Quartet of Court Tennis Players Reach the Semi-finals

PINEHURST MEDAL GOES TO SKEHENS

Carter, Guilford and Other Stars Fail to Shine in Qualifying Round.

WINNER TURNS IN A 73

PINEHURST, N. C., April 4.—On account of the rain yesterday the qualifying round of the sixteenth annual United North and South amateur championship was cut down from thirty-six holes to eighteen to-day. The conditions for scoring were almost perfect and the scores were lower than usual. Charles Skehens, Woods Hole, who has been playing consistent golf here the whole season, led the field with 73. Play was over the No. 2 course.

Skehens had opportunities to take several strokes off his total. A topped drive on the second hole cost him a stroke and he rammed the cup on both the eighth and tenth. His pulled drive on the sixteenth cost another stroke and three putts from edge of the fifteenth, seventeenth and eighteenth cost three strokes more. His card:

Charles Skehens, Woods Hole:
Out.....4 5 4 4 4 3 5 3 3—35
In.....4 4 4 4 4 4 5 4 5—38—73

Philip Carter, the junior metropolitan champion, had to be satisfied with a 78. It was one of the days when his shots would not quite come off. With some poor shots and bad luck he accumulated a 7 on the second and another 7 on the seventh. He took a 5 on the short eighth and his total for the outward journey was 41. Coming in he played fairly steady golf. He missed an opportunity on the eleventh and took two extra strokes on the fifteenth, but the rest of the holes he played in par figures. His 37 in made a total of 78.

Ten sixteens qualified to continue at match play throughout the week. At 84 there was a tie among W. C. Chick, C. L. Becker, E. L. Scofield, Jr., Donald Parson and H. G. Welborn for last four places in the first division. On the play-off Welborn dropped into the second. The scores:

First Sixteen—Charles Skehens, Woods Hole, 35, 38—73; C. J. Bellamy, Springfield, 41, 38—77; Jesse P. Guilford, Woodland, 39, 38—77; P. V. G. Carter, Nassau, 41, 37—78; E. COLUMBIA CREWS KEPT IDLE.

Too Rough on Water and Machines Have Been Removed.

The Columbia oarsmen were caught yesterday between two forces as exasperating as the devil and the deep blue sea when they could not row indoors because the rowing machines had been taken out of the crew quarters in University Hall and could not row outdoors because the weather was too raw and the Hudson too choppy. As a result Coach James C. Rice ordered a programme of strict neutrality.

The rowing machines were in the visitors' gallery. They had to be removed because of the Barnard Greek games, which will be held in the gymnasium Saturday. Whether they will be put down again or not depends on how hard Coach Rice kicks. In the past he has used the machines several times when it was too rough for outdoor rowing. As the first race—for the Childs cup—is little more than a month away, Rice believes his charges can use all the rowing they can get, especially since Pennsylvania rows twice a day. Annapolis enjoys warm weather and Princeton has a smooth course on Carnegie Lake.

SHANLEY CUP DATE CHANGED.

Veterans Will Play at Lakewood After Spring Tourney.

Instead of following its custom of holding the Shanley cup competition on the day before its spring tournament this year, the Country Club of Lakewood has selected May 3 for the senior event. The spring tourney is to be played on April 27, 28 and 29, so the Shanley cup competition will come on the following Wednesday. The change should be of benefit to the veterans, as the weather on May 3 is likely to be a little warmer and better than that of the week before.

As usual all golfers who are more than 55 years of age will be eligible to play for the Shanley cup, which is won outright each year. The test prescribed is an eighteen hole handicap, the maker of the lowest net score to receive the Shanley cup and the low gross man to get a cup given by the club. Entries should be sent to the Country Club of Lakewood so that they will be received by Tuesday evening, May 2.

The club's tournament on April 27, 28 and 29 will be like those in past years. Provision has been made for four sixteens and an equal number of beaten eights. There also will be the usual handicap on the last day of the tourney.

VISITORS CAPTURE PRIZES.

Gunners From N. Y. A. C. Do Well at Jamaica Bay Traps.

