ARION SOCIETY BIDS FOR BILLIARD TILT

N. A. A. B. P. Executive Committee to Consider Applications of Room Keepers.

HANDICAP IN BROOKLYN

Veteran Cueists Still in the Game—Student and Jap in Far West.

The Arion Society, which originated the challenge cup idea, that is having amateurs play for a cup once a month, is to continue its billiard activity. The society has made an attractive offer for N. A. A. B. P. national contests. It has an ideal room for the holding of such contests. Incidentally, the N. A. A. B. P. executive committee is to hold a meeting to-day to consider applications from room keepers for this season's billiard and pool tournaments.

A handicap balkline tournament will begin to-morrow night at the Knickerbocker room in Brooklyn with the following list of entries: Joseph Mayer, 300; Charles White, 260; Ledyard Blake, 250; Charles Nahmacher, 240; C. T. Conway, 235; Dr. H. D. Jennings, 195; Frank Boyd, 195, and George Moon, Jr., 190. Blake and Nahmacher will meet in the first game.

Edward W. Gardner is playing better than ever before, and promises to be an important factor in the next championship tournament of the National Association of Amateur Billiard Players. Recently he ran 223 at 18-2 balkline. He practises daily at Tim Flynn's. Flynn, who says, "I can't play any more; I'm too old," is the best player of his age in the world. He is two years the senior of Maurice Vignaux, the French expert.

Dudley Kavanagh, a champion in the 60's, plays almost every afternoon at the room of his nephew, Maurice Daly. A few years ago he appeared feeble. Since having indulged in billiards as a steady exercise, he has improved greatly. Although in his eightieth year, he plays without glasses.

Some of the Class B amateur balk liners are showing marked improvement. In a game of 400 points at Daly's Walter Leonard averaged 15; Ledyard Blake, the young amateur who hails from Grand Rapids, is averaging from 9 to 12, and William Gershel is erratically doing from 10 to 40.

George Sutton, who will play Hoppe for the 18-2 balk line championship in New York on February 5, will finish his preparation at Daly's. He is playing so well in Chicago that, although urged to come early, he is inclined to remain there until Saturday. A new table will be put up for him at Daly's and he will play there afternoon and evening next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Hoppe will practise at McGraw's this week.

After having returned to Denver after his recent defeat by Alfredo De Oro for the pool championship, James Maturo said: "De Oro played great pool and made the winning run just when I appeared to have the game cinched, but he was lucky to win. I had a lead of 92 balls when we began the last night's play. With that kind of a lead I will win from anybody nine times out of ten."

Instead of returning to New York from St. Louis, as they expected to do when they left here, George F. Slosson and Koji Yamada, the Japanese expert, have made engagements in the far West and have gone to fill them. Last Thursday they played in Spokane. From there they went to Seattle. They will go to Portland, San Francisco and Los Angeles. The Japanese clubs on the Pacific coast are preparing to give their champion a big reception.

Beginning to-day Maurice Daly, at 11 A. M., in his rooms at Forty-ninth street and Broadway, will give a series of demonstrative lectures on the different systems of position play, such as balk-line, straight rail, cushion carons and general position work.

JEM DRISCOLL FAVORITE.

Meets Owen Moran in Title Featherweight Battle in London To-morrow

Great Britain is agog over the twenty round glove fight between Jem Driscoll, featherweight champion of England, and Owen Moran of Birmingham, to be decided in the National Sporting Club of London to-morrow night. Driscoll holds the Lord Lonsdale belt, but he proclaimed himself champion of the world some time ago. The men will box for the belt, a $7,500 purse, of which the winner will receive $5,000, and the world's title, in spite of the fact that Johnny Kilbane, the American champion, never has met either of them.

According to the English rules Driscoll and Moran must weigh 126 pounds at 3 o'clock to-morrow afternoon, getting into the ring about eight hours later. But in all probability neither will carry more than 128 when the fight begins. The men are well known in this country. Driscoll, conceded to be one of the greatest boxers ever sent over here from England, bested Abe Attell in a ten round no decision bout here several years ago, but he was taken ill shortly after and went home, where he has remained ever since. Moran has taken part in many fights in America. Though a featherweight he had nerve enough to tackle Wolgast two years ago and was beaten in eleven rounds. Moran boxed two draws with Abe Attell, one of twenty-five and the other of twenty rounds, in California and also stood the former American champion off in several other bouts of shorter duration. Driscoll is a 10 to 8 favorite in London. If he wins he says he will come here to box Kilbane for the world's championship.

The National Sporting Club of London, by the way, has rematched Matt Wells, former English lightweight champion, and Hugh Mehegan, the Australian titleholder. They will clash in a twenty round affair on February 24. Last fall Mehegan in a rough bout won over Wells on a foul, but it was not a title bout, as they made catch weights.

Harlem Tommy Murphy will leave here this week for California to get into trim for his twenty round battle with Joe Mandot. Promoter James Coffroth will stage the bout at Daly City, near Frisco. The conditions call for 133 pounds ringside and Murphy is confident that he can outpoint the New Orleans Frenchman. Mandot has victories over Wolgast and Rivers to his credit, though Rivers recently turned the tables. While Murphy hasn't amounted to much as a fighter in the East, he has done his best work on the coast. On New Year's Day he stopped Frankie Burns at Daly City—pronounced a real feat by the Frisco critics.

When Leach Cross steps into the ring with Young Shugrue at the Garden next Wednesday night he will be as fit as he was when he boxed Joe Rivers two weeks ago. Leach will be asked to do 134 ringside for Shugrue, which will not be a hardship. Shugrue is a fighter of the Rivers type and his followers are betting that he will furnish Cross with a stunning surprise. Phil Cross, a slugger from Slugville, will try to hang one of his wallops on the jaw of Young Jack O'Brien of Philadelphia, a star boxer, in the other ten round event arranged by Manager Gibson for the same evening.

WHO WINS THE SUBURBAN QUARTER OF THIS FIELD MUST BE A FAST ONE

One of the Irish American A. C. team of three is Alvah T. Meyer, better known at shorter distances.

James E. Meredith, the schoolboy hero of the Olympic games, will make it hot for the others who try the going.

The lean figure on Meredith's left is that of James M. Rosenberger, who has twice won the Suburban quarter. If he or one of his teammates takes it this time the trophy goes to the Irish A. A. C. for its own.

The great Maroon flier, Ira Davenport, who is likely to show them all that Iowa can produce speed.

The veteran Melvin W. Sheppard, always a hard man to beat, is another of the Winged Fist team to defend the trophy.

SIX SPEEDY RUNNERS IN QUARTER CLASSIC

Eastern, Western and Atlantic Champions Will Compete in Suburban.

Six of the best quarter mile runners in the world will line up next Wednesday for the indoor classic at that distance which will be contested in the 47th Regiment Armory under the auspices of the Knights of St. Antony. They have been chosen to compete in the Suburban quarter for the $500 trophy, a life size imported bronze statue of Mercury, which has to be won three times by the athletes of any one club or college before it is retired from competition.

Two victories for the Irish-American A. C. have given that club what looks to be a mortgage on the valuable prize, but before the bronze finds a permanent home in the Irish club rooms the athletes of that organization will have to show their heels to the fastest men of the New England, Pennsylvania and central districts. The competitors named are Ira Davenport, Chicago; J. E. Meredith, University of Pennsylvania; T. J. Halpin, Boston A. A., and Jim Rosenberger, Melvin W. Sheppard and Alvah T. Meyer, Irish-American A. C.

There is not a man of this sextet that is not capable of 50 seconds or better for the quarter, with the possible exception of Meyer, and the only reason he has not a record for this distance is that it will be his first serious attempt to get into the ranks of the two-furlong brigade. Since he made up his mind to try for the prize Meyer has been running for his club in relay races and has shown that he has been well able to hold the men pitted against him. His victories in 100 and 220 yard races attest that he has more speed than any other competitor, and if he has learned to carry his speed for the quarter he will prove a hard nut for the best of them to crack. It would be by no means the first time that a good sprinter had been transformed into a champion quarter miler.

Davenport, who for five years has been at the top of the tree in quarter and half-mile races in the West, has a special reason for wanting to win this year. He came on last year to compete for the trophy, and though he showed more speed than any other man in the race had so much the worst of the racing luck that after being badly left in the middle of the contest he was unable to make up the lost ground in his brilliant finishing sprint.

SIX POINT MATCHES AT GOLF.

Novel Three Ball Matches Played on Becker System.

PINEHURST, N. C., Jan. 25.—The annual three ball match on the six point system of scoring rounded out the week for the Tin Whistles. This tournament is the creation of C. L. Becker of the Woodland Club. In scoring six points are to be accounted for in each hole, and a player may score four, three, two, one or nothing.

If A beats B and C he gets four points. If B beats C he gets two and C nothing. If B and C halve they get one each. If A and B tie and beat C they get three each and C nothing. If A, B and C all tie they get two each.

In qualification Robert Hunter of Wee Burn, whose handicap was five, won the gold medal for the best net score with 79. E. A. Johnston of Baltimore (11) was second with 80 and J. R. Towle of Chicago (16) was third with 81.

