Through Timely Hitting Dodgers Defeat Phillies 3-1—Rain Prevents Giants and Yankees Playing

RUTH'S INJURY IS NOT VERY SERIOUS

But It's Painful, and the Date of His Return to Game Is Indefinite.

PING BODIE FORGIVEN

Suspension of Errant Outfielder Lifted and He May Return To-day—Notes.

By WILLIAM B. HANNA.

The injury to Babe Ruth was diagnosed yesterday as a sprain of the muscle of the twelfth rib, painful, but not serious. "Painful, but not serious," were the doctor's words. It is both painful and serious to the Yankee club. It isn't an exactly airy nothing when your best slugger and home run celebrity is hurt and sidelined for an indefinite time. It won't be known for two days yet when Ruth will be able to play again. It may be a week or two weeks—depends on the developments of the next forty-eight hours. The Yankee players say they'll win some games just the same.

"Can hit, never could field," is sapient comment just appeared regarding Frank Baker. It is based on nothing at all in the way of facts as supported by records. The records refute it beyond dispute, if it needed any refuting. Anybody familiar with Baker's work knows he was a first class fielder. His records for the last four years are:—

	Fielding average.	Rank.
1916	.940	11
1917	.949	3
1918	.977	4
1919	.962	4

In 1917 and 1918 Baker was the real leader in third base fielding, for he played in many more games than those with better percentages. Last year he accepted more chances than any other American League third baseman, which attests his ability to cover ground. Year after year his number of chances accepted have been noticeably large and his average high. What more does a "never could field" fielder have to do?

Ping Bodie has been forgiven. "He'll never play on my ball club again," Miller Huggins declared in Jacksonville after Ping skedaddled to New York without permission, and yesterday came the announcement from the Yankee office that Bodie's "suspension had been rescinded and that he probably will report at the Polo Grounds to-morrow." If the prodigal Ping does report he may get a chance in the outfield, now weakened—that is, a bit more than usual—by the absence of Ruth.

Dr. Bagley, the Baltimore surgeon, who was one of the three who operated on Chick Fewster for blood clot and slight fracture, told Joe Kelley the other day that there was no reason why Fewster should not be able to play baseball as well as he ever did. At present he is a bit too enthusiastic about returning to the game, and has to be held in check. He leaves the hospital every day and returns at night. Fewster, his physicians and the club fully expect him to play again in due time. Dr. Bagley performed a similar operation on a football player who had been injured, and the football lad recovered and played again.

Huggins is taking his time about putting Aaron Ward, the infielder, who hurt his knee in the South, back in the battle formation. Ward is practising daily, but the longer he stays out of the game the better his chances for a permanent recovery, so he is not being rushed back into action. Huggins was asked yesterday whether, on Ward's return, he would send him to third and put Meusel in the outfield. "Um, well," responded the manager, with that fine, free positiveness characteristic of him, "I may do that."

HIGH LIGHTS AND SHADOWS IN ALL SPHERES OF SPORT

By DANIEL.

Copyright, 1920, by The Sun-Herald Corporation.

SOME time to-day Charley Ledoux and Georges Papin, the French boxers, will steam into this port ready for an extensive campaign in the ring rather than in the movies and on the stage, which have been adopted by Georges Carpentier as the mediums of his endeavor here. In view of the rise of numerous so-called British title holders who have been masquerading in this country for the last few months it is perhaps best, in justice to the two Frenchmen, to indicate their true positions in the fistic world. Ledoux is the bantamweight champion not only of France but of all Europe. He held that title back in 1913, when he made his first trip to America and was knocked out in fifteen rounds by Kid Williams at Vernon, Cal. Ledoux went into the war and when he came out he was affirmed as bantamweight champion of France. He clinched his hold on the European title anew when he knocked out Tommy Noble, then bantamweight champion of England. So there is nothing of the pretender about Ledoux.

Papin is the official lightweight champion of France. He is rather too old to be formidable for our first class men in his division, as he is 33. Before the war a second rater like Frankie Madole won over Papin in twelve rounds at Paris. Vittet, who was knocked out by Pal Moore not so long ago in London, fought a twenty round draw with Papin in Marseilles in 1913. It is apparent that our topnotchers have little to fear from Papin, but his arrival will be welcomed just the same, for the situation in this country indicates the great need for new blood. Ledoux is likely to make trouble for our little fellows, even though he is 28 and a bit past the age of real formidability.

Yale and Columbia Row Again After Lapse of Five Years.

