Here is a mutual home company financially strong and composed of the best men in Lincoln county. Oliver-Ferguson Wedding.

Parker Leader: Mr. Clarence Oliver of Canton, and Miss Julia Ferguson, of Worthing, were married at the Catholic parsonage in this city Wednesday morning. Father Feinler officiating. The groom was attended by D. W. Schlosser of this place, and the bride by Miss Wells of Worthing. The happy couple took the noon train for Canton and will at once go to housekeeping on the groom's farm near that place. The newly married couple are friends of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Schlosser and on Tuesday evening an oyster supper was given at the Schlosser restaurant, their being present besides those already named, Misses Nora and Martha Schlosser.

E. Myers of Austin Minnesota, was in town last week for the purpose of organizing a "Tribe" of the Improved Order of Red Men, but was called to Redfield to institute a Tribe at that place. The Red Men is the oldest patriotic organization in the United States. It began with the Red Men who threw the tea into Boston harbor, and then became the great order known as the "Sons of Liberty," of which Gen. Washington was at the head. The purpose of the order is to aid the afflicted, counsel the distressed succor the feeble, watch the sick and bury the dead. It is not a rival of any other benevolent society. It is not an insurance company. Its social features are pleasant and most enjoyable. An application blank will be found at the LEADER office for those who wish to organize a tribe of Red Men in Canton.

Zinner & Co., will reopen the Ing-ham restaurant, giving a free lunch from 2 to 5 p. m. Friday.

PRESIDENTS MUST BE BRAVE.

President Roosevelt Quite Able To Take Care of Himself.

If some of the plans for protecting presidents and punishing anarchists that are now being discussed were enacted into law, we would soon be in a good way to convert our republic into a monarchy. We do not want our presidents to hold themselves aloof from the people who make them; neither do we desire to make demi-gods of our presidents; to utter a note of criticism against whom is to commit profanation. We will tolerate no less majesty laws in this country or anything approaching them.

According to such men as Bishop Cranston, we should revive with a new application the old fiction of English law that "the king can do no wrong." The president is an American citizen, placed for a time at the head of the governmental machine. He does not thereby take on infallibility or attain perfection. His acts are open to criticism and the interests of free government demand that they should be criticised. There is excess in all things, to be sure, and there is a right and a wrong criticism, but the determination of these things must be left to the individual judgement and conscience; to attempt to regulate them by legislation is to create an offensive censorship, is to infringe upon free speech and a free press and would lead ultimately to tyranny. Let us not lose our heads or forget our Americanism at this sad time.

President Roosevelt has begun aright by declaring that he will not establish the precedent of being always accompanied by an ostentatious guard. Leaving the anarchists out of the question, the life of a president is always in danger from some crank or lunatic who thinks he, has a commission to kill. Every private citizen is in some danger of such a death and the president, by virtue of the eminence of his position, much more so. Guards, in uniform and out, and multiplied precautions will not much reduce the danger in these days of rifles, revolvers and bombs. Let him who is afraid to risk his life in the presidency not aspire to it.

Of course reasonable precautions, in keeping with republican customs, should always be taken for the safety of the president, but we will not have our presidents forever behind bayonets, always distant from the people, always suspicious and fearful of them.—Minneapolis Journal.

Next Tuesday or Wednesday the electric light plant will change smoke stacks, weather permitting. Should lights be a little late you will know the reason.

Edward Abbott, it is reported, lost $70 from his pockets, by midnight thugs and thieves who entered his home and stole the money while he and his wife were asleep.

Gunder Tvedt of Norway township, brought in three ears of corn Thursday morning of this week, and the ear counted contained 1280 kernels. Gun-der has the prize so far, and it is doubtful if any one in the county can show a bigger ear or better quality of corn. The contest is still open.

Freeman A. Madole is a member of the Yeomen order, and was sick for a time. On Wednesday he received a draft for $47.50 from the Yeomen order through chief correspondent A. A. Arnold of this city.

Henry M. Hanson of Grand Valley sent a sample in of his corn Thursday. It's a good one with 1246 kernels. Gunder Tvedt still holds the champion corn record by 34 kernels.

—"Three Feeds" for one cent is the price you pay for the famous International Stock Food when given your stock. It will increase the quantity and quality of milk to a surprising degree.

HOUSEWORK
Too much housework wrecks women's nerves. And the constant care of children, day and night, is often too trying for even a strong woman. A haggard face tells the story of the overworked housewife and mother. Deranged menses, leucorrhoea and falling of the womb result from overwork. Every housewife needs a remedy to regulate her menses and to keep her sensitive female organs in perfect condition.

WINE OF CARDUI
is doing this for thousands of American women to-day. It cured Mrs. Jones and that is why she writes this frank letter:

Glendean, Ky., Feb. 10, 1901.
I am so glad that your Wine of Cardui is helping me. I am feeling better than I have felt for years. I am doing my own work without any help, and I washed last week and was not one bit tired. That shows that the Wine is doing me good. I am getting fiesher than I ever was before, and sleep good and eat hearty. Before I began taking Wine of Cardui, I used to have to lay down five or six times every day, but now I do not think of lying down through the day.