In the final match round Walter G. Clark of Woodland, whose allowance was eight, won with 38 points and Henry C. Fownes of Oakmont, whose allowance was four, tied with A. C. Ahern of Upper Montclair, whose handicap was nine, at 35, Fownes winning the playoff.

A special thirty-six hole medal round for those defeated in the first round of match play for prizes presented by James Barber of Englewood was won by Dr. Myron W. Marr of Dorchester, whose handicap was 22. He made 160 net and S. H. Patterson of Plainfield, who deducted twenty-eight strokes, recorded 169.

Guns Crowd Out Golf.

Golf was put aside yesterday at the Baltusrol Golf Club, and attention given to the traps. The cup offered by the club was won by T. W. Lloyd, who broke 23 out of 25 clay birds. Other scores were as follows: S. H. Browne, 22; A. R. Ammen, 22; B. C. Fincke, 21; Dr. D. W. Granberry, 21; H. N. Fiske, 20; Marshall Beer, 18; J. S. Hahn, 16, and William Byrd, 15. In addition to the Baltusrol cup shoot there was a competition for members and their guests, in strings of 25 birds. In this B. C. Fincke was the leader with a total of 92.

Final Act in the Chance Transaction.

The latest National League bulletin contains an echo of the Chance deal and the fact therein noted of the signing of Red Corriden with the Chicago Cubs is a formality which officially completes the transaction, which makes the orange grower the manager of the local American League club.

MISS BROWNELL CHAIRMAN

Of the Committee in Charge of the Newport Dog Show.

NEWPORT, R. I., Jan. 25.—Miss Alice Brownell of Providence has been chosen as chairman of the bench committee, which will have charge of the Newport Dog Show at the Casino, August 5 and 9. The other members of the committee will be Mrs. M. M. Van Buren of Middletown, Charles Bassal, Hamilton Fish Webster and Miss Helen Wenger of Newport, William C. Cottom, Daniel Jackson and Charles Campbell of Providence, and Dr. H. W. Church of Bristol.

T. F. L. Kemp of Boston has again been chosen for superintendent of the show and the officials expect to have plenty of prizes, including a long list of specials.

YALE SEEKS FURTHER ROWING KNOWLEDGE

Hence the Present Pilgrimage of Her Crew Men to England.

The present pilgrimage of the Yale oarsmen headed by W. Averill Harriman to study rowing at Oxford brings to mind the trip of R. J. Cook, Yale '76, who has been Rob Cook to generations of Yale men. In the '70s Cook went to England as an undergraduate and introduced in his senior year at Yale the stroke he learned on the other side. The Yale crews had little difficulty in beating Harvard in the annual regatta that season, but the next year the crew broke away from the Cook stroke and Harvard won easily. In 1884 Cook with Louis K. Hull, '83, took charge of Yale rowing again following a long sojourn by Cook in England, where he studied English rowing methods more thoroughly than any man before or since that time.

From 1884 until 1898, when Cook severed his relations with Yale rowing, the English had wonderful success with the long swaying stroke, a modification of the English system which Cook taught. Last year under Jim Rodgers and Harriman, Yale again took up English methods, and the trip to the other side by Coach Harriman and Capt. Showdon will probably result in a further adoption of English methods at New Haven.

GRINNELL HAS A FIELD DAY.

Travers Island Marksman Wins Trophies at the Traps.

Because many of the gunners of the New York Athletic Club are at Pinehurst there was only a small attendance at Travers Island yesterday.

The monthly cup was the first fixture to be decided. The final leg was taken by O. C. Grinnell, Jr. He and J. G. Batterson were the only marksmen who had scored on the trophy.

Grinnell in the shoot for the Thomson prize, a cup for the man who made the three best scores in the month, had winning strings of 25, 23 and 25. The same marksman also captured the distance handicap.

January Cup—25 targets, handicap—O. C. Grinnell, Jr., 3, 25; C. Stein, 5, 25; J. G. Batterson, 4, 25; R. R. Debacher, 6, 25; J. Hoyt, 4, 23; E. M. Huggins, 7, 24; W. B. Ogden, 2, 22; J. Meyer, scratch, 22; J. W. Hesslan, 5, 22; D. F. McMahon, 1, 19. Shoot off won by O. C. Grinnell, Jr.

ICE YACHTS AWAIT WEATHER.

A Few Cold Days Will Find Them on the Shrewsbury.

RED BANK, N. J., Jan. 25.—The North Shrewsbury River here is slightly frozen over, and with a few days of cold weather will be of sufficient firmness to bear the ice yachts of the various clubs located here, and ice yacht racing will begin. The ice yachts all have been rigged and tuned up and can be put together in a few hours time ready for sailing. The strife for supremacy will be between the Independent Ice Yacht Club here and the Fair Haven Ice Yacht Club, located two miles east, down the river. These clubs sail fourth class yachts, having a twelve foot spread of runner plank and carrying 250 square feet of canvas.

Several cups and pennants will be sailed for. The Fair Haven club has held the river challenge pennant for several years and the contesting club has had several new craft built in which it hopes to capture the streamer. The North Shrewsbury club is in a class by itself and sails only third class yachts, 16 foot spread, carrying not over 400 square feet of canvas.

Their rivals come from other rivers. The club holds the national championship pennants, but several times the South Shrewsbury Ice Yacht Club has sailed for it, but failed in its endeavor to land the trophy.

The North Shrewsbury Ice Yacht Club also holds the first class challenge emblem of America, known as the Van Nostrand cup, won on Orange Lake, N. Y., by James B. Weaver's Scud about thirty years ago. The Scud is among the largest yachts in the country, and on account of its enormous size has been laid aside and is used only for pleasure sailing. The speediest yachts in the North Shrewsbury Ice Yacht Club are Thomas H. Grant's Tyro and Edward Osay's Daisy.

BASKETBALL HONORS ALL GO TO P. S. 62

Senior and Junior Elementary Championships of Greater City Fall to That School.

Public School 62 of Manhattan won both the senior and junior elementary school basketball championships of the greater city yesterday afternoon at the Forty-seventh Regiment Armory in Brooklyn. The Manhattan lads won the senior match easily. The junior match was more even. Public School 83, Queens, which was the runnerup in the senior division of the tournament, was disposed of by the score of 54 to 9, and Public School 43, Brooklyn, in the 95 pound class, lost, 33 to 14. This marks the fifth consecutive time that Public School 62 has won the senior championship. Its junior teams have won the title often, but last year the cup was lost to Public School 64, Manhattan.

The lineups:

Orange Men Outshoot Siwanoy.

In a dual trap shooting match on the grounds of the Orange Gun Club yesterday afternoon, the home gunners defeated the team of the Siwanoy Club of Mount Vernon, 115 to 105. Only the best five scores in strings of 25 were considered in the computation. The scores of the Orange gunners were as follows: Colquitt, 24; Mosler, 24, Geiger, 23; Unger, 22; Thompson, 22; Dukes, 22; Yeomans, 23; Wakeley, 20; Lockwood, 18; Rockwell, 17. The scores of the Siwanoy competitors were: Guggenheim, 24; Valentine, 20; Pelham, 22; Wiley, 20; Yates, 19; Haas, 19; Smith, 17; Curry, 17.

Summer Weather Brings Out Shooters.

LAKEWOOD, N. J., Jan. 25.—Summer weather brought out a large gallery and a number of members to shoot for the Charles V. Murphy cup at the Lakewood House shoot to-day. T. E. Tunnison won with a score of 46. Others shooting were C. L. Lindley, F. F. Van Derhoot, Maxwell Lester, A. J. Murphy, A. J. McClure and J. H. Hance.

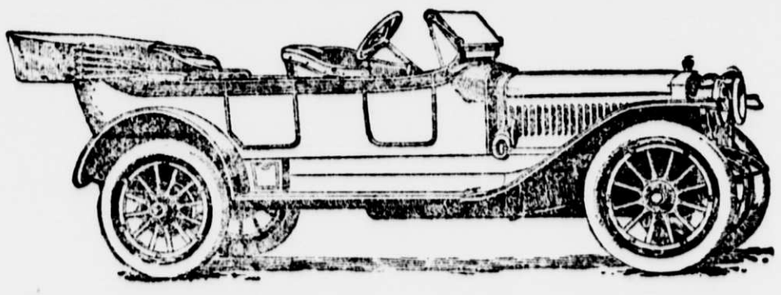
WINTON SIX



Not a Radical Change in Six Years

Notwithstanding the hosts of new models brought out every year, not a single improvement of major importance has been made in automobiles since Alexander Winton produced the first self-cranking Winton Six in June, 1907.

The Winton Six showed that four-cylinder cars were inadequate, and that hand-cranking had become unnecessary.

Today the market is filled with sixes and with self-cranking devices. Yet the self-cranking Winton Six leads them all to-day just as it did in June, 1907, and it leads without having required a single radical change in all the intervening years. That's the best possible proof of its worthiness.

The Winton Six is the best proved car in all the world. We have sworn statements of individual owners, covering more than a million miles of travel, that give the Winton Six the world's lowest repair expense record—29.2 cents per 1000 miles.

Nobody ever knows what a new model will do. Everybody knows that the Winton Six gives thorough satisfaction.