After a lapse of five years Yale and Columbia crews once more will meet each other on the Housatonic River this afternoon. It will be Yale's only regatta of the season on its home course and is calculated to attract a record turnout. There will be an observation train and other facilities for those who will make the journey to the pretty course at Derby, Conn. In their last meeting, in November, 1915, on the day before Yale defeated Princeton at football by grace of "Pie" Way's pickup of a fumble, Columbia had rather an easy time of it. The race was rowed on New Haven Harbor and it was a wet and windy day, making conditions which would have tried power boats and not mere shells. Early in the race one of the Yale men was seized with an attack of appendicitis and the Blue's chances fled, for he was a heavy passenger for the rest of the way. Columbia won as it pleased.

This afternoon we are likely to have another sort of race. The Yale crew beat Pennsylvania handily just three weeks ago to-day on the Schuylkill. At that time Guy Nickalls, coach of the Eils, said that his crew was the most responsive to coaching he yet had taught. "My crew likes rough water," said Nickalls, "but it is a crew for all sorts of conditions. I expect to have a great deal of success with it." As Columbia always is a rough water crew we may see a hard, even race. As in 1915 Nickalls again is coaching the Eils. It will be the long, rather slow stroke of the Briton against the seemingly more powerful and snappier stroke as taught by Jim Rice. Yale has the advantage, for it will enter the race with the experience of a contest and the confidence which can come only through victory.

While the Eils and Columbia are having it out in Connecticut Harvard will be testing its eights against those of the Navy on the Severn. Bill Haines has been making frequent shifts. Either he has a disappointing varsity or he has a great many first class sweep swingers. It will be the first race for both the Crimson and the Midshipmen—and the advantage lies with the Navy, for it will row on a stretch of water which it knows in every detail and which is not the easiest kind of a course for a visiting crew.

HARVARD AND ARMY IN NINE INNING TIE

With Score 4 to 4 Contest Is Called to Allow Harvard to Catch Train.

Special to THE SUN AND NEW YORK HERALD.

WEST POINT, April 23.—Harvard's baseball team stopped off here to-day and took on the Army for a contest, which went to a 4 to 4 tie and was called at the end of the ninth inning to allow the Crimson players to catch a train. It rained again to-day, but the game was played on the grass parade. Army got away first. Conlon's error giving Wilhide a life in the opener. He stole second and Lystad brought him in. The collegians touched Davis freely in the third inning, five hits resulting in three tallies, Perkins and Frothingham figuring in the tingely swatting.

Army's half of the same frame netted them a brace of runs, a triple by Wilhide, a free pass and a couple of steals tieing the game up at 2 all. Harvard got another run in the fourth and led until the Army's half of the sixth, when Lincoln's error, a sacrifice by Eastman and Rowland's smash to centre gave the Army men another run. Both pitchers tightened up thereafter, Army's smart fielding in the eighth and ninth frames cutting down Harvard's chances. The score:

VITT TO JOIN RED SOX.

BOSTON, April 23.—Manager Barrow of the Boston Americans sent word here from Washington to-night that Oscar Vitt, third baseman, who has been holding out for a revised contract, had notified him that he would join the team at New York the latter part of next week. He said Vitt would be used as a utility infielder.

COLUMBIA NINE DEFEATS C. C. N. Y.

Blue and White Triumphs by 9 to 6 in Loosely Played Game on South Field.

Columbia defeated C. C. N. Y. by 9 to 6 in a loosely played baseball game at South Field yesterday afternoon. The game was replete with errors and only the hard hitting of the Blue and White players saved Columbia. The deliveries of both Farrell of Columbia and Feigin and Axtell of C. C. N. Y. were no mystery to the opposing batsmen, who slammed the ball about the field. Excellent work by the outfielders featured.

The game was opened by Feigin walking four men in the first frame, which, coupled with a triple by Houlahan and an error made on the throw-in, netted Columbia four runs. C. C. N. Y. almost tied the score in the next inning, when Raskin opened with a two bagger, scored on Wechler's error; Farrell then hit the next man up and walked three.

DODGERS RETAIN LEAD FROM START

Mitchell Holds the Phillies in Check—Hi Myers Makes Three Singles.

Special to THE SUN AND NEW YORK HERALD.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 23.—Brooklyn tied the series with the Phillies by winning to-day's game, 3 to 1. Southpaw Clarence Mitchell outpointed Cecil Algernon Causey, former Giant and Brave, who twirled his first game for the Phillies before a home crowd.

Timely hitting won for the Dodgers. They took the lead in the second inning when they scored the first run of the fray. Never thereafter were they tied or headed.

Konetchy, with a sacrifice fly; Nies, with a single, and Myers, with a one base blow, drove in the Brooklyn runs.

The only run scored off Mitchell came in the sixth as a result of Withrow's double, Causey's single and a sacrifice fly by Bancroft.

Hi Myers wielded a three hit bat, all three of his drives being healthy singles. The score:
