What Saturday's Big Football Games Showed

TIGERS, CORNELL AND DARTMOUTH SHOW UP BEST

Yale's Defeat Result of Crude Playing, Due to Insufficient Early Season Development.

RUTGERS HAD JUMP ON PRINCETON LINE

By WILLIAM B. HANNA.

Such occurrences as the defeat of Yale by Virginia last Saturday do not come under the unusual class any more in football, though it is the first time Yale has been beaten so early in the season. But when on the same day it also comes to pass that the Navy is defeated by Georgetown, the Massachusetts Aggies hold Harvard to seven points, with the Crimson lucky to get those; Holy Cross plays a 14 to 14 tie with the Army, where there is strong material; Washington and Jefferson is tied by West Virginia and Brown by Trinity, then the happenings are out of the ordinary for one day.

Defeats for Yale by teams other than Harvard and Princeton have come to be an annual function. The list of those administering them includes Virginia, Washington and Jefferson, Colgate, Brown and the Army. Although there is much good material at New Haven last Saturday's case seems to have been one of crude playing due to development insufficient to produce a good enough offence to score on as smart an opponent as Virginia, and of mistaps which were seized upon by the Virginians for points.

Personally, we are strong for the passing game wrinkles as adopted by the Blue for the last two seasons, and not strong for that sort of football which consists chiefly of ramming, colliding and capsizing, and regret that tactics so appealing to the eye do not as yet make much headway against teams of the class of the sponsors for the triple, double and lateral passing. The lateral pass and all associated manoeuvres have not had a sufficient trial to decide whether or not they are valuable for turning in points, but so far, against strong elevens, that is, they have served more to popularize football than to win games.

Of the group which figures most in end of season ratings for first place, Princeton, Cornell and Dartmouth made the best showing on Saturday. West Point probably was not primed for real football. The Army's season has a week longer to go than the college teams, and the West Pointers don't ripen as early. One has only to look at the material as shown by the names in the lineup to see that there is plenty of individual strength.

Harvard devoted last week to defensive practice and had little more than a makeshift attack for the Aggies. Then again Mahan, Coolidge, Cowen and Gilman either didn't play or didn't play long. Pennsylvania had another hard game; just managed to win. That's two of that sort for the Quakers this fall, but one thing will be noticed which speaks forcibly of the presence of some great reserve ability in the squad. Both games were won.

Princeton met the strongest and best prepared adversary of any—except, maybe, Yale—and the Tigers engaged in a contest with the stalwart Rutgers array. All played with distinct credit to themselves as individuals. The showing in that regard was good, was encouraging and spoke well for the new coach, Rush. The team play wasn't much, except occasional flashes of first class interference. Individually, however, the men did handle themselves well in several details—tackling, getting down the field and following the ball. They played like men who will pick up other points readily, as time requires.

The Princeton line men didn't break through as well as they did other things, and in line defence the Rutgers forwards generally had the jump on them. Princeton's exceptionally efficient backfield defence bore a big burden in keeping Rutgers away from the goal line. The end play was better than Yale's has been at any time this season, and the punting of Driggs far better than anything in that leather driving respect Yale has done.

Yale is doing the forward pass more skilfully, not handling the ball quite so cleanly, while in line play the Yale forwards, in the Maine game, rendered more and better service on offence and defence combined than the Princeton line men did in the Rutgers game. The former were more versatile in the performance of duties. The fact is Yale's offence against Maine was considerably more varied than Princeton's against Rutgers, also better. But then one was playing Maine and the other Rutgers, and again Princeton, the way the game broke, didn't have to reveal any offence, if there was any to reveal.

Capt. Glick is a spirited player at all times and his presence on the field a clearly defined asset. Tibbott made two dashing, speedy runs. But the Princeton backfield as a whole was not as fast, as quick to get started or as quick to take openings as the Yale backs. There was little evidence of scoring power from scrimmage or versatility in the Tiger backfield as it played against Rutgers, but when several of that backfield's candidates have more training and practice they will be a lot better.

