1,600 START TO-NIGHT FOR FIRST PLATTSBURG CAMP

Nearly Half of Enrolment for June Manœuvres Comes From Metropolitan District—All in Readiness on Shore of Lake Champlain.

About 1,600 men from all parts of the country will assemble at the Grand Central station shortly after 9 o'clock to-night, ready to climb aboard two special trains bound for Plattsburg. They will travel and argue over the ownership of lower sleeping berths until about 7:30 A. M., and then——. On the shore of Lake Champlain stand long rows of brown, pyramidal tents. The travellers will line up to register and draw their equipment, be apportioned to their tents, change into khaki field service uniforms and the first summer military training camp of 1916 will be in full swing.

Everything has been in readiness for them for many days. Six companies of Coast Artillery Corps regulars under Major Harrison Hall have been erecting the tents, building the wooden shacks necessary and in general fixing things up for the "rookies."

Nearly half of the enrolment for the first camp comes from the metropolitan district. Many, however, come from far distant points. Porto Rico, Alaska, Panama and other far-away parts of the United States all have representatives gathering to shoulder a gun and drill for better national preparedness during the month of June. Many others unquestionably would come save for the matter of expense. All the recruits pay for their transportation, uniforms, board, everything except such equipment as arms and tents and the services of the army instructors.

If a sufficient appropriation is made by Congress within a reasonable time it is expected that the enrolments for the later camps, which last until October, will be more than doubled. Even under the present conditions more than 11,000 men have signed up for Plattsburg alone, and the other camps in various parts of the country have an almost equal number.

Those Who Are Going.

CAMP AT PLATTSBURG READY FOR OPENING

Tents Put Up and All Equipments Awaits Students' Arrival To-morrow.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., June 3.—Major F. H. Lawton of the quartermaster department, Governors Island, chief quartermaster of the camps of military training here, has everything in readiness for the opening of the first camp on Monday.

Three hundred tents, each with a capacity of eight men, have been erected along the company streets, the quartermaster and ordnance stores have been issued to the company commanders, and the equipment for the mess is in the mess tents. To test the mess equipment Lieut. E. A. Brown, Coast Artillery, to-day fed 700 of the enlisted men of the regular army for one meal, and everything moved like clockwork.

Arthur P. Maxwell, a New York banker, was the first of the students to arrive on the grounds, he reporting to Major Peter Murray, camp commander, this morning. J. C. Clark of Chicago was the second arrival, and this evening about fifty men from different parts of the country arrived in the city. None of the early arrivals have been accepted at the camp at this time, nor will they be permitted to occupy the tents until Monday.

There are now more than 1,200 enlisted men and 40 officers of the regular army at the camp, who will act as instructors for the student soldiers. The regulars are made up of 600 men of the Coast Artillery, 400 members of the Second Cavalry, 100 members of the Engineer Corps and 100 Hospital Corps and Signal Corps men.

Gen. Wood is expected to arrive in this city to-morrow and be here for the opening of the camp the following day. Capt. Halstead Dorey of Gen. Wood's staff, commander of last summer's camps, will arrive from Boston to-morrow morning and remain at the camp for several days.
