Correspondence.

Saddle Creek.

January 28, 1896.
As I have not seen anything in your valuable paper for some time from this section I thought that I would try my hand, as we want people to know that Saddle Creek is prospering these hard times.

Mrs. H. D. Newberry was visiting with relatives at Sioux Falls last week.

W. A. Phipps and L. L. Redfield, the Saddle Creek ice dealers, finished packing last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ecmire were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. U. Parke Thursday and Friday last.

Lara Larson had one of his valuable horses cut in a barb wire fence last week. It will recover.

John R. Millage finished threshing Jerry Reamer's immense crop last Tuesday. John is a good thresher and no mistake.

Carl Eresland looks as though Tom Renli had hit him a Corbet like blow, but by inquiring, Carl said it was only the tooth ache.

L. L. Redfield did business in Harrisburg last Saturday.

George DeNure of this place, attended the dance at Mr. Oliver's the 10th.

Guy Redfield has quite an attraction up at Harrisburg. What is it Guy?

What in the world are people thinking about that they don't try and capture the two legged critters that are going around the country stealing things that honest men have earned by the sweat of their brow? If no one else, the county ought to look into the matter.

Oscar Carlson of Millbrook, had the bad luck to have his wheel stolen last Wednesday night while at singing school.

Any young lady under forty who wants a beau for a leap year dance or party will do well to call on Jack Toben.

May Newberry of Sioux Falls is visiting friends here.

The strayed has returned home again. Where did you find yourself Sam?

We have had some very fine weather, but now we are going to have winter awhile, and if you don't believe it just ask JACK FROST.

Grant.

Grant township still carries the banner for surprise parties.
January 25, 1896.

A little snow fell out this way Wednesday night.

On Friday forenoon, Jan. 10, we were quite astonished at seeing a crowd of about twenty teams start out from the home of Mr. Hans Skie. On watching the parade we noticed that they turned and went to the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Brandhagen. The crowd had found out that this late was Mr. Brandhagen's birthday, and they came to give him a surprise. Mr. Brandhagen was out in a field a short distance from the house, but seeing the company arrive he came home to find out what it all meant, and it is needless to say his surprise was as great as the pleasure it afforded his friends to surprise him. After the usual informalities, Mr. Brandhagen was presented a beautiful bed-lounge as a token of the love and respect of his neighbors. The crowd enjoyed themselves till a late hour, and all agree that Mr. and Mrs. Brandhagen are royal entertainers even when surprised.

Mr. John Peterson of Canton, visited friends in Grant township last Saturday and Sunday. John loves the ladies just as fondly now as he did when he was younger.

Mr. and Mrs. Brandhagen, Lottie and Millie Lovestuen and Thilie Lunder visited at Gilbert Fodnes, last Sunday. They report a pleasant time.

Miss Vida Munger attended the literary society last Friday, after which she visited with friends in the valley over Saturday and Sunday.

Albert Ferris visited with friends north of Canton Saturday and Sunday.

Henry M. and Clara Hanson visited relatives in Iowa last Sunday.

L. L. Flory returned last Monday from an extended visit with friends and relatives in the east.

A number of Grand Valleyites attended the South Lynn literary society last Saturday evening. They all report a good time.

Hans Hanson was out hunting wolves Tuesday, but it is reported that he came home without any.

Mr. and Mrs. Math. Hanson visited with the family of A. L. Syverud last Tuesday.

The following program will be rendered by the literary society next Friday evening commencing promptly at 7:30 o'clock: Instrumental music; recitation, P. Torberson; declamation, Maude Warner; recitation, Arthur Dodds; reading, T. O. Torberson; song; declamation, Ida Dodds; recitation, Oley Torkelson; declamation, Frank McDevitt; reading, Gertie

A SUDDEN CHANGE

In the weather always brings disastrous results. This is the most changeable season of the year. It checks the circulation, closes the pores of the skin and throws the blood of the body back upon those delicate organs, the kidneys. Then comes headache, colds, coughing and the many troubles so annoying and often dangerous. We keep all kinds of medicines for these many ailments. Put a check upon the first symptoms and thus save much sickness. There's Warner's, Hood's, McLean's, Chamberlain's, Ayer's, Pinkham's and many other medicines which we keep in stock. We also make a specialty of compounding prescriptions. Give us a trial

HAWN BROS., Worthing, S. D.

Miss Lizzie Berwick of Augustana College, is spending Sunday with her parents.

Hanson, the wheel.

On Friday evening, Feb. 7th, the society will, in place of the regular debate, conduct a sham trial. The charge is horse stealing.

A GRAND VALLEYITE.

School Items.

The star of punctuality this week, took up its abode with the pupils of the Vth Room while those of attendance and average lingered in the High School.

Mrs. J. V. Conklin favored several of the rooms with a pleasant call Monday afternoon.

Room VI has followed the High School's example in organizing a debating club, and their question for debate, Feb. 7, will be: "Resolved that education is a greater benefit to us than wealth."

Last Friday the Tyro club held an election which resulted as follows: president, Catharine Conkling; vice-president, Oliver Turney; secretary, Pearl Naylor. It was decided to publish a paper for the benefit of the club. It will be read in two weeks. A committee of three was appointed to look up a suitable name. The