There is a rule in the football code which reads:

"No player of the side which did not put the ball in play shall, after the pass has been made, in any manner interfere with an opponent who has crossed the line of scrimmage until the ball has been touched, except in an actual attempt to catch the ball himself."

One wonders whether that rule is honored more in the breach or in the observance. A Rutgers man who was through and about to take a forward pass was grabbed around the waist by a Tiger, this before the ball had been touched, and by no stretch of the imagination could the action of the Tiger have been construed as an actual attempt to catch the ball himself. It was a plain violation of the rule and went unpunished.

GLOOMY AT NEW HAVEN OVER VIRGINIA VICTORY

Undergraduates Are Wondering Whether Fumbling, Which Played So Prominent Part in Yale's Defeat, Will Continue Until the Harvard Game.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 3.—New Haven is one of the saddest places in the college world to-night as a result of Yale's defeat yesterday by the University of Virginia. Undergraduates are wondering whether the fumbling, which was so prominent a part of the game will make its appearance when Yale meets Harvard in Cambridge, November 20. The fumbling yesterday reminded many of the behavior of the Yale backfield in the 1912 game with Harvard.

Several changes in the makeup of the Yale backfield and at least one change in the line are forecast. Guernsey probably will be replaced by Scovil and Thompson will be sent to the scrubs, for a time at least, Lowry taking his place and alternating with Bentley. Roberts, the only man to be substituted yesterday, may lose his place to Kent or Von Holt. Kositzky also is a bidder for the guard position.

Pie Way, the big centre, is practically sure of his place now. Way was down the field with the ends on every punt and his playing was more like that of Henry Ketchem than anything that has been seen on Yale field since Ketchem was graduated.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 3.—Princeton emerged from the Rutgers game practically unscathed as far as injuries are concerned. The few minor bruises sustained should all be healed before the game with Syracuse Saturday.

While the Tigers' defensive work was excellent Saturday, it is generally conceded that there was great room for improvement on the offensive side of the game. When the Nassau goal was out of danger the Tigers showed little in the way of aggressiveness and initiative, being content to rely on the defensive game.

SOUTH BETHLEHEM, Pa., Oct. 3.—Lehigh's players came out of yesterday's victorious game with the Carlisle Indians without an injury. The attitude of the men is fine and will stand them in good stead for the vigorous programme Coach Keady has mapped out for this week in anticipation of the Yale game next Saturday.

Several weaknesses that cropped out in the Indian game yesterday will have to be remedied and the team must improve generally if any kind of a showing is to be made against Yale.

The quarterback position, according to one of the coaches, needs bolstering up. Lehigh is well pleased with the playing of several of the new men who got into yesterday's contest, notably that of Heuer, who ran the ball well, punted nicely and once interrupted a forward pass.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 3.—The programme for the exercises attending the formal dedication of Schoellkopf Field, Cornell's new football and track oval, has been announced by the athletic association. University classes will suspend at noon next Saturday and a parade of trustees, faculty members and undergraduates will form on the quadrangle and march to the field. The crowd will be seated in the Stadium and a temporary stand for the speakers will be arranged on the field.

George W. Bacon of New York city, chairman of the alumni field committee, and Paul Schoellkopf, '06, will make addresses. The latter will present the field in behalf of the Schoellkopf family, members of which gave the funds as a memorial to Henry Schoellkopf, Cornell, 1902, once a famous Cornell football player. President Schurman will accept the field in behalf of the university.

Cornell came out of the Oberlin game in good shape. The coaches on the whole are fairly well satisfied with the progress made in the last week. There was more snap and ginger in the playing, but the team is still slow and there are many crude spots to be ironed out. Cornell teams at this time usually are crude, and this one is no exception.

With the return of Shiverick to the game to-morrow the varsity will be complete again and the strongest team of the year should face Williams next Saturday.

CARLISLE, Pa., Oct. 3.—The Carlisle Indian football authorities are well satisfied with the outcome of Saturday's contest against Lehigh, and feel that it was only the Carlisle back field players' mistakes that allowed the South Bethlehem collegians to score.

The men came out of the game in good physical condition, and, barring injuries in practice, every one will be able to enter the Harvard game next Saturday.