In a cold raw wind and drizzling rain the gunners of the Jamaica Bay Yacht Club and their guests from the New York Athletic and other clubs faced the traps yesterday in the final shoot of their season. It was a handicap match at 100 birds and there was keen competition for the eleven prizes offered, of which the New York Athletic Club's men won all but one.

J. H. Hendrickson proved high scratch man of the day. His score of 92 captured the prize by just one point from Dr. A. E. Ranney. The five handicap prizes were won by F. A. Baker with 98 as his score, Dr. C. H. Martin with 94, W. H. Yule with 92, M. McVoy, Jr., with 91 and C. Hamilton with 88. The four winners of the 25 bird prizes were A. E. Ranney, J. H. Hendrickson, G. H. Martin and W. H. Yule.

TRIO OF NEW YORKERS STILL IN FIGHT FOR TITLE

Sands, Whitney and Cutting Win Matches in Court Tennis Championship, and With Joshua Crane of Boston Reach Semi-finals.

Three New York players and one representative of Boston are left in the running for the national court tennis championship as a result of yesterday's matches at the Racquet and Tennis Club. Charles E. Sands, Payne Whitney and C. S. Cutting were the successful New Yorkers and Joshua Crane kept Boston in the fight. With the exception of Whitney all the winners gained their victories in straight sets. Whitney had to go the full route of five sets to defeat D. P. Rhodes of Boston at 2—6, 6—2, 6—0, 5—7, 6—3. Sands won easily from George W. Wightman of Boston at 6—3, 6—0, 6—2. Crane took the measure of Lawrence Waterbury of New York at 6—1, 6—1, 6—4, and Cutting accounted for W. H. T. Huhn of Philadelphia at 6—2, 6—3, 6—3.

The long drawn out five set match, although not productive of the best tennis of the day, was the feature of the second round. There was not the skilful stroking to the openings nor the brilliant placing in this match that marked the Cutting-Huhn encounter, which followed it, nor did it have any of the display of court generalship which marked the two other matches preceding it. The Whitney-Rhodes match, however, did have more of the contest to it, and it was this that was lacking in the others.

Both Whitney and Rhodes played some of the best tennis of their careers during the course of the match, but offset this by streaks of wildness. Whitney started the match by winning two long deuce games mainly by his ability to win his chases. Immediately he had these two games safely tucked away, however, he became erratic and by frequently driving the ball into the net lost the set in six straight games. Rhodes then came upon hard times, and after winning two of the first three games in the second get lost thirteen straight games, which gave Whitney the second and third sets and a lead of two to love on the fourth.

Whitney showed more accuracy in finding the openings during this run of games, being particularly effective on finding the dedans off the side wall. In the second set he dropped two into the grille that were as pretty as have been seen on the court in many a day. His placing to the corners too was good and gave the Bostonian plenty of trouble. In the fourth set Whitney kept going strong enough to gain a lead of 5—3, when Rhodes started a persistent onslaught on his backhand and tied up the match by taking four consecutive games. By the time the fifth set came along Whitney had steadied, and was getting so much pace on his strokes that his rival could not handle them, and it soon became a question only of how long it would take him to win.

Cutting in defeating Huhn played the prettiest tennis that has been displayed in the tournament up to the present time. He knew how to find the openings and made good use of his knowledge. Both of the men went at top speed from start to finish and kept the ball flying around the court in wonderful style. His placing left little to be desired and some of the gets he made were little short of marvellous. The men were about equal on service and made this stroke count for many of their aces.

Sands played against Wightman early in the morning, when few of the enthusiasts were around, but those who saw the match were regaled with a rare spectacle of generalship and court craft by the veteran. Sands used a tricky serivce to great advantage and his beautiful placing had Wightman running all over the court from start to finish. He did not try often for either the grille or the dedans, but shot to them when he needed a point badly, and seldom failed to make good. His low drives against the tambour were sufficient to win him aces with regularity.

Like Sands, Joshua Crane also gave a fine exhibition of strategic play. He was just as accurate as in the olden day, when he used to win the championship. A fair example of how little trouble he had in getting to the openings was shown in the second set, when he finished the second game with a shot to the dedans, won the next game on four strokes to the same opening and dropped the ball in the same place for his first point in the fourth game. The summaries:

POGGENBURG ACCEPTS APPLEBY'S CHALLENGE

Metropolitan Cup Match to Be at Liederkranz on April 21.

J. Ferdinand Poggenburg has accepted the challenge of Francis S. Appleby for the metropolitan cup, it was announced yesterday. They will meet in the specified 300 point match of 18.2 balkline at the Liederkranz on the night of Friday, April 21. Appleby's challenge was considered by the executive committee of the National Association of Amateur Billard Players at its meeting Monday night. It was passed upon favorably, the match was sanctioned, and the date set.

Poggenburg won three matches for the cup. In order to obtain permanent possession of it a player must be a victor five times. Therefore, if Poggenburg beats Appleby, he will need to win only once more to become owner of the trophy.

Several of the best amateur billiard players in the country have competed for the trophy, which was instituted in 1911. J. E. Cope Morton of Philadelphia is one who has held it. The last cup contest was in 1914.

The contest this month has aroused much interest in amateur circles, and the match between the Columbia student and the Liederkranz veteran is likely to be followed shortly by a challenge of some one else.

ELLIS OUTPLAYS MAUPOME.

Champion Will Begin Third Session Only Six Points Behind.

PITTSBURG, April 4.—Charles Ellis of this city, the three cushion billiard champion, who finished behind Pierre Maupome of St. Louis last night, 23 to 50, in the first night's play, came back to-night and playing a doggedly persistent game, brilliant at times with almost impossible shots, bank to bank before touching the ivories, scored 71 while the challenger was making the necessary 50 to call it a game. This makes the score for the two nights 100 to 94 in favor of Maupome.

It is well known here that Ellis plays his best game when behind, and the betting to-night is in favor of his victory over the Mexican in the last night's play to-morrow. Maupome missed many brilliant shots by a shade, while the balls seemed to just go right for the Pittsburger in the same kind of shots. It looked in the seventy-ninth inning as if he would tie the score when he had made his high run of 5, but just missed the next shot, which he played around the table behind the balls massed at the end of the table.

The game to-night went to the eighty-second inning, in which Maupome made three points, and he will resume to-morrow night where the ivories were left. He had one high run of 5, while Ellis had two of the same number.

Mrs. W. A. Gavin Comes Back.

Among those who arrived on the Nieuw Amsterdam from Holland and Falmouth, England, was Mrs. W. A. Gavin, the British golfer who was runner up to Mrs. Clarence H. Vanderbeck in the women's national championship at Onwentsia last September. She was accompanied by her husband and J. J. Gavin.

College Tennis Courts Become a Coal Yard

COLUMBIA student tennis players protested yesterday to the university authorities against the use of the courts bordering South Field for the purpose of stowing coal for a contemplated coal strike. All the courts on the south side of the field except two single courts have been usurped for the storing of hundreds of tons of coal. As the courts on East Field are reserved for the varsity, the tennis players feel they have been shunted off the board. Tennis is the most popular spring sport at Columbia, the courts being busy from morning till night.

PENN READY FOR VILLANOVA.

Team Will Play on Home Field for First Time To-day.

PHILADELPHIA, April 4.—Penn's baseball team will line up to-morrow afternoon against Villanova for the first home game of the season. The men have been able to get considerable outdoor practice since their defeat by the Navy a week and a half ago, and have shown a corresponding improvement.

Lew Wray, the former Adelphi star, who was injured during indoor practice three weeks ago, reported yesterday for the first time since his accident, and will start at second base. The rest of the team is expected to line up the same as it did against the Navy. Cross or Swegler probably will pitch.

Neyland to Pitch for Cadets.

WEST POINT, N. Y., April 4.—The local baseball season is scheduled to open here to-morrow, when the cadets will cross bats with Amherst. The Army men have been in the open for several days and notwithstanding their late start expect to give a good account of themselves. Realizing this Amherst is going strong right now the soldiers will take the field with their most formidable lineup, which is sure to include Capt. Bob Neyland, the star twirler, who has had such remarkable success in college athletics.

LES CANADIENS GET BIG LEAD AT RINK

Beat Portland Seven 6 to 3 in First Half of Two Day Hockey Match.

VEZINA IS THE STAR

Les Canadiens, champion professional hockey team of the world, outscored the Portland, Ore., team, champions of the Pacific coast, in the first half of their two night exhibition hockey match at the St. Nicholas Rink last night by 6 goals to 3. The Canadians, who recently defeated the Portland team for the professional title, showed a big crowd of New York enthusiasts how they turned the trick. They played the best hockey, offensive and defensive, that has been seen here in many years either in professional or amateur circles.

It was Vezina, the goal keeper, who kept the Canadian team in the lead, for with even an ordinary first class man guarding the cage the Pacific coast team must have scored at least a dozen times. Shot after shot came at him from all corners of the ice, but only thrice during the course of the game did the rubber elude the watchful Vezina.

The only goals that were made by the Portland team were the results of phenomenal shots. Tobin scored once on a pass from Oatman in the first period, when he was less than a foot in front of the cage. In the third period Harris carried the puck all around the cage and slipped it in under Vezina's stick, and a little later in the same period Oatman slammed one in from scrimmage. For Les Canadiens, Pitre and Lalonde scored twice each, while Corbeau and Laviolette contributed one each.

The second block of the game will be played to-night under the Pacific Coast League rules, with seven men to the team. The lineup:

Portland.	Pos.	Les Canadiens.
Murray	Goal	Vezina
Irvine	Point	Corbeau
Johnson	Coverpoint	Prodgers
Oatman	Centre	Lalonde
Tobin	Right wing	Pitre

Score—Les Canadiens, 6; Portland, 3. Goals—First period—Pitre, Les Canadiens, 8:0ne, 2:30; Corbeau, Les Canadiens, alone, 4:16; Laviolette, Les Canadiens, alone, 7:32; Tobin, Portland, pass from Oatman, 10:02. Second period—None. Third period—Pitre, Les Canadiens, alone, 0:19; Lalonde, Les Canadiens, alone, 10:01; Lalonde, Les Canadiens, pass from Berlanquette, 12:45; Harris, Portland, alone, 14:37; Oatman, Portland, from scrimmage, 14:32.

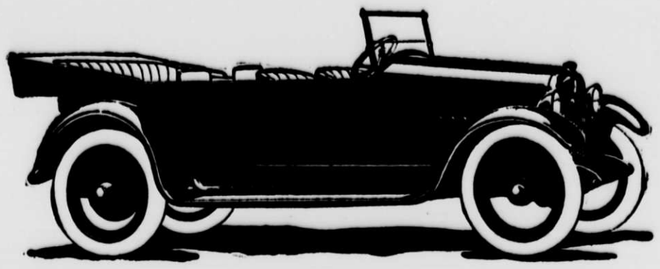
The New Case 40—$1090



"Friends of the Forty"

Everywhere are men who know the former Case 40—men who found it well worth $2300. These men particularly will welcome the New Case 40 at $1090—for they can recommend it, with its many improvements, to their friends.

Owners everywhere tell of the serviceability of Case Cars—of the modest upkeep and how they resist depreciation. The splendid service of the former Case 40 can be expected of the New Case 40. Until you know this New Case 40 you have not yet seen the highest type car for $1090. Study its new spring suspension. Go over the engine. Check up all those details. See for yourself just where we have included those features found generally in costly cars.

The refinements of this car are individual. Its combination of excellencies is appreciated and wanted by the motor-wise and discriminating. Wherever the New Case 40 is seen, whenever men ride in it, they are strong for it, because of its very apparent merit.

Surely the Case experience of 74 years entitles this car to your consideration. To show this Tomorrow's Car to you and to go over it point by point will be a pleasure. Or if it is inconvenient for you to call, let us send illustrated description by mail.
