bennett cup and a cash prize of $1,000 started from Philadelphia at noon to-day for Bermuda. There were just two entries, the Kathemma and the Dream, when a week ago it was expected there would be at least seven entries. When the time came to toe the imaginary mark the other five boats failed to put in an appearance. Last night Commodore J. C. Neafie Whitaker, who has charge of the race, declared other owners didn't start because they feared to take the risk of the ocean voyage of 719 miles.

The two boats sailed under the colors of the Yachtsmen's Club of Philadelphia, although the Kathemma, owned by William C. Smith, usually sails under the colors of the Ocean Gate Yacht Club.

The boats crossed the line at the Race street pier a few minutes after noon. The Dream got away in the lead under her small horse-power engine, but the Kathemma, with her greater power and a square rigged sail, soon passed the Dream. They journeyed down the river, apparently neither boat having any great advantage.

The Kathemma is 51.02 feet over all, with a beam of 11.2. She is equipped with a four cycle engine. The Dream is 40.45 feet over all and has a beam of 8.8 feet. Her engine is of the two cycle variety. With these measurements the Kathemma [illegible] give the Dream quite a handicap. The official measurer refuses to [illegible] down the handicap until the finish of the race. He bases his refusal on the fact that the crew of one of the boats might be inclined to load if they knew themselves to be easy winners.

Dr. C. S. Street was at the wheel of the Kathemma, Mr. Smith, the owner, being unable to take the trip. The Kathemma's crew consisted of R. L. Young, Herbert Stone, Jacob Smith, Seymour Cullum, Dr. B. Christine, Fran Frankenfield, George Trembley and Dr. Eugene Swain.

Aboard the Dream were C. L. Lagen, owner and master; George E. Goldbeck, William Bieling, Fred D. Biddle, John J. Sproul and Thomas Larson.

Local yachtsmen and judges of the race predicted that the little racers will reach the piers of the Royal Bermuda Yacht Club at St. Davids, Bermuda, in about 84 hours if they have fair weather.

The revenue cutter Mohawk accompanied the boats to the breakwater, where they will be picked up by another cruiser assigned by the authorities at Washington. Reports of the progress of the racers will be made by wireless by the Government boat accompanying them.

HORSE SHOW WINDS UP, A TREMENDOUS SUCCESS

was for the $500 challenge cup held by Mortimer L. Schiff's Baron Brown. The horses were required to be suitable for a gig and included besides the holder of the cup Pandora Queen, Corinna, Billy Boy and Starlight. Baron Brown seemed deficient in action and it may be that the pace of Pandora Queen was not fast enough to suit the judges. The award went to Corinna, who in looks did not compare with Pandora Queen, and Billy B., who showed some dash, was placed reserve.

The Thief scored his fourth successive victory in the running race and Emil Seelig's Energy held the speed of Felix M. Warburg's Woodland Maid in the quarter mile race for trotters.