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., Oct. 3.—Deetjen, the big Dane who made a remarkable record at quarterback on the 1913 Wesleyan eleven and who left college at the close of the year to enter business with his father, has returned unexpectedly. His long spiral punts and his end running abilities were a great help to the team. Capt. Hingeley, who was sick during the summer, is in better condition now, and there seems to be little likelihood that he will be kept out of the big games.

The double header played at Harlem Oval yesterday, where two New York State League games were decided, attracted a large crowd of soccer enthusiasts. The first game between the Continentals, holders of the southern New York soccer cup, and Clan McDuffs was splendidly contested in the first half, the teams crossing over with the score sheet blank.

Soon after resuming the Continentals piled up three goals which were all scored by their centre forward, Hayes. The combination of Puxty and Cooper was perfect and their fine wing play was the feature of the game. Clan McDuffs were handicapped throughout by having to play a man short. The lineup:

The other game, between New York Hibernians and Our Boys, was brimful of exciting incidents. The Greenpoint boys got down to the Hibernians' goal in the first few minutes. W. Gallagher, picking up a beautiful pass from McKenna, drew first blood for Our Boys with a splendid shot.

After the interval good work by Ferguson prevented the Hibernians opening their score. Our Boys obtained two more goals through Fleming and Glynn and Humble missing a penalty kick in the last minute of the game for the Hibernians. Our Boys won their first game by 3 to 0. The lineup:

Other Soccer Results.

The Fulton-Cameronians defeated the Yonkers Thistles in a Metropolitan League game at Van Cortlandt Park by 4 goals to 1 after a no scoring first period. Blick scored 3 goals for the winners and Crowe 1.

A severe drubbing, to the tune of 8 to 0, was meted out to the St. George eleven by the Greenville F. C. in a Metropolitan League game at Jersey City. Lowe, Keolish and Hansen shot two goals apiece for the winners, and W. Lowe and McKnight each one.

The West Hudson Juniors defeated the Jersey Juniors by the score of 5 goals to 1 at Kearny, N. J.

HARRY SMITH IN FRONT.

Wins Special Three Mile Race at Pastime Club Games.

Harry Smith, the Bronx Church House runner, displayed his famous gritty finishing sprint yesterday in defeating Hugh Honahan of the New York Athletic Club in a special three mile race at the final outdoor games of the Pastime Athletic Club, held at Del Hawkins's grounds in Westchester. They ran along together, with Smith doing most of the pacing, until 100 yards from home, when Smith spurted.

Myles McHugh, after a long retirement, defeated a field of six runners from scratch in the 1,000 yard run. He also finished third in the 300 yard event, which was captured by one yard. The Shea brothers were prominent competitors throughout the afternoon, placing in all the races in which they started.

Dick Remer conceded large handicaps to twelve contestants in the one mile walk, but he took the lead on the final lap, to win by thirty yards. The summaries:

100 Yard Dash, Handicap—Won by L. Shea, 5 yards; D. Shea, scratch, second; M. Shea, scratch, third. Time, 10 2-5 seconds.

Finkelstein and Browser Tied.

Ben Finkelstein tied Harry Browser for the season's point honors of the Brooklyn Athletic Association, when the former won 2 firsts, 1 second and 2 fourth places in the final monthly games of the series held yesterday at McCarren Park, Greenpoint. Each tallied 25 points for the season.

Smith and Reich Meet To-night.

Al Reich, erstwhile amateur champion, will meet Gunboat Smith in the main ten round bout to-night at the St. Nicholas Rink. As both the men have championship aspirations, or at least desires of getting in the ring with Jess Willard, the bout promises to be a slam bang affair, with each trying for a knockout. Reich has gotten over the injury he sustained in a bout in Denver recently and is in perfect trim.

GORDON FIRST IN 800 METER EVENT

Beats W. Anderson, N. Y. A. C. Clubmate, and Eddie Garvey at Jersey City.

SPECTATORS INTERFERE

Jersey City athletic enthusiasts were so anxious to see a set of open handicap games held yesterday under the auspices of the St. Bridget's Catholic Lyceum on the new city playgrounds on Montgomery street that several thousand persons stood up throughout the afternoon. A squad of policemen was unable to control the crowd. The spectators would not miss a close finish and ran across the field as the runners approached the tape.

William F. Gordon, the New York Athletic Club runner, who recently has been showing unusually good form, defeated a field of seven runners in the 800 meter invitation Cassidy special race. He had a three yard margin on William Anderson, a clubmate, who was second. Eddie Garvey, now unattached, was third, five yards back. The time announced was 1:54 3-5, but the track undoubtedly was short, as the announced time is less than two seconds less than the world's record held by Ted Meredith.

A brilliant and close finish of inches marked the end of the 1,000 yard handicap run, when John Brunson of the Salem-Crescent Athletic Club barely nosed out Wilson Adams of the Montclair Athletic Club, who, with the tape two yards away, sneaked into second place past George Buttner of the Irish American Athletic Club.

Point honors went to the Salem-Crescent with a total of 19 points. The Hungarian American Athletic Club was second with 8 and the Irish Americans were one point behind them. The summaries:

100 Yard Dash, Handicap—Won by M. J. Doyle, Newark T. A. B. S., 6 yards; John Bartsch, Hungarian American A. C., 8 yards, second; Fred Brooks, Salem-Crescent A. C., 8 yards, third. Time, 10 3-5 seconds.

One Mile Run, Novice—Won by Edward Dillon, St. Peter's Club; J. F. Pilles, Hungarian American A. C., second; Herman Rithman, Newark Y. M. C. A., third. Time, 5 minutes 4 seconds. Phillips prize held up in not entered on programme.

300 Yard Run, Handicap—Won by H. G. Foster, Salem-Crescent A. C., scratch; Oscar Hakins, Salem-Crescent A. C., 5 yards, second; C. Guttman, Mohawk A. C., 3 yards, third. Time, 34 2-5 seconds.

1,000 Yard Run, Handicap—Won by John Brunson, Salem-Crescent A. C., 25 yards; Wilson Adams, Montclair A. C., 22 yards, second; George Buttner, Irish American A. C., 35 yards, third. Time, 2 minutes 18 2-5 seconds.

800 Meter Run, Cassidy Special, Invitation—Won by William F. Gordon, New York A. C.; William Anderson, New York A. C., second; Edward Garvey, unattached, third. Time, 1 minute 54 3-5 seconds.

Three Mile Run, Handicap—Won by Frank Zuna, Irish American A. C., 65 yards; Nick Ghanopolos, Millrose A. A., scratch, second; A. W. Fehder, Hungarian American A. C., 80 yards, third. Time, 15 minutes 14 seconds.

Medley Relay Race, Handicap, 880 Yards, 220, 440 and One Mile—Won by Bronx Church House, 30 yards, with Wiese, A. Washington, H. Buhler and George Kelly; Mohawk A. C., 48 yards, with H. Biddle, G. Dolan, L. Cohen and G. Carson, second; Salem-Crescent A. C., 40 yards, with Walter Smith, W. Murray, John Bailey and Leo Granger, third. Time, 8 minutes 12 2-5 seconds.

MORE CARS FOR CUP RACE.

Mulford's Peugeot, on Slow Vessel, Arrives To-day From Abroad.

The one bright feature to the postponement of the Astor Cup race from last Saturday to next Saturday is the opening up of a possibility for more cars to fight for the prizes. Ralph Mulford will have an opportunity to qualify his Peugeot, which is on its way across the ocean on a slow boat and is due to arrive here to-day. Another boat will bring in the missing valves of the British Sunbeam, and the broken cylinder of the Italian Bugatti can be replaced.

All of the cars that made good in the original elimination trials will remain over for the race, and the field may be augmented by an extra F. R. H., while the Mercer people will have a chance to remedy the lubrication difficulties which kept them out of last week's elimination trials.

Harry Harkness will try to get his Delage into racing shape, and there is a possibility that both of Grover Bergdoll's Erwin Specials will start. These cars will have an opportunity to qualify in heats to be run some day in the middle of the week, the time to be announced later, so that probably more than twenty cars will race for the cup.
